

INDEPENDENT STUDY/ ARRANGED COURSE

An independent study/arranged course is a course which is initiated by the student, who then works independently toward the goals and objectives outlined by the professor on the Arranged Course Permission Form. Students who are in good academic standing are eligible to enroll in an independent study/arranged course. A maximum of 6 credits may be taken by a student in independent study/arranged coursework during the student's degree program. An independent study/arranged course fee is required at the time of registration.

For Talbot students, a distinction is made between these two kinds of courses. Please see the Talbot School of Theology section (<https://catalog.biola.edu/tst/>) for more information.
