Mission
The English Department’s mission is to inspire careful and reflective readers; train nuanced and complex thinkers; and guide clear, creative, and compelling writers. Together, we aim to appreciate the beauty and power of language, attune ourselves to the complexity of narrative worlds, and glorify God through educating ourselves and others about how language shapes our world.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Arts degree in English is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate with an English major in one of three concentrations: Literature, Writing, or Secondary Instruction. 42 - 48 credits are required, of which 24 credits must be upper-division in the major.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in English, students will be able to:

1. Illustrate intellectual curiosity and devise strategies for independent inquiry (ULO 1).
2. Display the variety of ways in which the Christian faith is in dialogue with literary and rhetorical texts (ULO 2).
3. Analyze texts from historical, cultural, religious, and/or theoretical perspectives (ULO 1).
4. Construct clear and persuasive arguments using textual evidence (ULO 3).
5. Recognize the aesthetic and formal qualities of literary and rhetorical texts (ULO 1).
6. Practice the craft of writing in a variety of genres appropriate to audience (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

International Students
All students requesting transfer of credits from countries where English is not the primary language must provide the following to be assessed by the English Department prior to approval of credits: sample writings, a course description from the University’s catalog, a syllabus of the course, writings from the course and transcript. Final decision will be made by the department chair.

English Language Learners (EL)
All students for whom English is not a primary language may count 12 credits of EL coursework (any 12 credits from ENGL 011 – 034) toward graduation. For students pursuing the B.A. degree, the 12 credits of EL will satisfy the Core Curriculum foreign language requirement.

GPA Requirements
A minimum grade of ‘C’ is required for credit for any course counted toward the major. Students must complete with at least a ‘B’ (2.67) average on all 200-level courses required for General Education Literature credit for the English core: one British Literature survey (ENGL 251, ENGL 252, ENGL 253), one American Literature survey (ENGL 281, ENGL 282, and one Diverse Literature survey (ENGL 283, ENGL 290).

major requirements: the program will count as six credits of work

Historical majors with a departmental GPA of 3.5 or better are eligible. Candidates for honors will be required to meet all history major requirements: the program will count as six credits of work (see HIST 490, HIST 491). The J.O. Henry Prize will be given annually for the outstanding paper in the disciplines of History, Political Science or Social Science.

History: Secondary Instruction

The History and Political Science Department offers a major in History with a Secondary Instruction Concentration.

The Professional Teacher Preparation Program leading to a California Teaching Credential at Biola University is subject to change in response to new legislation. Please see a credential analyst in the School of Education for current information on completing the requirements for a teaching credential. Students must consult with both their major advisor and a School of Education advisor.

In order to complete this program, students must:

1. Fulfill all of the requirements of the History: Secondary Instruction Concentration program.
2. Take the required LEDU courses.

The courses required for this specialized history program help prepare students to pass the CSET Examination in Social Science. Students must pass the CSET Examination prior to applying for student teaching.

Other Programs

History Honors Program

This program is designed for senior history majors and for those who have history concentrations in social science and humanities. It is designed as a year-long, independent research project under faculty supervision. Students who are a few credits short of senior standing may petition the chairman for admission into the Honors Program. Students entering the program must have 15 credits of upper-division history. History majors with a departmental GPA of 3.5 or better are eligible. Candidates for honors will be required to meet all history major requirements: the program will count as six credits of work

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies, students will be able to:

1. Identify, integrate, and synthesize the theories, methods, and critical perspectives of their chosen disciplinary emphases (ULO 1).
2. Evaluate, critically analyze, and synthesize disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives and practices with Biblical values and truths (ULO 1 and 3).
3. Identify and articulate connections between their interdisciplinary intellectual inquiries and their own ethical positions in terms of contemporary challenges facing individuals, communities, and societies (ULO 2 and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Course Sequence

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

Interdisciplinary Studies, B.S.

Overview

Mission

The mission of the Biola University Interdisciplinary Studies major is to provide a program in which students can be exposed to the central and essential concepts and practices multiple disciplines within a framework that simultaneously exposes them to central concepts and practices of interdisciplinary thinking and inquiry. In so doing, the major will develop Christian scholars whose position at the intersections of their chosen disciplines provides them with the unique knowledge, tools, and habits of mind that will allow them to comprehend, establish new insights about, and develop innovative approaches and solutions for both new and enduring local, national, and global problems and issues in ways that extend beyond the understanding, insights, approaches, and solutions available through the lens of a single disciplinary perspective.

Degree Program

The Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies is an undergraduate major designed for students who have previously completed some academic work and allows students to customize a degree that is unique to their personal, vocational, or intellectual goals and interests. Working closely with faculty and the Advising team, students select courses from the Biola online Post-traditional undergraduate course offerings, designing for themselves an individualized degree.

A degree in Interdisciplinary Studies from Biola University is intended to be distinct from other majors available at the university. The goal of the program is to build innovative courses of study that generate new ideas, fresh insights, and relevant skills. In keeping with that ethos, no more than 40 percent of the Biola courses built into each student’s Interdisciplinary Studies degree can come from a single discipline.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the issues that currently shape the field of Interdisciplinary Studies, and be able to offer their own critical opinions on the theories and debates which shape their contours (ULO 1).
2. Evaluate, critically analyze, and synthesize disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives and practices with Biblical values and truths (ULO 1, 2).
3. Identify and articulate connections between their interdisciplinary intellectual inquiries and their own ethical positions in terms of contemporary challenges facing individuals, communities, and societies (ULO 1, 2).
4. Demonstrate an expanding range of knowledge, skills, and habits of mind from selected disciplinary perspectives and the ability to use this knowledge to generate new and innovative ways of knowing, seeing, and doing (ULO 1, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admissions Requirements

All students are welcome to enter the Interdisciplinary Studies, B.S. program. However, a student must submit their proposal at the conclusion of ITDS 220 Introduction to Interdisciplinary Studies. The proposals are the major assignment for that course and serve as the formal application to the ITDS program.

Proposals consist of:

A. ITDS Contract: a form that outlines the courses that will be taken and as a part of the customized program.
B. ITDS Program Statement Essay: a written explanation of the goals of a student’s designed major, the intellectual and/or vocational goals they hope to achieve through their course of study, and a rationale for each course they have included in their course of study.
C. ITDS Planning Guide: a form that asks students to plan the sequencing of the courses they have chosen in order to ensure program completion on their desired timetable. After submission for the ITDS 220 course, proposals are forwarded to and screened by the Interdisciplinary Studies Committee, a group consisting of Biola faculty and Academic Advising and registrar staff. The goal of the ITDS Committee is to ensure that all ITDS majors meet the university requirements and that the designed programs have academic integrity.

Regarding the transfer of credits for online programs, the ITDS, B.S. program follows the university transfer policy which states:

- Students may transfer a maximum of 70 credits from community colleges. Upper-division credit cannot be allowed for courses taken at a community college.
- Biola will grant up to 30 semester credits as general electives for coursework on ACE transcripts, including military credit. Credit will be granted for ‘L’ & ‘U’ level courses only.
- “Credit overlay” for corporate training, Straighterline, etc. is acceptable as elective coursework.

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) Portfolio

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA) portfolio is a method by which students can potentially earn credit for their prior learning that has occurred outside of academic credit-bearing courses. Only 25% of courses in a given discipline in a student’s customized degree can be earned through PLA. The CAEL PLA Portfolio may be used to meet Core Curriculum requirements.
Graduation Requirements

1. A student must meet a minimum cumulative GPA requirement of 2.0 and be in good academic standing.
2. Major must consist of a minimum of 39 credit hours integrating two or more disciplines.
3. These credits must include ITDS 220 Introduction to Interdisciplinary Studies (3 credits), ITDS 360 Studies in Interdisciplinary Studies (3 credits), and ITDS 475 Interdisciplinary Studies Capstone (3 credits).
4. 24 total credits of Upper-Division (300/400 level) course work must be included, 15 credits of which must be taken at Biola University.

Philosophy, B.A.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy is to foster a community of Christian scholars apprenticed to Jesus in the pursuit of theoretical and practical wisdom.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements.

Students who declare philosophy majors during their freshman year are expected to take PHIL 210 and PHIL 230 by the end of their sophomore year. Students who declare the major later are expected to take these courses during their first two semesters in the program.

The Philosophy major may be taken as pre-professional preparation for careers in such fields as law, education and the ministry, or as preparation for graduate study in philosophy.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy, students will be able to:

1. Discuss, explain, and evaluate the key ideas and arguments in the history and main divisions of philosophy (ULO 1).
2. Employ the skills of philosophical reading, writing, and argument (ULO 1).
3. Apply insights from the world’s wisdom traditions to their practice of the teachings of Jesus (ULO 2 and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Upper-Division Course Prerequisites and Restrictions

All Philosophy majors must consult with their academic advisor each semester before registering for courses.

Only students who have completed a Core Curriculum course in philosophy will be permitted to enroll in upper-division Philosophy courses (300’s and 400’s). Exceptions to this policy may be permitted in special circumstances and will require the approval of the chair of the Philosophy Department.

Curriculum Requirements

The major comprises 38 credits beyond the Core Curriculum requirement in Philosophy.

Electives: Select 18 credits of upper-division PHIL courses. 18

Total Credits 38

1 Must be taken for a total number of 4 credits.
2 Should be taken during the academic year in which students will complete their third and final oral exam (see Oral Examinations section below).

Oral Examinations
All Philosophy majors must pass three oral exams before graduating. Each exam is a comprehensive, oral examination covering topics from all Biola philosophy courses completed in prior semesters. A study guide indicating topics and questions to prepare will be distributed at the beginning of the semester. Students are encouraged to work together to prepare. Prerequisites are at least nine credits of philosophy, either upper or lower-division, or consent of the department chair. During the academic year in which the third and final oral exam will be taken, students should enroll in PHIL 351.

Course Sequence
NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

Political Science, B.A.

Mission
The mission of the Political Science program is to educate Christian men and women in political science in order to produce thinking Christians who demonstrate a broad understanding of the art and science of politics, based on a biblical foundation and worldview; who understand and apply biblical knowledge, Christian virtues, and ethical principles to politics; and who demonstrate entry-level professional skills necessary for success in politics and related fields.

Vision
The vision of the Biola University Political Science department is to develop a movement of men and women suitably trained in mind and character whom God may entrust with positions of influence within government, law, and public policy.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The Political Science major requires 39 credits, 24 of which must be upper-division. For students interested in teaching the History: Secondary Instruction concentration offered under History, B.A. (p. 390) prepares students for teaching the social sciences, including political science.
Off-Campus Programs

American Studies Program
Biola University cooperates with the American Studies Program in Washington, D.C. This program provides work/study opportunities for students each semester in all of the disciplines offered at Biola, especially political science. Based on the principle of integrating faith, learning and living, students are invited to spend time in the nation’s capital serving as interns, participating in an academic seminar program and living in a unique community of Christians from different geographical regions and denominational backgrounds.

The American Studies Program is designed for juniors and seniors with a wide range of academic majors and vocational interests. Students are involved in the American Studies Program for either the fall or spring semester, earning 16 semester credits in the internship and study seminars. A student may earn all 16 credits in Political Science or 13 credits in Political Science and 3 credits in Bible, if desired. POSC 225 or POSC 250 is a prerequisite to the program.

Biola Washington, D.C. Study Tour
Biola students in the Biola: Washington, D.C. Program spend five-six weeks completing short-term internships in Washington, DC and studying political science with Biola professors. The program runs in partnership with the CCCU’s American Studies Program in Washington, DC, and capitalizes on ASP’s relationships in Washington to establish internships for our students. Students will earn 3 hours of internship credit and 3 hours of POSC credit.

The purposes of the program are to provide hands-on learning experiences and develop professional skills; to help students experience the unique world of national politics and consider the Godly calling of public service; and, to motivate students to dig deeper and challenge themselves in their studies.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, students will be able to:

1. Identify key figures and articulate important ideas of political theory, and apply them to current trends and events in politics (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate competent knowledge of world geography, comparative political systems, and the principles of international relations (ULO 1).
3. Articulate Constitutional principles and apply them to the institutions and challenges in current American politics (ULO 1).
4. Articulate the integration of political science with a biblical worldview (ULO 2).
5. Engage their future vocation in political science as faithful stewards of God’s calling, and understand their rights and duties as responsible citizens in a diverse polity (ULO 2).
6. Demonstrate growing skills at critical thinking and analysis, and communicate and defend their ideas persuasively and cogently, on the basis of evidence and sound research (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Sociology, B.A.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Arts in Sociology is to develop Christian scholars who can critically analyze the effects of social structures on human life and who can apply this knowledge to work toward a world that embodies God's justice and shalom.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The sociology major requires the completion of 34 credits, 24 of which must be upper-division.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Sociology, students will be able to:

1. Identify the causes and consequences of social divisions and inequalities (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the role of evidence in both qualitative and quantitative methods in sociology (ULO 1).
3. Explain the biblical concepts of peace and justice and identify their connections with contemporary social issues (ULO 2).
4. Explain central concepts of social theory and apply them to social life (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Concentrations

Criminology

This course concentration provides students an opportunity to study crime and related issues from a social scientific perspective, infusing themes of social justice, Christian ethics, and recognizing social inequalities present within the criminal justice system. Students in the Criminology concentration must take SOCI 336 as their Inequality course listed under the Program Courses. POSC 410 is a suggested support course.

Spanish, B.A.

Mission
The mission of the Spanish Program is to prepare students for life, work, service and scholarship in Spanish speaking communities within the U.S. and abroad. We seek to guide students to develop holistic, integrative reasoning as the foundation for service to others, work in the professions and further academic study in Spanish.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish is conferred upon the completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The Spanish major requires the completion of a minimum of 30 credits beyond SPAN 201, 24 of which must be upper-division. A minimum grade of ‘C’ is required for any course to be counted toward the major.

All Spanish majors (except for those pursuing a professional or secondary instruction concentration) will be required to take either SPAN 334, SPAN 335, SPAN 485 and/or complete an approved study abroad program. See the Department of Modern Languages for more information.

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Spanish, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the acquisition of advanced cognitive and linguistic knowledge (ULO 1).
2. Formulate questions about cultural and linguistic difference and critically evaluate other cultures in relation to themselves (ULO 1).
3. Interact effectively in a cross-cultural context, whether local or global, while exhibiting humility in relation to other cultures and languages (ULO 2).
4. Integrate Christian faith into cross-cultural interactions in the target language (ULO 3).
5. Communicate orally at advanced target language proficiency by engaging in conversation in a clearly participatory manner (ULO 3).
6. Demonstrate advanced proficiency in the written language by reading and interacting with texts across a range of genres and topics and writing formal and informal correspondence, narratives, descriptions, and analyses, all in the target language (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
Admission Requirements
All students intending to minor or major in Spanish must:

1. Place into the correct level by department assessment or successfully complete the prerequisite coursework in order to start the program. All students must pass the previous course with a grade of ‘B’ or higher, or obtain a satisfactory score on a normed placement test given by the department, in order to proceed with the major or minor. Students with AP Spanish Language scores of 4 or higher will be given 4 credits for SPAN 200 but will need to take the placement test to determine the appropriate entry course. Students with AP Spanish Literature scores of 4 or higher will be given 4 credits for SPAN 351 but will need to take the placement test to determine the appropriate entry course.

2. File an application with the Department of Modern Languages and complete an interview with a faculty member.

Program Courses
Students desiring to minor in Spanish are strongly encouraged to begin their freshman and sophomore years. Placement in Spanish classes will be based on a mandatory department assessment. Students entering the program with less than two years of high school Spanish or one semester of college Spanish will automatically be placed in the first course, either SPAN 100 or SPAN 215. Students who do not maintain continuous enrollment must be retested and placed accordingly. Advancement from one course in the lower-division sequence to the next will require demonstration of proficiency.

The Spanish major and minor allow students to proceed through two course tracks, one for second language learners of Spanish and the other for heritage learners of Spanish. A student’s progression through the program relies heavily on the sequencing of courses; therefore, it is important that students work closely with the Spanish program advisors. Students whose level of language places them into the 300-level of courses may substitute higher level courses for required courses at the 200-level with the permission of the Department of Modern Languages.

Curriculum Requirements
A Generalist in Spanish must complete 30 credits as detailed below. Students may substitute alternate upper-level courses with permission of the department. All Generalists must complete either SPAN 334, SPAN 335, SPAN 485 or complete an approved study abroad program.

Course Sequence
NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

History Minor

Mission

History is a study of the past. It's learning about families, neighborhoods, and states, and the ideas that drive them. The mission of the History minor is for students to grow in knowledge of the beauty and diversity of civilizations, and to prepare students to read critically, discuss intelligently, and write persuasively.

Curriculum Requirements

A History Minor is offered with the completion of 18 credits beyond the Core Curriculum requirements, 12 of which must be upper-division.

International Relations Minor

Mission
The mission of the International Relations minor is to provide students with the knowledge (about the key ideas, institutions, and actors involved in global politics), skills (critical thinking, research, writing, and diplomacy), and attitudes (about human nature, society, and the world, reflecting Christian ethical principles in foreign affairs) needed in order to impact the world for Jesus Christ in the diverse callings of politics, missions, business, and others.

Minor Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the International Relations minor students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a working knowledge of fundamental theories in international relations and will demonstrate basic familiarity with key global institutions, actors, and world geography (ULO 1).
2. Justify foreign policy prescriptions and evaluate international issues based on scriptural and ethical principles (ULO 2).
3. Demonstrate basic competence in both policy analysis of international issues and in professional communication (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Curriculum Requirements
A Minor in International Relations is offered with the completion of 18 credits. For Political Science majors, no more than 6 credits from the major may count toward this minor.

Middle East Studies Minor

Mission
The Middle East Studies minor focuses on a part of the world that has played a vital role in biblical and religious history, and continues to play a vital role in world politics today. Doing the coursework of this minor, which crosses several disciplines, and engaging with the professors that you’ll get to know and the ideas that you’ll wrestle with, is excellent preparation to be salt and light in the world. The study of the history, languages, cultures, religions and politics of Asia, Africa and the Mediterranean world will prepare students to engage in the increasing international interest of this area.

Curriculum Requirements
Students who wish to pursue a minor in Middle Eastern Studies must complete a minimum of 18 credits.

Torrey Honors Institute

Mission

The Torrey Honors Institute is a general education program in the liberal arts for undergraduates at Biola University. It is dedicated to forming leaders through the study of the master works of Western civilization, with a special emphasis on the Bible and Christian authors. Students in the program, who come from a variety of majors, are outstanding examples of academic ability, Christian character, and potential for leadership. They learn in a rigorous discussion group format to think and express themselves clearly in both verbal and written forms.

Program Plan

The work of the Torrey Honors Institute fulfills the majority of the liberal arts Core Curriculum requirements for a four-year degree at Biola.

B.A. students need 57-58 credits to satisfy their Torrey Honors program requirements. B.F.A, B.M., and B.S. students are exempted from HNRS 460 and need 55-56 credits to satisfy their Torrey Honors program requirements. To gain a four-year degree, students must meet all other academic, social, and spiritual requirements of Biola University. For further details, see the Torrey Course Sequence.

Torrey Honors Certificate

A student who completes the full Torrey program will be awarded the Torrey Honors Institute Certificate. A student need not graduate from Biola University to receive the Certificate. Certificates are presented at a commencement ceremony each spring.

Advanced Placement Credit

Although most Torrey students will have earned Advanced Placement credit in high school, they will not be exempted from any Torrey required classes. Advanced Placement courses are helpful in preparing the student for Torrey, but not equivalent to Torrey classes in style, content or rigor.

Transfer Students

Applications for admission from transfer students with outstanding academic merit will be considered for the Torrey Honors Institute. Transferred credits may satisfy some standard Biola general education requirements, and major prerequisites not covered by Torrey coursework; however, no transfer courses will satisfy any Torrey Honors Institute course requirements.

Torrey Off-Campus

Torrey Off-Campus (HNRS 465) offers opportunities to live and study away from the Biola campus for credit. Students read books, attend lectures, participate in discussion groups, and visit cultural points of interest in the area they are visiting. Torrey Off-Campus provides the opportunity for intellectual growth in a more intensive format than is possible during the school year. Students are supervised and led by a tutor in the Torrey Honors Institute. Torrey Off-Campus may be applied to either HNRS 338, HNRS 440, HNRS 450, HNRS 460, or as the Integration Seminar (BBST 465).

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Torrey Honors Institute, students will be able to:

1. Analyze and interpret diverse and challenging works in collaboration with others (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate a willingness to consider diverse perspectives and to change their beliefs and behaviors due to the insights of others (ULO 2).
3. Contribute in intellectual discussion confidently, critically, and charitably (ULO 3).
Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

The Torrey Honors Institute is highly selective. The average applicant to Torrey is among the top ten percent of students planning to attend Biola University in terms of academic, social, and spiritual leadership. High school students wishing to apply to Torrey should take four years of each of the core disciplines. Torrey applicants should have completed successfully some honors or Advanced Placement work, if such is available at their high schools. Students wishing to enroll in any courses in the Torrey Honors Institute must have outstanding skills in both written and spoken English. The prospective student will demonstrate the former in the Torrey Honors Institute must have outstanding skills in both written and spoken English. The prospective student will demonstrate the former and latter by a personal interview.

Total Credits 57-58

1 The paired courses HNRS 101 & 102, 105 & 106, 210 & 215, 230 & 231, and 324 & 327 are corequisite and consubstantial courses. Each pairing functions as one coherent, 8-credit course, rather than two distinct 4-credit courses, and therefore cannot be separated under any circumstances without written approval from the director.

2 B.F.A, B.M., and B.S. students are exempted from HNRS 460.

3 Engineering Physics majors are additionally exempted from HNRS 440.

4 This course (BBST 465) is required for Torrey students. They must fulfill it through their major’s integration seminar (if required), our HNRS 465 course, or any BBST 465 offered at the university.

HNRS 465, 490 and 491

Students may receive credit for HNRS 338, HNRS 440, HNRS 450, HNRS 460 via registration for HNRS 465, HNRS 490, or HNRS 491 with permission of a faculty mentor and the program director. Students may also receive credit for HNRS 465 via registration for HNRS 490 or HNRS 491 with permission of a faculty mentor and the program director.

Students may combine HNRS 465, HNRS 490, or HNRS 491 to replace a maximum of 14 upper-division credits throughout their undergraduate career, while taking no more than 12 credits of the same course number. Any requested substitution beyond this is subject to written approval from the director. HNRS 465 can also be used to satisfy Biola’s Integration Seminar requirement (BBST 465).

Program Departures

If a student does not complete all Torrey Honors program requirements but continues at Biola, the following Biola Core Curriculum requirements are satisfied by passing grades in the following Torrey courses.

Students who depart the Torrey Honors program after completing their fifth paired semester (HNRS 324 & HNRS 327) will not be granted any further substitutions in Biola's Core Curriculum than those listed above. There are no transfer substitutions for HNRS 338, HNRS 440, HNRS 450, HNRS 460, HNRS 465, HNRS 490, and HNRS 491.

Torrey Course Sequence

NOTE: This is a suggested sequence only. Because of the differences in Torrey students’ degree options, students should consult with both their major department and Torrey Honors Institute for customized course sequencing and degree planning.

SOCl: Sociology

Courses

SOCl 220 - Introduction to Sociology  Credits 3
Sociological concepts with emphasis on group life, culture, socialization, social institutions, social processes and change. Theoretical as well as practical application of interaction and its effect on individuals in groups. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Behavioral Science. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 262 - Social Problems  Credits 3
Major problems of social maladjustment from the viewpoint of the underlying processes of individual and social disorganization; deviant behavior, such as mental disorders, crime and delinquency, suicide, drug and alcohol addiction; social disorganization, such as population problems, family, poverty and war. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Behavioral Science. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 300 - Social Work  Credits 3
This course is designed to familiarize students with the basics of generalist social work practice from a systems perspective; an overview of social work function and roles in response to the needs of at risk populations will be provided. Instruction in the helping interventions of assessment, problem solving, counseling and resource coordination through a variety of techniques, including class lecture, case study and role play; current systems of service and the ability of the social worker to positively impact both individual and communities will also be explored. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 220. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 302 - Sociology of Gender  Credits 3
Examines gender as an organizing principle in societies at all levels. The course explores the key theoretical approaches to sociology of gender and explains how historical, economic, and political trends impact gender and gender identity, as well as the impact of gender on various social institutions such as the family, government, the workplace, education, and the criminal justice system. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 320 - Marriage and the Family  Credits 3
Christian and sociological perspectives on marriage, dating, sexuality and child rearing. Analysis of the family as a social institution as well as practical strategies for building a Christian family. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 323 - Qualitative Methods  Credits 3
This course is designed to teach students the methods by which social researchers collect and analyze information. Qualitative studies enrich our understanding of social interaction and social psychology. Rather than having you memorize concepts, regurgitate them on an exam and then forget them immediately, this course will allow you to complete social research projects of your own, based on ethnography and in-depth interviews. Activities and lectures will be oriented toward helping you design and complete your project. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 326 - Quantitative Methods  Credits 3
The course covers the most common quantitative analyses and culminates with students completing a final methods paper that incorporates the findings from the semester. Students will examine an inequality related topic of interest using a public dataset. As each course topic is introduced, students would apply that analytic technique to their specific data, thus demonstrating competency and accumulating evidence for their final papers. This course is offered every semester. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 327. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 327 - Quantitative Methods Lab  Credit 1
Statistical data analysis are used quite frequently in our 'information society': political polls, opinion polls, market research, demographic studies, as well as sociological research rely on these techniques. This lab course is designed to train students in statistical techniques attractive to many employers in non-profit, social service, criminal justice, and business professions as well as graduate school. Grade Mode: A. Corequisite(s): SOCl 326. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 333 - Criminology  Credits 3
The course covers three main and overarching goals: to serve as an introduction to the study of crime causation (why people commit crime), to distinguish between the different types (and categories) of crime, and to introduce students to the criminal justice system. The following topics will be discussed: criminological theories of crime causation, crime typologies, and the criminal justice system (including a glimpse into criminal justice professions). Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 220. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 334 - Juvenile Delinquency  Credits 3
Character, extent and cause of juvenile delinquency; both personal and environmental. Past and current theories of youth crime; modern methods of incarceration, control and treatment. Changing response of the laws, police, courts and the public. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 220. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 335 - Deviant Behavior and Mental Illness  Credits 3
Theoretical orientations to social as well as personal disorganization that result from role conflict, social conflict, normlessness or alienation; individual and social deviance that relates to group processes and structures will be presented and discussed. The medicalization of deviant behavior under the label 'mental illness' will also be discussed and theorized. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 220. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCl 336 - Unequal Justice: Race, Class, Gender and Crime  Credits 3
Race, and companion factors such as ethnicity, social economic class, gender and age are critical factors in the administration of criminal justice in the United States. This course critically examines race, class and gender within the United States criminal justice system. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): SOCl 220. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
SOCI 337 - Sociology of Death and Dying Credits 3
This course will examine the experience of death and dying in American society. Specifically we will explore the denial of death in our culture, and how this denial affects our experience of death, grieving, and life itself. Christian perspectives on dying will be explored and a biblical view of life, death, and the afterlife will inform our discussion. Comparisons to other cultures and other time periods in views of death will also be emphasized. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 340 - Political Sociology Credits 3

Restriciton(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 353 - Religion in Public Life Credits 3
Examination of the role of religious beliefs and institutions in the public life and discourse of the U.S.; focusing on questions of religion and politics, including the impact of various religious movements on culture and society. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): SOCI 220.

SOCI 354 - Religion in the City Credits 3
Sociological analysis of distinctly urban forms of religious experience and practice that have developed in relation to the spaces, social conditions, and history and development of American cities. Note(s): Field-based course. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): SOCI 220.

SOCI 356 - Sociology Internship Credits 3
This course will provide each student with supervised professional experience in a community agency of their choice. Students will treat their internships as ‘field sites’, taking weekly observation notes. Weekly notes will be coded and analyzed resulting in a final research paper. Students will also be responsible for a total of 90 hours at their internship site. All internship students will meet together with a department internship instructor once a week throughout the semester at the assigned class time. This course is mandatory for social work and criminology concentrations and open to all sociology majors. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): Must be Sociology (SOCI) or Criminology (SOCR) or Social Work (SOWK); and Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 366 - Sociology Internship Credits 3
Analysis of the social bases of, and changes in, such American cultural values as individualism, consumption, work, leisure, success, and marriage and family. These are considered in the context of how values are shaped and changed by such variables as social class, education, generation and religious belief. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 370 - American Culture and Values Credits 3
Explores the relationship between the built environment and its influence on human behavior and social interaction with the urban setting. Emphasis on architectural forms, public art, and shared public spaces, and how these both influence and react to social and cultural realities. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 372 - Art, Architecture, and Public Space Credits 3
This course explores the city through an analysis of urban theory, art, architecture, literature, film and the spatial arrangement of urban populations, as they have developed from modernity to postmodernity. In order to better understand the postmodern urban context, this class includes a significant field research component in several different urban settings. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): SOCI 220.

SOCI 375 - The Postmodern Metropolis Credits 3
course fee: $50.

SOCI 380 - Sociology of Religious Organizations Credits 3
This course will examine the role of religious beliefs and institutions in the public life and discourse of the U.S.; focusing on questions of religion and politics, including the impact of various religious movements on culture and society. Grade Mode: A.
Restriciton(s): SOCI 220.
SOCI 389 - Sociology of Wealth and Poverty Credits 3
This course explores the causes and consequences of current levels of economic inequality in society both in the US and around the globe. Most of the time will be spent addressing economic inequality in the US – how wealth is produced, what leads to poverty, and how cycles of wealth are reproduced across generations. Students will also explore the consequences of poverty and wealth and how they are experienced in daily life. Both scripture and social science will be examined to explain poverty and to imagine the possibilities for creating a more just and equal world. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 397 - Sociology of Disabilities Credits 3
This course will examine the experience of disability sociologically, with special attention toward the barriers to full equality and acceptance that people with disabilities face. We will also explore Christian views of disability and explore a theology of suffering and disability. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 402 - Religion and Society Credits 3
Analysis of religious practices that affect society, and social factors that affect religious practices; Christian and non-Christian beliefs and institutions. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SOCI 220.

An examination of the development of social theory beginning with theorists such as Marx, Durkheim, and Weber, and continuing through the subsequent development of 20th century social theory. Major issues include the relation between the individual and society, the sources of conflict and change in society, the role of ideas and beliefs in shaping human behavior, and the importance of social theory for the thinking, critically active Christian. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SOCI 220.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 453 - Sociology of Sexuality Credits 3
Using the sociological lens, this course will focus on how human sexuality reflects the society in which we live. Although it is often assumed that sexual attitudes and behaviors are exclusively biologically based, they are strongly shaped by society. Through lecture, media, readings and discussion this course will: distinguish sex from gender, focus on sociological theories of sexuality, examine a history of sexuality in Western society, link sexuality to ‘micro’ and ‘macro’ levels of social relations, visit societal debates on sexuality, note the historical acquisition of sexuality by normative groups, gain information about alternative forms of sexuality, understand sexuality as an intersecting concept, and generally underscore sexuality as a social concept. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SOCI 454 - Film, Television, and the Arts: Racial and Gender Issues Credits 3
Students will learn to analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view and understand their own values and ethics. Specifically, students will analyze the relationship between cultural representations of race and gender to constructions of the self through an examination of the experiences of artists and celebrities in contemporary popular media such as film/television, music, and performance. Through weekly reading assignments, media presentations, and original research projects, students will develop theoretical, analytical, and research skills to better understand the complex and dynamic relationship between popular culture and the social self. Students are also welcome to share current media content relevant to the course subject. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 205 - Intercultural Communication in Spanish
This is an introductory course designed to build basic language skills (listening, speaking, reading, and writing) by focusing on the cultural content, vocabulary and grammar necessary to develop intercultural communicative competence at an intermediate low-mid proficiency level.
Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Foreign Language.
Note(s): Offered off campus and includes a service component and course fee depending on the location and itinerary of the class and service component.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 100 or demonstration of proficiency through department assessment.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): May involve trip fee.
Course Fee: $5.
Credits: 4

SPAN 215 - Basic Spanish for the Heritage Learner
This course will build upon and further develop the informal knowledge of Spanish that heritage learners bring to the classroom – usually from family and neighborhood exposure to the language – and cultivate formal speaking, reading, and writing abilities.
Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Foreign Language.
Note(s): Students are not expected to have any formal training in written Spanish prior to enrolling in this course; students desiring to enroll in Spanish are strongly advised to do so during their freshman and sophomore years.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Assessment and/or recommendation from a Spanish professor within the department.
Restriction(s): Students cannot enroll in courses lower than the level into which they place through testing; must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.
Credits: 4

SPAN 215A - Basic Spanish for Heritage Learners IA
This is the first part of a two course series that will build upon and further develop the informal knowledge of Spanish that heritage learners bring to the classroom - usually from family and neighborhood exposure to the language - and cultivate formal speaking, reading, and writing abilities.
Students enrolled in SPAN 215A must enroll in SPAN 215B for the following academic term.
Note(s): Approved for Core Curriculum credit; students are not expected to have any formal training in written Spanish prior to enrolling in this course; students desiring to enroll in Spanish are strongly advised to do so during their freshman and sophomore years.

SPAN 300 - Advanced Spanish Communication I  Credits 4
This course will help develop students’ vocabulary and register while reviewing advanced grammatical structures of Spanish through thematic units, which target the development of advanced-level oral and written proficiency through readings and discussion of Spanish texts and culture broadly defined (film, literature, newspapers, pop culture, etc.), as well as writing assignments and oral presentations. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 202.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 301 - Advanced Spanish Communication II  Credits 4
This course will help develop students’ vocabulary and register while reviewing advanced grammatical structures of Spanish through thematic units, which target the development of advanced-level oral and written proficiency through readings and discussion of Spanish texts and culture broadly defined (film, literature, newspapers, pop culture, etc.), as well as writing assignments and oral presentations. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 202.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 310 - Advanced Spanish for Heritage Learners I  Credits 4
This course seeks to broaden the informal knowledge of Spanish that heritage learners bring to the classroom and focuses primarily on the development of formal speaking, reading, and writing abilities across a variety of topics and genres. Note(s): Students may take one or both courses in the series based upon the recommendation of their instructor or program advisor. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 202.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 311 - Advanced Spanish for Heritage Learners II  Credits 4
This course seeks to broaden the informal knowledge of Spanish that heritage learners bring to the classroom and focuses primarily on the development of formal speaking, reading, and writing abilities across a variety of topics and genres. Note(s): Students may take one or both courses in the series based upon the recommendation of their instructor or program advisor. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 215.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 334 - Community Spanish  Credits 3-4
This Spanish language immersion course is a community-based, experiential learning opportunity in Spanish which will consist of Spanish in a classroom setting focusing on the exploration of local varieties of Spanish and Latino culture. Students are required to live in a Christian host family and participate in mandatory excursions and service learning in the target language during afternoon, evening, and weekend hours. The course will normally be offered during summer session. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 201 or higher.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $170 per credit.

SPAN 335 - Spanish Study Tour  Credits 4
This course offers a real world setting for the development of intercultural communicative competence under the guidance of our faculty. Study tours may include homestays, exploratory excursions, internships and academic service learning as our students practice their language skills while in direct contact with Hispanic culture. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 201.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): Travel fees will vary depending on duration and location of tour.

SPAN 340 - Introduction to Literary Masterpieces  Credits 4
This course will present students with a survey of key works of Hispanic literature from the middle ages to the contemporary period both from Peninsular and Latin American authors and will introduce students to different genres (poetry, drama, novel, essay, short story) as well as situate readings in their historical context. Students will be encouraged to make thematic connections between the readings and contemporary issues. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 341 - Foundations of Hispanic Literary Study: Genre  Credits 4
This course offers literary readings and analysis organized within four genres: prose, drama, poetry and the essays of Spanish and Spanish American literature. Students will explore more deeply the genres introduced in SPAN 340 through readings and exercises that will equip them with a foundational understanding of and appreciation for the literature of the Spanish-speaking world. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 340.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 350 - Hispanic Civilization and Culture  Credits 4
This survey course provides a panoramic view of the civilization and culture of the Spanish-speaking world (Spain, Spanish America, United States) from its early origins to the present day. Emphasis will be given to literary, artistic and cultural productions of each respective region. This class aims to help students attain an advanced level of intercultural communication in the target language with practice in the four skill areas (listening, speaking, reading, and writing). Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $5.

SPAN 351 - Hispanic Studies: Culture, Language, or Literature  Credits 1-4
This course will explore different literary and cultural topics. Emphasis will be placed on oral and written expression and will target the development of intercultural skills to help students attain an advanced level of intercultural communication in the target language. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 201.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.
SPAN 401 - Topics in Hispanic Culture Credits 1-4
This course seeks to help students synthesize an understanding of the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world, with a specific emphasis on the history, language and culture of the region under study. Students will focus on the socio-historical development of the countries and its influence on the Spanish language and culture of the specific region. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.

SPAN 402 - Topics in Hispanic Linguistics Credits 1-4
An exploration of the various sub-fields within the broader field of Hispanic linguistics. This course may include topics such as sociolinguistics, applied linguistics, contrastive analysis, the interface of culture and language, dialectology, and other important areas in Hispanic linguistics. This course may require field work or other practical application. Note(s): Topics will vary with each offering, may be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.

SPAN 403 - Topics in Spanish for Specific Purposes Credits 1-4
This course is intended to help students attain proficiency at advanced levels in one or more professional fields. By focusing on field-specific vocabulary and grammatical structures, students will be able to apply their oral and written abilities in professional contexts such as business, technology, healthcare, and law, among others. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.

SPAN 404 - Topics in Hispanic Literature Credits 1-4
This course explores topics in Spanish and Spanish American Literature in its cultural context. While exploring the literature's social and historical context, students will acquire analytical and interpretive skills and learn to apply them to literature and the genre. Note(s): Topics will vary with each offering; may be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 341.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.

SPAN 433 - Spanish Applied Linguistics and Teaching Pedagogy Credits 4
This is an introductory course in applied linguistics, with a special emphasis on the theoretical and practical aspects of the teaching of Spanish as a foreign language. In this course students will learn fundamental concepts in linguistics within the context of the Spanish grammar in order to be able to understand their use in the study of second language acquisition, foreign language learning and foreign language teaching. The course is conducted in Spanish, with readings in both English and Spanish. Note(s): See also LEDU 433/SEED 533: Single Subject Pedagogy. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 450 - Introduction to Translation I Credits 2
This course is the first part of an Introduction to Translation and will consist in a brief introduction to the theory and history of translation. The course will cover a wide range of issues and classical debates in translation studies and will provide students with an overview of the history of translation studies, different translation theories and various approaches to translating. This guide will allow students to be more aware of the different choices they have when making a translation – whether it be a medical document, a recipe or a legal document – thus equipping them to produce a better translation. Consequently, this course does not only focus on translation theory and history as such, but will also apply various methods and approaches to different texts genres and speeches. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 450.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 451 - Introduction to Translation II Credits 2
This course is the continuation of the Introduction to Translation and will consist in a brief introduction to the theory and history of translation. The course will cover a wide range of issues and classical debates in translation studies and will provide students with an overview of the history of translation studies, different translation theories and various approaches to translating. This guide will allow students to be more aware of the different choices they have when making a translation – whether it be a medical document, a recipe or a legal document – thus equipping them to produce a better translation. Consequently, this course does not only focus on translation theory and history as such, but will also apply various methods and approaches to different texts genres and speeches. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 451.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 452 - Translation I Credits 2
This course is the first part of a two-course series in Translation and serves as an introduction to the working methods of professional translation. Students will gain experiential knowledge of the process which includes the preparation stage (reception of the document, documentation, use of terminology tools), the execution stage (comprehension, re-expression and re-writing in the target language, etc.) and the post translation stage (proof-reading, formatting, editing, etc.). These practical skills will be grounded in the pertinent contemporary theories in Translation Studies in order to understand translation as a process and as a product. Special attention will be given to structural differences (both linguistic and cultural) between English and Spanish. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 450.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 453 - Translation II Credits 2
This course is the continuation of the Translation I course and serves as an introduction to the working methods of professional translation. Students will gain experiential knowledge of the process which includes the preparation stage (reception of the document, documentation, use of terminology tools), the execution stage (comprehension, re-expression and re-writing in the target language, etc.) and the post translation stage (proof-reading, formatting, editing, etc.). These practical skills will be grounded in the pertinent contemporary theories in Translation Studies in order to understand translation as a process and as a product. Special attention will be given to structural differences (both linguistic and cultural) between English and Spanish. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 452.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
SPAN 454 - Translation III
This course is the first part of a two-course series in Translation. This course aims at developing at a higher level all the skills acquired in Translation I and Translation II. Students will become acquainted with the main Computer Assisted Translation tools as well as different techniques to be able to conduct terminology management and search. In this course students will start to engage with more specialized texts such as: legal, commercial, medical and technical. Students will translate texts from a wide array of topics ranging from 700 to 1000 words. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 453.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 455 - Translation IV
This course is the continuation of Translation III. This course aims at developing at a higher level all the skills acquired in Translation I and Translation II. Students will become acquainted with the main Computer Assisted Translation tools as well as different techniques to be able to conduct terminology management and search. In this course students will start to engage with more specialized texts such as: legal, commercial, medical and technical. Students will translate texts from a wide array of topics ranging from 700 to 1000 words. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 454.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 465 - Contemporary Hispanic Studies: A Biblical Perspective
This course will focus on the aspects of the Spanish language that are specific to pastoral, religious, and Christian nonprofit organization professions, as well as the social and cultural issues that one might encounter when working within Hispanic communities, both locally and globally. Exploration of these topics from a Christian worldview will provide a basis for further practice through experiential learning and fieldwork as a means of developing a socio-cultural understanding grounded in Biblical truth as well as developing in intercultural communicative competence. Note(s): This course is taught in Spanish. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 471 - Teaching Assistant Practicum
This practicum and associated training will provide opportunities for third and fourth year students to participate in a variety of professional functions, such as working with small groups of lower-division students, researching and developing instructional materials. Note(s): Special approval required. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 475 - Directed Research
Hispanic language or literature determined in consultation with the instructor. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 4.

SPAN 480 - Senior Portfolio
This course will guide students in the preparation, management and presentation of the senior portfolio required for graduation in the major. The portfolio will demonstrate advanced oral and written proficiency as well as provide evidence of professional, biblically integrative and cross-cultural competencies. Students are advised to take this course in the semester prior to their intended semester of graduation. Note(s): Students must participate in an oral proficiency interview at the end of this course. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

SPAN 485 - Internship
Internship in an approved Spanish-speaking institution or setting related to the intended service area of the student. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit in different settings. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): SPAN 300, SPAN 301, SPAN 310, or SPAN 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.
SCHOOL OF SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY AND HEALTH

Vision and Mission
The School of Science, Technology and Health is equipping a new generation of ethically thoughtful professionals in the sciences and health care, grounded in a Christian worldview, educated in an academically rigorous environment, ready to assume positions of leadership, and able to provide the clear moral vision the world desperately needs.

Overview
In February 2016, Biola University broke ground on the most ambitious building project in its history. The new facility, an expansive new $63 million, 91,200 square ft. science facility that serves as the home to the new School of Science, Technology, and Health, is comprised of some of the University’s fastest and highest demand job opportunities. The building opened in early 2018 and tripled the amount of space devoted to science education at Biola which enabled students and faculty to study in state-of-the art laboratories and classrooms with cutting-edge equipment.

Additional Educational Opportunities and Distinctives
The rapidly evolving fields of science and medicine need scientists and clinicians who are not only prepared academically and intellectually, but also guided by a strong ethical core. Biola’s science, technology, and health programs offer several key advantages:

Integration of Science and Faith. The School of Science, Technology, and Health at Biola University is dedicated to understanding how science fits into the Biblical narrative, helping equip students to thoughtfully engage the broad world of ideas and offer a morally-grounded foundation built on compassion and stewardship of all forms of life. Small class sizes and laboratory sections give students the opportunity to spend significant time in close mentorship with their professors, who remain active scientists in their respective fields.

Laboratories with State-of-the-Art Equipment for analyzing gene expression, immunohistochemistry, fluorescence and scanning electron microscopy, high-performance liquid chromatography, proton NMR, high performance liquid chromatograph, a high-speed centrifuge, atomic absorption spectrometer, infrared and fluorescence spectrometers, supercomputing cluster, and an atomic force microscope offer strong resources and rich opportunities for directed research.

3+2 Engineering Program. The first three years of the engineering physics program will be spent at Biola, studying physics, chemistry, mathematics, biblical studies and the liberal arts — all from a Christian worldview. The following two years will be spent at the University of Southern California (http://viterbiadmission.usc.edu/threetwo/) or another accredited engineering school. At the end of this five-year program, students will earn a B.S. in engineering physics from Biola and a B.S. degree in the field of engineering chosen by the student.

Locale and A Variety of Habitats for Study are within driving distance to do field work in marine, coastal, desert, and alpine ecology. In addition, Biola’s Organic Garden and Aquaculture site allow for research projects on campus. Our close Christian partner, the Au Sable Institute, offers field classes in Michigan, Washington, Costa Rica and India.

The Nursing Simulation Lab gives students hands-on experience in a variety of different simulated hospital environments caring for a variety of patients in a safe structured setting. These may include medical/surgical, critical care, obstetrics or pediatric settings and patients.

Top Tier Hospital Training. Biola has partnered with multiple top tier, magnet hospitals in Los Angeles and Orange County including UCLA, Children’s Hospital of Los Angeles, University of California, Irvine, St. Joseph’s, City of Hope, Children’s Hospital of Orange County, Hoag, St. Jude’s, and the Kaiser Health Care System as well as many other community hospitals allowing students to receive rigorous, hands-on clinical training in a real hospital environment.

Speech and Language Clinic. Biola has an on-campus speech and language clinic that is open to the public free of charge. The clinic provides speech and language services to clients ages 3 to 90+ with diagnoses such as autism, speech sound disorders, and aphasia. It has state-of-the-art equipment including a digital endoscope, Visipitch, a nasometer, and AAC devices.

The Human Performance Lab and Athletic Training Room are on-campus resources for students to practically apply skills they’ve learned in classes. Faculty facilitate opportunities for students to participate in research and students are able to volunteer and gain experience working with special populations and the local community.

Clinical Shadowing Program provides weekly opportunities to observe and interact with physicians to explore a field of interest, gain valuable clinical experience, make connections that provide a source for letters of recommendation, and witness first-hand what it means to be a Christian health professional.

Medical Missions. Students can participate in medical missions work in hospitals overseas and across the country including the Philippines, Thailand, Mexico, Rwanda or Alaska. They are also actively involved in the running and management of many community-based, underserved, outreach clinics locally like the La Mirada Activity Center serving older adults, a clinic serving the homeless in Costa Mesa, and the Fred Jordan Missions in Los Angeles. This allows them to gain invaluable cross cultural, clinical, service learning experiences which are beneficial for their future clinical nursing careers as well as a solid foundation for future graduate school pursuits.

All Pre-Med and Pre-Health Majors have access to individualized advising and support from the Biola Office of Health Professions Advising (BOHPA). BOHPA provides application workshops, interview prep, graduate admissions exam support, and individual curriculum planning and advising as students prepare for medical school. BOHPA also sponsors the Health Careers Club (HCC), a student-led group that educates, supports, and builds community among all our pre-med/health career students on the Biola campus. BOHPA and the HCC together help to prepare Biola students to impact the world for our Lord Jesus Christ through future careers as health professionals. With the support of Biola’s pre-med committee, recent applicants to medical school have had close to a 90% success rate across all applications in recent years. Biola graduates have been accepted into a variety of medical schools both locally and around the country, including UCLA, UCI, UC Davis, UC San Diego, Loma Linda, USC, Dartmouth, Yale, Georgetown, University of Washington, Oregon Health Sciences University, University of Southern California, and the University of Washington, Seattle. Biola’s pre-med students have also been successful in obtaining medical school positions at Harvard, Stanford, UC Davis, UC San Diego, Loma Linda, USC, Dartmouth, Yale, Georgetown, University of Washington, Oregon Health Sciences University, University of Southern California, and the University of Washington, Seattle. of Wisconsin, University of Arizona, University of Texas, University of New Mexico, and St. Louis University.

Requirements

GPA Requirement
To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, MATH 105, MATH 106, PHSC 132, PHSC 134, PHSC 233, PHSC 237.

Integration Seminar Requirement
Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Applied Physics degree program are required to take BBST 465 as ‘Christianity and the Natural Sciences,’ or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

Course Sequence

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

Biochemistry, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry is to train and mentor students to become skilled scientists who will glorify God and be good stewards of His creation as they serve others in research, health care, academia, and industry.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. Biochemistry is the study of the chemistry of living systems; thus this interdisciplinary program requires upper-division course work both in biology and chemistry. The Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry offers two concentrations. The premedical concentration is designed especially for those students planning a career in health professions and the requirements for schools of medicine, pharmacy, dentistry and medical technology can be met within this major. The General Biochemistry concentration prepares one for graduate school and careers in a variety of bioscience programs. Biochemistry majors have excellent opportunities for employment in biotechnical, pharmaceutical and environmental businesses and governmental agencies.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the foundational principles of biochemistry (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an ability to solve quantitative, mechanistic, and technical problems related to biochemistry (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate safe laboratory technique, proper use of appropriate equipment, and suitable results and data analysis (ULO 1).
4. Obtain and use appropriate biochemical literature and resource materials (ULO 1).
5. Summarize the key issues in science and faith and recognize the harmony possible while studying God’s creation (ULO 1, 2, and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Integration Seminar Requirement
Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry degree program are required to take BBST 465 as Christianity and the Natural Sciences, or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

GPA Requirements
To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, CHEM 106, CHEM 301, CHEM 302, CHEM 311, and CHEM 312.

Biological Science, B.S.

Mission
The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Biological Sciences is to provide an academically stimulating and challenging environment for intellectual and spiritual growth, preparing students to pursue careers in scientific research, industry, academia, and health care.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Science is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Science offers three different concentrations: Environmental Science, General Biology and Premed/Pre-Health Care Professional.

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Biological Sciences, students will be able to:

1. Apply the scientific method in research (ULO 3).
2. Explain the biomolecular basis of life at the cellular level (ULO 1).
3. Describe and classify the diversity of organismal form, structure and function, and the relationship of the organisms to one another and the environment (ULO 1).

4. Integrate faith and scientific knowledge to practice science with integrity, steward creation, and articulate the merit of their worldview (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Recommendations

Recommended high school courses are: one year of biology, one year of chemistry, three years of mathematics, and two years of foreign language. One year of physics is desirable. The student should be aware that Advanced Placement (AP) science courses may not be used to fulfill science requirements for this degree.

Graduate/Professional School Requirements

The student should be aware that most graduate programs and many professional schools require an overall minimum GPA of 3.0 and that a grade of ‘C’ or better was earned for all science courses and they will not accept Advanced Placement science credit to fulfill the entrance requirements.

Secondary Education Minor

For those interested in teaching Biology at the high school level, this concentration provides coursework that, combined with successfully passing the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET), leads to a California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Biology. The Professional Teacher Preparation Program leading to a California Teaching Credential at Biola University is subject to change in response to new legislation. See a credential analyst in the School of Education for current information on completing the requirements for a teaching credential. Students must consult with both their major advisor and a School of Education advisor. Candidates who take the following 18 credits qualify for a Secondary Education Minor:

Biological Science: Secondary Instruction, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Biological Sciences: Secondary Instruction Program at Biola University is to provide an academically stimulating and challenging environment for intellectual and spiritual growth, preparing students to pursue careers as teachers to make an impact as educators in the secondary classroom.
Degree Program
A Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Science, Secondary Instruction is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The student should be aware that the Advanced Placement (AP) science courses cannot be used to fulfill science requirements for this degree.

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Biological Science: Secondary Instruction, students will be able to:

1. Apply and demonstrate the scientific method and how it is used in research (ULO 1).
2. Explain the biomolecular basis of life at the cellular level (ULO 1).
3. Describe and classify the diversity of organismal form, structure and function, and the relationship of the organisms to one another and the environment (ULO 3).
4. Integrate faith and scientific knowledge to explain how science should be practiced with integrity, our duty to steward creation, and how to articulate the merit of one’s worldview (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
For those interested in teaching Biology at the high school level, this major provides coursework that, combined with successfully passing the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET), leads to a California Single Subject Teaching Credential in Biology. The Biological Science: Secondary Instruction major consists of 76 credits.

The Professional Teacher Preparation Program leading to a California Teaching Credential at Biola University is subject to change in response to new legislation. See a credential analyst in the School of Education for current information on completing the requirements for a teaching credential. Students must consult with both their major advisor and a School of Education advisor.

Chemistry, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Chemistry is to train and mentor students to become skilled scientists who will glorify God and be good stewards of His creation as they serve others in research, health care, academia, and industry.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate requirements and the departmental specific requirements.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Chemistry, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the foundational principles of chemistry (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an ability to solve quantitative, mechanistic, and technical problems related to chemistry (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate safe laboratory technique, proper use of appropriate equipment, and suitable results and data analysis (ULO 1).
4. Obtain and use appropriate chemical literature and resource materials (ULO 1).
5. Summarize the key issues in science and faith and recognize the harmony possible while studying God's creation (ULO 1, 2, and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

GPA Requirements

To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, CHEM 106, CHEM 301, CHEM 302, CHEM 311, and CHEM 312.

Integration Seminar Requirement

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Chemistry degree program are required to take BBST 465 as Christianity and the Natural Sciences, or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

Communication Sciences and Disorders, B.S.

Mission
The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Communication Sciences and Disorders is to prepare Christian men and women with the proper foundation for graduate studies in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, so they can one day serve with excellence the millions of people whose lives are affected by various speech, language, hearing, cognitive, and swallowing disorders, problems that touch our sense of humanness.

Degree Program
Upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements, the Communication Sciences and Disorders department offers the Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders. Overall, obtaining a degree in this major requires 56 credits.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Communication Sciences and Disorders, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of basic human communication and swallowing processes, including their biological, neurological, acoustical, cultural, and developmental bases and the nature, etiology, and characteristics of speech, language, hearing, swallowing, and other communication disorders (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate the ability to complete scholarly research and writing in the field of communication sciences and disorders (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate their ability to integrate their faith into clinical practice (ULO 2).
4. Develop diagnostic and intervention plans for individuals with a variety of communication and swallowing disorders (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

GPA Requirements
All majors must achieve a minimum grade of a ‘C’ in all major courses taken at Biola. Anyone receiving a lower grade must repeat the course with a higher grade to receive credit for the course.

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

Computer Science, B.S.

Mission

A Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science equips the students with a comprehensive understanding of the theory and practice of computing, providing enriching experiences in theoretically grounded problem solving based on an analysis-design-implementation paradigm. With a holistic perspective of the integration of faith and learning in view, the program prepares the students to embark upon successful careers through which they can reach out to the world for Jesus Christ while serving in secular or faith-based organizations.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate requirements and the computer science major in one of the following concentrations: Computer Science or Information Systems.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the ability to analyze, model, and solve computing problems (ULO 1, 3).
2. Apply and synthesize knowledge of the theory and practice of computing (ULO 1, 3).
3. Design and develop software programs integrated into functioning systems (ULO 1, 3).
4. Integrate faith and learning in Computer Science (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Engineering Physics, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Engineering Physics is to train and mentor students to become skilled engineers who will glorify God and be good stewards of His creation as they serve others in industry, research, and academia.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering Physics is awarded to students who complete the 3/2 engineering program at Biola and an approved engineering school. The degree requires completion of all the general education, Bible requirements, and a minimum of 45 pre-engineering credits at Biola along with the completion of an accredited engineering program. Special arrangement has been made with the University of Southern California for this five-year, dual-degree program in liberal arts/sciences and engineering. Students attend Biola for three years taking courses in physics, math, chemistry, biblical studies and the liberal arts. The final two years are taken at the University of Southern California (USC) School of Engineering. Upon successful completion of the five-year program, a student receives a B.S. degree in Engineering Physics from Biola and a B.S. degree in Engineering from USC. Students interested in this 3/2 program with USC, or who choose to attend another accredited engineering school following a similar pattern, must plan their course of study under the supervision of the engineering advisor and with the approval of the department.

The student should be aware that engineering schools often have a minimum GPA requirement for application. The program at USC currently requires a 3.0 GPA in core Math and Science courses. The required pre-engineering courses taken at Biola for most engineering programs are listed below. Other courses may be required for specific engineering programs.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Engineering Physics, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the foundational principles related to engineering physics (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an ability to solve quantitative, qualitative, and technical problems related to an ability to engineering physics (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate safe laboratory technique, proper use of appropriate equipment, and suitable results and data analysis (ULO 1).
4. Demonstrate an ability to obtain and use appropriate engineering and physics related literature and resource materials (ULO 1).
5. Summarize the key issues in science and faith and recognize the harmony possible while studying God’s creation (ULO 1, 2, and 3).

GPA Requirement

To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, MATH 105, MATH 106, PHSC 132, PHSC 134, PHSC 233, PHSC 234.

Integration Seminar Requirement

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Engineering Physics degree program are required to take BBST 465 as Christianity and the Natural Sciences, or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

Writing Competency Requirement 3
Environmental Science, B.S.

As of Fall 2019, this degree program is in teach out phase, no new students will be admitted at this time. See the Department for alternate educational options in this field.

Mission
The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science is to nurture passionate leaders within the evangelical community that will impact the world for Christ, working to restore all aspects of God’s creation, by combining scientific and theological knowledge with practical field, lab and teaching skills to create just and sustainable solutions for environmental issues.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental Science is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements of 71 credits. Students are encouraged to take courses during summers at either the Au Sable Institute of Environmental Studies Great Lakes Campus in Michigan, or the Pacific Rim campus on Whidbey Island in Washington, or a semester with the Creation Care Studies Program in either Belize or New Zealand. Visit the following websites to get information on course offerings, prerequisites, and availability — Au Sable (http://ausable.org/) and Creation Care (http://creationcsp.org/).

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science, students will be able to:

1. Integrate science and faith to evaluate major environmental issues and develop just and sustainable solutions (ULO 1, 2).
2. Demonstrate field, lab, evaluation and presentation skills needed to conduct environmental research (ULO 1, 3).
3. Integrate science and faith with teaching skills to motivate people to care for people and the rest of God’s creation (ULO 1, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Recommendations

Recommended high school courses are: one year of biology, one year of chemistry, three years of mathematics, and two years of foreign language. One year of physics is desirable. The student should be aware that Advanced Placement (AP) science courses may not be used to fulfill science requirements for this degree.

Graduate/Professional School Requirements

The student should be aware that most graduate programs and many professional schools require an overall minimum GPA of 3.0 and that a grade of “C” or better was earned for all science courses and they will not accept Advanced Placement science credit to fulfill the entrance requirements.

Curriculum Requirements

A minimum of 43 credits in Biology or Environmental Studies, with an additional 28 credits in supporting sciences.

Health Science, B.S.

Mission
The mission of the Health Sciences major is to prepare Christian men and women in mind and character to promote and enhance the health of individuals, families, and regions through education, empowerment, assessment, and planning.

Degree Program
The Health Science major is designed to prepare students for careers in the health fields related primarily to health promotion and education, wellness programming, and health care. The curriculum is designed with a foundation in key health science and kinesiology courses that will provide an understanding of principles pertaining to health, exercise, and wellness, as well as planning, programming, and assessment. The major includes quantitative and qualitative coursework that equips undergraduates with a broad understanding of the discipline, preparing them for success in related health careers, as well as various graduate education programs.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Health Science, students will be able to:

1. Assess fundamental scientific and social factors impacting the health of an individual, family, and/or community consistent with relevant practices (ULO 1).
2. Educate, motivate, and apply knowledge toward goals of preventing and reducing the health risks for the individual, family, community, and/or global society, consistent with relevant best practices (ULO 1, ULO 2, ULO 3).
3. Synthesize, analyze, and interpret information for critical problem solving to assist populations in promotion of health consistent with relevant best practices (ULO 1, ULO 3).
4. Integrate a biblical worldview with concepts of lifespan health, disease prevention, healing, and outreach (ULO 1, ULO 2, ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Human Biology, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Human Biology is to provide an academically stimulating and challenging environment for intellectual and spiritual growth, preparing students to pursue careers and advanced degrees in health related fields.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Human Biology is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. The major offers two different concentrations: Pre-Chiropractic and Pre-Health Care Professional.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Human Biology, students will be able to:

1. Apply the scientific method in research (ULO 3).
2. Explain the biomolecular basis of life at the cellular level (ULO 1).
3. Distinguish the unique and integrated function of human organs and body systems (ULO 1).
4. Integrate faith and scientific knowledge to practice science with integrity, steward creation, and articulate the merit of their worldview (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Recommendations

Recommended high school courses are: one year of biology, one year of chemistry, three years of mathematics, and two years of foreign language. One year of physics is desirable. The student should be aware that Advanced Placement (AP) science courses may not be used to fulfill science requirements for this degree.
Graduate/Professional School Requirements

The student should be aware that most graduate programs and many professional schools require an overall minimum GPA of 3.0 and that a grade of 'C' or better was earned for all science courses and they will not accept Advanced Placement science credit to fulfill the entrance requirements.

Curriculum Requirements
Concentrations

The Human Biology major offers a concentration in Pre-Health Care Professional and one in Pre-Chiropractic.

Pre-Chiropractic (75-76 Credits)

A Bachelor of Science degree in Human Biology with a concentration in Pre-Chiropractic is offered in cooperation with the Southern California University of Health Sciences (SCUHS). Students attend Biola for three years taking courses in biology, chemistry, physics, biblical studies and the liberal arts. The upper-division biology courses are taken at Los Angeles College of Chiropractic (LACC) at SCUHS. Upon successful completion of the required courses at Biola and SCUHS, the student receives a B.S. degree with a major in Human Biology from Biola. Upon successful completion of the entire chiropractic program the student receives the D.C. degree from the Southern California University of Health Sciences' Los Angeles College of Chiropractic (LACC).

The student should be aware that LACC has a minimum GPA requirement of 2.5, and that all transfer courses must be completed with a 'C' grade (2.0 on a 4.0 scale) or higher. A course in ethics before application to LACC is strongly recommended. The following courses do not count as supporting science or major electives: BIOS 100, BIOS 105, BIOS 110, BIOS 120, BIOS 130.

The upper-division biology course requirements to be taken at LACC are General Anatomy I, General Histology, General Anatomy II, Neuroscience, Systemic Histology, Systemic Physiology and Micro/Immunology.

The minimum required pre-chiropractic courses taken at Biola are:

Kinesiology, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Kinesiology major is to develop Biblically-centered, highly skilled, and capable scholars, trained to positively impact societal health as Christ-centered professionals and innovative leaders. Our integrative educational approach through classroom, research, and field experiences will prepare students for advanced studies in graduate education, and occupations in healthcare, human performance, and exercise science professions.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology, students will be able to:

1. Identify fundamental scientific concepts and principles (anatomical and physiological) of human movement and performance (ULO 1).
2. Apply knowledge of the human body to determine various health and exercise parameters for individuals, and demonstrate proficiency in measuring and evaluating relevant human performance variables (ULO 3).
4. Integrate Scripture and personal faith with disciplined-based knowledge pertaining to human performance and capability (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.
Requirements

1 Health and Human Performance concentration students may choose CHEM 120.

Concentrations

Health and Human Performance (54 Credits)
The concentration in Health and Human Performance is ideal for students who wish to work in health and fitness, wellness promotion or strength and conditioning, and serves as preparation for graduate study in exercise physiology, athletic training, and other kinesiology-related disciplines.

This concentration requires 54 credits, 37 of which must be upper-division.

Exercise Science (55 Credits)

The Exercise Science concentration is for students who plan to pursue a graduate degree (master’s or doctoral) in physical therapy, occupational therapy or other programs in allied/sports health care. Our program is designed to meet the prerequisite needs of most nationwide graduate programs.

This concentration requires 55 credits, 34 of which must be upper-division.

Mathematics, B.S.

Mission
A Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics provides a strong foundational core for students who wish to pursue graduate studies in pure or applied mathematics; to pursue a career in applied mathematics (e.g., statistics, computer science, operations research, and actuarial mathematics) immediately after obtaining a B.S.; or to teach mathematics in middle school and high school. The courses taken to satisfy the degree requirements are taught viewing mathematics as part of God’s creation, and there is a concentrated effort to integrate faith and learning.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and the mathematics major in one of the concentrations. All mathematics concentrations must include 24 upper-division credits.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Mathematics, students will be able to:

1. Think critically, solve problems, and prove theorems in the abstract (ULO 1).
2. Apply mathematical theory, problem solve, and use math-related technology in real-world contexts (ULO 1).
3. Communicate mathematical ideas effectively, both verbally and in writing (ULO 1).
4. Articulate the implications of a biblical worldview concerning mathematics (ULO 2 and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

1. Students who wish to complete student teaching as an undergraduate must meet with an advisor. It is possible to complete LEDU 450/LEDU 452 prior to graduation if the Foreign Language requirement has already been met and coursework is taken during Summer sessions. Cross-listed as SEED 514/SEED 515 at the graduate level.

Nursing, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Department of Nursing is to prepare students to be competent nursing professionals who integrate Christian caring into their nursing practice.
Degree Program

A Bachelors of Science degree in Nursing is offered upon the completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. All nursing students must meet the Biola Bible minor requirements and therefore the Biola Nursing program is a four and 1/2 year program.

Overview

Biola University offers a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing which is approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing:

1747 North Market Street, Suite 150
Sacramento, CA, 95834
(916) 322-3350

And accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education:

One Dupont Circle NW
Washington, DC 20036
(202) 887-6791

The program is designed to prepare graduates for a career in professional nursing. Graduates of licensed vocational, diploma and associate degree nursing programs may be admitted as transfer students and evaluated individually. Policies are available from the Department of Nursing.

Clinical nursing experiences are provided in cooperation with hospitals and other agencies throughout Los Angeles and Orange Counties. In compliance with State Board regulations, the graduate will be eligible to take the NCLEX-RN examination required by the Board of Registered Nursing for licensure as a registered nurse. Upon graduation, application can be made for certification as a public health nurse. Both acceptance to, and continuation in the nursing major, will be determined by the student's preparation, performance and personal integrity, as assessed by the faculty of the Department of Nursing.

Philosophy

The philosophy of the Department of Nursing is in agreement with that of the University. As such, we believe nursing is concerned with the well being of the total person. Each faculty member, student and patient is an integrated, unique person, created in God's image, and endowed by God with dignity and worth. The entry of sin into the world has placed a constraint on the individual's total well being which can only be remedied by the power and love of God through faith in Jesus Christ. God has created all persons with the potential for dynamic growth and development throughout their lives, and with the right to make decisions which influence their well being. All persons require social interaction to achieve and maintain well being. The family within the context of its cultural environment is the fundamental unit through which the socialization process is advanced.

We believe that caring, as exemplified in the life of Jesus Christ, is the essence of nursing. The focus of nursing activity is the three client systems (personal, interpersonal and community) and the dynamic interaction between them within the context of their environment. These three systems also are interacting constantly with internal and external stressors which may affect the integrity of the systems. It is our view that the purpose of nursing is to support and promote the processes that facilitate the systems' abilities to achieve and maintain optimal adaptation. This is accomplished through use of the nursing process which is ongoing and involves assessing, diagnosing, planning, implementing, and evaluating. Effective use of this process enables the nurse to work with client systems across the health-illness continuum.

Nursing is a dynamic profession based on a growing body of evidence-based knowledge. It is our belief that Biblical studies, together with the humanities, arts and sciences, are fundamental to the development of nursing's own unique body of knowledge. Nursing is both art and science; its uniqueness does not reside in any specific component of theory or action, but can be found only in the whole.

As one of the major health care professions, we believe nurses are accountable to God and to society for provision of quality health care services in a broad variety of settings. Baccalaureate nurses endeavor to meet this responsibility through involvement in leadership, inter-professional collaboration, education, and research utilization activities to improve clinical practice, influence health care policies, and further the development of nursing science.

In a rapidly changing world, adequate and equitable delivery of health care is a critical challenge. We believe that equal access to health care services is the right of every individual in society. Through its unique contribution, nursing can and must be an effective social force in promoting the quality and availability of health care services for all persons. To effect positive changes nurses must participate in all aspects of the health care delivery system including:

1. evaluating the adequacy of health care services for the community,
2. projecting needs for additional or new services, and
3. taking appropriate action to insure accessibility of services. This requires nursing involvement with community action groups and with local and national legislative processes.

We believe initial preparation of professional nurses to meet the health care needs of society is best accomplished through the learning acquired in baccalaureate education. As nurse educators it is our responsibility to provide an environment which facilitates the learning necessary to prepare graduates for professional practice and advanced professional education.

As Christian educators we value the distinctive cultural, ethnic, and social backgrounds of each person and recognize that this diversity enriches our learning environment. It is the role of the educator to provide a learning climate of Christian caring which:

1. enhances students' abilities to use their own unique learning styles effectively,
2. promotes students' accomplishment of personal goals, and
3. facilitates students' utilization of resources and personal support systems to enhance their ability to meet their individual learning needs.

It is our belief that the goal of learning is behavioral change in the cognitive, affective, and psychomotor domains. Learning is a purposeful, dynamic process and involves changes in knowledge, skills, attitudes, values and/or beliefs. Learning occurs more efficiently, is more pervasive and more enduring when the learner actively participates in all phases of the learning process. Previous experience provides the foundation for current learning. Learning is facilitated when experiences move from the familiar to the unfamiliar and from simple to complex. Learning which emphasizes discovery of organizing principles rather than specific content facilitates the transfer of learning to novel situations.
We believe critical thinking, creative thinking, and clinical reasoning are essential for the professional nurse. Development of these skills is fostered in a supportive learning environment which:

1. provides opportunity for involvement in critical thinking and problem solving throughout the learning process,
2. stimulates the processes of inquiry and discovery,
3. provides exposure to a variety of problems in a variety of settings,
4. encourages maturation of the ability to utilize internal and external evaluative feedback, and
5. promotes increasing self-direction and independence.

The educator as a role model enhances the learning process by demonstrating Christian caring and the skills of inquiry and discovery. Acting as an expert learner, facilitator, and resource person, the educator guides the student learner through the educational experience. We believe that education is a life-long process which facilitates the ongoing development of the learner’s potentialities for continued growth as a person, citizen, and professional nurse.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate essential nursing knowledge and skills in nursing practice; integrating knowledge from biblical studies, arts, sciences, and humanities; and applying knowledge of relevant cultural, global, social, and technological factors (ULO 1, 2, and 3).
2. Employ effective communication and collaboration in the provision of quality nursing care (ULO 1).
3. Base nursing practice on a formulation of knowledge incorporating critical thinking, clinical reasoning, leadership, and advocacy (ULO 1).
4. Demonstrate ethical Christian caring and professional development consistent with a biblical world-view (ULO 1, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Admission to Biola University, as a pre-clinical nursing major or otherwise, does not guarantee admission into the clinical nursing program. Admission into the clinical nursing program is competitive. There is a separate application process for designated pre-clinical nursing students. Guidelines for student selection are subject to change and are available through the Department of Nursing.

1. All applicants for acceptance into the clinical nursing program must:
   a. Be a student in good standing at Biola University with no history of academic dishonesty and/or behavioral or other disciplinary problems.
   b. Submit a complete application and supporting documents by the designated deadline, including satisfactory personal references and a well-written biographical sketch as described on the application form.
   c. Demonstrate adequate English language and grammar writing skills, critical reasoning and effective communication during an interview with the nursing faculty.
   d. Receive a grade of "B" (3.0) or higher in NURS 112.

2. Minimum requirements considered for spring letter of acceptance include:
   a. Perform at or above 70 on the comprehensive TEAS nursing pre-admission test. Preparation for the exam is highly encouraged.
   b. Have a cumulative GPA of 3.2 or higher from all colleges attended.
   c. Have a total science GPA of 2.5 or higher on all required prerequisite sciences.
   d. Have completed 3 of the required sciences by the time of application review.

3. Have earned a minimum grade of 'C' (2.0) in all required prerequisite courses. Special circumstances: If applicant has to repeat any one required prerequisite course for a grade of C- or lower, and then successfully repeats the required course at Biola with a grade of B or higher by the time of application review, the failure grade will not be calculated in the cumulative GPA.

4. Factors which are considered in the selection process which may enhance an applicant’s potential for admission include, but are not limited to, the following:
   c. Leadership activities at church, high school, or college.
   d. Missions or other cross-cultural experiences.
   e. Biola student extra-curricular activities.

Contact the Department of Nursing for additional information regarding admission into the clinical nursing program.

After Being Accepted into Biola's Clinical Nursing Program

At their own expense, students accepted into the clinical nursing program are required to complete the following. Late fees will be assessed. Students will not be permitted to the clinical agency without these. There may be additional requirements not stated below due to changes in agency standards and policies.

- Pass a criminal background check. It is highly recommended that you meet with the Department of Nursing Director or Associate Director to disclose any criminal history (including traffic tickets of $1000.00 or more) prior to applying for the clinical program.
- Submit documentation of a clear drug screen by stated deadline and on demand.
- Submit documentation of a physical examination, including required laboratory tests by the stated deadline and annually thereafter.
- Submit documentation of having received all required immunizations and titer results by stated deadline.
- Have a current American Heart Association CPR/AED certification for the Health Care Professional Rescuer, valid driver’s license, and proof of personal car insurance turned in by the stated required submission date. A current passport is recommended.
- Have required personal technology information equipment as required by faculty.

Additionally, each student is assessed for liability insurance through the University when participating in clinical courses. The University and cooperating agencies assume no responsibility for illness or accidents occurring during the school program. Students must arrange for their own transportation to clinical agencies as the University does not provide transportation. Students must have access to a vehicle throughout the clinical nursing program. Parking fees are the responsibility of the student.

Courses with a theory and clinical component must be taken as corequisites (in the same semester). One credit of theory equals one clock hour, and one credit of clinical equals three clock hours. Because of their importance, it is mandatory to attend course and clinical orientations to proceed in nursing courses. A student must earn a minimum grade of ‘C’ (2.00) in all nursing curriculum required courses and maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00 in order to progress in nursing. Students should meet with their academic advisor to confirm applicable courses.

Students will be permitted to repeat nursing courses one time only. Students withdrawing more than once at a failing level (‘C’ or below) or failing two courses may be dropped from the nursing program.

Unsafe clinical nursing practice, regardless of GPA, is grounds for dismissal from the nursing program. Students who withdraw from nursing in good standing will be readmitted on a space-available basis.

Mandatory achievement exams will be taken throughout and at the completion of the nursing program.

Transfer/Challenge Policy

For transfer nursing students, registered nurses, licensed vocational nurses and other applicants with health profession backgrounds including Military Veterans into the Biola Bachelor of Science in Nursing program.

General Policies

1. Transfer Student Application Process

   Applicants must first be accepted into Biola University. It is recommended that the applicant meet with a nursing advisor at the time of university application. When the student has met the prerequisite requirements, a separate application and application fee must be made to the Department of Nursing. If the applicant is a RN or LVN, it is recommended that this be done concurrently with the application to the University. Contact the Department of Nursing for the program application. Priority consideration for placement in the clinical nursing program is given to current Biola students. To be considered for acceptance into the clinical nursing program, all applicants must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.

2. Challenge Planning

   Applicants planning to challenge nursing courses must first be accepted by and fulfill all matriculation requirements of Biola University. All required non-nursing prerequisites as outlined in the Standard Curriculum Chart for the nursing major should be completed before entering clinical nursing courses. Contact the Department of Nursing for the current curriculum chart. Transfer credit for non-nursing courses will be granted by the Registrar’s Office as indicated in the University catalog.

   RNs desiring to challenge must submit a portfolio and review fee of $350. LVNs desiring to challenge must submit a portfolio and review fee of $350. Veterans desiring to challenge must submit a portfolio and review fee of $350. Placement of students and nursing course credit for prior education experience is based upon individual portfolio evaluation which will include the following:

   a. Current RN or LVN license in the USA (and in California prior to start of nursing clinicals).

   b. Nursing course content outlines/syllabi/course descriptions

   c. Official transcript documenting graduation from a regionally-accredited nursing program

   d. Two references:

      i. If the ADN or LVN program was completed in the last 5 years, one reference is required from a faculty member from the last year of nursing courses.

      ii. In the applicant has been employed as an RN or LVN, a work recommendation from an immediate supervisor who has worked with the applicant for at least 6 months is required.

   e. Educational and work resume.

   Nursing Courses for which the RN may receive credit include the following (approved courses are subject to change):

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Theory</th>
<th>Clinical</th>

<tr>
<td>NURS 209/NURS 216/</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

   Nursing course for which the LVN may receive credit include NURS 209, and NURS 212 and NURS 213.

3. Minimum Degree Requirements

   All candidates will take a minimum of seven upper-division nursing courses. This will include NURS 300 (for 3 credits) in which the writing competency requirement will be met and which is designed to facilitate socialization into baccalaureate professional nursing. The credits of NURS 300 will be started during the first year following acceptance into the nursing program. The content and credits will vary with individual needs, depending upon prior education experiences and the number of credits transferred in. These initial credits must be successfully completed prior to enrollment in any other clinical nursing course.

   The minimum required courses will include:

Course Sequence

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.
Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

1. Prerequisite for admission to Clinical Nursing.

Physical Education, B.S.

As of Fall 2019, this degree is in a teach out phase, no new students will be admitted.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Physical Education is to facilitate Biblically-based learning about human movement and performance so that students are prepared to be competent and caring Christian professionals who work in the fields of teaching, coaching, exercise science, and allied health care, or who pursue advanced studies in related graduate programs.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Physical Education, students will be able to:

1. Gain a foundational knowledge of teaching strategies for K–12 students, and the appropriate application for physical education, recreation and sports ministry (ULO 1).
2. Gain foundational knowledge of health, nutrition and fitness and how to manage wellness for self and others (ULO 1).
3. Develop a cognitive understanding of the human body, movement and performance (ULO 1).
4. Develop an understanding of the relevance of the discipline of psychology to physical education and evaluate the impact on motivation and physical activity (ULO 1).
5. Develop the knowledge and capacity to integrate their faith and apply it to leadership and sports-related ministries of teaching and coaching (ULO 2).

6. Apply their knowledge of health, the human body, motor learning, and leadership skills to real life situations (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

- KNES 420 Sociology and Psychology in Physical Education and Sport 3
- KNES 434 Leadership in Sport and Human Movement 3
- KNES 485 Internship 2

Select two of the following:

- KNES 343 Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Basketball
- KNES 344 Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Soccer
- KNES 345 Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Tennis
- KNES 346 Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Volleyball

Select 4 credits of activity courses (KNES 110, KNES 130, KNES 140 or KNES 150) in addition to the Core Curriculum Kinesiology and Health Science requirement.

Total Credits 55

1. KNES 485 may be taken after consulting with a department advisor and must be taken for a minimum of 2 credits.

Teaching Credential Program

The Professional Teacher Preparation Program leading to a California Teaching Credential at Biola University is subject to change in response to new legislation. Please see a credential analyst in the School of Education for current information on completing the requirements for a teaching credential. Students must consult with both their major advisor and a School of Education advisor.

Students studying for the multiple subject teaching credential but not selecting physical education as a minor area of emphasis, should select KNES 201 in addition to the Kinesiology and Health Science requirement.

In addition to the requirements listed under the Teaching and Coaching concentration, the teaching credential program requires the following courses:

Physical Science, B.S.

Mission
The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Physical Sciences is to train and mentor students to become skilled scientists who will glorify God and be good stewards of His creation as they serve others in research, education, and industry.

Degree Program
A Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Science is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate requirements and the departmental requirements.

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Physical Science, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the foundational principles related to the physical sciences (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an ability to solve quantitative, qualitative, and technical problems related to physical science (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate safe laboratory technique, proper use of appropriate equipment, and suitable results and data analysis (ULO 1).
4. Obtain and use appropriate literature and resource materials related to the physical sciences (ULO 1).
5. Summarize the key issues in science and faith and recognize the harmony possible while studying God's creation (ULO 1, 2, and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
GPA Requirement
To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, MATH 105, MATH 106, PHSC 132, PHSC 134, PHSC 233, PHSC 237.

Integration Seminar Requirement
Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Physical Science degree program are required to take BBST 465 as 'Christianity and the Natural Sciences,' or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

1 Although it does not count toward the major, students may elect to take PHSC 326 as a formal review and preparation for the CSET exams.

Secondary Education Minor

The School of Education offers a state-approved professional teacher preparation program which leads to a preliminary single subject teaching credential in the state of California. The Single Subject credential authorizes the holder to teach the specific subject named on the credential. In most cases individuals with this credential will be offered employment in middle schools and high schools. The teacher preparation program can be added as a minor to any major; however, candidates are advised to major in the subject area they wish to teach. Candidates who take the following 17 credits qualify for a Secondary Education Minor:

Physics, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Science in Physics is to train and mentor students to become skilled scientists who will glorify God and be good stewards of His creation as they serve others in research, academia, and industry.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Science degree in Physics is offered upon completion of the University baccalaureate requirements and the departmental specific requirements.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Physics, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the foundational principles of physics (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an ability to solve quantitative, qualitative, and technical problems related to physics. (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate safe laboratory technique, proper use of appropriate equipment, and suitable results and data analysis (ULO 1).
4. Obtain and use appropriate physics-related literature and resource materials (ULO 1).
5. Summarize the key issues in science and faith and recognize the harmony possible while studying God’s creation (ULO 1, 2, and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

GPA Requirement

To continue in the program a student is required to have a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher in their first year of chemistry, physics and/or math courses taken at Biola. Depending on the major, these courses may include: CHEM 105, MATH 105, MATH 106, PHSC 132, PHSC 134, PHSC 233, PHSC 237.
Integration Seminar Requirement

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Science in Physics degree program are required to take BBST 465 as 'Christianity and the Natural Sciences,' or another approved Integration Seminar topic (see advisor).

Course Sequence

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

Physics, B.S.

Public Health, B.S.

Mission

The mission of the Public Health major is to prepare Christian men and women in mind and character to promote and enhance the health of individuals, families, communities, and regions through education, empowerment, assessment, and planning.
Degree Program

The Public Health major is designed to prepare students for careers in various aspects of public health, including health care systems, health care policy and administration, occupational and environmental health, health promotion, and global health. The curriculum is designed with a foundation in basic science courses from biology, chemistry, and physics, as well as key courses in public health and health science that cover psychological, scientific, and behavioral aspects of health. The major includes quantitative and qualitative coursework that equips undergraduates with a broad understanding of the discipline, preparing them for career success in the public health arena, as well as graduate degree programs such as the M.P.H., Dr.PH. or Ph.D.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Public Health, students will be able to:

1. Assess the biological, psychological, social, spiritual, and environmental factors impacting the health of an individual, family, and/or community consistent with best practices in public health (ULO 1).
2. Educate and motivate the individual, family, community and/or global society to work toward common goals of preventing and reducing health risks consistent with best practices in public health (ULO 1, ULO2, ULO 3).
3. Use modern technology and evidence-based methods/information to assist populations in promotion of health consistent with best practices in public health (ULO 1, ULO 3).
4. Apply a biblical worldview to the concepts of lifespan health, disease prevention, healing, and community service (ULO 1, ULO2, ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Coaching Minor

Mission
The mission of the Coaching minor is to facilitate Biblically-based learning about human movement and performance so that students are prepared to be competent and caring Christian professionals who work in the fields of teaching, coaching, exercise science, and allied health care, or who pursue advanced studies in related graduate programs.

Curriculum Requirements
A minor in Coaching is offered to those with an interest in coaching as a life profession and to those with an interest in coaching as ministry or missions. Twenty credits are required, with 18 credits from the core listed below. Remaining credits must be chosen in consultation with a department advisor.

Environmental Science Minor

Mission
The mission of Biola’s Environmental Science minor is to allow students from all majors to be trained to impact the world for Christ, working to restore all aspects of God’s creation, by combining scientific and theological knowledge with practical field, lab, and teaching skills in order to create just and sustainable solutions for environmental issues.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Environmental Science Minor, students will be able to:
1. Integrate science and faith to evaluate major environmental issues and develop just and sustainable solutions. (ULO 1, 2).
2. Demonstrate field, lab, evaluation, and presentation skills needed to conduct environmental research. (ULO 1, 3).
3. Integrate science and faith with teaching skills to motivate people to care for people and the rest of God’s creation. (ULO 1, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Kinesiology and Health Science Minor

Mission
The mission of the Kinesiology and Health Science minor is to serve students with academic interests in health promotion, personal training, group exercise instruction, fitness, and wellness.

Curriculum Requirements
A minor in Kinesiology and Health Science is offered for those with an interest in personal training, group fitness instruction, coaching, recreational leadership or physical education.

Twenty credits beyond the Core Curriculum requirement must be completed; at least 12 of these credits must be upper-division. All courses for the minor must be 200-level or higher.

Science and Theology Minor

Mission
The mission of the Science and Theology minor is to provide students with a greater depth in the philosophy and history of science than is available in a standard science curriculum. This affords the student a rich background and context to best integrate science and theology.
Curriculum Requirements

A Science and Theology minor is available to students who are Chemistry, Physics, Engineering or Biology department majors, who take the following courses:

Stewart Science Honors Program

Mission

The Stewart Science Honors Program is a highly selective, academically-rigorous, research-intensive, technology-driven interdisciplinary program, built on an intimate and collaborative community of exceptional students, original research projects, and close mentorship and advising from professors and national STEM leaders, aimed at producing innovative leaders in the sciences who understand and articulate the harmony of a Christian worldview and the sciences.

Open to a small group (12-16) of incoming School of Science, Technology and Health students each fall, the four-year program prepares students to become highly skilled, transformational Christian leaders, with a strong competitive advantage as they move on to top graduate schools or pursue professional opportunities.

Program Plan

The Stewart Science Honors Program admits students prior to their first-year (15 credits or less) of matriculating to Biola. All majors in the School of Science, Technology, and Health are eligible for the program.
Students' work and participation in the program will fall under four distinct areas of focus: 1) a summer undergraduate research experience, 2) specialized coursework, 3) Stewart speaker seminars, and 4) a senior capstone project.

1. Summer Undergraduate Research Experience: Students in the Stewart Science Honors Program are required to complete at least one, full-time, 10-week, on-campus summer research residency. Students will work closely with an assigned academic mentor on an individualized research project. All students must participate in this research experience during one of their first three summers at Biola. Exceptions to this rule can be made at the discretion of the Director, and are usually only made under the circumstance that students find a similar, competitive internship experience at another laboratory or scientific institution off campus, which can be substituted for their on-campus Biola summer experience.

2. Specialized Coursework: All students in the Stewart Science Honors Program wishing to earn the Stewart Certificate are recommended to take ENGL 313: Scientific and Technical Communication and one of the following: BBST 465: Science & Society or BBST 465: Philosophy of Science. In addition, students seeking the Stewart Science Honors Certificate will be required to take 6 SHNR Special Topics courses (0.5 credits each), which must be taken over the course of their time at Biola, one each semester.

3. Stewart Speaker Seminars: Students in the Stewart Science Honors Program will be asked to participate in Stewart Speaker seminars each semester in attendance at the university. Typically, one seminar is offered per month. These STH-wide seminars feature guest speakers, normally national or international leaders in their respective STEM fields. Students are asked to read up on guest speakers before each seminar and to sign up to attend a pre-meeting or post-meeting dinner with at least one speaker per semester.

4. Senior Capstone Project: All Stewart Scholars (with the exception of students in the 3-2 program) will be required to complete a senior capstone project in the form of a written thesis or project in close conjunction with the help of their Faculty Fellow, culminating in a final written report and oral presentation. In preparation for the Senior Honors Capstone, Scholars will complete a written research proposal and oral proposal during the year prior, in most cases in conjunction with the ENGL 313 course "Scientific and Technical Communication" or "Writing in the Disciplines." The goal of the Stewart Honors Capstone is to introduce students to a wide-variety of research-related experiences that are typical of activities professional scientists in their discipline engage in. The project will represent a significant and original piece of work that students will carry out largely independently, with the assistance of their respective Faculty Fellow. Over the course of the project, students will experience and progress through the initial stages of project development and experimental design to collection and analysis of data, culminating in presentations in written and oral format during the student's final semester at Biola. A Senior Capstone Project is not required for 3-2 Engineering students.

Stewart Science Honors Certificate

Students who attend and complete the work required for six, 0.5 credit Stewart Seminars, who complete the Stewart Capstone written and oral project, enroll in the respective ENGL 313 and BBST 465 sections, and complete their undergraduate degree while in good standing with the Stewart Science Honors Program (minimum overall 3.5 GPA) will receive a Stewart Science Honors Certificate. Certificates are presented at a ceremony each spring.

Advanced Placement Credit

Advanced placement and college credit earned during high school will transfer over toward Core Curriculum credits at Biola University, unless the student is also co-enrolled in the Torrey Honors Institute, in which case these credits do not transfer.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Stewart Science Honors Program, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the ability to retrieve and summarize knowledge on a complex scientific problem, design and propose in written and oral form a well-thought out series of novel scientific experiments, and collect, summarize, and communicate key scientific findings to broad audiences.
2. Summarize the key issues in science and faith while recognizing and articulating the harmony possible while studying God's creation.

Requirements

Admissions Requirements

The Stewart Science Honors Program is highly selective. The minimum requirement towards application into the program is a high school GPA of > 3.6 and SAT score of >1320 or ACT score >29. The average GPA and SAT scores of the first two cohorts of the Stewart program were 3.9 GPA and 1440 SAT. In addition, students are admitted based on a series of essays and conversations with the Director of the program and the program's faculty fellows. The Stewart Science Honors Program aims to recruit a diverse set of students from varied backgrounds and experiences, and highly values students who are creative problem solvers, great communicators, and entrepreneurial thinkers.

Curriculum Requirements

Students in the Stewart Science Honors Program will complete all Core Curriculum and Major courses required for Biola graduation. Stewart’s curriculum requirements fall under two categories:

Required

All students in the Stewart Science Honors Program are required to take specific sections of classes for their ENGL 313 and BBST 465 coursework. These sections are:

- ENGL 313: Scientific and Technical Communication
- BBST 465: Science & Society or BBST 465 Philosophy of Science

Stewart Science Honors Program Certificate

Students seeking the Stewart Science Honors Program Certificate are required to complete 6 additional Special Topics courses (0.5 credits each) over the course of their time at Biola. Four of these courses must be taken at the 200 level (SHNR 200) and 2 must be taken at the 400 level (SHNR 400).
Nursing Education, M.S.

Mission
The mission of the Biola University Master of Science degree in Nursing Education (MSN) program is to equip Christian nursing professionals to impact global, local or national healthcare by preparing future nurse educators for excellence in nursing education and practice.

Program Description
Our MSN program graduates will be on the front-line of tomorrow's nursing profession. They will serve in education and practice settings, possessing an enhanced Biblical worldview with an informed voice. They will have ministry opportunities as educators of current nurse clinicians and the next generation of nurses, and as policymakers and innovators in health care delivery. Nurses who desire to serve globally, will value the additional education and experiences that a Master of Science Degree in Nursing Education will afford. The Biola MSN graduate will provide community education, research, health education, promotion activities and Christian leadership within a variety of environments and settings. Graduates will be ready to serve as Christian nurse educators locally, nationally, and internationally in Christian and non-Christian academic and clinical practice environments.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Master of Science in Nursing Education, students will be able to:

1. Utilize biblical and theological principles to analyze professional nursing education and practice theories, roles and methodology (ULO 2).
2. Conceptualize, develop, mobilize, coordinate, and evaluate nursing education and nursing healthcare in local, national, and international agencies and academic centers (ULO 3).
3. Analyze and implement the standards of leadership and revenue cycle management within culturally diverse local, national, and international health care delivery systems (ULO 3).
4. Implement and evaluate program effectiveness in meeting curriculum standards, essentials and competencies (ULO 3).
5. Utilize advanced information technology in the delivery of quality health care education (ULO 1).
6. Assess, develop, implement and evaluate faith and community-based health care programs locally, nationally, and internationally (ULO 3).
7. Integrate knowledge, theory, research and skills in planning and evaluating comprehensive plans of care for individuals, families and populations (ULO 1).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements
1. Preferred candidates for admission must hold a baccalaureate degree in Nursing from either a regionally accredited institution in the U.S. or a recognized baccalaureate degree equivalent earned outside the U.S. Preferred candidates may also hold an associate degree in Nursing with a baccalaureate degree earned either from a regionally accredited institution in the U.S. or a recognized baccalaureate degree equivalent earned outside the U.S. in addition, students will be given preference who have completed or are in process of completing the following coursework:
   • Statistics: An upper-division introductory or equivalent biostatistics course that covers the following topics: distributions, sampling, tests of hypotheses, estimation, types of error, significance and confidence intervals, and sample size
   • Research: An upper-division undergraduate level research in nursing course with content that focuses on planning a research project including writing a literature review, identifying population and sampling, selecting data collection methods, understanding data analysis, applying protection of human rights, and writing a research proposal
   • Physical Assessment: A comprehensive physical assessment course providing an in-depth review and synthesis of physical assessment skills and knowledge covering the life span
   • Human Physiology: An upper-division or equivalent undergraduate level physiology course that includes human systems physiology at cellular level
2. Competitive applicants will have a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 scale.
3. Applicants for whom English is not a primary language must verify a score of 100 iBT on the TOEFL exam or IELTS 7.5.
4. Complete Biola University’s Graduate Application.
5. Interview with a member of the Nursing faculty.
6. Should hold an active and unencumbered RN license.
7. Should have 1 year of clinical experience within the last 5 years.

Graduation Requirements
1. MSN core courses must be passed with a grade of “B” or higher. Students who do not achieve the minimum passing grade will agree to seek remediation help and retake the course to achieve a B or above.
2. Candidates must complete the Master of Science in Nursing Education with a 3.0 cumulative GPA.
3. Candidates must successfully complete 220 hours of clinical practicum hours.
4. A minimum of 38 credits is required for the Master of Science in Nursing.
5. Candidates must meet with a department advisor and Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25)).

Degree Requirements
Each course must be completed with a ‘B’ or above.

Speech-Language Pathology, M.S.

Mission
The mission of the MS-SLP program is to fulfill the mission of Biola University through rigorous academic and clinical training of those desiring to become licensed, certified speech-language pathologists. Hallmarks of this program include:

1. Strong theoretical framework: Students will receive rigorous instruction in current, relevant theoretical knowledge in order to develop curious, life-long learners.
2. Excellence in clinical practice: Students will be prepared for impactful clinical work with a variety of diverse populations through clinical experiences and the model of the work and witness of faculty and instructors.
3. Biblical perspective: Students will be taught from a Christian worldview in order to promote the fullest understanding of humankind and the world.
4. Impactful: Students will connect their studies to contexts of life that they might love well those in their sphere of influence locally and globally and effectively engage in issues of our profession through research, publication, and service.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of prevention, identification, evaluation, treatment, and patient interaction with individuals of a variety of ages that have speech-sound, fluency, voice, language, social communication, cognitive communication, and swallowing disorders (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate the character of Christ including compassion, love, and kindness in their interactions with clients, families of clients, and colleagues (ULO 2).
3. Develop and implement evidence-based diagnostic and intervention plans in a variety of settings and for individuals with a variety of communication and swallowing disorders at a level appropriate for entry into professional practice (ULO 3).
4. Students will demonstrate the ability to complete scholarly research in writing in the field of communication sciences and disorders (ULO 1).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

- Hold a baccalaureate degree in Communication Sciences and Disorders from an accredited institution or hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution AND complete the prerequisite courses for this program.
- Submit GRE scores with overall scores of 290 or higher; verbal score, 145+; quantitative, 145+; and writing, 3.0+.
- Have a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 scale.
- Applicants for whom English is not a primary language must verify a score of 100 iBT on the TOEFL exam.
- Complete Biola University’s Graduate Education application.
- Interview with a member of the MS-SLP Program.

Upon Admission to the Program

- Applicants admitted to the program will take the California Basic Educational Skills Test (CBEST) or have satisfied the Basic Skills Requirement (BSR) (http://www.ctc.ca.gov/credentials/leaflets/csl667.pdf).
- Candidates will not participate within a public school-based field activity until the candidate obtains a Certificate of Clearance from the Commission.

Graduation Requirements

- MS-SLP core courses must be passed with a grade of "B-" or higher.
- Minimum GPA for the graduate program would be 3.0. Students who drop below a 3.0 in any one semester will agree to remediation help as specified by the student handbook for one semester. If their GPA does not improve to at or above 3.0 for the next semester, students may be dismissed from the program.
- Candidates must successfully complete 375 supervised clinical hours during on-campus and off-campus clinical practicum courses.
- A minimum of 63 credits is required for the Master of Sciences in Speech-Language Pathology.
- Document clinical and academic experience in all KASA Standard Areas.
- Candidates must meet with a department advisor and Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (http://catalog.biola.edu/general-information/admission-enrollment-graduation-requirements/) section).

Degree Requirements

Each course must be completed with a 'B-' or above.

Courses

BIOS 100 - Biological Principles: Lecture
Credits: 3
A survey of biological principles including the cell, zoology, ecology, human anatomy, genetics, and origin of life theories. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): No lab is required, but BIOS 110 is the lab course designed to accompany this course; BIOS 100 without the lab (BIOS 110) will not receive transfer credit at most other universities; may not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 103 - Introduction to Environmental Science
Credits: 3
An interdisciplinary approach to the study of the environment using concepts from ecology, biology, chemistry, geology, the social sciences and Scripture to understand the interplay of natural resources, how humans are affecting the environment, and how to deal with environmental problems. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 105 - Biology for Educators
Credits: 3
A survey of general biology focusing on topics of particular interest to elementary and secondary school educators, including cells and cell division, basic genetics, plants, animals, ecology, human anatomy and physiology, and evolution. Laboratory exercises will use an observational and investigative approach to surveying a range of biological organisms and examining selected human systems. Note(s): Cannot be taken to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Liberal Studies, Elementary Education (LSEE) or Liberal Studies, Multidisciplinary (LSMD), and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 107 - Observational Biology Laboratory
Credits: 2
Observational and investigative approach to surveying a range of biological organisms and examining selected human systems. Note(s): Three hours lab, one hour lecture/discussion designed to be taken with BIOS 100; may not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 111 - Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology
Credits: 3
Introductory course for majors emphasizing the principles of cellular and molecular biology, genetics, and development. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 113.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

Corequisite(s): BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 113 - Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology Laboratory Credit 1
This laboratory accompanies BIOS 111 and is divided between observational and experimental approaches, with emphasis on the collection and interpretation of quantitative data. Frequent lab discussion of relevant issues and literature will be included. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 111.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 114 - Fundamentals of Organismal Biology Laboratory Credit 1
This laboratory, which accompanies BIOS 112, will involve dissection as well as experimentation. A field project involving the La Mirada Creek is included. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 112.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 120 - Current Topics in Biology Credits 3
Selected topics of current interest and concern are studied. Sections are offered each year upon sufficient demand. Topics are the following: Human Biology. Selected body systems and/or diseases will be studied in detail; Marine Biology: An overview of marine biology with an emphasis on local marine species and conservation. Topics include seaweed, invertebrate animals, fish, marine mammals, and the impact of humans; Zoology: This course provides a broad overview of invertebrate and vertebrate animal species with an emphasis on comparative anatomy and ecology. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): May not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 121 - Nutrition Credits 3
A detailed study of the basic nutritional needs of humans: water, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, vitamins and minerals. Also included is a coverage of certain nutritional issues such as health foods, megavitamins, obesity and food additives, as well as computer-aided personal diet-analysis assignment. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 130 - Seminar in Biological Science Credits 1-2
Online course in which students discuss current topics in biology through weekly literature searches and interactive online postings. Note(s): May not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 200 - Sophomore Writing Seminar Credit 1
Writing for competency in the biological sciences. Students will get instruction and practice in science writing for the biological sciences as well as the two portions of the writing competency requirement. At the end of the course, students will take the timed writing portion of the writing competency requirement. Note(s): This course is required for all biological sciences, human biology and environmental science majors; it is highly recommended that this course be taken during the student’s sophomore year, but it may be taken later. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 103 or BIOS 111 and BIOS 112; and ENGL 100 or ENGL 112.
Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 222 - Botany Credits 4
The study of the organs, tissues, functions and responses to environment of typical flowering plants and the morphology and life history of the major lower plant groups. Field work required, including collection and classification of native plants for the Biola Herbarium. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory; there will be some Saturday field trips. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 236 - Principles of Human Anatomy and Physiology Credits 4
An introduction to the structure and the function of the systems of the human body. Integration and interaction of these systems in maintaining homeostasis will be a point of focus. Laboratories will provide students the opportunity to observe and interact with human anatomical structures as well as perform relevant physiological experiments. Grade Mode: A, N.
Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; Environmental Science (BIES), Nursing (NURS), Biological Science (BIOS), Kinesiology (KHPE), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Human Biology (BIHB); and must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 254 - Human Anatomy Credits 0,4
An introduction to the basic structure and function of the human body. Laboratory emphasis varies from section to section to meet the needs of the different majors. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour pre-lab, three hours laboratory. Note(s): Cadavers are used. Grade Mode: A, N.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 281 - Physiology Credits 0,4
A study of the basic concepts of physiological regulation from the level of the cell to the integrated intact organism including neural, muscular, and neuro-endocrine regulatory systems. Laboratory includes human systems analysis and electrophysiology. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour pre-lab, three hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 381 for credit; must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.
BIOS 282 - Microbiology Credits 0-4
A study of microbial organisms with emphasis on bacteria and viruses, including their morphology, physiology, metabolism and genetics; host parasite interactions; humoral and cell-mediated immunity. Laboratory practice in handling microorganisms, including identification and culture techniques. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A; N. Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 380 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level.

Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 290 - Natural History of Marine Mammals Credit 1
Biology and natural history of marine mammals with special emphasis on California species. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 302 - Vertebrate Biology Credits 4
The biology of vertebrates, stressing structure and function. Laboratory dissection of representative vertebrates emphasizes comparative anatomy. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 303 - Ecological Agriculture Credits 4
Environmental analysis of natural resources in relation to people and policy. Focus is on ethnobotany, ecological agriculture, and land stewardship. Employs a discussion format both in classroom and field settings. Emphasis on grappling with difficult practical and ethical problems. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 305 - Global Development and Ecological Sustainability Credits 3-4
Environmental analysis and natural resources analysis in relation to society and developmental issues. Focus on ecological sustainability and sustainable society in the context of various factors that are bringing environmental degradation and impoverishment of people and cultures. Topics include tropical agriculture, hunger, poverty, international debt, appropriate technology, relief programs, missionary earthekeeping, conservation of wild nature, land tenure and land stewardship. Employs a discussion format grappling with difficult practical and ethical problems and issues that require deep and personal thought. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.

BIOS 306 - Land Resources Credits 4
Systems level perspective on landforms and ecosystems. Includes analysis and interpretation of field data, remote sensing data derived from satellites and aircraft and geological information systems (GIS). Field trips to and analysis of forests, wetlands, lakeshores and rivers. Includes application to policy and land use planning. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 307 - Lake Ecology and Management Credits 4
Field study of lakes and other freshwater systems with applications to planning and management. Includes an introduction to limnology and investigation of representative lakes, streams, and wetlands of the region and compares the North American Great Lakes with other great lakes of the world and their stewardship. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 308 - Biochemistry Credits 3
Biochemistry explores the chemical processes occurring at the cellular and molecular level of living organisms. It covers a range of scientific disciplines including animal and plant physiology, microbiology, ecology, developmental biology as well as the fields of medicine, nutrition and pharmaceutical research. This course will survey the basic structural properties of amino acids, proteins, nucleic acids as well as the common anabolic and catabolic pathways in plant and animal cells. Real-world applications in nutrition, diseases, metabolic disorders, pharmaceuticals and supplements will be discussed. Lecture/Lab Hours: 3 hour lecture. Note(s): Please note this is a one-semester survey course designed to meet the requirements of non-premed (MD/DO) schools including but not limited to Physicians Assistant (PA), Physical Therapy (PT), Occupational Therapy (OT), Dentistry (DDS/DMD), and Optometry (OD) schools; cannot be combined with BIOS 411/CHEM 411 General Biochemistry I or BIOS 412/CHEM 412 General Biochemistry II for credit. Grade Mode: A.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must not be Pre-Medical Studies (BCPM) or Biochemistry (BCHM); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 310 - Prosection Credits 1-2
An introduction to the human body through dissection and demonstration of a selected portion of a human cadaver. Lecture/Lab Hours: Thirty hours of laboratory. Note(s): Special approval required; may be taken for a total of 2 credits. Grade Mode: A.

Prerequisite(s): BIOS 254. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2.

Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 311 - Neurobiology Credits 3
Discusses the embryology of the nervous system, the structure and function of the different cells of the nervous system and transmission by neurons. Emphasis on understanding cellular organization and neurophysiology of major subsystems of the vertebrate nervous system. Note(s): BIOS 112, BIOS 254, or BIOS 281 recommended. Grade Mode: A.

Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105.

Restriction(s): Must not be Freshmen Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 312 - Cell and Molecular Biology Credits 3
Discusses the molecular organization and function of cells and their organelles, with emphasis on chromosome structure, gene expression, membrane structure and function, energy conversion, and experimental methods used to study subcellular components. Grade Mode: A.

Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; concurrent registration permitted in CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 315 - Nutrition and Metabolism Credits 3
Study of molecular structure, absorption and cellular use of macro and micronutrients as well as dietary deficiencies and disorders. Analyzes food production, distribution, preparation and digestion. Human health is emphasized. Laboratory includes food analysis, preparation and field trips. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture. Grade Mode: A, N.

Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; CHEM 301; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
BIOS 316 - Nutrition and Metabolism Lab Credit 1
The Nutrition and Metabolism Laboratory will acquaint students with fundamental techniques used in food preparation and food science. Various foods will be analyzed for total energy content using various forms of calorimetry. Foods will also be analyzed for protein, simple and complex carbohydrate as well as fat content. Students will analyze the physical properties of various foods and experiment with preparation and preservation techniques. Students will tour several food production, processing and distribution centers. Attendance at each scheduled lab session is required and students will document their experimental procedures and results in a lab notebook. Lecture/Lab Hours: Four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; CHEM 301; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 322 - Laboratory in Cell and Molecular Biology Credit 1
Practical application of traditional and current laboratory techniques used in research and industry, including microscopy, scanning electron microscopy, histology, chromosomal analysis, tissue cell culture, isolation and purification of DNA, RNA and proteins, PCR, proper documentation and protocols and other laboratory writing skills are emphasized. Lecture/Lab Hours: Four hours of laboratory. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; concurrent registration permitted in CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 325 - Environmental Microbiology Credits 4
Microorganisms exist in all areas of nature, ranging from soils and waters to extreme environments, which are too harsh for the existence of humans, animals or plants. Understanding the role played by microorganisms in these environments is critical to our survival and quality of life. Such roles include cycling of elements, breakdown of organic material and pollutants, contribution to geological processes, causing diseases, water quality and wastewater treatment, and the biodeterioration of materials. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 103; and CHEM 106 or CHEM 120. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 326 - Sciences CSET Preparation Credit 1
Review of the subject matter in the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET) Science subtest exams. Test-taking strategies. Note(s): May be taken for a total of 3 credits; only 1 credit may count towards degree. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 3.

BIOS 332 - Genetics Credits 0.4
Integrates principles of Mendelian and molecular genetics toward understanding structure and function of the gene. Emphasizes quantitative analysis of genetic data and explores current issues of genetic engineering from technical and ethical viewpoints. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours lab. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322 (may be taken concurrently). Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 335 - Field Biology Credits 1-4
Systematics, distribution, behavior and ecology of the common plants and animals of the selected domestic or international site or region. Emphasis is on the site’s biodiversity, ecology, and associated conservation issues. Trips to domestic sites may occur during Interterm or Summer terms, as well as on Saturdays or weekends during the school year. Domestic sites may include the LA region, the Sierra, the Grand Canyon, and the Channel Islands. Trips to international sites may occur in the Interterm or Summer term and may include studies world-wide. Both domestic and international sites will vary from year to year based on faculty interest and student support and enrollment. Note(s): Students taking this course as an elective will have different assignments than BIOS and BIES majors; credits vary based on different lengths of time at the study site. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Additional Fee(s): Varied by location and duration of trip(s).

BIOS 351 - Invertebrate Biology Credits 4
Taxonomy and morphology of invertebrate phyla; laboratory dissection of invertebrates. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 352 - Marine Biology Credits 4
Introduction to oceanography, marine plant and animal diversity, and ecological relationships. Lab sessions will include field trips. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Additional Fee(s): Varied based on cost of transportation and activity fees.

BIOS 353 - Environmental Ethics Credits 3-4
Investigation of contemporary problems in environmental stewardship including the use of renewable and nonrenewable natural resources, pollution, appropriate land use and development, third world concerns, and preservation of wild nature. In addition to developing a Christian environmental ethic from a stewardship perspective, the course considers such movements and issues as deep ecology and ecofeminism, animal rights, wilderness ethics, wildlife management, biodiversity and agro-ecology. Emphasis on considering concrete, current ethical debate. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 354 - Bioethics Credits 4
The dilemmas of dangerous knowledge in environmental and medical activities are investigated, including stem cell research and applications, fetal tissue research, human gene manipulation, transgenic bioengineering, genetically modified crops, release of bioengineered organisms into natural ecosystems, and emerging disease, the ethics of environmental activism, and the religious roots of ethical values. This course uses a seminar format in which topics are presented by student teams including presentations, panel discussions and debate. Current attempts to develop a theological basis for bioethics are considered. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
BIOS 355 - Environmental Health: An Ecological Perspective  Credits 4
Introduction to the fundamentals of environmental health, with an introduction to environmental epidemiology and environmental medicine. Environmental pollutants and their sources, effects of environmental pollution on the environment and public health, environmental control agencies, methods of pollution control, environmental law and policy, environmental and public health research agencies, environmental epidemiology, environmental medicine, and environmental stewardship are included. Field trips and lab assignments complement the material covered in lectures. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 360 - Principles of Geographic Information Systems  Credits 4
This course will provide an understanding of the importance of geographic information systems software (GIS) that is used worldwide to create maps and analyze digital data and photos for use in many disciplines. Within the biological and environmental sciences it is used in environmental impact reports, city or regional planning, and species and ecosystem management plans. Students will create maps and analyze data gained from the web or created by themselves. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory, weekly. Note(s): Must have good computer skills and be familiar with Microsoft Excel. Grade Mode: A, N.
Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 362 - Natural History of Southern California  Credits 3
A field-oriented course to study and identify the common plants and animals found within the major plant and animal communities of Southern California. Lecture/Lab Hours: Two hours lecture, four hours laboratory/field, including one or two extended field trips. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): Transportation fee varies.

BIOS 371 - Conservation Biology  Credits 4
Principles of conservation biology with applications to sustainable human society and biospheric integrity. An integrative approach to biology and society that interrelates population biology, ecological principles, biogeochemical cycles, ecosystem functions, and human society in the context of biospheric degradation. The course develops a stewardship perspective rooted in biological principles and directed at conservation of plant and animal species, biotic communities, ecosystems and human society. Included are topics of human development, poverty and economic growth. Note(s): Biola and Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 372 - Restoration Ecology  Credits 4
Ecological and theoretical foundations for ecosystem and biotic community restoration. This course develops ecological principles for ecosystem restoration and applies them to redeeming and restoring degraded and damaged ecosystems and endangered species. Field studies include analysis of restoration and rehabilitation work with Kirtland Warbler, an officially designated wild river, coastal dunes, kettle-hole bogs, deforested lands, degraded residential and farming sites, and abandoned oil wells. A practical field laboratory is included in which techniques are applied to a specific site. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 380 - Advanced Microbiology  Credits 4
A study of microbial diversity with emphasis on bacteria and viruses. Topics include structure, function, metabolism, nutrition and growth dynamics, control of microbial growth, and genetics. Students will gain practical hands-on experience in microbiology lab techniques used in diagnostics and research including staining and microscopy, bacteria culture, isolation and identification through various lab exercises. Core scientific skills will be developed through the following activities: critical review of primary literature; discussion of supporting theories and emerging concepts; and identifying unsolved problems in the field of microbiology. Students will design and execute an original research project and present their findings in a formal research paper. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 281 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 381 - Advanced Physiology  Credits 4
An advanced study of human physiology that emphasizes the mechanisms of homeostasis at the cellular, organ, and system levels. Neural, vascular, respiratory, excretory, digestive, and endocrine systems are studied. Advanced Physiology includes a major laboratory research project. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory.
Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 112 and BIOS 114, or BIOS 254; CHEM 106 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 281 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 382 - Vertebrate Physiology  Credits 4
Discusses the mechanisms of integration and homeostasis at the cellular, organ and system levels. Muscular, neural, vascular, excretory, and endocrine interactions are studied. Variations between vertebrate groups are presented. Includes a major research project. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 112 and BIOS 114, or BIOS 254; CHEM 106 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 452 - Directed Studies in Environmental Sciences  Credits 1-2
This course is taken as an arranged course in consultation with an academic advisor. Course is taken when it is determined that a student is deficient in content and/or credits in a given subject matter. The specific content of the course will be recorded on the student’s transcript to indicate a student’s completion of the major specific requirement(s) for graduation in that major.  Note(s): May be taken for credit multiple times.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

BIOS 455 - General Virology  Credits 4
Virology is a course that examines the diversity of plant, animal and bacterial viruses. Emphasis on topics such as molecular interactions between the host and virus, the genetics and chemical nature of viruses, and the replication strategies of viruses. How viruses cause disease, how they are used in biotechnology, and their overall impact on society will also be discussed. Bacteriophage and tissue culture techniques will be stressed in laboratory.  Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory.  Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; BIOS 282 or BIOS 380.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 460 - Clinical Observation Practicum  Credits 1-2
Pre-Medical Practicum; Pre-Dental Practicum; Pre-Medical Technology; Pre-Veterinary Practicum. Practicum: A professionally supervised observation, demonstration and study in a local medical, dental or laboratory facility. Introduction to health care philosophies, hospital and patient routines, personnel, instrumentation and specific treatment practices. Note(s): Special approval required; case study and research paper required; thirty hours of observation.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2.
Course Fee: $85.

BIOS 470 - Seminar in Advanced Biology  Credit 1
Literature research followed by oral presentation, group discussion and evaluation; independent thought and study stressed.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2.

BIOS 480 - Internship  Credits 1-2
Professionally supervised participation in pre-approved research or a project at an off-campus site. Documentation of the time spent and the activities performed as well as a written paper explaining the project are required. Note(s): Special approval required; a minimum of forty-five hours of involvement; may be taken twice for a maximum of 2 credits.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2.

CHEM 100 - The Chemistry of Everyday Life  Credits 3
The basic principles of chemistry for the non-science major. Uses the materials of modern society as a theme for exploring the properties and structure of matter as well as the methods and consequences of transforming natural resources to consumer products. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 105 - General Chemistry I  Credits 0,4
Principles and theories of the structure and properties of matter including stoichiometry, atomic theory, the periodic table, chemical bonding, molecular structure, nomenclature, chemical reactions, states of matter, gas laws and solutions.  Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory; one hour recitation, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Course fee covers the provided lab coat and safety goggles.  Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): Passing score on Chemistry Placement Exam; or CHEM 092, CHEM 104, or CHEM 107 with at least a 'B-'.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $170.

CHEM 106 - General Chemistry II  Credits 0,4
Continuation of General Chemistry I. Subjects include chemical kinetics, equilibrium, thermodynamics, solubility, acidity, electrochemistry, coordination complexes and various special topics.  Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; three hours laboratory; one hour recitation, weekly. Note(s): A minimum grade of a 'C-' is required to subsequently register in CHEM 321 and CHEM 322; or CHEM 301 and CHEM 311.  Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $130.

CHEM 107 - Introduction to Chemistry  Credits 3
This is an introductory course which provides an overview of chemistry and prepares students for their required chemistry courses in majors like nursing, kinesiology, biology, physics, chemistry, and engineering. Topics include scientific units and measurements, the nature and states of matter, atomic theory, chemical bonding, chemical reactions, and chemical interactions.  Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): This course does not count towards the degree requirements in majors which need additional chemistry courses; required for students who did not pass the Chemistry Placement Exam, optional for all others; a minimum grade of 'B-' is required to subsequently register in CHEM 105, or a minimum grade of 'C' for CHEM 120; course may only be repeated once; additional attempts require permission of major advisor.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

CHEM 110 - Chemistry Topics  Credits 1-4
Various topics in introductory chemistry.  Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
CHEM 120 - Principles of Organic and Biochemistry
Chemical bonding, structure, properties and reactivity applied to organic and biochemical compounds. Includes basic metabolic processes with application to medicine and health. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; one hour recitation; three hours laboratory, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Meets the Nursing requirement in Chemistry; this course is also required for some Kinesiology and Physical Education programs; course fee covers the provided lab coat and safety goggles. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): Passing score on Chemistry Placement Exam; or CHEM 105 or CHEM 107 with at least a 'C'.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $130.

CHEM 301 - Organic Chemistry I
The first semester of the traditional yearlong course in organic chemistry. Structure, properties and reactivity of carbon-containing compounds with emphasis on reaction mechanisms. An introduction to the major functional groups and the instrumental methods for structure determination: IR, NMR, and MS. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of 'C-' or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 302 - Organic Chemistry II
Continuation of Organic Chemistry I. Continued work with more complicated reactions and mechanisms. An introduction to computer-based drawing and searching tools. The last third of the course is devoted to the structure and properties of major biochemical substances. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 312.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 303 - Organic Chemistry III
Continuation of Organic Chemistry II. Includes radical reactions and other topics essential to environmental and biochemical studies. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture weekly. Note(s): This is a one semester terminal course and thus does not serve as a prerequisite for CHEM 302 or BIOS/CHEM 411; may not fulfill the requirement for medical school or other related health professions; fulfills the requirement for environmental science and human biology majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of 'C-' or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 321 - Basic Organic and Biochemistry
Covers the basic nomenclature, structure, properties and reactivity of organic compounds and biomolecules such as carbohydrates, proteins and nucleic acids. Includes radical reactions and other topics essential to environmental and biochemical studies. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture weekly. Note(s): This is a one semester terminal course and thus does not serve as a prerequisite for CHEM 302 or BIOS/CHEM 411; may not fulfill the requirement for medical school or other related health professions; fulfills the requirement for environmental science and human biology majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of 'C-' or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 322 - Basic Organic and Biochemistry Lab
Lab techniques and experiments related to the Basic Organic and Biochemistry lecture course. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of 'C-' or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 321.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 332 - Environmental Chemistry
Quantitative introduction to the chemistry of the atmosphere and air pollution, energy and climate, toxic organic compounds, water pollution and purification, soil chemistry and waste disposal. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; three hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 350 - Analytical Chemistry
Covers classical chemical methods of analysis such as titrimetry and gravimetry along with various instrumental methods including electrochemistry, spectroscopy and chromatography. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; six hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 352 - Fundamentals of Material Science
Introduction to the structure-property relationships of engineering and natural materials including metals, ceramics, polymers and composites. Examines the strength of materials, strengthening mechanisms, diffusion, phase transformations, heat treatment and microstructure control. Considers how materials are selected for design of a product. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 112 or PHSC 233; CHEM 105 and MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 356 - Inorganic Chemistry
Covering the chemistry of the entire periodic table, the course begins with atomic theory and then introduces symmetry and group theory before looking in depth at chemical bonding and acid-base chemistry, the chemistry and properties of solids, coordination chemistry, organometallic chemistry, bioinorganic chemistry, and nanomaterials. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302 with a grade of 'C-' or better; MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 380 - Introduction to Physical Chemistry
Course introduces thermodynamics, kinetic and quantum mechanic principles underlying molecular properties and chemical reactivity with specific application to biological systems. Macromolecular behavior and spectroscopic tools are included. Note(s): MATH 106 strongly recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106, MATH 105; PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
CHEM 390 - Introduction to Food Chemistry Credits 4
This course will introduce students to the chemistry of the key components in foods, their properties and interactions, and changes that occur during different stages of production. Lectures will provide the molecular bases behind food behavior. The laboratory will give students practical experience in basic food chemistry techniques, and help demonstrate concepts from lecture. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301, CHEM 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 402 - Physical Chemistry I Credits 3
Molecular energetics - the thermodynamic principles underlying energy changes in chemical systems and governing chemical reactions. Energetics of solutions, electrochemical cells, phase changes, and chemical equilibria are discussed. Quantum mechanics is introduced, including solutions to the time-independent Schrodinger equation, multi-electron systems, and polyatomic molecules. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106, MATH 106, PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 405 - Physical Chemistry II Credits 0.4
Building upon the thermodynamic and quantum mechanical foundation of Physical Chemistry I, this course applies quantum mechanics to Hartree-Fock theory and electronic, vibrational, and nuclear spectroscopies. Quantum effects are used to explain the origins of bulk material properties, the behavior of ensembles of molecules, diffusion, kinetics, and complex reaction systems. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory, weekly. Note(s): MATH 205 strongly recommended. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 402.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 411 - General Biochemistry I Credits 3
Structures and properties of biomolecular components of cells, including proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, nucleotides, nucleic acids, vitamins and coenzymes, kinetics and mechanism and regulation of enzyme action in biological systems. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 412 - General Biochemistry II Credits 3
Principles of metabolic processes; mathematical treatment of bioenergetics emphasizing major concepts and problem solving. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 413 - Laboratory in General Biochemistry Credits 2
A laboratory course to accompany CHEM 411, CHEM 412 (BIO 411, BIOS 412). The isolation, characterization and analysis of biomolecules including the use of biochemical instrumentation and methodology for work in protein structure, enzymology, metabolism and genetics. Lecture/Lab Hours: Six hours laboratory weekly. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 420 - Special Topics in Chemistry Credits 1-3
Subjects include such areas as the chemical literature, various instrumental methods, polymers, organometallics and industrial chemistry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; Environmental Science (BIES), Human Biology (BIHB), Physics (PHYS), Bio Sci:Secondary Instruction (BISI), Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Physical Science (PHSC), Biochemistry (BCHM), Biological Science (BIOS), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): May involve lab fees of up to $185.

CHEM 430 - Advanced Organic Chemistry Credits 3
A continuation of the year-long course in organic chemistry for those planning careers in chemistry. This course will deal with reaction mechanisms, unique reactivity and an in-depth study of multi-step syntheses from the chemical literature. An oral presentation on a current topic within organic chemistry will be required. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301, CHEM 302, CHEM 311, CHEM 312 each with a 'C+' or higher.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 431 - Advanced Organic Chemistry Lab Credits 2
A continuation of the year-long course in organic chemistry for those planning careers in chemistry. Will incorporate more advanced laboratory techniques in the multi-step preparation of both reagents and compounds. Intermediate characterization as well as higher level use of spectroscopic and chromatographic techniques will be covered. Lecture/Lab Hours: Six hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 430 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 440 - Introduction to Computational Chemistry Credits 3
This course introduces the principles of computational chemistry, including computational methods for molecular design, visualization, and the prediction of molecular properties such as charge, geometry, stability, photodynamics, and spectroscopic characteristics. The course will survey the most commonly used computational methods, their applicability and limitations, enabling students to select appropriate methods for the solution of practical problems in research and industrial applications. Beginning with visualization tools, the use of crystallographic data, the selection of coordinate systems, the course will progress through classical molecular dynamics and force fields to progressively more advanced quantum mechanical methods including semiempirical models, Hartree-Fock, configuration interaction, and the application of density functional theory. Students will learn to perform geometry optimization, location of transition states, conformational analysis, and prediction of molecular and spectroscopic properties. The course will also cover solvation models, excited states, and the application of quantum methods to large molecular clusters. The class features a project-based approach that makes use of the STH computing cluster and various software packages for quantum chemical visualization and calculations, primarily using the Unix operating system. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 405, MATH 205 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

CODS: Communication Sciences and Disorders

Faculty
Chair: Matthew Rouse, SLP.D.
Associate Professor: Dantuma, Hernandez, Newport, Petroi, Rouse, Welty
Assistant Professor: Clemons
Instructors: Peirson

Courses
CODS 210 - Introduction to Human Disabilities Credits 3
Survey of various types of human disabilities with an emphasis on communication disorders. Explores the roles of speech-language pathologists, audiologists, physical therapists and occupational therapists in working with people with disabilities. Note(s): Open to all majors. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 318 - Neuroanatomical Foundations for Communication Disorders Credits 3
An in-depth analysis of the nervous system as it pertains to communication and communication disorders. In addition, various neurological disorders will be surveyed that can affect communication. These include, but are not limited to, ALS, Parkinson's disease, stroke, brain tumor, etc. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 321 - Clinical Phonetics and Phonology Credits 3
The study of phonetic transcription and phonological theory and the application of these concepts to patients with disordered speech. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 324 - Anatomy and Physiology of Speech and Hearing Credits 3
Anatomy and physiology of the speech and hearing mechanisms. The normal processes of respiration, phonation, articulation, resonance and hearing are covered. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 325 - Speech and Hearing Science Credits 0.3
Introduction to acoustics of sound and the physiology and acoustics of speech production and hearing; basic anatomy will also be discussed. Topics include voice, resonance, and individual speech segments as well as instrumentation for analyzing the acoustic and perceptual characteristics of speech and hearing. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 328 - Fluency Disorders Credits 3
Review of the theories concerning etiology of fluency disorders. Survey assessment and treatment approaches for stuttering and cluttering. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 331 - Speech and Language Development and Disorders (Birth to 5yrs) Credits 3
Normal development of speech and language in children in terms of syntax, semantics, phonology and pragmatics. Motor and cognitive development surveyed. Including the study of delayed language development and childhood language disorders with theories concerning etiology, classification, evaluation and therapy for children birth to 5 years old. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 332 - Speech and Language Development and Disorders (5yrs to Adolescence) Credits 3
Normal development of speech and language in children in terms of syntax, semantics, phonology and pragmatics. Motor and cognitive development surveyed. Including the study of delayed language development and childhood language disorders with theories concerning etiology, classification, evaluation and therapy for children 5 years old to adolescents. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 331.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 418 - Multi-Cultural Issues in Communication Disorders Credits 3
Involves the assessment and intervention of students from multicultural backgrounds with speech and/or language difficulties. Attention paid to developing 'cultural sensitivity' and an awareness of the cultural and bilingual influences on assessment and intervention decisions. The course is intended to prepare the student for effective and innovative work with clients from diverse populations. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 422 - Neurogenic Communication Disorders Credits 3
Covers theory, psychology, assessment and treatment of cognitive and communication disorders resulting from stroke, traumatic brain injury, and other neurological problems. Diagnoses covered include aphasia, right hemisphere syndrome, head injury, apraxia, dysarthria and dementia. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 318, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 424 - Aural Rehabilitation Credits 3
Review of management procedures used by professionals for the rehabilitation/habitation of persons with hearing impairments. Includes speech reading, auditory training, hearing aids and other communication systems and assistive listening devices. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 318, CODS 425.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 425 - Audiology Credits 3
Introduction to audiology including anatomy and physiology of the ear, interpreting audiograms, pathologies, pediatric hearing testing and sound. Practical experience in hearing testing and screening will be given. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $45.
CODS 429 - Clinical Practicum: Biola Speech/Language Clinic Credits 1-2
Supervised experience working with persons with communication disorders in the Biola Speech Clinic and offsite locations. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 332, CODS 439, CODS 441, CODS 442; and 25 observation hours.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.
Course Fee: $50.

CODS 432 - Dysphagia Credits 3
The anatomy and physiology of normal swallowing and the anatomic and physiologic disturbances affecting deglutition, emphasizing radiographic and bedside diagnostic and treatment procedures. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 318, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 439 - Speech Sound Disorders Credits 3
Overview of the etiologies, diagnosis and remediation of articulation and phonological problems. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 321.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 440 - Communication Disorders Internship Credits 1-3
For students prepared to gain practical experience usually off campus in a work situation. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Limited to qualified juniors or seniors.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

CODS 441 - Diagnostic Methods Credits 0,3
Survey of procedures ranging from interviewing to formal and informal tests involved in the evaluation and assessment of speech, language, voice, cognitive and swallowing problems in children and adults. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $10.

CODS 442 - Therapeutic Methods Credits 0,3
Introduction to general therapeutic approaches and specific techniques of habilitation and rehabilitation of speech, language, voice, cognitive and swallowing problems in child and adult populations. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 444 - Voice Disorders Credits 3
Topics to be covered in this course include normal voice anatomy and physiology and voice disorders across the lifespan. Causes and characteristics of voice disorders as well as basic assessment and treatment methods will be addressed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 210, CODS 324.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $10.

CODS 450 - Communication Disorders Practicum Credits 1-3
Directed practical experience in the various fields of communication disorders. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

CODS 460 - SLPA Clinical Internship Credits 1-3
Internship course in which students work under the supervision of a licensed speech-language pathologist in order to gain experience in the field of speech-language pathology and earn hours that can be used to apply for a California Speech-Language Pathologist Assistant License. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CODS 332, CODS 439, CODS 441, CODS 442; and 25 observation hours.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

CODS 466 - Research in Communication Disorders Credits 3
Survey of research terminology and methods as well as an emphasis on critiquing research. Course includes a student capstone research project. Grade Mode: A.

CODS 470 - Communication Disorders Seminar Credits 1-3
Various aspects and problems in communication disorders. Note(s): Special approval required. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CODS 480 - Directed Research Credits 1-3
Individual research in areas of communication disorders determined in consultation with the instructor. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 3.

CSCI: Computer Science

Courses

CSCI 103 - Computer Applications Credit 1
Introduction to computer applications using programs such as Word, Excel or PowerPoint. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with a different topic; may not be counted toward the major; may not be counted towards Core Curriculum requirements. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

CSCI 104 - The Nature of Computing Credits 3
Fundamental concepts of computers and programming, focusing on the algorithmic aspect of quantitative reasoning in computer programming. Basic programming skills for writing small programs to accomplish useful tasks for modeling, information processing and problem solving. No prior programming experiences are assumed. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): May not be counted toward the major. Grade Mode: A.

CSCI 105 - Introduction to Computer Science Credits 3
Introduction to computer hardware and software, problem solving methods, elementary concepts of algorithm development, and C++ programming. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour lab. Grade Mode: A.

CSCI 106 - Data Structures Credits 3
Linear lists, strings, arrays and orthogonal lists; graphs, trees, binary trees, multi-linked structures, searching and sorting techniques, dynamic storage allocation; applications. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
CSCI 220 - Computer Organization and Assembly Language Programming
Fundamentals of digital logic and the architecture of modern computer systems, machine level representation of data, memory system organization, structure of machine languages, and assembly language programming. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 230 - Programming Languages
Organization and structure of programming languages; runtime behavior and requirements of programs; introduction to programming language specifications and analysis; and the study of various alternative languages, such as Java, C++ and Python. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 106.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 305 - Programming for Data Science I
Fundamental programming skills for data science applications using a major programming language, such as Python or R in the field. Data analysis and information retrieval through data selection, iterative processing, function composition, abstraction and visualization. Note(s): Course may be repeated if different programming languages are used. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 105 or PHSC 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

CSCI 306 - Programming for Data Science II
Advanced programming skills for data science applications using a major programming language, such as Python or R in the field. Machine learning and advanced data-science applications. Note(s): Course may be repeated if different programming languages are used. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 305.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

CSCI 311 - Operating Systems
Computer operating systems; topics include time sharing, process communication, memory management, storage allocation, interrelationships between the operating system and the architecture of computer systems. Note(s): Offered in Fall. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 106, CSCI 220.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 335 - User Interface Design and Programming
User interface design, implementation, and evaluation; event-driven programming in GUI applications and web applications; user-centered design methodologies. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 106.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 400 - Theory of Algorithms
Various types of algorithms, analytic techniques for the determination of algorithmic efficiency, NP-complete problems, complexity hierarchies, and intractable problems. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 106; MATH 112 or MATH 204.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 402 - Database Management
Integrated database systems, logical organization, data description language (DDL), data manipulation language (DML), of hierarchical networks and relational databases, overview of selected database management systems (DBMS). Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 230.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 430 - Computer Communications
Concepts of computer communications, local area networks, seven layers of communication protocols, global networks. Note(s): Offered in Spring. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 440 - Topics in Computer Science
Topics are selected from the following: Compilers and Languages: Development of key compiler components based on the theory of automata and formal languages; Systems Programming: Development of utilities and shell scripts for Unix system administration; Theory of Computation: Computational models for algorithmic design, complexity analysis, and problem solving in selected domains; Computer Graphics: Design and implementation of 3D computer interactive graphics; Artificial Intelligence: Computational frameworks for knowledge representation, automatic reasoning, probabilistic modeling, and machine learning; Information Security: Concepts and techniques about cybersecurity and its implementation. Note(s): Course may be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 230.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

CSCI 450 - Software Engineering
Concepts, principles, techniques, and documents of software engineering. Emphasis on systematic approaches to software engineering and the software life cycle. Team project required. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CSCI 230, CSCI 430.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 3

CSCI 480 - Research Seminar
Special studies in computer science. May involve participation in a Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) or an internship in the industry if approved by the Department. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credits 1-3

KNES: Kinesiology and Health Science
Courses

KNES 101 - Health and Wellness
The course provides students from diverse backgrounds with opportunities to consider their own health and wellness. Through a range of different learning experiences, the class considers issues from contemporary society that confront their health, well-being and quality of life. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Kinesiology and Health Science. Note(s): Outdoor exercise required, outside of class time. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Credit 1
KNES 107 - Lifetime Wellness
Credit 1
Students in this course will have the opportunity to gain knowledge about the broad spectrum of human health components as related to personal wellness for life, and participate in activities to support that goal. Through a diverse set of learning experiences, students will gain insight into how they can implement physical activity and exercise into their daily lives. Students will also learn techniques to enhance nutritional, behavioral, emotional, and spiritual wellness, thereby positively impacting their overall quality of life. Structured independent physical activity outside of class hours is required throughout the semester. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Kinesiology and Health Science.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $20.

KNES 110 - Lifetime Wellness Activity
Credit 1
Note(s): Other activities may be offered upon sufficient demand; recreation classes offered are backpacking, mountain biking, road cycling and rock climbing; only one recreation class may be counted as activity credit; First Aid/CPR does not count as activity credit.
Grade Mode: A, C.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 9.

Course Fee: $15.

Additional Fee(s): Exceptions to the standard course fee are archery and Rape Aggression Defense Systems (RADS), $35; disc golf, $40; bowling, $50; golf, $45; backpacking, and rock climbing, $85; snowboarding/skiing $575.

KNES 118 - Varsity Athletics
Credit 1
Reserved for intercollegiate athletic teams. Enrollment during the registration period necessary.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 6.

KNES 130 - Intermediate Lifetime Wellness Activity
Credit 1
Intermediate skills, individual and team strategy and rules in selected activity classes. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Kinesiology and Health Science.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 110.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 9.

Course Fee: $15.

Additional Fee(s): Exceptions to the standard course fee are: archery, $35; bowling, $50; golf, $45.

KNES 140 - Lifetime Wellness Activity: Aquatics
Credit 1
Fundamental and advanced techniques of individual skills. Lifeguard training, water safety instruction (WSI), water polo. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Kinesiology and Health Science.
Note(s): First Aid/CPR does not count as activity credit.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Prerequisite or corequisite for Lifeguard Training: First Aid/CPR; prerequisite for WSI: Valid EWS or Lifeguard Training Certificate or equivalent.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 9.

Course Fee: $15.

KNES 150 - Advanced Lifetime Wellness Activity
Credit 1
Advanced skills, individual and team strategy and rules in selected activity classes. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Kinesiology and Health Science.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 110 or KNES 130.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 3.

Course Fee: $15.

Additional Fee(s): Exceptions to the standard course fee are archery, $35; bowling, $50; golf, $45.

KNES 201 - Elementary Physical Education Methods and Activities
Credits 2
Understanding, planning programs and implementing a range of fundamental movement and fitness activities designed for the elementary child: preparation for the upper-division methods course.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 110.

KNES 205 - Foundations in Physical Education and Kinesiology
Credits 3
A historical review of physical education and kinesiology; objectives of physical education; development of a basic philosophy and background for professional development.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 213 - Scientific Principles of Health and Fitness
Credits 3
Scientific principles of health and fitness related to enhancing aerobic and anaerobic, endurance, muscular strength, power, hypertrophy, endurance, flexibility, body composition, stress management and goal setting will be explored. Acute and chronic adaptations to various populations that occur as a result of various types of training will be discussed. Knowledge, skills, and abilities necessary to develop, implement, and manage a basic fitness regimen for themselves will be developed. Students will participate in practical learning opportunities designed to demonstrate, assess, and enhance parameters of fitness and health.
Note(s): This course will fulfill the Core Curriculum Kinesiology and Health Science requirement for Kinesiology and Health Science majors only.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 236 or BIOS 254.

KNES 301 - Kinesiology
Credits 3
Human movement with emphasis on the structure and function of the skeletal, muscular and nervous systems, with simple mechanical principles involved in movement skills.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNHS majors: BIOS 236 or BIOS 254; Non-KNHS majors: BIOS 254.

KNES 302 - Exercise Physiology
Credits 3
Basic physiological concepts of muscular exercise with emphasis on the acute responses and chronic adaptations of the neuromuscular, circulatory and respiratory systems.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNHS majors: BIOS 236; or BIOS 254 and BIOS 281; Non-KNHS majors: BIOS 254 and BIOS 281.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
KNES 303 - Exercise Physiology Laboratory Credits 1
Laboratory and field applications of testing in exercise physiology. Theory and skills in fitness assessment will be covered, along with analyses of test results. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 302 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

KNES 307 - Measurement and Evaluation in Kinesiology Credits 3
Lecture, laboratory and field experience in the development, evaluation and application of tests in kinesiology and physical education; use and interpretation of elementary statistics. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 210, or MATH 318, or equivalent.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $25.

KNES 329 - Psychology of Exercise and Health Credits 3
Psychological and behavioral factors in exercise participation, physical performance, health enhancement, and wellness promotion. Influences, barriers, and positive factors in engagement of exercise and health behaviors is examined from theoretical and practical perspectives. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 335 - Health Concepts Credits 3
Physical fitness and disease; nutrition and obesity; mental health and stress management; substance abuse (drugs, tobacco and alcohol); human sexuality. Supports the teacher certification requirement in health for physical education majors. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture.
Note(s): The course is designed for majors in kinesiology and physical education; not for the Core Curriculum requirement in the sciences. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 337 - Exercise in Health and Disease Credits 3
Theoretical and practical examination of relationships and scientific aspects of exercise to health and disease. Influences and effects of exercise on health status, human performance, chronic diseases, and dysfunctions. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 213.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 343 - Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Basketball Credits 2
The theory, fundamentals, strategies, and techniques of teaching and coaching basketball. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 344 - Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Soccer Credits 2
The theory, fundamentals, strategies, and techniques of teaching and coaching soccer. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 345 - Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Tennis Credits 2
The theory, fundamentals, strategies, and techniques of teaching and coaching tennis. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 346 - Techniques of Teaching and Coaching Volleyball Credits 2
The theory, fundamentals, strategies, and techniques of teaching and coaching volleyball. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 350 - Public Health Principles and Practice Credits 3
Overview of historically fundamental and currently relevant topics/concepts that have influenced how public health is addressed on a large scale and at the community level. Topics will be presented as addressed in a contemporary manner by public health practitioners. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 351 - Strength and Conditioning Program Design Credits 3
Principles of strength and conditioning will be discussed. Program design will examine outcomes associated with different strength training regimens. Periodization and planned variation of frequency, intensity, volume and rest will be highlighted. Optimization of these variables to prevent overtraining and promote peak performance in a variety of contexts will be discussed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 213, KNES 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $15.

KNES 401 - Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries Credits 3
Introduction to understanding athletic injuries, including principles, theories and practice in the disciplines of injury prevention, assessment and treatment. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 236 or BIOS 254; Non-KNHS majors: BIOS 254.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $50.

KNES 402 - Assessment and Rehabilitation of Musculoskeletal Injuries Credits 3
Advanced theory and application of techniques in injury evaluation, therapeutic modalities and rehabilitative exercises currently used in the fields of athletic training and physical therapy. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 254.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 405 - Adapted Physical Education Credits 3
Analysis of the principles underlying the teaching of physical education for students with disabilities; survey of specific disabilities and the implication of each for physical education. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 201.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 408 - Motor Learning Credits 3
Overview of significant factors that influence and determine the learning and control of motor skills. Motor learning issues are examined from a behavioral perspective, and applications are made to teaching, coaching and rehabilitation settings. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 410 - Sports Management Credits 3
The study of people, activities, businesses, and organizations involved in producing, promoting and organizing any sports related business, event, or product. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 412 - Secondary Physical Education Methods and Activities Credits 3
Systematic analysis and refinement of teaching skills within the discipline of physical education. Planning whole school curricula; meeting needs of middle school and high school P.E. programs. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 201, KNES 205.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
KNES 420 - Sociology and Psychology in Physical Education and Sport Credits 3
This is an introduction to sociological and psychological aspects of physical education and sport. Within these contexts, sociological considerations include issues of access, culture, gender and power in the community and society. Psychological considerations include issues of behavior, stress, goal-setting and motivation and competitive contexts. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 422 - Biomechanics Credits 3
The study of biomechanics with respect to the effects of forces, structure, and motion, on and within the human body. Emphasis on both qualitative and quantitative analyses of human movement. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 301 and PHSC 111.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $15.

KNES 423 - Biomechanics Laboratory Credit 1
Laboratory application of quantitative analysis of biomechanics with respect to the effects of forces, structure, and motion, on and within the human body. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 422 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $35.

KNES 434 - Leadership in Sport and Human Movement Credits 3
A study and application of the core competencies of Transformational Leadership. Contemporary leadership settings in sport, fitness, health promotion and therapy will be given intentional focus. The objective will be to assist leaders and managers to achieve maximum effectiveness in their organizations. Students will have the opportunity to develop the knowledge and capacity to integrate their faith and to apply it to leadership in real life situations in sport and human movement. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 440 - Nutrition and Human Metabolism Credits 3
Theoretical and practical aspects of human nutrition for health and sport. Scientific treatment of applied nutritional principles for health enhancement and successful sport performance. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 281 or equivalent; CHEM 105 or CHEM 120 or equivalent.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 446 - Functional Assessment and the Prescription of Exercise Credits 3
Principles and techniques used to prescribe and design exercise programs for apparently healthy and special populations, including those with medical considerations. Health risk appraisal and physical fitness assessment through the use of field and laboratory tests. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 301, KNES 302, KNES 303.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 447 - Functional Assessment and Prescription of Exercise Laboratory Credit 1
Laboratory application of quantitative and qualitative assessments of physiological, anatomical, and psychosocial function. Practical experience will guide the development of the exercise prescription. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 301, KNES 302, KNES 446 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $35.

KNES 449 - Clinical Exercise Physiology Credits 3
This course is intended to train students in the ability to implement prescriptive exercise modalities and programs in a variety of disease and disability states in a clinical or hospital setting. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 302, KNES 303.
Restriction(s): Must be Kinesiology (KHPE), Public Health (PBHL), or Health Science (HSCI); and Undergraduate Level.

KNES 450 - Health Behavior Credits 3
Theoretical constructs that underlie explanations for health-positive or health-destructive behaviors and programs to address these. Behavioral theory related to health education/promotion, planning, and assessment in various communities. Health disparities, current health practices, and relevant health-related research and current topics will be covered. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 452 - Health Promotion Programming Credits 3
Theoretical and practical elements in the assessment, planning, implementation, and evaluation cycle among various health-related fields. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 456 - Health Care Systems Credits 3
This course is a survey of the delivery of health care in the United States with relevant comparisons to systems internationally. This course will discuss the historical growth and development of the U.S. Health Care System. Grounded in an understanding of factors determining health, a framework for understanding and assessing the health care delivery system will be reviewed including evolving challenges to the current system. Review of the American Health Care System will also include the roles of State and Federal Governments and the role of health care providers. The potential impact of health care reform on the future of the American Health Care System. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 350.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

KNES 458 - Health Science Practicum Credit 1
Supervised, professional fieldwork in a community-based health context. Areas covered may include health care, health promotion, health education, health administration, global health, health policy, health advocacy, health research, governmental or non-governmental agency work, pastoral, missionary and/or church health, or similar areas. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 350.
Restriction(s): Must be Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.

KNES 460 - Topics in Kinesiology Credits 1-3
Study of topics related to kinesiology in areas such as exercise science and allied health care. Note(s): May be taken more than once with a different topic. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

KNES 470 - Seminars in Kinesiology Credits 1-3
Seminar related to specific topics in kinesiology in areas such as exercise science and allied health care. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 254 and BIOS 281, or BIOS 236.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.
KNES 475 - Public Health Capstone Practicum
Supervised, professional fieldwork in a community-based health context. Areas covered may include medicine, clinical, bench, or applied research, health care, health promotion, health education, health administration, global health, health policy, health advocacy, health research, epidemiology, community and environmental health, pharmacology, toxicology, governmental or non-governmental agency work, pastoral, missionary and/or church health, or similar areas. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 350.
Restriction(s): Must be Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.

KNES 480 - Directed Study
Independent work, research, readings and/or professional experiences in the field. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): KNES 301, KNES 302, KNES 303.
Restriction(s): Must be Kinesiology (KHPE); and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

KNES 485 - Internship
Professional experiences in kinesiology, health care, exercise, wellness, sport, or educational settings, with supervision. Documentation of hours and activities performed, with related assignments, must be submitted.
Note(s): Special approval required. Grade Mode: C.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.

KNES 499 - Directed Research in Kinesiology and Health Science
Review of literature, study development, design, laboratory skill/technique, grant/scientific writing techniques, or off site research experience(s) in a specific Kinesiology, Public Health, or Health Science-related topic. Course is designed for advanced students to gain specific research, scientific writing, presentation, and publication-related experience(s). Note(s): Special approval required; requires the development of a tangible research project (proposal, grant, manuscript, completed data set, etc.). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Kinesiology (KHPE), Public Health (PBHL), or Health Science (HSCI); Junior Class or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 3.
Course Fee: $95.

MATH: Mathematics

Courses

MATH 101 - Precalculus Mathematics
Sets, the real number system, relations, functions, graphs, algebraic processes, inequalities, trigonometric functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, introduction to sequences. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): May not be counted toward the major. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Three years of high school mathematics.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 102 - Topics in Mathematics
Topics in mathematics selected from Core Curriculum mathematics classes. Arranged in conjunction with the individual needs of the student. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 103 - Calculus for Management Sciences
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 105 - Calculus I
Limits, differentiation and integration of rational and trigonometric functions, with applications. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Four years of high school mathematics.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 106 - Calculus II
Differentiation and integration of logarithmic, exponential and inverse trigonometric functions; various methods of integration; infinite sequences and series; parametric equations, polar coordinates. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 112 - Discrete Structures
Elementary properties of sets, discrete probability and combinatorial analysis, graphs, relations, orderings, functions, simple algebraic structures, binary arithmetic and other bases, methods of proof. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): Three years of high school mathematics.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 117 - Fundamentals of Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I
Problem solving, set theory, whole numbers, number theory, integers, rational numbers as fractions, decimals, percents, and real numbers. Use of manipulatives. Note(s): Cannot be counted toward the Mathematics major; typically offered in Fall. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Liberal Stds Multidisciplinary (LSMD), Liberal Studies Elementary Ed (LSEE), Interdisciplinary Education (INED) or Liberal Studies (LELS); and Undergraduate Level.

MATH 118 - Fundamentals of Mathematics for Elementary Teachers II
Introductory geometry, congruence, symmetry, measurement, algebra and coordinate geometry, statistics, probability. Use of manipulatives. Note(s): Cannot be counted toward the Mathematics major; typically offered in Spring. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 117.
Restriction(s): Must be Liberal Stds Multidisciplinary (LSMD), Liberal Studies Elementary Ed (LSEE), Interdisciplinary Education (INED), or Liberal Studies (LELS); and Undergraduate Level.

MATH 120 - The Nature of Mathematics
Selected topics in mathematics with consideration of historical development and related philosophical issues. Designed to meet the Core Curriculum requirement in mathematics for liberal arts students. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): May not be counted toward the Mathematics major; credit given for either MATH 120 or MATH 130, not both. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Mathematical Science (MASC); and must be Undergraduate Level.
MATH 121 - Quantitative Reasoning for the Natural Sciences  Credit 1
QR is using the math you already know to better understand the world.
This course will cover important mathematical ideas and problem solving skills in the context of the natural sciences such as biology, chemistry, physics, and environmental science. Topics may include: ratios, rates, percentages, units, descriptive statistics, linear and exponential modeling, correlation, logic, probability. Conceptual understanding and application will be emphasized. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 122 - Quantitative Reasoning for the Behavioral Sciences  Credit 1
QR is using the math you already know to better understand the world.
This course will cover important mathematical ideas and problem solving skills in the context of psychology, sociology, and anthropology. Topics may include: ratios, rates, percentages, units, descriptive statistics, linear and exponential modeling, correlation, logic, probability. Conceptual understanding and application will be emphasized. Core Curriculum:
Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): Designed to be taken with your ANTH, PSYC, or SOCI Core requirement, although concurrent enrollment is not required; designed to be taken before MATH 123. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 123 - Quantitative Reasoning Seminar  Credit 1
QR is using the math you already know to better understand the world.
The format is primarily a seminar, although some instruction on QR topics will be given as needed. Topics may include: ratios, rates, percentages, units, descriptive statistics, linear and exponential modeling, correlation, logic, probability. Conceptual understanding and application will be emphasized. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s):
This course is designed to be taken concurrently with ENGL 313, providing support for the capstone QR paper; designed to be taken after MATH 121. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 130 - Honors Nature of Mathematics  Credits 3
A historical, thematic and integrative study of the nature of mathematics using selected topics. Readings in primary source material. Mathematical content includes number theory, geometries and concepts of calculus.
Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): May be counted toward the Mathematics minor; credit given for either MATH 120 or MATH 130, not both. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 101 or equivalent.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 190 - Business Statistics  Credits 3
Collection and presentation of business data, central tendency and dispersion measures for business analysis, sampling and inference for confidence intervals and hypothesis testing, business forecasting with
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be BUSN (Business Administration) or BMNG
(Business Management) or ACCT (Accounting) or MACT (Math Actuarial Science) or PBRE (Public Relations) or PRRM (Public Relations) or JOIM (Journalism and Integrated Media); and Undergraduate Level.

MATH 204 - Introduction to Abstract Math  Credits 3
Set theory, Cartesian products, equivalence relations, images and inverse images, induction, recursions, inequalities, and field axioms. Emphasis on how to discover, write and present proofs. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 205 - Calculus III  Credits 4
Functions of two and three variables, partial differentiation, multiple integration, curves and surfaces in three dimensional space. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 106.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 210 - Introduction to Probability and Statistics  Credits 3 Nature of statistical methods, description of sample data, fundamental concepts of probability, probability distributions, sampling, estimation, correlation and regression, application of same. Core Curriculum:
Approved for Core - Mathematics. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 291 - Linear Algebra  Credits 3
Topics from matrices, determinants, linear transformations and vector spaces. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 106.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 305 - Introduction to Real Analysis I  Credits 3
The real number system, elementary topological concepts in Cartesian spaces, convergence, continuity, derivatives and integrals. Note(s):
Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 204, MATH 205.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 315 - Abstract Algebra I  Credits 3
Introduction to abstract algebra with topics from elementary ring, field and group theories. Emphasis on ring of integers, congruences, polynomial domains, permutation groups. Note(s): Offered in alternate years.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 204, MATH 291.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 318 - Biostatistics  Credits 3
Prepares the student for biostatistical application essential to practice in evidence-based professions. Content includes: descriptive statistics; probability theory and rules; discrete and continuous probability distributions; sampling distributions; confidence intervals; hypothesis testing; experimental design; ANOVA; linear and multiple regression; discussion of the use of statistics in journal articles. Core Curriculum:
Approved for Core - Mathematics. Note(s): Credit given for only one of MATH 210 or MATH 318. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 319 - Statistics II  Credits 3
A second course in statistics; covers statistical analysis in greater depth.
Topics will generally include multiple regression, time series analysis, designing observational and experimental studies, data science, and ethics. Final set of topics is subject to variation due to class interest.
Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 190, MATH 210, MATH 318, AP Statistics, or equivalent with Department consent.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 321 - Numerical Analysis  Credits 3
Functions of one variable, approximate numerical solutions of non-linear equations and systems of linear equations, interpolation theory, numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solutions of ordinary differential equations. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 291, CSCI 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
MATH 326 - Mathematics CSET Preparation Credit 1
Review of the subject matter of the Subtests of the CSET Mathematics exam. Test-taking strategies. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit. Does not count toward the major. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

MATH 331 - Probability Credits 3
Samples spaces, axioms and elementary theorems of probability, combinatorics, independence, conditional probability, Bayes' Theorem, one and higher dimensional random variables, special and multivariate distributions. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 204, MATH 205.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 332 - Mathematical Statistics Credits 3
Estimation: consistency, unbiasedness, maximum likelihood, confidence intervals. Hypothesis-testing; type I and II errors, likelihood ratio tests, test for means and variances; regression and correlation, Chi-square tests, decision theory, nonparametric statistics; application of statistical methods. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 331.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 333 - Operations Research Credits 3
Mathematical foundations of model building, optimization, linear programming models, game theoretic models. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 105, CSCI 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 335 - Ordinary Differential Equations Credits 3
First order differential equations, second order linear differential equations, power series solutions, Laplace transforms, systems of first order linear equations. Note(s): Offered in Spring. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 205.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 336 - Mathematical Methods in Physics Credits 3
This course covers a variety of advanced mathematical techniques essential to the solution of problems in the physical sciences and engineering. Topics include tensors, complex variables, contour integrals, solutions of partial differential equations, boundary-value problems, special functions (such as Bessel functions and Legendre functions), and Fourier series and Fourier and Laplace transforms. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 341 - Classical Geometry Credits 3
Theorems of Pythagoras, incenters, circumcenters, circles, Euler line, Fermat center. Compass constructions. Solid geometry. Spherical geometry of arcs. Coordinate geometry. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 370 - Readings in Mathematics Credit 1
Reading of material in a special topic. Colloquium participation. Writing and oral presentation of a research paper. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be (MATH) or Mathematical Science (MASC); and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

MATH 380 - Statistical Consulting Practicum Credits 1-3
Practical experience of applying statistical methods to real-world statistical consulting problems. Initial meeting with client, converting problem to solvable form, conducting analysis, and presenting results to client. Attention given to 'soft' (consultant-client interaction, effective group work, presentation skills) and 'hard' (analysis use of statistical software) aspects of consulting process. Note(s): Special approval required. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 190, MATH 210, MATH 318, or MATH 332.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 410 - Introduction to Real Analysis II Credits 3
Main theorems in integral calculus. Infinite series of numbers and functions. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 305.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 415 - Number Theory and the History of Mathematics Credits 3
The history of mathematics from Euclid through the 19th century as seen by exploring developments in number theory including congruences, Diophantine equations, divisibility, theorems of Fermat and Wilson, primitive roots, indices, quadratic reciprocity and the distribution of prime numbers. Note(s): Offered in Fall, odd years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 204.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 430 - Complex Variables Credits 3
Complex variables, analytic functions, complex integral theorems, power series, conformal mappings. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 205.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 450 - Abstract Algebra II Credits 3
Topics from groups, ring and fields. Galois theory. Note(s): Offered in alternate years. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 315.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 460 - Statistics and Data Science Capstone Credits 1-3
Practical experience of applying statistical methods to real-world statistical consulting problems. Initial meeting with client, converting problem to solvable form, conducting analysis, and presenting results to client. Attention given to 'soft' (consultant-client interaction, effective group work, presentation skills) and 'hard' (analysis use of statistical software) aspects of consulting process. Formal culmination of statistics program. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): All other statistics courses in the student's program which requires MATH 470, which may be taken concurrently.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

MATH 480 - Research Seminar Credits 1-3
Special studies in mathematics. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit; may involve participation in a Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) if approved by the Department. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.
MSLP: Speech-Language Pathology

MSLP 500 - Professional Issues in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding scope of practice, credentialing, professional ethics, legal issues, documentation, paraprofessionals, and the patient-clinician relationship. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 501 - Childhood Language and Literacy Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding theories and characteristics of language and literacy disorders in children. Current literature will be reviewed in order to teach advanced assessment and treatment procedures of high and low incidence language and literacy disorders and with a special emphasis on assessment techniques, intervention methods, educational management, and multi-cultural issues. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 502 - Advanced Speech Sound Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding advanced assessment and treatment procedures for pediatric clients with articulation and phonological disorders. Special emphasis on the use of current literature to make clinical decisions and develop evidenced based assessment and treatment plans for diverse pediatric populations. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 503 - Childhood Autism Spectrum Disorders and AAC Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding diagnosis, etiologies, and characteristics of autism spectrum disorders across the lifespan. Advance assessment and treatment methods will be taught. In addition, learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding types of augmentative and alternative communication (AAC) devices and related assistive technologies that can be utilized by individuals with severe physical, sensory, or communication disorders. Assessment procedures, device implementation, and training procedures will be practiced. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 504 - Research in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding research in communication disorders. Includes research design, techniques, and results in the context of evidence-based practice. Learners will become critical consumers of research and will apply research to clinical problems. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 505 - Motor Speech Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding apraxia of speech and the dysarthrias in both children and adults, including their neurological basis, characteristics, assessment, and treatment. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 506 - Neurogenic Language Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding the various types of aphasia in terms of characteristics, assessment, and treatment as well as levels of hospital care, such as intensive care, outpatient, etc. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 507 - Advanced Dysphagia Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding normal swallowing processes as well as disordered swallowing in babies, children, and adults. Assessment and treatment of swallowing is a main focus of this class. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 508 - Cognitive-Communicative Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding right hemisphere syndrome, traumatic brain injury, dementia, and other disorders that affect both communication and cognition. Includes emphasis on assessment and treatment of such disorders. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 509 - School and Hospital Based Issues Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge in ethical conduct, professional issues, advocacy, and policies associated with speech-language pathology practice in public schools and hospitals. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 510 - Advanced Fluency Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding theories of etiologies, assessment, and treatment of individuals with fluency disorders with a special emphasis on the management and effects of behavioral and emotional aspects of stuttering. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 511 - Advanced Audiology and Aural Rehabilitation Credits 3
Learners will review anatomy and physiology of the ear, audiological testing and gain knowledge and skills to relate this to pediatric and adult clients. Aural rehabilitation/habilitation therapy sessions for the speech language pathologist will be explored and created. Auditory processing disorders will be discussed. Students will conduct screenings and air conduction threshold testing and learn to interpret for referral. Principles for adapting speech therapy sessions with varying degrees of hearing loss will be discussed as well as counseling when negative emotions are expressed. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 512 - Advanced Voice and Craniofacial Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding etiology, interdisciplinary assessment, and treatment of communication impairments associated with craniofacial anomalies and knowledge and skills regarding normal vocal anatomy and physiology as well as laryngeal pathologies. Assessment and treatment of these pathologies and use of current technologies will be targeted. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 513 - Counseling and Christian Care in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding understanding the goals and practice of counseling people with communication disorders. Generally, students will understand counseling within the scope of practice for a speech-language pathologist. Specifically, students will participate in specific practice exercises designed to help them develop basic counseling skills. An emphasis will be placed on the care of people with communication disorders from a Christian perspective. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.
MSLP 514 - Advanced Capstone Experience Credits 3
In this summative capstone class students will take comprehensive examinations and present and defend student portfolios in order to demonstrate they have achieved theoretical and clinical knowledge and have the ability to integrate Christian faith with SLP practice. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 515 - Theology of Disability Credits 3
In this course students will explore a variety of questions regarding disability and suffering through the lens of Scripture, the writings of theologians, and their own personal experiences working with individuals with disabilities or illnesses and learn to formulate appropriate responses to injury, illness, disability and suffering from a Biblical perspective. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 516 - Directed Research Credits 1-3
Individual research in areas of communication disorders determined in consultation with the instructor. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit; pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 3.

MSLP 530 - Diagnostic and Therapeutic Methods Credits 2
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding general therapeutic and diagnostic procedures including assessment instrument selection, report writing, interviewing, development of treatment plans, writing goals, and the patient-clinician relationship. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 531 - Childhood Language and Literacy Disorders Credits 4
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding theories and characteristics of language and literacy disorders in children. Current literature will be reviewed in order to teach advanced assessment and treatment procedures of high and low incidence language and literacy disorders and with a special emphasis on assessment techniques, intervention methods, educational management, and multi-cultural issues. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 532 - Anatomy and Neurology in SLP Credit 1
Anatomy, physiology, and neurology of the speech and swallowing mechanisms are reviewed. The normal processes of respiration, phonation, articulation, resonance, and swallowing are reviewed and synthesized. The brain and nervous system as it pertains to communication and communication disorders will also be reviewed and synthesized. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 533 - Theology of Disability Credits 3
In this course students will explore a variety of questions regarding disability and suffering through the lens of Scripture, the writings of theologians, and their own personal experiences working with individuals with disabilities or illnesses and learn to formulate appropriate responses to injury, illness, disability and suffering from a Biblical perspective. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 534 - Research in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding research in communication disorders. Includes research design, techniques, and results in the context of evidence-based practice. Learners will become critical consumers of research and will apply research to clinical problems. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 535 - Motor Speech Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills about the dysarthrias and apraxia of speech across the lifespan, with a focus on acquired motor speech disorders. Neurological bases, characteristics, differential diagnosis, assessment, treatment, and interprofessional collaboration considerations specific to motor speech disorders will be addressed. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 536 - Advanced Speech Sound Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding advanced assessment and treatment procedures for pediatric clients with articulation and phonological disorders. Special emphasis on the use of current literature to make clinical decisions and develop evidenced based assessment and treatment plans for diverse pediatric populations. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 537 - Advanced Dysphagia Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding normal swallowing processes as well as disordered swallowing in babies, children, and adults. Assessment and treatment of swallowing is a main focus of this class. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 538 - Cognitive-Communicative Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding right hemisphere syndrome, traumatic brain injury, dementia, and other disorders that affect both communication and cognition. Includes emphasis on assessment and treatment of such disorders. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 539 - Applied Research Credit 1
Individual research in areas of communication disorders determined in consultation with the instructor. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 540 - Autism Spectrum Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding diagnosis, etiologies, and characteristics of autism spectrum disorders across the lifespan. Advance assessment and treatment methods will be taught. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 541 - Neurogenic Language Disorders Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding the various types of aphasia in terms of characteristics, assessment, and treatment as well as levels of hospital care, such as intensive care, outpatient, etc. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 542 - Advanced Voice Disorders Credits 2
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding normal vocal anatomy and physiology as well as laryngeal pathologies and knowledge and skills regarding etiology, interdisciplinary assessment, and treatment of communication impairments associated with voice disorders. Assessment and treatment of these pathologies and use of current technologies will be targeted. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 543 - Cleft Palate and Craniofacial Disorders Credit 1
In this course etiologies of a variety of craniofacial disorders will be presented with a special focus on cleft lip and palate. Evidence based assessment and treatment methods will be researched and the role interprofessional teams will be explored. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MSLP 544 - Advanced Fluency Disorders Credits 2
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding theories of etiologies, assessment, and treatment of individuals with fluency disorders with a special emphasis on the management and effects of behavioral and emotional aspects of stuttering. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 545 - Advanced Augmentative and Alternative Communication Credit 1
Methods of augmentative and alternative communication will be taught. Assessment for system fitting, system utilization, and functional use will be taught and practiced. Hands on experience with a variety of AAC devices will be provided. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 546 - School and Hospital Based Issues Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding scope of practice, advocacy, and policies associated with speech-language pathology practice in public schools and hospitals. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 547 - Audiology and Aural Rehabilitation for Speech-Language Pathologists Credits 3
Learners will review anatomy and physiology of the ear, audiological testing and gain knowledge and skills to relate this to pediatric and adult clients. Aural rehabilitation/habilitation therapy sessions for the speech-language pathologist will be explored and created. Auditory processing disorders will be discussed. Students will conduct screenings and air conduction threshold testing and learn to interpret for referral. Principles for adapting speech therapy sessions with varying degrees of hearing loss will be discussed. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 548 - Counseling and Christian Care in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 3
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding understanding the goals and practice of counseling people with communication disorders. Generally, students will understand counseling within the scope of practice for a speech-language pathologist. Specifically, students will participate in specific practice exercises designed to help them develop basic counseling skills. An emphasis will be placed on the care of people with communication disorders from a Christian perspective. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 549 - Professional Issues in Speech-Language Pathology Credits 2
Learners will gain knowledge and skills regarding scope of practice, credentialing, professional ethics, legal issues, documentation, paraprofessionals, and the patient-clinician relationship. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 550 - Advanced Capstone Experience Credits 3
In this summative capstone class students will take comprehensive examinations and present and defend student portfolios in order to demonstrate they have achieved theoretical and clinical knowledge and have the ability to integrate Christian faith with SLP practice. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 601 - Diagnostic Team Credits 3
Learners will acquire 20 supervised clinical hours conducting speech and language assessments with linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse clients. A special emphasis will be placed on utilization of a variety of formal and informal assessment measures, analysis of assessment results utilizing a holistic strategy, and effective communication of information to clients and their families. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 602 - Clinical Practicum I Credits 3
Learners will acquire 50 supervised clinical hours in assessment and treatment of individuals with a variety of communication disorders. Clinical contact will include individuals at a variety of age levels who are linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 603 - Clinical Practicum II Credits 3
Learners will acquire 50 supervised clinical hours in assessment and treatment of individuals with a variety of communication disorders. Clinical contact will include individuals at a variety of age levels who are linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 604 - Adult Externship Credits 1-3
Students will gain 125 hours of clinical experience in a supervised medical-based speech and language service setting. Clinical contact will consist of provision of supervised services to linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse population and include specialty areas of dysphagia and motor speech disorders. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 605 - School Externship Credits 1-3
Students will gain 125 hours of clinical experience in a supervised school-based speech and language service setting. Clinical contact will consist of provision of supervised services to linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse pediatric population. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 606 - Arranged Clinical Practicum Credits 1-3
This clinic is for students who have not completed their required clinical hours at the graduate level and need to or desire to acquire additional hours. Students arrange for the clinical practicum placement with the guidance of a faculty member. Note(s): Pre-program revision course; in teach out phase. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 607 - School Externship Credits 1-3
Students will gain 125 hours of clinical experience in a supervised school-based speech and language service setting. Clinical contact will consist of provision of supervised services to linguistically, culturally, and etiologically diverse pediatric population. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 501 - Theology of Nursing Credits 4
This graduate nursing course is a theological analysis of professional nursing education and practice theories. Content will provide a foundation for Christian nurse educators and clinicians to teach and provide quality nursing care. Grade Mode: A.

MSLP 510 - Global and Transcultural Nursing Credits 4
This graduate nursing course will assess and analyze global and transcultural nursing including the biblical foundation of Christian nursing education and practice worldwide. Emphasis is on nursing as a ministry within diverse educational and practice systems. Grade Mode: A.
NSED 515 - Advanced Nursing Pathophysiology
This graduate nursing course focuses on the application of advanced knowledge of the complex physiological functions and pathophysiological processes related to the care of individuals with health care problems. Emphasis is on cellular physiology, alterations in physiological function, physiological adaptation, and integrative and regulatory mechanisms of bodily functions at the molecular, cellular, organ and systems levels.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 520 - Advanced Pharmacology
This graduate nursing course builds on prior pathophysiological and pharmacological knowledge. Emphasis is on pharmacodynamic, pharmacokinetic and pharmacotherapeutic interpretations and therapeutic management guidelines, clinical application and the patient education implications.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 525 - Advanced Physical Assessment
The purpose of this graduate nursing course is to assist students to refine history taking, psychological assessment and physical assessment skills for patients across the lifespan. Emphasis is in detailed history taking, critical diagnostic reasoning and clinical decision-making, differentiation, interpretation, and documentation of normal and abnormal findings.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 530 - Nursing Research
This graduate level course will prepare students to design, implement and evaluate research in a clinical or academic setting looking for evidence-based practice related to their desired specialty. Students will develop knowledge, skills, and attitudes to independently search, review, appraise and synthesize research literature of particular interest to nursing practice and education. Students will be prepared to articulate potential practice changes at the individual-and-system-level.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 535 - Health Systems and Nursing Informatics
This graduate nursing course exposes nursing professionals to complex organizational leadership utilizing a project management approach with analysis of financial management, governmental, legislative, cultural and regulatory influences of health care delivery systems. Informatics system design, development, and technical managerial problems are discussed. This course prepares the nurse leader for active participation in policy-making and clinical role, both bridging the education to practice gap.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 540 - Innovations in Nursing Education
This graduate nursing course includes analysis of evidence-based teaching and learning methodologies. Instructional design principles are applied to local and international classrooms and clinical education. Christian faith integration strategies are included.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 545 - Nursing Curriculum Development and Evaluation
This graduate nursing course prepares the student for the advanced role of Christian nurse educator in a variety of academic, acute care, and community settings. Theoretical approaches to educational assessment with curriculum development, implementation and evaluation are discussed.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 550 - Nursing Education Practicum
This graduate nursing course allows the student application of education principles and theories to a healthcare agency or academic setting. This course will prepare nurse educators to teach in an allied health, vocational or academic setting with ADN or BSN students. The student will engage with a preceptor in a healthcare agency and/or simulation lab learning, participating in activities related to students in these areas such as clinical evaluation of student learning outcomes, course planning, content presentation, student advising, evaluation of student learning outcomes and student remediation.
Lecture/Lab Hours: 100.
Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): NSED 540, NSED 545.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 560 - Seminar (Thesis)
This graduate nursing seminar focus is on synthesis of a scientific research paper based on the analysis of the data and the comprehensive literature review completed in NSED 530 Nursing Research Course. The capstone project reflects the integration of Christian principles, professional nursing education concepts, leadership theories and best clinical practices within a selected nursing specialty environment.
Prerequisite(s): NSED 501, NSED 510, NSED 515, NSED 520, NSED 525, NSED 530, NSED 535, NSED 550.
Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NSED 565.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NSED 565 - Academia to Practice 120 Hr & Project
This graduate nursing course allows students to implement their MSN final capstone project. Clinical, in-class teaching hours and project completion will enhance the students’ knowledge of their individual specialty area in either academia or clinical practice settings.
Lecture/ Lab Hours: 120 clinical hours.
Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): NSED 501, NSED 510, NSED 515, NSED 520, NSED 525, NSED 530, NSED 535, NSED 550.
Corequisite(s): NSED 560.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

NURS: Nursing Courses

NURS 112 - Introduction to Professional Nursing
This course will introduce the student to professional nursing care of diverse and vulnerable populations across the globe. Course discussion will include the history, education, practice roles, national and state standards of practice and caring ministry of the Christian professional nurse.
Note(s): This course is required for admission into the clinical nursing program.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 204 - Essentials of Clinical Nursing Pharmacology
Use of the nursing process in the administration of medication.
Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed.
Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
NURS 209 - Nursing of the Patient/Family I - Theory Credits 4
First of three core courses on medical-surgical nursing care of diverse populations. Introduces the student to pathophysiology of disease, the evidence-based knowledge and skill needed for quality nursing patient care, and for nursing as Christian ministry. Note(s): Acceptance into the clinical nursing program required; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): NURS 212, NURS 213, NURS 306, NURS 307.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

NURS 212 - Nursing of the Patient/Family I - Clinical Credits 3
Clinical application of NURS 211 content. Note(s): Must earn at least a 'C' for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 213 - Nursing of the Patient/Family I - Nursing Application Lab Credit 1
Simulation and skills laboratory practice required for NURS 212 clinical application. Note(s): Must earn at least 80% on lab exams to receive credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 209, NURS 212, NURS 306, NURS 307.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

NURS 216 - Nursing of the Patient/Family II - Theory Credits 3
Second of three core courses on medical-surgical nursing care of diverse populations. Expands student learning of disease pathophysiology and the evidence-based knowledge, applied reasoning and skill needed for quality and Christian nursing care. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 306.
Corequisite(s): NURS 218, NURS 219, NURS 351, NURS 353.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 218 - Nursing of the Patient/Family II - Clinical Credits 0,3
Clinical application of NURS 217 theory, reasoning and skill. Note(s): Must earn at least a 'C' for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C, N.
Corequisite(s): NURS 216, NURS 219.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 219 - Nursing of the Patient/Family II - Nursing Application Lab Credit 1
Simulation and skills laboratory practice necessary for NURS 218 clinical application. Note(s): Must earn at least 80% on lab exams to receive credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 216, NURS 218.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 230 - Clinical Topics in Nursing Credits 1-3
Allows students to explore issues related to nursing prior to attaining upper-division status. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 9.
Course Fee: $40.

NURS 232 - Clinical Experiences in Nursing Credits 1-4
Allows students the opportunity to gain additional clinical nursing experience prior to attaining upper-division status. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content; must earn at least a 'C' for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 12.
Course Fee: $40.

NURS 300 - Professional Nursing Seminar Credits 1-3
A transition seminar designed to facilitate socialization into baccalaureate professional nursing. Note(s): Designed for transfer-challenge students; may be taken multiple times for credit. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

NURS 306 - Nursing Assessment of the Patient - Theory Credits 2
Introduction to nursing assessment and documentation of common signs and symptoms of wellness and illness. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): NURS 209, NURS 212, NURS 213, NURS 307.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 307 - Nursing Assessment of the Patient - Clinical Credit 1
Clinical practice of nursing assessment and reporting. Note(s): Must earn at least a 'C' for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 209, NURS 212, NURS 213, NURS 306.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 320 - Directed Individual Studies Credits 1-3
Permits students to pursue special interests related to the profession of nursing. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Nursing (NURS); and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

NURS 321 - Clinical Enrichment Credits 1-4
Opportunity for additional application of the nursing process in selected health care settings. Note(s): May be taken multiple times with different content; must earn at least a 'C' for credit. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 211.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Nursing (NURS); and Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.
Course Fee: $40.

NURS 341 - Nursing of the Mental Health Patient/Family - Theory Credits 2
Theoretical and evidence-based concepts related to quality mental health nursing care of patients and their families. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 204, NURS 217.
Corequisite(s): NURS 345.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
NURS 345 - Nursing of the Mental Health Patient/Family - Clinical Credits 0,1,5
Clinical application of NURS 341 knowledge and skill. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C, N.
Corequisite(s): NURS 341.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 347 - Introduction to Women's Health - Theory Credits 2
Introduction to quality nursing care of women across the reproductive years. Emphasis is on the mother and family in the childbearing years. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 204, NURS 217.
Corequisite(s): NURS 349.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 351 - Nursing of the Older Adult Patient/Family - Theory Credits 2
Theoretical and evidence-based concepts related to the quality nursing care of the older adult patient and their families. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 209 or NURS 211.
Corequisite(s): NURS 353.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 353 - Nursing of the Older Adult Patient/Family - Clinical Credit 1
Clinical application of NURS 351 theory, reasoning and skill in the quality nursing care of older adults and their families. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 351.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 355 - Pediatric Nursing - Theory Credits 0,2
Introduction to quality nursing care of children, adolescents and the family. Note(s): Course may be challenged for credits listed. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 204.
Corequisite(s): NURS 357.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 357 - Pediatric Nursing - Clinical Credit 1.5
Clinical application of NURS 355 theory, reasoning and skill. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 355.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 358 - Nursing of the Patient/Family III - Theory Credits 2
Third of three core courses on medical-surgical nursing care of diverse populations. Continues enhancement of student learning of patients with increased complexity of diagnosis and quality nursing care need. Note(s): Course may be challenged for credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 204, NURS 217.
Corequisite(s): NURS 359.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

NURS 359 - Nursing of the Patient/Family III - Clinical Credits 2
Clinical application of complex medical-surgical nursing knowledge, reasoning and skill in providing complex patient care. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C.
Corequisite(s): NURS 358.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

NURS 367 - Critical Care Nursing - Theory Credits 0,2
Complex medical-surgical nursing care of patients in critical care environments. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 358.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 441 - Introduction to Nursing Research Credits 3
Introduction to professional nursing's utilization of the research process. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 351; MATH 210 or MATH 318.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 442 - Applied Nursing Research Credit 1
Application of NURS 441 theory in an established research study. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 441.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 450 - Leadership/Management in Nursing - Theory Credits 2
Analysis of leadership theories and health care issues/trends which influence professional nursing practice. Note(s): Course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 341, NURS 347, NURS 351, NURS 355.
Corequisite(s): NURS 451, NURS 452.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

NURS 451 - Leadership/Management in Nursing: Transition to Practice - Clinical Credits 0,3
Clinical application of NURS 450 theory, reasoning and skill in the care of medical-surgical patients. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C, N.
Corequisite(s): NURS 450, NURS 452.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

NURS 452 - Leadership/Management in Nursing: Elective Setting - Clinical Credits 0,2
Clinical application of NURS 450 theory, clinical site/preceptor availability. Note(s): Must earn at least a ‘C’ for credit; course may be challenged for the credits listed. Grade Mode: C, N.
Corequisite(s): NURS 450, NURS 451.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.
Course Fee: $65.
NURS 461 - Community and Public Health Nursing - Theory  Credits 4
Integration of nursing knowledge, reasoning and skill in community-based promotion of population well-being. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): NURS 341, NURS 347, NURS 351, NURS 355, NURS 358.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.

NURS 463 - Community and Public Health Nursing - Clinical  Credits 0.3
Clinical application of NURS 461 theory, reasoning and skill in various community settings. Note(s): Must earn at least a 'C' for credit. Grade Mode: C, N.
Corequisite(s): NURS 461.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $65.

PHSC: Physical Science

Courses

PHSC 092 - Introduction to Physics  Credits 2
This course is designed for students planning to enroll in Physics I (PHSC 111) or General Physics I (PHSC 132) who did not pass the Physics Placement Exam. Note(s): Credits do not count towards graduation requirements; a grade of 'C' or better is required to register in PHSC 111, and a grade of 'B' or better is required to register in PHSC 132.
Grade Mode: A.

PHSC 101 - Physical Science Survey: Lecture  Credits 4
A survey of the basic principles of physics, chemistry, geology, meteorology and astronomy. Designed for the non-science major. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 102 - Physical Science Survey Laboratory  Credit 1
A laboratory experience to accompany the lecture course. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hour laboratory weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Required for Liberal Studies majors, and optional for others. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 101 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $90.

PHSC 103 - Geology  Credits 3
An introduction to earth science including: processes that shape the earth's surface, oceans and atmosphere; plate tectonics, earth history and the fossil record, natural resources and environmental concerns. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $110.

PHSC 104 - Geology Laboratory  Credit 1
An optional laboratory experience designed to utilize hands-on investigations of geologic materials and processes, including minerals, rocks, topographic and geological maps, in order to support and augment the topics covered in the introductory geology course (PHSC 103). One field trip is required and is credited as one of the lab sessions. Lecture/Lab Hours: 3 hours per week. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 103 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $95.

PHSC 105 - Topics in Physical Science  Credits 1-3
A course designed to allow students to select specific modules from PHSC 101, Physical Science Survey, which include physics, chemistry, geology, astronomy, and/or meteorology; or from PHSC 111, PHSC 112, PHSC 132, PHSC 233 or PHSC 234. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 109 - Physics of Sound  Credits 0.3
The basic concepts of sound wave mechanics, the mechanisms of sound and voice, hearing, speech perception, and an overview of the technology used in electronic recording. Lab activities include the use of frequency spectrum analyzers. Assumes no science background but will use high school algebra. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Counts toward the Core Curriculum Science requirement for all majors except Communication Disorders. Grade Mode: A, N.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $40.

PHSC 110 - Astronomy  Credits 3
A conceptual astronomy course, designed to acquaint the student with the current state of knowledge of the solar system, the Milky Way, galaxies, quasars and cosmology. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $95.

PHSC 111 - Physics I  Credits 0.3
A study of mechanics, heat and sound. Intended for non-Physical Science majors. Principles are treated quantitatively but without a calculus requirement. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour recitation weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): Passing score on the Physics Placement Exam or PHSC 092 with a grade of 'C' or better.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 117.
Restriction(s): Must not be Chemistry (CHEM), Physics (PHYS), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Physical Science (PHSC), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 112 - Physics II  Credits 0.3
Continued from Physics I; includes electricity, magnetism, elementary circuits, optics, and modern physics. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour recitation weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 111, PHSC 117.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 118.
Restriction(s): Must not be Physics (PHYS), Physical Science (PHSC), Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 115 - Physics in Everyday Life  Credits 3
This course is intended for non-science majors who are seeking a connection between science and the world in which they live. It is intended to convey an appreciation for the physical sciences through the discovery of principles within objects of everyday experience and to show that science is not something to be feared but is indeed reflective of God's creativity, beauty and provision. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
PHSC 117 - Physics I Laboratory
Credit 1
Application of the laws and theories of mechanics, heat and sound through experiment. Laboratory to accompany Physics I. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 111.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $110.

PHSC 118 - Physics II Laboratory
Credit 1
Application of the laws and theories of electricity, magnetism, circuits and optics through experiment. Laboratory to accompany Physics II. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 112.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $110.

PHSC 119 - Physics in Everyday Life Laboratory
Credit 1
The optional hands-on component for the lecture course that provides students experience with common laboratory tools for a better understanding and appreciation of the principles behind many of the objects of everyday life. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours of laboratory weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 115 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $70.

PHSC 121 - Introduction to Engineering
Credit 1
A presentation of the opportunities of the many engineering specialties, historical and current trends, ethical and societal factors in engineering projects and examples of engineering design problems from professionals and through field trips. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $90.

PHSC 124 - Data Analysis and Presentation
Credit 1
This course is intended for Chemistry, Physics and Engineering Department majors or anyone else interested in learning to develop their intuition for problem-solving using formal and informal techniques. Involves the use of MATLAB, Excel and other computer tools for data analysis. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $90.

PHSC 132 - General Physics I: Mechanics and Heat
Credits 0,3
Basic principles of physics emphasizing Newtonian mechanics; conservation of energy and momentum; oscillations, fluids and thermodynamics. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour recitation, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Primarily for Physical Science and Engineering Physics majors. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 105 (may be taken concurrently); passing score on the Physics Placement Exam or PHSC 092 with a grade of 'B' or better.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 134.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 134 - General Physics I Laboratory
Credit 1
The application of the laws and theories of mechanics and thermodynamics through experiment. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours of laboratory weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 132.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $110.

PHSC 233 - General Physics II: Electricity and Magnetism
Credits 0,3
Introduction to electrostatics, conductors and currents, magnetic fields, and Maxwell's equations. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour recitation, weekly. Note(s): Primarily for Physical Science and Engineering Physics majors. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 132, PHSC 134.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 237.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 234 - General Physics III: Waves, Optics and Modern Physics
Credits 0,4
Wave theory, sound, geometric optics, interference and diffraction, relativity, wave properties of particles, and introduction to quantum physics. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; three hours laboratory, weekly. Note(s): Primarily for Physical Science and Engineering Physics majors; the optics section may be taken for one credit (PHSC 450). Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 233, PHSC 237.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

PHSC 237 - General Physics II Laboratory
Credit 1
The application of the laws and theories of electricity and magnetism through experiment. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Corequisite(s): PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $110.

PHSC 250 - Science and Origins
Credits 3
A survey of basic scientific theories of origins, their crucial experimental evidences, and background material in physics, chemistry, geology and astronomy. Particular attention will be given to comparison of scientific theories of origins and biblical revelation. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 311 - Computer Techniques in Science and Engineering
Credits 3
Use of computation tools using MATLAB and LabVIEW in chemistry, physics and engineering, digital signal analysis and instrument control. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 124, PHSC 233, PHSC 237; or CHEM 106; MATH 205 recommended.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $130.

PHSC 313 - Statics
Credits 3
Statics of particles, rigid bodies in two and three dimensions, centroids and centers of gravity, structures, friction, and inertia. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture weekly. Note(s): Primarily for Engineering Physics majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 132, PHSC 134.
Restriction(s): Must be Physics (PHYS), Physical Science (PHSC),Biochemistry (BCHM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 314 - Mechanics of Materials
Credits 3
Analysis of stress, strain and deflection of mechanical elements due to tension. Shear, bending or torsion, combined stresses, elastic stability and energy methods. Note(s): Primarily for Engineering Physics majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 313.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
PHSC 316 - Dynamics Credits 3
The concepts of force, mass, and acceleration, of work and energy, and of impulse and momentum as applied to problems involving the motion of particles and rigid bodies in two and three dimensions. Note(s): Primarily for Engineering Physics majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 313.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 318 - Classical Mechanics Credits 3
Newtonian mechanics of particles and systems of particles, rigid bodies, oscillating systems, gravitation, moving coordinate systems, Lagrange's and Hamilton's equations. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture.
Note(s): Primarily for physics majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 132, PHSC 134; MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 321 - Circuits and Instrumentation I Credits 0.5
Introduction to circuit elements, network theorems, response, semiconductor devices, integrated circuits, and the operation and design of analog DC/AC circuits. Also introduces the fundamentals of Boolean logic and digital design. Laboratory work involves extensive construction and analysis of circuits, as well as introduction of soldering and assembly techniques. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; six hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 233, PHSC 237.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

PHSC 322 - Circuits and Instrumentation II Credits 0.3
Boolean algebra and relevant theorems and design practices covering discrete devices, application-specific integrated circuits, and programmable logic devices. Both lecture and laboratory sessions will be integrated into the class meeting times as required. Lecture/Lab Hours: Two hours lecture; three hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 321.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 326 - Sciences CSET Preparation Credit 1
Review of the subject matter in the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET) Science subtest exams. Test-taking strategies. Note(s): Does not count toward the major. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 2.

PHSC 331 - Thermodynamics Credits 3
Introduction to energy, heat, work, entropy, temperature and states of matter. The first, second and third laws of thermodynamics with an emphasis on applications. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 132, PHSC 134.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 336 - Mathematical Methods in Physics Credits 3
This course covers a variety of advanced mathematical techniques essential to the solution of problems in the physical sciences and engineering. Topics include tensors, complex variables, contour integrals, solutions of partial differential equations, boundary-value problems, special functions (such as Bessel functions and Legendre functions), and Fourier series and Fourier and Laplace transforms. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 340 - Electrodynamics Credits 3
The application of vector calculus and Maxwell's equations in the analysis of static and dynamic electromagnetic waves in dielectrics and conductors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 233, PHSC 237; MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 352 - Fundamentals of Materials Science Credits 3
Introduction to the structure-property relationships of engineering and natural materials including metals, ceramics, polymers and composites. Examines the strength of materials, strengthening mechanisms, diffusion, phase transformations, heat treatment and microstructure control. Considers how materials are selected for design of a product. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 112 or PHSC 233; CHEM 105 and MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 360 - Quantum Mechanics Credits 3
An introduction to quantum mechanics including 1-D potentials, Schrodinger's equation, the hydrogen atom with spin, Dirac notation, operator formalism, bonding, the solid state and interpretation. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHIL 214; HIST 208; PHSC 111 or PHSC 132; PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 401 - History of Science Credits 3
A survey of the history of science with analysis of science as a way of knowing the world. Emphasis on how human culture shapes scientific practice. Note(s): Does not count toward the major. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHIL 214; HIST 208; PHSC 111 or PHSC 132; PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.

PHSC 412 - Introduction to Quantum Mechanics Credits 3
An introduction to quantum mechanics including 1-D potentials, Schrodinger's equation, the hydrogen atom with spin, Dirac notation, operator formalism, bonding, the solid state and interpretation. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 234; MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 420 - Directed Research or Internship Credits 1-3
Research or industrial internship to provide practical experience in a field of the student's interest. Designed for students working on or off campus for a total of 6 credits. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 425 - Introduction to Materials Science Credits 1-3
An introduction to materials science covering the structure-property relationships of engineering and natural materials including metals, ceramics, polymers and composites. Examines the strength of materials, strengthening mechanisms, diffusion, phase transformations, heat treatment and microstructure control. Considers how materials are selected for design of a product. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 112 or PHSC 233; CHEM 105 and MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 450 - Special Topics in Physical Science Credits 1-3
Varying course content. Topics such as optics, special relativity, nuclear and biophysics will be offered. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; Applied Physics (PHAP), Biological Science (BIOS), Human Biology (BIHB), Biochemistry (BCHM), Bio Sci:Secondary Instruction (BISH), Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Physical Science (PHSC), or Bio Sci:Secondary Instruction (BISH), and Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): May involve lab fees of up to $185.
PHSC 460 - Capstone Seminar  Credit 1
A capstone course for all biochemistry, chemistry, physics, and physical science majors that includes: (1) presentation of a seminar, (2) service learning project and, (3) integration readings and discussion. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; Environmental Science (BIES), Human Biology (BIHB), Physics (PHYS), Bio Sci:Secondary Instruction (BISI), Chemistry (CHEM), Physical Science (PHSC), Biochemistry (BCHM), Biological Science (BIOS), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.

PHSC 480 - Advanced Physics Laboratory  Credits 3
A laboratory course in which selected experiments cover several areas of classical and contemporary physics. Emphasis on data collection and analysis techniques. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 234, PHSC 321; MATH 335.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.
TALBOT SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

Mission
The mission of Talbot School of Theology is the development of disciples of Jesus Christ whose thought processes, character and lifestyles reflect those of our Lord, and who are dedicated to disciple making throughout the world. Both the nature and the purpose of Talbot School of Theology are elaborated more specifically in the following paragraphs and further expanded at various places throughout the catalog as noted under each heading.

Theologically
The theological position of Talbot School of Theology is Christian, protestant, and theologically conservative. The school is interdenominational by nature and is thoroughly committed to the proclamation of the great historic doctrines of the Christian church. It definitely and positively affirms historic orthodoxy in the framework of an evangelical and premillennial theology that is derived from a grammatico-historical interpretation of the Bible. It earnestly endeavors to make these great doctrinal truths a vital reality in the spiritual life of this present generation. The seminary aims to train students who believe and propagate the great doctrines of the faith as they are summarized in our Statement of Doctrine (https://www.biola.edu/about/doctrinal-statement/) and Explanatory Notes.

Spiritually
It is the purpose of Talbot to develop in the lives of its students a spiritual life that is in harmony with the great doctrines taught, so that they may grow in the grace as well as in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Specifically, the goal is to educate and graduate students characterized by commitment to serving Christ, missionary and evangelistic zeal and a solid knowledge of the Scriptures. To accomplish these objectives, the seminary conducts a chapel program and gives attention to its students' ministry/service opportunities.

Academically
It is the purpose of the seminary to provide its students with the best in theological education so they may be equipped to preach and teach the Word of God intelligently and present it zealously to the world. In keeping with this goal, every department is geared to emphasize the clear and accurate exposition of the Scriptures. The biblical languages are utilized to expose the inner meaning of the inspired text. Bible exposition, whether by synthesis or analysis, presents a connected and related interpretation of the infallible Book. Systematic theology moves toward a well-organized and structured arrangement of biblical truth. Historical theology engages itself to acquaint the student with the progress of the inerrant Word among the household of faith throughout the Christian era. Philosophy furnishes the elements whereby the servant of Christ may give a well-developed reason for the faith that is within. Missions, Christian ministry and leadership, and Christian education strive to perfect in the student a skillful and winsome presentation of the truth, privately and publicly. Talbot stands for one faith, one integrated curriculum, one eternal Word of God and its effective proclamation to this generation with its multiplicity of needs.

Practically
It is the purpose of the seminary to prepare for the gospel ministry those who believe, live and preach the great historic doctrines of faith that have been committed to the church. To realize these broad objectives, the seminary offers nine degree programs, each with its own distinctive purpose.

Talbot's Spiritual Formation Core
Mission
The mission of the Spiritual Formation Core at Talbot School of Theology and the Institute for Spiritual Formation centers on students more deeply understanding and participating in life in Christ and cooperating with the transforming work of the Holy Spirit, whose purpose is to form persons into the image of Christ through union with the Triune God. A major objective is opening the heart in truth to the New Covenant work of Christ and the ministry of the Spirit in sanctification. The resulting change of character or fruit of the Spirit is accomplished through cooperation with the Indwelling Spirit and not by means of human efforts alone.

Purpose
The purpose of Talbot’s Spiritual Formation Core is to:

1. Train students in a basic knowledge of Spiritual Theology (the integrative study of Scripture and the ministry of the indwelling Holy Spirit regarding the nature, process and directives of spiritual transformation in Christ),
2. Encourage students to exhibit and integrate the Double Knowledge of God and one’s self through application in their own process of spiritual transformation, and
3. Practice relational and caring skills focused on developing communities of growth in the body of Christ.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of Talbot’s Spiritual Formation Core, graduates will be able to:

1. Explain the basic elements of Spiritual Theology, namely, the nature, process, and practices of spiritual growth (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate how knowledge of self integrates with knowledge of God in one’s own life (ULO 2).
3. Demonstrate relational skills that develop community (ULO 3).
4. Articulate how the biblical teaching on vocation shapes one’s own understanding of vocation and gainful employment (ULO 1, 2, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Courses
Students are required to take three main courses in the Spiritual Formation Core at Talbot (TTSF 501, TTSF 503 and TTSF 504). These courses will be completed sequentially during three semesters, beginning with the first semester at Talbot. Two semesters of individual Spiritual Direction/mentoring (TTSF 505, TTSF 506) are also required. The three main courses required in Talbot’s Spiritual Formation Core (TTSF 501, TTSF 503 and TTSF 504) are taken in sequence to provide continuity in understanding the process of sanctification and for the development of community in cohort groups. Cohort groups of approximately twelve students will be formed in TTSF 501 and will remain together throughout the completion of the three courses in the Spiritual Formation Core.
Spiritual Retreats

Students are required to take three retreats of varying length and content for the purpose of spiritual growth. The first retreat is completed in the first semester in TTSF 501, which focuses upon opening the heart in truth in one's relationship with Christ and developing Christ-centered community. The second retreat is completed in the second semester in TTSF 503 for the purpose of exploring our human relationships in the body of Christ. The third retreat is taken in the third semester in TTSF 504, which focuses upon one's vocation in relation to the various calls of God in one's life, particularly one's personal call to ministry.

Baccalaureate Celebration

Upon completion of a student's Talbot degree program, there will be a celebration, commissioning and thanksgiving service. This evening service, attended by spouses, family members, mentors, and faculty, will focus on accomplishment, spiritual growth, thanksgiving, hooding, commissioning into ministry and acknowledgment of the people who encouraged and supported the student throughout the Talbot journey.

Men and Women at Talbot School of Theology

Women and men are created in the image of God (Gen. 1:27) and called to mutual submission (Eph. 5:21). This calling of two differently endowed equals to serve the other in oneness is the source of Scripture's compelling and beautiful vision for human life. Talbot is committed to promoting this vision.

Talbot sees flourishing human life as a divinely ordained means to reflect God in the world. Gender is intended to facilitate our flourishing, especially through our relationships with one another. It is a unique gift offered for the benefit of the other.

Talbot also affirms the unique ways each gender realizes its submission and deference for the sake of the other. In the New Covenant, both women and men are called to build up the body of Christ through the fruit and gifts of the Spirit. Talbot believes that Scripture teaches that God has called men to Christlike headship in the family and oversight as elders in the church. The sacrificial, God-oriented, and others-centered nature of this responsibility absolutely precludes domination, authoritarianism, and any other form of leadership that is contrary to the example of Christ. The family of God is called to mutual respect, interdependence, and love, reflecting a community in which all members are empowered by the Spirit to grow in Christlike character.

Talbot offers its quality theological education to both men and women and supports the full inclusion of men and women in all ranks of administration, faculty, admissions, degree programs, student recruitment, and other aspects of university life, including speaking in chapels and university public events. As an educational institution, Talbot does not have authority for the ordination of anyone seeking vocational Christian ministry but recognizes this as the appropriate function of church bodies.

Chapel

The purpose of chapel is to provide opportunities for worship, instruction and exposure to current issues, ministries, missions and gifted individuals. Chapel is an important part of a student's educational experience, contributing significantly to individual spiritual formation and the unity of the seminary community.

Chapel services are conducted each Tuesday in the Calvary Chapel auditorium. Additional special chapels are held as announced. Joint University-wide chapel services are held several times a year. Students are required to attend Tuesday chapel services if they have classes either immediately before or after the chapel hour. This requirement also applies to the Thursday of the Lyman Stewart Lectures (Fall) and the Robert Saucy Lectures (Spring). Participation in the chapel services of the university community are also highly encouraged.

Lecture Series

Special lectures to supplement and enhance the seminary experience are held twice a year during the Tuesday/Thursday chapel hours. Lecture series are:

- Lyman Stewart Lectures (Fall)
- Robert L. Saucy Lectures (Spring)

Student Christian Service

The seminary recognizes the necessity of active service in Christian work while students are pursuing their courses of study. From the time of enrollment students are asked to engage in some type of approved ministry. The high population density of Southern California creates extensive service opportunities of many types.

Field Education

Field education is that part of the student's academic program in which there is active participation in a supervised experience within a church or parachurch setting. A full-time M.Div. student should register for field education each semester. A part-time M.Div. student should register for field education once within every 16 credits completed. Certain M.A. programs may require field education, as well. Details can be found in the particular M.A. curriculum charts.

After completing field education courses TTPT 591, TTPT 592, TTPT 691, and TTPT 692, M.Div. students become eligible to register for field internship (TTPT 791 and TTPT 792). These final courses are more intensive, supervised, and include:

1. Supervised field experience for a minimum of 100 hours in each of two semesters.
2. Seminars with other students registered for field education internship.
3. Individual counseling with the director of field education on specific aspects of the student's experience.

The Biola Campus

The seminary has classroom, chapel and administrative office facilities located in Myers Hall, Feinberg Hall, The Grove, and Talbot East. Metzger Hall houses University administrative offices including the Admissions and Registrar's Offices.

In addition, the seminary shares the library, cafeteria, coffee shop, residences, gymnasium, health center and prayer chapel with Biola University. Also available are an all-weather jogging track, a soccer field, a baseball diamond, tennis courts and a short course Olympic swimming pool. See the General Information (p. 8) section for a full campus description.
Family Commitment

Seminary studies make significant demands on a student’s time. This can lead to family members who feel they are not part of the seminary experience. Talbot’s commitment to the family is deep-rooted, especially the families of its students. A wide-ranging array of programs, events, activities, opportunities and services has been developed to foster family participation in the seminary experience. A guide for families is available to new students at Talbot. The following are examples of the opportunities and services available to student spouses:

1. Chapel services featuring a variety of prominent Christian speakers and opportunities for mutual worship.
2. Spouses may attend classes with their mates at no charge to the spouse, space permitting and with professor approval. No academic credit is provided.
3. The Spouse Tuition Reduction Scholarship allows spouses of full-time students to take master’s-level seminary courses for academic credit at only one-third the standard tuition rate.
4. Talbot Women: Talbot Women provides an opportunity for wives of Talbot students, married Talbot women, and single Talbot women to deepen their relationship with God, establish meaningful friendships, grow together, pray together, and become equipped to serve our Lord and the church more effectively. Talbot Women meets each Tuesday evening during the Spring and Fall semesters. These meetings begin with a speaker (either Talbot faculty or a guest speaker), a short discussion time, and an extended time of prayer in groups led by Talbot faculty wives. Each semester there is a different theme which ranges from practical ministry skills to the exploration of scripture and spiritual truths.
5. Major social events, such as the annual Spring Banquet, and student family picnics.
6. The Biola Bookstore features a wide selection of Christian and secular titles, discounted Bibles, gift items, computer equipment, greeting cards, music, CD’s, logo clothing, refreshments and supplies.
7. The Biola swimming pool, track, weight room, fitness center and tennis courts are available at scheduled times for family use.
8. A wide variety of music events featuring student groups, faculty artists and guest performers are scheduled throughout the school year.
9. Intercollegiate sporting events, including men’s and women’s basketball, men’s and women’s volleyball, men’s baseball, men’s and women’s cross-country and track.
10. Special and annual lectureships, missions and Bible conferences.
11. Other special cultural events and presentations.

Accreditation

Western Association of Schools and Colleges. Talbot, as a school of Biola University, is included within Biola University’s accreditation by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The Association of Theological Schools. Talbot is a member of The Association of Theological Schools (10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15275-1103) in the United States and Canada, the internationally recognized accrediting body of seminaries and schools of divinity.

Recognition

Agencies of the United States Government which recognize the training given at Talbot include:

1. The United States Department of Health Education and Welfare, Office of Education.
2. The Chaplaincy Branches of the Army, Navy and Air Force.
3. Full-time seminary students are eligible to apply for commissions as second lieutenants or ensigns in the chaplaincy branches of the Army, Air Force or Navy, with eight weeks of active duty training optional during the summer vacation. A course in chaplaincy orientation is offered by the department of Christian Ministry and Leadership.
4. The Veterans Administration.
5. The United States Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Support Services

Employment

Students interested in on-campus employment can look for job openings using Handshake (https://biola.joinhandshake.com/). Further questions should be directed to the University student employment office (Metzger Hall, upper level).

Students may also secure off-campus employment in a wide variety of occupations. Local offices of the State of California Department of Employment can be very helpful in the location of these job openings.

Campus Dining

Biola proudly operates seven dining facilities, each with a chef-curated menu. Whether you want to sit-down for a made-from-scratch meal, grab a quick bite between classes, or re-fuel with coffee, there’s a conveniently located café ready to serve you. All dining locations accept cash or credit card, but as a Biola Student, you are eligible for discounts every time you dine if you pay with your Biola ID card. When you use the Student Dollar tender on your ID card, you’ll receive 10% off each dining purchase. Student Dollars are also accepted tender at other frequently-used locations including the Biola Store and public-use printers & copiers throughout campus.

Graduate Students planning to dine on campus regularly should consider one of our popular voluntary meal plans. Meal plans come with a predetermined amount of meals in the main dining facility plus dining flex dollars that can be used at any of the eight campus eateries at your discretion.

For more information go to biola.edu/dining-services (https://www.biola.edu/dining-services/). Dining Services can be reached by e-mail at dining.services@biola.edu or by phone at 562-903-4872.

Single Graduate Student Housing

Biola provides two types of housing for full-time single graduate students.

Furnished housing is provided in houses owned by the University, and in apartment units leased by Biola from local complexes within walking distance of campus. These houses and two-bedroom apartments are furnished with major kitchen appliances (refrigerator and stove/oven), residence-hall style bedroom furniture, couch and dinette set. Residents pay a per person monthly rate based on the number of occupants per bedroom. The rate includes utilities except for telephone or internet service. No pets are allowed in Graduate Student Housing.

Married Housing

Biola University owns three apartment complexes with one and two-bedroom apartments for married graduate couples. The apartments are located on Rosecrans Avenue, within walking distance of campus. These apartments are unfurnished; stove/ovens and refrigerators are provided. Rent is paid monthly; residents arrange and pay for their own utilities, internet, and telephone service. For married couples to qualify, at least one spouse must be enrolled full time in a Biola University graduate program. No pets allowed in Married Housing.

Talbot Support Ministries

Director: Mick Boersma, Ph.D.

Talbot Support Ministries (TSM) is a service-oriented ministry directed toward recent Talbot alumni who are primarily focused on pastoral or missions careers. This program, led by the director and his wife, is distinguished by commitment to the following distinctives:

- Relationship: established with incoming students, continued through seminary studies and the first five to seven years of professional ministry.
- Credibility: the program director and his wife have extensive experience in ministry and work to keep current on changes and issues affecting Talbot graduates.
- Safety: an environment is provided in which alumni are assured of confidentiality and freedom to share their lives openly.
- Purposefulness: TSM initiates and maintains contact with alumni through newsletters, personal notes, phone calls, e-mail and on-site visits when possible.
- Resources: TSM seeks to provide helpful resources such as networking with other graduates, contact with placement opportunities and professional and personal counsel.

Admission Requirements

Correspondence concerning admission should be addressed to the Office of Graduate Admissions, which will supply the proper forms. When these application forms and all transcripts of previous academic training have been filed, accompanied by the application fee, an admissions decision will be made. Official notification will be sent by mail to the applicant. The application deadline for the Fall is July 1 and for the Spring is November 1. Applications may be submitted after these deadlines, but will be considered only if space is available and time allows. Late applications may be postponed to later terms.

Talbot School of Theology desires only qualified students and personnel who are committed to Jesus Christ. However, in the admission of students, the hiring of employees or the operation of any of its programs and activities, Talbot does not discriminate on the basis of the applicant’s race, color, sex, handicap or national or ethnic origin.

Entrance requirements for each program are listed on the page describing that program under the heading, Admission Requirements.

Official documents presented for admission or evaluation become part of the student's academic file and normally cannot be returned or copied for distribution.

Admission of International Students

To succeed academically, students for whom English is not a primary language must show proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, and understanding academic English. Biola's general language requirement for graduate programs is TOEFL (iBT) 90+ (subscores 22+) and IELTS 7.

For more details on how, when, and where to take language tests, visit online:

- TOEFL (iBT) (http://www.ets.org/toefl/)
- IELTS (https://www.ielts.org/)

Language tests are administered only at specific times, so candidates for admission should inquire about testing dates well in advance of the date of anticipated school term in the US.

Language Requirements for Specific Programs

TALBOT TH.M., D.MIN, ED.D, PH.D. (SEE INDIVIDUAL PROGRAMS FOR DETAILS)

- TOEFL: 100 iBT or IELTS 7.5

TALBOT M.DIV. AND M.A. SPIRITUAL FORMATION AND SOUL CARE

- TOEFL: 100 iBT or IELTS 7.5

TALBOT M.DIV. (CHARLES FEINBERG CENTER: MESSIANIC JEWISH STUDIES CONCENTRATION ONLY)

- TOEFL: 100 iBT or IELTS 7.5

For students who do not meet minimal TOEFL/IELTS requirements: Biola's English Language (EL) program provides English language-only courses that can prepare students for Talbot's graduate programs. Please refer to the Admission of English Language Learners (p. 25) section of the catalog for more information.

Arranged Courses

Arranged Courses are required courses or electives listed in the Catalog, but in which a student is unable to enroll due to a scheduling conflict. Arrangements may be made with a faculty member who agrees to guide the student in studying course content and fulfilling requirements individually apart from the scheduled class meeting. An Arranged Course form is used for adding this type of course to a student's schedule and is obtainable in the Office of the Registrar.
Independent Studies

Independent Studies are an integral part of the Biola University experience. An Independent Study is a course which does not appear in the Catalog, is initiated by the student, and the student then works independently toward the goals and objectives outlined by the professor on an Arranged Course form. Students who are in good standing and not on probation are eligible to enroll in an Independent Study.

A maximum of 6 credits may be taken by a student in independent study and/or arranged coursework during the student's degree program.

Theological Studies Digital Courses

These digital courses offer lectures in an MP3 format by outstanding biblical scholars. They are available as electives or prerequisites for degree-seeking Talbot students. Students desiring to purchase these courses for non-credit, personal use may contact the office of the Dean of Faculty. Students who experience irresolvable scheduling problems previous to graduation may use them to meet their requirements. They may not normally be used in lieu of required courses. The use of Theological Studies Digital Courses is limited as follows:

Courses include a syllabus in a PDF format which provides a broad outline of the lectures, review questions and a bibliography. Requirements for credit include textbook assignments, collateral reading, research papers and examinations, all of which are outlined in a programmed syllabus.

Regular tuition fees are charged for each course regardless of the number of credits for which a student is already enrolled and include costs of the MP3 files and programmed syllabus. Students who desire graduate credit for Theological Studies Digital courses must meet the normal requirements for admission to Talbot and register for the courses through my.Account after a signature has been granted by the Dean of Faculty Office.

Note: A maximum of 10 credits may be taken by a student in a combination of independent study, arranged courses, and Theological Studies Digital Courses to be counted toward a student's program.

Thesis

A student who is writing a thesis must register in a thesis class each semester until the thesis is completed.

Transfer of Credits

For a student who earned a master's degree at a previous accredited school, up to 50% of the credits of coursework with similar content may be shared and transferred toward another Master of Arts or Master of Divinity Talbot degree. All transferred coursework must be appropriate for the degree. At least 50% of the master's degree requirements must be taken at Talbot.

For a student who did not complete a master's level degree at the previous school, all appropriate comparable course credits may be transferred; however a minimum of 24 credits of the Master of Arts or Master of Divinity degree requirement must be completed at Talbot.

Transfer credit for acceptable work done in other graduate schools will be allowed for courses which are parallel to those required in the curriculum. Applications received by May 1st will be provided with transfer credit decisions at the point of acceptance. Transfer credit for late applications will be accomplished during the Fall semester. Graduate courses with grades of 'C' or above (a 'C-' is not transferable) at accredited institutions are accepted for transfer.

Multiple Degrees

The programs in Talbot School of Theology are accredited by the Association of Theological Schools (ATS). ATS requires a minimum of 50% of coursework in the second Master of Arts or Master of Divinity degree program be taken in residency (i.e., 50% cannot be shared with any other completed master's level program).

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing is available for Master's level degree programs. Advanced standing should normally be processed and granted prior to the student beginning the first semester of enrollment to confirm the admissions offer, transfer credit and remaining degree requirements.

Advanced Standing for Professional Master's Degrees

(Master of Divinity, Master of Arts in Christian Education, Master of Arts in Christian Ministry and Leadership, and Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care).

Accepted/admitted applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies (or psychology for the Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care) may request review for Advanced Standing credit based on their collegiate work. Granting advanced standing credit requires faculty approval based on parallel course content.

Proof of competency in the subject area or evidence of how the course content has been used since taking the course is required. An evaluation will be made by the faculty and credits processed through the Office of the Registrar. To be considered, the student must have earned at least a 'B' grade in the coursework being evaluated.

The maximum number of credits that may be received is:

- Master of Divinity: 20 credits
- Master of Arts in Christian Education: 12 credits
- Christian Ministry and Leadership: 12 credits
- Spiritual Formation and Soul Care: 12 credits

Advanced Standing for Academic Master's Degrees

Eligible students coming from accredited Bible colleges or Christian liberal arts colleges may request exemption from certain required courses. Normally, advanced standing requires two undergraduate courses, in the same discipline, to reduce one graduate course (6 credits undergraduate work for 3 credits of graduate work) for a limited amount of graduate credit. To qualify for advanced standing, the student must have earned a 'B' grade in eligible coursework. Once the student has been accepted into the degree program, an evaluation, following guidelines established by the faculty, will be made by the Office of the Registrar.

Depending on undergraduate coursework as it relates to the program specialization, the maximum number of credits that may be reduced is 21 credits for these M.A. specializations: Bible Exposition, Christian...

Graduation Information

Graduation Check

Graduate students must make an appointment with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar to declare their intent to graduate. This should be done one year prior to graduation. Students declaring this intention late will be charged a late graduate graduation check fee of $100. This graduation check will be considered late after the last day of the Add period during the semester of a student’s intended graduation.

Doctoral students must meet with their department advisor prior to contacting a Graduate Graduation Counselor.

Graduation with Honors

Those graduating with a grade point average of 3.50 or higher are elected to membership in Kappa Tau Epsilon, the Talbot scholastic honor society. This honor is noted on the permanent record card.

For graduation honors, students completing their program with a 3.50 GPA are graduated with Honors. Students with a 3.70 GPA are graduated with High Honors. Students with a 3.90 GPA are graduated with Highest Honors. GPA standards for honors must be met with no rounding of numbers.

Talbot Graduate Student Awards

The awards that follow are presented annually to qualified students on the basis of the criteria indicated:

- The Alumni Award – Given by Alumni Relations to a continuing student who has demonstrated excellence and commitment in their seminary studies.
- The Audrey Talbot Award in Bible Exposition – To the student in the seminary who does the best work for the year in the Department of Bible Exposition.

Additional educational options/programs offered through Talbot are highlighted below:

Talbot After Hours

Late afternoon, evening and Saturday classes are regularly offered at the La Mirada campus. This arrangement provides an opportunity to take several courses each semester, when other responsibilities prevent enrollment as a full-time student. Courses offered are identical in content to those provided in the daytime schedule and are applicable toward the degree programs of the seminary.

Holy Land Studies

Talbot School of Theology will transfer up to 12 credits of elective credit for graduate-level courses taken at Jerusalem University College, Jerusalem, Israel. Study tours for credit are also offered.

Special Programs: Credit

Cru - Campus Crusade for Christ

Talbot's partnership with Cru (the United States ministry of campus Crusade for Christ) affords convenient and discounted theological training options for Cru staff members. As one of five partner theological institutions with Cru's Institute of Biblical Studies (IBS), Talbot offers graduate-level credit for selected IBS courses at discounted tuition rates to qualified Cru staff members enrolled in Talbot courses.

IBS offers courses to the Cru community throughout the year, in various locations (Orlando, FL; Fort Collins, CO; Los Angeles, CA), and in a modular format. Qualified participants can apply to receive graduate level credit at Talbot for these courses (up to 12 credits may be granted for approved IBS courses). Students must submit a Special/Visiting Student Application and meet the minimum criteria to qualify. In addition to Cru's IBS tuition, students must pay $75 per unit for IBS course work that is taken for Talbot graduate level credit.

Qualified Cru staff members wishing to pursue a Talbot degree may apply up to 12 IBS credits toward the degree. However, the IBS credits credited toward a Talbot degree may not exceed 25% of the total number of credits needed to complete the Talbot degree. The credits will be counted toward the student’s Talbot degree upon full acceptance into a Talbot degree program. Students wishing to enroll in a degree program at Talbot must submit a full application and meet the admissions criteria for that program (see degree specific admissions criteria).

Further, Talbot’s partnership with Cru affords qualified full time Cru staff members a tuition discount of 35% on qualified Talbot courses. Talbot courses are likewise offered in a number of formats (classroom, online, hybrid, modular), throughout the year, to help accommodate the schedules and educational needs of Cru members.

Talbot Bible Lands: Israel

Faculty Administrator: Kenneth Way, Ph.D.

The Talbot Bible Lands study tour is focused on the land of Israel which will be occasionally offered during the Summer session. See the faculty administrator for details about specific dates, syllabus and cost.

This study tour includes a survey of the physical features of the land of the Bible, stressing the correlation between geography, archaeology and biblical history. Preparatory map study and class previews provide the background prior to each trip in the field. Regions studied and visited include Jerusalem, Judean hill country, Benjamin/Samaria, Shephelah, Negev/Wilderness, Dead Sea region, Sharon plain, Jezreel Valley, Lower/Upper Galilee, Golan, and the Sea of Galilee.

Students will be granted 3 graduate credits for one of the following courses: TTBE 722 Directed Research: Physical and Historical Geography of Israel or TTNT 791 New Testament Seminar: Physical and Historical Geography of Israel or TTOT 791 Old Testament Seminar: Physical and Historical Geography of Israel.

Talbot - Charles L. Feinberg Center for Messianic Jewish Studies

Director: Gregory Hagg, Ph.D.

The Charles L. Feinberg Center for Messianic Jewish Studies offers a Master of Divinity in Messianic Jewish Studies in partnership between Chosen People Ministries and Talbot School of Theology. The program is designed to train men and women called to Jewish ministry as outreach workers, congregational leaders, or educators. Emphasis is on the study of biblical languages, Hebrew and Greek exegesis, and rabbinic texts. In addition, students gain a deeper understanding of Jewish religion, culture, sociology, and history, as well as spiritual formation, apologetics, and pastoral care and counseling.

Coursework is completed during the Fall and Spring semesters in New York City (the center of Jewish culture in America). Summer courses are held at Talbot’s main campus in Southern California. A Certificate Program in Messianic Jewish Studies is also offered in New York.

For additional information, please review the M.Div. in Messianic Jewish Studies section in this catalog, or go to the Talbot School of Theology (http://www.talbot.edu/) website.

Talbot - Kyiv Extension

Director: Mark Saucy, Ph.D.

Talbot School of Theology in cooperation with Kyiv Theological Seminary (KTS), Kyiv, Ukraine offers a Master of Arts degree with a specialization in Biblical and Theological Studies in the Eurasian Context. The vision of the program is to serve the needs of Eastern European and Russian evangelical churches for well-trained leadership in church planting and existing churches by providing discerning, evangelical biblical and theological scholarship and instruction. The extension assists churches, mission agencies, and other evangelical organizations in Eastern Europe, Europe, and Eurasia in training and retaining ministry leaders in the region by offering an accredited theological education. The degree program is offered on the Kyiv Theological Seminary campus in Kyiv, Ukraine. Faculty from KTS, Talbot, and other institutions in Europe and America provide a high level of theological education in an extension program that is fully accredited by The Association of Theological Schools.

For additional information, contact Dr. Mark Saucy or go to the Talbot School of Theology (http://www.talbot.edu/) website.
Special Programs: Non-Credit

Talbot Wives Fellowship

Talbot Wives Fellowship provides an opportunity for wives of Talbot students to deepen their relationship with God, establish meaningful friendships, and prepare to share ministry alongside their husbands, and connect to their husband’s experience at Talbot. The Tuesday evening meetings include participation in prayer groups led by faculty wives, instruction in practical ministry skills, and the exploration of spiritual truths through the insightful teaching of Talbot faculty and guest speakers. Husbands are occasionally included in meetings or social gatherings, and all events are designed to support the families and community of Talbot.

Missions and Intercultural Studies for Talbot (p. 691)

Bible, Theology, and Ministry, B.A.

Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Arts in Bible, Theology, and Ministry is to provide the student with a foundational knowledge of the history, literature, and theology of the Old and New Testaments, of systematic and historical theology, and of approaches to ministry — equipping men and women in mind and character to impact the world for the Lord Jesus Christ via entry-level professional ministries in church and parachurch agencies and providing a foundation for seminary or other graduate education.

Degree Program

A Bachelor of Arts in Bible, Theology, and Ministry is offered upon the completion of the University baccalaureate and major requirements. Obtaining a degree with this major requires completion of 12 credits of Bible, Theology, and Ministry (BTM) core classes and the selection and completion of a specific concentration made up of an additional 30 - 42 credits. Some of the concentrations require that 12 credits of a biblical language (either Greek or Hebrew) be completed as part of the student’s Core Curriculum component; the other concentrations hold to the University’s usual B.A. requirement of 4 - 8 credits of a modern foreign language.

The concentrations offered in the Bible, Theology, and Ministry, B.A. are listed below, with further details in the Requirements section.

- Bible, Theology, and Biblical Languages
- Bible and Theology
- Christian Ministries
- Preaching and Pastoral Ministry

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Arts in Bible, Theology, and Ministry, students will be able to:

1. Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments, including the ancient world contexts of the Bible. Apply the biblical teaching for Christian faith and practice, and for biblical-theological research, through advanced principles of sound interpretation (ULO 1).
2. Describe a personal relationship with God in a maturing Christian faith and practice, and demonstrate leadership ability by examining additional theological issues as they relate to doctrine, life, and ministry (ULO 2 and 3).

Each concentration of the Bible, Theology, and Ministry major has another two (2) concentration learning outcomes (CLOs) as follows:

Concentration Learning Outcomes - Bible, Theology, and Biblical Languages

1. Analyze the biblical text in original language study (either Greek or Hebrew) using biblical and theological research tools with discernment of quality sources for valuable written reports or sermons (ULO 1 and 3).
2. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity from an evangelical perspective, including their biblical basis and canonical progression, historical development, diverse perspectives, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).

Concentration Learning Outcomes – Bible and Theology

1. Demonstrate skills in ministry leadership functions (e.g. teaching, evangelism/discipleship, counseling and administration skills (ULO 3).
2. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity from an evangelical perspective, including their biblical basis and canonical progression, historical development, diverse perspectives, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).

Concentration Learning Outcomes – Christian Ministries
1. Demonstrate skills in ministry leadership functions (e.g. teaching, evangelism/discipleship, counseling and administration skills) (ULO 3).
2. Appraise the biblical, philosophical, and theological foundations of ministries within churches and parachurch organizations (ULO 1).

Concentration Learning Outcomes – Preaching and Pastoral Ministries
1. Analyze the biblical text in original language study (either Greek or Hebrew) using biblical and theological research tools with discernment of quality sources for valuable written reports or sermons (ULO 1 and 3).
2. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity from an evangelical perspective, including their biblical basis and canonical progression, historical development, diverse perspectives, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Retreat
Each year during the Fall Semester, the Biblical and Theological Studies division sponsors a retreat for the students of the Bible, Theology, and Ministry major in all its concentrations for the purpose of facilitating program-wide community building, communication, spiritual formation, team building, and academic advising. There is a non-refundable $150 fee assessed at the beginning of each academic year for this event. All students are expected to attend this event. Any student seeking an exception should contact the department.

Concentration Requirements

Select a concentration detailed below

Total Credits 30-42

1. BBST 365 is a course with a variety of different sections, but students in the Bible, Theology, and Ministry major (all concentrations) are to take the specific ‘Gospel, Kingdom, and Culture’ section.
2. BBST 465 may be taken with different content (offered in partnerships with various departments) for a maximum of 6 credits counted toward graduation. Those in the ‘Christian Ministries’ concentration are required to take the specific ‘Christian Ministries’ section.
3. BBST 312 may be taken as the Core Curriculum BBST 300/400 Bible Elective.
Concentrations

Bible, Theology, and Biblical Languages

Elective Courses
Select 12 credits of 300/400-level Biblical and Theological Studies (BBST) electives.

| BBST 490 | Practicum                     | 3       |

Total Credits: 30

In addition to the major’s core requirements (12), concentration requirements (30), and the Core Curriculum requirements (will vary, but includes the bulk of the Bible Minor and 12 credits of a biblical language), students with this concentration are encouraged to select a specialization or minor outside the department and/or sufficient electives to complete the minimum of 120 credits for the degree.

Bible and Theology
Equipping students to witness to the truth of God’s Word and train disciples (see 2 Tim. 3:16-17).

Specialization Options

Diversified
This option is for those who wish to design a specialization unique to their interests. Students interested in areas such as ministry-based camping, counseling, music and worship arts, intercultural ministry, media ministry, and the like will find an opportunity to integrate ministry training with those particular fields of study.

Preaching and Pastoral Ministry

Equipping students for leadership and preaching in church or parachurch settings (see 2 Tim. 2:15).

This concentration is also designed to prepare students to pursue the accelerated B.A. + M.A. in Preaching and Pastoral Ministry. In addition to the learning objectives of the B.A. in Bible, Theology, and Ministry, this concentration aims to produce graduates who:

- are developing in spiritual and emotional self-awareness and health;
- can prepare and present sermons demonstrating biblical accuracy, oral clarity, and contemporary relevance;
- understand the leadership skills needed to guide Christian communities in the tasks of the church: making and growing disciples, worshiping, praying, and impacting the broader community.

Upon successful completion of the Preaching and Pastoral Ministry concentration, students may enter into the Preaching and Pastoral Ministry specialization in the M.A. in Christian Ministry and Leadership (M.A.C.M.L.), and complete it in an accelerated format. The Preaching and Pastoral Ministry concentration is a specialized concentration that allows students to begin taking graduate courses in the senior year, and thus complete a B.A. and an M.A. faster.

Admission into Biola University does not guarantee admission into the Preaching and Pastoral Ministry Concentration of the B.A. in Bible, Theology, and Ministry. Entry into this concentration requires the student to do the following:

1. Submit an application to the undergraduate division of Biblical and Theological Studies at the end of the freshman year or the beginning of the sophomore year.
2. Earn an overall GPA of 3.0, and grades of ‘B’ or higher in any coursework taken so far that will be used toward the M.A.C.M.L.: BBST 103, BBST 165, BBST 209, BBST 210, BBST 251, BBST 312, BBST 354, BBST 413; two BBST 300/400 electives; BLGR 101, BLGR 102, BLGR 201, BLGR 202. Failure to earn a ‘B’ or higher in one of these courses will result in the student not receiving credit towards their entry into the M.A.C.M.L.
3. Be involved in some form of Christian service demonstrating a sense of call or desire to pursue ministry.

The senior year of this concentration includes both graduate and undergraduate courses. In order to begin the senior year portion of the concentration, students must complete the following:

1. Maintain adequate involvement in the program’s co-curricular mentoring and spiritual formation activities during the sophomore and junior year.
2. Continue involvement in Christian service during the sophomore and junior year.
3. Earn grades of ‘B’ or higher in all coursework that will be used toward the M.A.C.M.L.: BBST 103, BBST 165, BBST 209, BBST 210, BBST 251, BBST 312, BBST 354, BBST 413; two BBST 300/400 electives; BLGR 101, BLGR 102, BLGR 201, BLGR 202. Failure to earn a ‘B’ or higher in one of these courses will result in the student not receiving credit for that course upon entry into the M.A.C.M.L.
4. Apply and be admitted to Talbot’s M.A. in Christian Ministry and Leadership with a specialization in Preaching and Pastoral Ministry program. One of the required letters of recommendation must come from the director of the Preaching and Pastoral Ministry program.

Students who are not admitted into the senior year portion of the B.A. PPM may return to the Bible, Theology, and Biblical Languages concentration in the B.A. in Bible, Theology, and Ministry program, where no credits will be lost or wasted.

For more information on the graduate curriculum, see the M.A. in Christian Ministry and Leadership, Preaching and Pastoral Ministry specialization (http://catalog.biola.edu/tst/TAPP-ma/).

1 BBST 490 must be taken twice for 1 credit each; once in the fall of the student’s first year in the program concentration, and again in the fall of the second year of the program concentration.

With the major’s core requirements (12), concentration requirements (42), plus the Core Curriculum requirements (will vary, but includes the bulk of the Bible Minor and 12 credits of a biblical language), students with this concentration will earn a minimum of 123 credits for the degree.

Course Sequence

NOTE: The course sequence table is designed by the major department and is one way that the classes will work out properly in sequence for your major. However, there are alternative or flexible ways to rotate some of the classes within the same year/level and sometimes between year levels. Please contact your major department advisor to discuss flexible alternatives in scheduling the sequence of your classes.

Taking coursework during the summer session may also be an option to accelerate your degree path.

See Core Curriculum Program section (p. 40) for a list of approved Core Curriculum courses.

Degree Program

The Bachelors of Science in Biblical Ministries is a program aimed at enabling adult learners to earn a bachelor’s degree and providing them with training for ministry in their local contexts. Intended for adults who already possess ministry experience and some college credits, this 100% online program provides a faster time to completion by utilizing Biola’s trimester system, thus enabling students to take courses year-round and allowing them to complete their degrees in as little as 24 months (assuming all of their general education requirements are completed before entering the program). The program combines excellent education in biblical and theological studies as well as training in practical ministry skills with professors from Biola’s Talbot School of Theology.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Science in Biblical Ministries, students will be able to:

1. Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments, including the ancient world contexts of the Bible. Apply the biblical teaching for Christian faith and practice (ULO 1, 2).
2. Appraise the biblical, philosophical, and theological foundations of ministries within churches and parachurch organizations (ULO 1).
3. Demonstrate skills in ministry leadership functions (e.g. teaching, evangelism/discipleship, counseling and administration skills) (ULO 3).
4. Describe a personal relationship with God in a maturing Christian faith and practice, and demonstrate leadership ability by examining additional theological issues as they relate to doctrine, life and ministry (ULOs 2, 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

1. Must be a believer in the Christian faith (the applicant’s statement of faith will be articulated in the personal essay section of the application).
2. Must have at least a 2.5 cumulative college GPA.
3. Must have graduated from high school or earned an equivalent degree (GED).
4. Preference will be given to students with at least three years’ work experience.
5. Students with fewer than 15 semester credits post high school must apply as a transfer students and meet the Admissions requirements for first time college students. In addition, students are required to:
   a. Submit SAT/ACT scores, or
   b. If no test scores, the Post Traditional Test-Optional Rubric process will be used.

Biblical Ministries, B.S.

Mission

The B.S. in Biblical Ministries exists to provide adult learners with training in Biblical interpretation, theological understanding, and practical ministry skills for effective service in their local contexts.

Biblical and Theological Studies Minor

Mission

The mission of Biola's Biblical and Theological Studies Minor is to teach Christian undergraduate students to view all of God’s world through the perspective of God’s Word, the Bible. This biblical worldview involves understanding and applying the Bible as the foundation of the Christian faith, values, and virtues — both historically and presently. The goal is that students will lead lives of integrity and will engage the world of ideas, their vocations, their local church communities, and their society as responsible citizens, being faithful stewards of God’s gifts to them and, empowered by His Spirit, carrying out Christ’s commission to make disciples of all nations.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Biblical and Theological Studies Minor, students will be able to:

1. BIBLE: Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments, and apply the biblical teaching for Christian faith and practice through reliable and faithful methods of interpretation (ULO 1).
2. THEOLOGY: Explain the major doctrines of Christianity from an evangelical perspective, including their biblical basis and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
3. INTEGRATION: Examine their academic disciplines through critical evaluation of the knowledge, skills, and values of the discipline according to Christian faith and practice (i.e., a biblical worldview) (ULO 2 and 3).
4. SPIRITUAL FORMATION: Describe a personal relationship with God in a maturing Christian faith and practice, and demonstrate the ability to serve the church and the world for Jesus Christ’s purposes of redemption (ULO 2 and 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Curriculum Requirements

Students who complete the 30-credit Core Curriculum Bible Requirements at Biola University qualify for a minor in Bible. This minor is displayed on the transcript if the student declares the minor on the graduation petition. There is a residency requirement and an upper-division requirement for receipt of the Bible minor. Twelve credits must be upper-division and at least 15 credits must be completed in residency (including at least 6 of the required 12 upper-division credits). Transfer credit, credit for prior learning, and credit by examination may not be used to fulfill the minimum residency requirement.

Christian Ministries Minor

Mission

The Christian Ministries minor exists to provide essential equipping in ministry fundamentals to students who desire serve the Lord in a volunteer or part-time vocational capacity in the local church, parachurch organizations, or other specialized ministry opportunities. It provides training on learning, leadership, formation, and other specialized areas of Christian Ministry to prepare learners for impact in roles that are not full-time vocational positions or that do not require the full breadth of training provided by the Christian Ministries degree.

Curriculum Requirements

A Christian Ministries minor requires the completion of 18 credits.

Christian Education, M.A.C.E.

The M.A.C.E. Program is in teach out phase. As of Fall 2019 no new or re-admit students are being accepted into the M.A.C.E. Program.

Mission

The mission of the M.A.C.E. program is to develop and equip experienced church and parachurch servant-leaders in mind, character, and ability to serve God and further His kingdom through biblically-based educational ministries, according to a particular area of specialization.

The Master of Arts in Christian Education is offered with the following specializations:

- Adult/Family Ministry (p. 545)
- Children's Ministry (p. 547)
- Christian Education (p. 549)
- Cross-Cultural Education Ministry (p. 551)
- Executive Leadership (p. 552)
- Youth Ministry (p. 554)

Christian Education, M.A.C.E. (Adult/ Family Ministry)

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Arts in Christian Education, students will be able to:

1. Critically assess the biblical, philosophical, and theological foundation of ministries within churches and parachurch organizations (ULO 1).
2. Identify and interpret the process of holistic spiritual development and learning for leadership, teaching, and interpersonal/intercultural relationships (ULO 1).
3. Integrate biblical perspectives and values toward God and self into a values complex in order to articulate specific practices for a vital personal life (ULO 2).
4. Demonstrate skills in leadership administration (ULO 3).
5. Demonstrate skills in ministry functions (including: evangelism, discipleship, teaching, counseling and pastoral skills) (ULO 3).
Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
The M.A.C.E. Program is in teach out phase. As of Fall 2019 no new or re-admit students are being accepted into the M.A.C.E. Program.

Ministry Preparation
In light of increasing demands for persons trained in Christian education, the program is designed to prepare individuals to serve competently in a growing number of functional roles. Along with core classes, a variety of courses to meet students’ individualized needs and goals are offered in five areas of concentration: Children’s Ministry, Youth Ministry, Adult and Family Ministry, Executive Leadership and Cross-Cultural Educational Ministry.

Admission Requirements
All applicants must hold the Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Those accepted who do not meet this latter requirement will be placed on probation. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges, if accepted, will be granted provisional acceptance, though exceptions may be made when the GPA is higher than 3.0. Both probation and provisional acceptance may be changed to full acceptance if the student earns a GPA of 3.0 or better on the first 8 credits at Talbot. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges may be required to take certain additional liberal arts coursework (not applicable toward the graduate degree), if their undergraduate program did not include these courses.

Academic Probation
A student must have at least a 3.0 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) to graduate. Students are placed on academic probation if their GPA for any semester falls below 3.0, and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative GPA remains below 3.0. Probation students are granted one semester in which to bring their academic work up to the required level (3.0) for continuance in the seminary. A student cannot graduate while on probation.

Graduation Requirements
1. Satisfactorily complete 48 semester credits. See (#5) below.
2. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
3. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
4. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Arts in Christian Education curriculum.
5. Complete the program in no more than five years.
6. Obtain a 3.0 average with no grade below a ‘C-’ in all courses to be counted toward graduation.
7. At least 24 of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed in residency at Biola. Advanced Standing and transfer credit are not considered residency credits.
8. Meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate.

(See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section).

Vocations or positions for which the M.A.C.E. program prepares students are:
- Executive Pastor
- Church Business Administrator
- Pastor of Family Ministries
- Pastor of Adult Ministries
- Minister of Young Adults
- Minister of Youth
- Minister of Children
- Parachurch Staff
- Christian Camp Administration
- Discipleship and Teaching Pastor

Program Requirements
The academic program leading to the Master of Arts degree in Christian Education is structured to include:
1. Biblical and theological foundations
2. Core curriculum consisting of foundational courses and practical skills
3. Vocational specialization

The M.A.C.E. is designed for those with two or more years of full-time ministry experience. Those students admitted with less than this should plan on taking their practicum courses near the beginning of their program to provide them with some degree of ministry experience.

The Standard Program (48 Credits)
The program leading to the Master of Arts degree in Christian Education, with a ministry specialization in children’s ministry, youth ministry, general Christian education, family and adult ministry, executive leadership, or cross-cultural education ministry, includes a minimum of 48 credits of study. The student who is able to enroll in 15 credits each semester can complete the degree in under two years. The student who enrolls for less than 15 credits may be able to access Summer courses and still complete the program in two years, if not, it could require additional time. The program must be completed within five calendar years from the first enrollment. Students should recognize that the course loads shown here for graduate level course work, as for all Talbot programs, may make a full or even part-time work schedule very difficult. Those who are working may plan on completing the program in three to four years.

Advanced Standing
Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Admissions Requirements for details.

Total Credits: 48

1. TTBE 519 Old Testament Survey and TTBE 520 New Testament Survey are prerequisites for this degree. To meet the prerequisite, students must have received a ‘C’ or higher in approved undergraduate or graduate survey courses from a regionally accredited institution. Students who enroll without the prerequisite courses must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 before graduating. Credits from these courses may count as general elective courses, or may add to the length of the program if general elective courses are not available.

2. Students not having qualified ministry experience will have to complete two additional credits of ministry practicum:
TTCE 690 Practicum in Ministry
TTCE 790 Educational Practicum

The Accelerated Program (39 Credits)

This specialization is in a teach out phase; no new students will be admitted at this time. Students in the program must have the following:

1. An undergraduate degree in Christian Education with a 3.0 GPA in courses taken in the major.
2. A total of at least 30 hours in Bible/theology.
3. An overall GPA of 2.6. Those with a GPA of 2.6–2.9 will be placed on probation. See earlier section on admission qualifications.
4. In addition to the above, demonstration of competency in the content of any waived or substituted courses will be assessed at the time of admission.
5. At least two years of vocational experience in educational ministry after completion of undergraduate degree.

For students who qualify for this program, graduation requirements may be satisfied in 39 semester credits.

1. Students selecting the Youth Ministry specialization will take TTCE 543 in place of TTPT 707.
2. Students wishing to complete the accelerated program within one calendar year must take TTSF 501, TTSF 503 and TTSF 505 during the first semester and TTSF 504 and TTSF 506 during the second semester.
Students selecting the Cross-Cultural Specialization take ISCL 520 to complete this requirement.

Christian Education, M.A.C.E. (Cross-Cultural Education Ministry)

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Arts in Christian Education, students will be able to:

1. Critically assess the biblical, philosophical, and theological foundation of ministries within churches and parachurch organizations (ULO 1).
2. Identify and interpret the process of holistic spiritual development and learning for leadership, teaching, and interpersonal/intercultural relationships (ULO 1).
3. Integrate biblical perspectives and values toward God and self into a values complex in order to articulate specific practices for a vital personal life (ULO 2).
4. Demonstrate skills in leadership administration (ULO 3).
5. Demonstrate skills in ministry functions (including: evangelism, discipleship, teaching, counseling and pastoral skills) (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

The M.A.C.E. Program is in teach out phase. As of Fall 2019 no new or re-admit students are being accepted into the M.A.C.E. Program.

Ministry Preparation

In light of increasing demands for persons trained in Christian education, the program is designed to prepare individuals to serve competently in a growing number of functional roles. Along with core classes, a variety of courses to meet students’ individualized needs and goals are offered in five areas of concentration: Children’s Ministry, Youth Ministry, Adult and Family Ministry, Executive Leadership and Cross-Cultural Educational Ministry.

Admission Requirements

All applicants must hold the Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Those accepted who do not meet this latter requirement will be placed on probation. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges, if accepted, will be granted provisional acceptance, though exceptions may be made when the GPA is higher than 3.0. Both probation and provisional acceptance may be changed to full acceptance if the student earns a GPA of 3.0 or better on the first 8 credits at Talbot. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges may be required to take certain additional liberal arts coursework (not applicable toward the graduate degree), if their undergraduate program did not include these courses.

Academic Probation

A student must have at least a 3.0 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) to graduate. Students are placed on academic probation if their GPA for any semester falls below 3.0, and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative GPA remains below 3.0. Probation students are granted one semester in which to bring their academic work up to the required level (3.0) for continuance in the seminary. A student cannot graduate while on probation.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 54 semester credits. See (#5) below.
2. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
3. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
4. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Arts in Christian Education curriculum.
5. Complete the program in no more than five years.
6. Obtain a 3.0 average with no grade below a ‘C-’ in all courses to be counted toward graduation.
7. At least 24 of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed in residency at Biola. Advanced Standing and transfer credit are not considered residency credits.
8. Meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section).

Vocations or positions for which the M.A.C.E. program prepares students are:

- Executive Pastor
- Church Business Administrator
- Pastor of Family Ministries
- Pastor of Adult Ministries
- Minister of Young Adults
- Minister of Youth
- Minister of Children
- Parachurch Staff
- Christian Camp Administration
- Discipleship and Teaching Pastor

Program Requirements

The academic program leading to the Master of Arts degree in Christian Education is structured to include:

1. Biblical and theological foundations
2. Core curriculum consisting of foundational courses and practical skills
3. Vocational specialization

The M.A.C.E. is designed for those with two or more years of full-time ministry experience. Those students admitted with less than this should plan on taking their practicum courses near the beginning of their program to provide them with some degree of ministry experience.

The Standard Program (48 Credits)

The program leading to the Master of Arts degree in Christian Education, with a ministry specialization in children’s ministry, youth ministry, general Christian education, family and adult ministry, executive leadership, or cross-cultural education ministry, includes a minimum of 48 credits of study. The student who is able to enroll in 15 credits each semester can complete the degree in under two years. The student who enrolls for less than 15 credits may be able to access Summer courses and still complete the program in two years, if not, it could require additional time. The program must be completed within five calendar years from the first enrollment. Students should recognize that the course loads shown here for graduate level course work, as for all Talbot programs, may make a full or even part-time work schedule very difficult. Those who are working may plan on completing the program in three to four years.

Advanced Standing

Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Admissions Requirements for details.

Curriculum Requirements

The Cross-Cultural Education Ministry specialization is taken in conjunction with the Cook School of Intercultural Studies. It requires the completion of 6 additional credits, bringing the total required for degree completion to 54 credits (42 credits of Theology, Formation, and Christian Education core in addition to 12 Cross-Cultural credits taken from the Cook School of Intercultural Studies).

Christian Ministry and Leadership, M.A.C.M.L.

Mission

The Master of Arts in Christian Ministry and Leadership is a professional degree designed to prepare and equip church and parachurch leaders in biblical and theological studies, leadership, management, cross-cultural ministry, and ministry skills necessary to serve with excellence in their particular ministry context.

Program Description

The Master of Arts in Christian Ministry and Leadership is offered with the following specializations:

• Christian Ministry and Leadership (p. 556)
• Pastoral Care and Counseling (p. 557)
• Preaching and Pastoral Ministry (p. 558)
Christian Ministry and Leadership, M.A.C.M.L. (Christian Ministry and Leadership)

Overview

Degree Program

The Christian Ministry and Leadership specialization is designed with built-in flexibility so students can take elective courses that are most relevant to their current or future ministry context (e.g., children’s ministry, youth ministry, small groups, parachurch leadership, business administration, etc.).

These integrative endeavors are enhanced by the Institute’s diverse Holy Spirit as they interface human personality and relational dynamics. Substantial emphasis on understanding the dynamics of the Indwelling Spirit in Christ and His body. In order to accomplish this, the program has directors and teachers who will assist others in their journey of growth of Christ. In turn, it trains leaders in soul care to be spiritual mentors, to God and His work as well as understanding of one’s self and others in life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and development of knowledge-base in the Word, spiritual formation and soul care.

The program is shaped around promoting growth in the believer’s inner life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and developed knowledge-base in the Word, spiritual formation and soul care. It focuses specifically on ways to deepen one’s knowledge and openness to God and His work as well as understanding of one’s self and others in order to grow toward conformity of character and inner life in the image of Christ. In turn, it trains leaders in soul care to be spiritual mentors, directors and teachers who will assist others in their journey of growth in Christ and His body. In order to accomplish this, the program has a substantial emphasis on understanding the dynamics of the Indwelling Holy Spirit as they interface human personality and relational dynamics. These integrative endeavors are enhanced by the Institute’s diverse University-wide faculty which draws particularly upon Rosemead School of Psychology and Talbot School of Theology, bringing a wide range of expertise and experience to bear upon the process of human spiritual growth and soul care.

Because the program is experiential, theoretical and mentoring in nature, the Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care is fashioned along the lines of an Apprentice Training Model.

The Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care is intended to help prepare students for professional and lay ministry as associate pastor and teacher of adult ministries, spiritual director, teacher, mentor, leader in discipleship as well as preparation for further education and training in Spiritual Formation to teach in Christian university and seminary contexts.

Learning Outcomes

Spiritual Formation and Soul Care, M.A.S.F.S.C.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care is to train servant leaders to know themselves honestly and openly before God and one another in Truth, to cultivate intimacy with, growth in and obedience to Christ and to help mend souls by the loving power of the Spirit and Word with believers of various cultural backgrounds.

Program Description

The Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care is designed as a personal growth, academic and professional program for specialized ministry. It is an intensive, integrative program within the Institute for Spiritual Formation at Talbot School of Theology, developed to equip men and women for the ministry of discipleship, spiritual direction, formation and soul care in the local church and for further academic training in Spiritual Formation.

The program is shaped around promoting growth in the believer’s inner life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and developed knowledge-base in the Word, spiritual formation and soul care. It focuses specifically on ways to deepen one’s knowledge and openness to God and His work as well as understanding of one’s self and others in order to grow toward conformity of character and inner life in the image of Christ. In turn, it trains leaders in soul care to be spiritual mentors, directors and teachers who will assist others in their journey of growth in Christ and His body. In order to accomplish this, the program has a substantial emphasis on understanding the dynamics of the Indwelling Holy Spirit as they interface human personality and relational dynamics. These integrative endeavors are enhanced by the Institute’s diverse Holy Spirit as they interface human personality and relational dynamics. Substantial emphasis on understanding the dynamics of the Indwelling Spirit in Christ and His body. In order to accomplish this, the program has directors and teachers who will assist others in their journey of growth of Christ. In turn, it trains leaders in soul care to be spiritual mentors, to God and His work as well as understanding of one’s self and others in life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and development of knowledge-base in the Word, spiritual formation and soul care.

Master of Divinity

Director: Gary Manning, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Divinity degree program is to equip servant leaders for making disciples worldwide by developing in them an accurate knowledge of the Word of God, the skills necessary to communicate the Gospel effectively, and character worthy of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ for the leading of the church.

The Master of Divinity is offered with the following specializations:

- Christian Education (p. 563)
- Evangelism and Discipleship (p. 565)
- Messianic Jewish Studies (p. 567)
- Missions and Intercultural Studies (p. 569)
- Pastoral and General Ministries (p. 572)
- Pastoral Care and Counseling (p. 574)
- Spiritual Formation (p. 576)

Program Description

The Master of Divinity curriculum at Talbot School of Theology is designed to foster the purpose for which the seminary was established — education for the propagation of the faith. This purpose entails an accurate knowledge of the Word of God — the source of faith and the effective means of its communication. The course of study is therefore designed around these two basic foci.

Believing firmly that God in love and grace has provided an answer for the needs of the world in Jesus Christ, and that this Jesus is the Christ of the Scriptures, Talbot emphasizes a knowledge of the content of the Word of God. In order that the Word may be known and expounded accurately and authoritatively, matters of biblical background, including the languages of the Old and New Testaments, are studied. Sound principles of literary interpretation are also explored as a basis for the interpretation of the Scriptures. On the basis of such interpretation there comes systematic study so as to organize various parts of the Word into theological categories.

Since the faith of today does not stand alone but is rooted in past centuries during which God has preserved and instructed His people, cognizance of this heritage is taken in a study of the history of the Church and its doctrine. Previous interaction between faith and the world provides a basis for understanding modern times.
It is the seminary’s aim that this knowledge of the faith first grip the life of the student and then motivate the student to share it with the world. In accord with this latter aim instruction is given in vital areas of ministry and communication. From the preparation and delivery of sermons to individual involvement in counseling, the curriculum is designed to provide instruction that will facilitate propagation of the faith in the various fields of God’s call. Opportunity is also given for the development of ministry skills as principles are applied in the context of ministry in the Church.

With recognition that the Great Commission commands the Church to go into the world to minister to all peoples, the cross-currents of modern thought are considered relevant to the preparation of God’s minister. Throughout the course of instruction, interaction is provided with various perspectives for the purpose of inculcating their contributions and understanding their divergences. All the while they are measured by the pattern of the Word.

Talbot’s program focuses on the entire person and is meant to contribute to personal spiritual formation as well as cognitive awareness and the development of ministry skills. The curriculum is structured to develop sustainable habits that can be continued in life and ministry after graduation. The various components of the curriculum are designed to complement one another and to reinforce basic principles to which students have been exposed in other parts of their seminary program. A goal of the program is to equip students to think biblically and to respond appropriately to the variety of challenges of life and ministry.

Master of Divinity (Christian Education)

(Note: The Christian Education specialization is being phased out. As of fall 2019 no new or re-admit students are being accepted into this specialization).

Christian Education Specialization
Mission
Provides preparation for a wide variety of local church ministries related to teaching and equipping believers and church attendees of all ages including curriculum development, volunteer training, retreats, small groups, life stage and gender ministries, and the like.

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Master of Divinity, students will be able to:

1. Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments and the broad historical and cultural background information relevant to the study of the Old and New Testaments (ULO 1).
2. Exegete and apply a biblical text properly through application of historical-grammatical hermeneutics (ULO 3).
3. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity, including their biblical basis, historical development, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
4. a. Explain the basic elements of Spiritual Theology, namely, the nature, process, and practices of spiritual growth (ULO 1).
   b. Demonstrate how knowledge of self integrates with knowledge of God in one’s own life (ULO 2).
   c. Demonstrate relational skills that develop community (ULO 3).
   d. Articulate how the biblical teaching on vocation shapes one’s own understanding of vocation and gainful employment (ULO 1, 2, 3).
5. Prepare and present sermons demonstrating biblical accuracy, oral clarity and contemporary relevance (ULO 3).
6. Students will demonstrate ministry skills in areas such as evangelism, administration, teaching, counseling, and worship (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Christian Education Specialization Learning Outcomes
As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Understand and value the administrative and leadership dimensions of ministry based on solid biblical and theological foundations and develop skill in designing, implementing, and assessing educational ministry.
2. Gain a broad understanding of and appreciation for the history of educational ministry and the theological and philosophical underpinnings that have influenced its theory and practice, and evaluate current educational practice in light of these understandings.
3. Engage in a supervised educational ministry experience leading to growth in personal maturity and character, developing skill in ministry leadership, and the understanding necessary to integrate and apply ministry theory.
4. Actively pursue and progress in a life-long process of personal spiritual development by nurturing a relationship with God, connecting in Christian community, growing in moral integrity, and engaging in vocational service in light of giftedness.

Requirements
Admission Requirements
All applicants must hold a Bachelor of Arts degree, or its academic equivalent, with a 2.6 (on a 4.0 scale) grade point average. Those not meeting this latter requirement, if accepted, will be placed on probation. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges, if accepted, will be granted provisional acceptance, though exceptions may be made when the grade point average is 3.0 or higher. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges may be required to take additional liberal arts course work (not applicable toward the graduate degree) if their undergraduate program did not include these courses.

Specialization Requirements
Changes of specialization may be authorized under certain circumstances prior to the completion of 40 credits, but are discouraged after that point.

Advanced Standing
Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details.
Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 79 semester credits.
2. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Divinity curriculum.
3. Complete the requirements in the specialization below, including co-curricular requirements.
4. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
5. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
6. At least 50% of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed at this seminary, calculated prior to applying any advanced standing or transfer credit.
7. The M.Div. program can be completed in three years (as outlined below). For those who need to extend the program, a four-year curriculum for the Master of Divinity in Pastoral and General Ministries specialization is available on the Office of the Registrar’s website.
8. Must have a 2.5 cumulative GPA with no grade below a 'D-'.
9. Meet with Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Registrar section.)

1 TTBE 519 Old Testament Survey and TTBE 520 New Testament Survey are prerequisites for this degree. To meet the prerequisite, students must have received a ‘C’ or higher in approved undergraduate or graduate survey courses from a regionally accredited institution. Students who enroll without the prerequisite courses must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 before graduating. Credits from these courses may count as general electives, or may add to the length of the program if electives are not available.

2 Students anticipating a career teaching in higher education may replace TTPT 791 and TTPT 792 with TTCE 790.

Master of Divinity (Messianic Jewish Studies)

Director: Gary Manning, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Divinity degree program is to equip servant leaders for making disciples worldwide by developing in them an accurate knowledge of the Word of God, the skills necessary to communicate the Gospel effectively, and character worthy of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ for the leading of the church.

Messianic Jewish Studies Specialization Mission

Provides training and preparation for a variety of professional ministries that serve the Jewish community in roles such as Messianic congregational leader, outreach coordinator, missions worker, or educator. Includes opportunities for specialized study of the Bible and theological reflection with a focus on aspects of Jewish studies. Enrollment in specialization courses is limited to students admitted to Messianic Jewish Studies specialization. This specialization is only offered through the Charles Feinberg Center in New York.

Program Description

The Master of Divinity curriculum at Talbot School of Theology is designed to foster the purpose for which the seminary was established — education for the propagation of the faith. This purpose entails an accurate knowledge of the Word of God — the source of faith and the effective means of its communication. The course of study is therefore designed around these two basic foci.

Believing firmly that God in love and grace has provided an answer for the needs of the world in Jesus Christ, and that this Jesus is the Christ of the Scriptures, Talbot emphasizes a knowledge of the content of the Word of God. In order that the Word may be known and expounded accurately and authoritatively, matters of biblical background, including the languages of the Old and New Testaments, are studied. Sound principles of literary interpretation are also explored as a basis for the interpretation of the Scriptures. On the basis of such interpretation there comes systematic study so as to organize various parts of the Word into theological categories.

Since the faith of today does not stand alone but is rooted in past centuries during which God has preserved and instructed His people, cognizance of this heritage is taken in a study of the history of the Church and its doctrine. Previous interaction between faith and the world provides a basis for understanding modern times.
It is the seminary's aim that this knowledge of the faith first grip the life of the student and then motivate the student to share it with the world. In accord with this latter aim instruction is given in vital areas of ministry and communication. From the preparation and delivery of sermons to individual involvement in counseling, the curriculum is designed to provide instruction that will facilitate propagation of the faith in the various fields of God's call. Opportunity is also given for the development of ministry skills as principles are applied in the context of ministry in the Church.

With recognition that the Great Commission commands the Church to go into the world to minister to all peoples, the cross-currents of modern thought are considered relevant to the preparation of God's minister. Throughout the course of instruction, interaction is provided with various perspectives for the purpose of inculcating their contributions and understanding their divergences. All the while they are measured by the pattern of the Word.

Talbot's program focuses on the entire person and is meant to contribute to personal spiritual formation as well as cognitive awareness and the development of ministry skills. The curriculum is structured to develop sustainable habits that can be continued in life and ministry after graduation. The various components of the curriculum are designed to complement one another and to reinforce basic principles to which students have been exposed in other parts of their seminary program. A goal of the program is to equip students to think biblically and to respond appropriately to the variety of challenges of life and ministry.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Divinity, students will be able to:

1. Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments and the broad historical and cultural background information relevant to the study of the Old and New Testaments (ULO 1).
2. Exegete and apply a biblical text properly through application of historical-grammatical hermeneutics (ULO 3).
3. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity, including their biblical basis, historical development, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
4. a. Explain the basic elements of Spiritual Theology, namely, the nature, process, and practices of spiritual growth (ULO 1).
   b. Demonstrate how knowledge of self integrates with knowledge of God in one's own life (ULO 2).
   c. Demonstrate relational skills that develop community (ULO 3).
   d. Articulate how the biblical teaching on vocation shapes one's own understanding of vocation and gainful employment (ULO 1, 2, 3).
5. Prepare and present sermons demonstrating biblical accuracy, oral clarity and contemporary relevance (ULO 3).
6. Students will demonstrate ministry skills in areas such as evangelism, administration, teaching, counseling, and worship (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Messianic Jewish Studies Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program the student will:

1. Master the Hebrew language.
2. Incorporate an understanding of Rabbinic thought and Old Testament Law in course studies and discipleship.
3. Employ knowledge of Jewish culture and values effectively in diverse ministry situations.
4. Develop skills of ministry specifically appropriate for the Jewish community.
5. Describe the significance of modern Israel within the Jewish community.

Master of Divinity (Missions and Intercultural Studies)

Director: Gary Manning, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Divinity degree program is to equip servant leaders for making disciples worldwide by developing in them an accurate knowledge of the Word of God, the skills necessary to communicate the Gospel effectively, and character worthy of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ for the leading of the church.

Missions and Intercultural Studies Specializations Mission

Provides training grounded in a sound biblical and theological framework for effective intercultural ministry (in both local and international contexts) including cultural awareness and sensitivity, understanding regional and national theological issues, ethnicity and ideology, intercultural communication, and the like.

Program Description

The Master of Divinity curriculum at Talbot School of Theology is designed to foster the purpose for which the seminary was established — education for the propagation of the faith. This purpose entails an accurate knowledge of the Word of God — the source of faith and the effective means of its communication. Missions and Intercultural Studies Specializations Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, students will:

1. Explain how major anthropological insights facilitate missiological understanding.
2. Formulate a biblical theology of mission that integrates data from both the Old and the New Testaments.
3. Demonstrate skills of integrating theological and missiological insights in ministry by engaging in specific cross-cultural tasks in course assignments and the field internship.
4. Apply principles of intercultural communication to evaluate experiences from one’s own culture and from other cultures.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

All applicants must hold the Bachelor of Arts degree, or its academic equivalent, with a 2.6 (on a 4.0 scale) grade point average. Those not meeting this latter requirement, if accepted, will be placed on probation. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges, if accepted, will be granted provisional acceptance, though exceptions may be made when the grade point average is 3.0 or higher. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges may be required to take additional liberal arts course work (not applicable toward the graduate degree) if their undergraduate program did not include these courses.

Specialization Requirements

Changes of specialization may be authorized under certain circumstances prior to the completion of 40 credits, but are discouraged after that point.

Advanced Standing

Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 79 semester credits.
2. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Divinity curriculum.
3. Complete the requirements in the specialization below, including co-curricular requirements.
4. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
5. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
6. At least 50% of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed at this seminary, calculated prior to applying any advanced standing or transfer credit.
7. The M.Div. program can be completed in three years (as outlined below). For those who need to extend the program, a four-year curriculum for the Master of Divinity in Pastoral and General Ministries specialization is available on the Office of the Registrar’s (https://www.biola.edu/degree-requirements/) website.
8. Must have a 2.5 cumulative GPA with no grade below a ‘D’.
9. Meet with Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Biblical Languages Requirement

Two biblical languages are required: Greek and Hebrew. The first three classes of Greek (TTNT 501, TTNT 502, TTNT 503) are recommended to be completed prior to Hebrew since they are prerequisites to TTPT 609 Expository Preaching.

Greek

The courses listed below are required. A qualifying examination is available to all interested students. Those who pass the examination may enroll directly in TTNT 503.

Throughout the course of instruction, interaction is provided with various perspectives for the purpose of inculcating their contributions and understanding their divergences. All the while they are measured by the pattern of the Word.

Talbot’s program focuses on the entire person and is meant to contribute to personal spiritual formation as well as cognitive awareness and the development of ministry skills. The curriculum is structured to develop sustainable habits that can be continued in life and ministry after graduation. The various components of the curriculum are designed to complement one another and to reinforce basic principles to which students have been exposed in other parts of their seminar program. A goal of the program is to equip students to think biblically and to respond appropriately to the variety of challenges of life and ministry.
Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Divinity, students will be able to:

1. Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments and the broad historical and cultural background information relevant to the study of the Old and New Testaments (ULO 1).
2. Exegete and apply a biblical text properly through application of historical-grammatical hermeneutics (ULO 3).
3. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity, including their biblical basis, historical development, and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
4. a. Explain the basic elements of Spiritual Theology, namely, the nature, process, and practices of spiritual growth (ULO 1).
b. Demonstrate how knowledge of self integrates with knowledge of God in one’s own life (ULO 2).
c. Demonstrate relational skills that develop community (ULO 3).
d. Articulate how the biblical teaching on vocation shapes one’s own understanding of vocation and gainful employment (ULO 1, 2, 3).
5. Prepare and present sermons demonstrating biblical accuracy, oral clarity and contemporary relevance (ULO 3).
6. Students will demonstrate ministry skills in areas such as evangelism, administration, teaching, counseling, and worship (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

All applicants must hold the Bachelor of Arts degree, or its academic equivalent, with a 2.6 (on a 4.0 scale) grade point average. Those not meeting this latter requirement, if accepted, will be placed on probation. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges, if accepted, will be granted provisional acceptance, though exceptions may be made when the grade point average is 3.0 or higher. Graduates from approved unaccredited colleges may be required to take additional liberal arts course work (not applicable toward the graduate degree) if their undergraduate program did not include these courses.

Specialization Requirements

Changes of specialization may be authorized under certain circumstances prior to the completion of 40 credits, but are discouraged after that point.

Advanced Standing

Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 79 semester credits.
2. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Divinity curriculum.
3. Complete the requirements in the specialization below, including co-curricular requirements.
4. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
5. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
6. At least 50% of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed at this seminary, calculated prior to applying any advanced standing or transfer credit.
7. The M.Div. program can be completed in three years (as outlined below). For those who need to extend the program, a four-year curriculum for the Master of Divinity in Pastoral and General Ministries specialization is available on the Office of the Registrar’s website.
8. Must have a 2.5 cumulative GPA with no grade below a ‘D-’.
9. Meet with Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Biblical Languages Requirement

Two biblical languages are required: Greek and Hebrew. The first three classes of Greek (TTNT 501, TTNT 502, TTNT 503) are recommended to be completed prior to Hebrew since they are prerequisites to TTPT 609 Expository Preaching.

1. TTBE 519 Old Testament Survey and TTBE 520 New Testament Survey are prerequisites for this degree. To meet the prerequisite, students must have received a ‘C’ or higher in approved undergraduate or graduate survey courses from a regionally accredited institution. Students who enroll without the prerequisite courses must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 before graduating. Credits from these courses may count as general electives, or may add to the length of the program if electives are not available.

2. Students anticipating a career teaching in higher education may replace TTPT 791 and TTPT 792 with TTCE 790.

Master of Divinity (Pastoral Care and Counseling)

Director: Gary Manning, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Divinity degree program is to equip servant leaders for making disciples worldwide by developing in them an accurate knowledge of the Word of God, the skills necessary to communicate the Gospel effectively, and character worthy of the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ for the leading of the church.

Pastoral Care and Counseling Specialization Mission

Provides preparation for ministry to individuals, couples, families and groups focusing on biblical counseling, conflict resolution, crisis management, developing lay counselors and care teams, grief counseling, and the like.

Program Description

The Master of Divinity curriculum at Talbot School of Theology is designed to foster the purpose for which the seminary was established — education for the propagation of the faith. This purpose entails an accurate knowledge of the Word of God — the source of faith and the effective means of its communication. The course of study is therefore designed around these two basic foci.

Believing firmly that God in love and grace has provided an answer for the needs of the world in Jesus Christ, and that this Jesus is the Christ of the Scriptures, Talbot emphasizes a knowledge of the content of the Word of God. In order that the Word may be known and expounded accurately and authoritatively, matters of biblical background, including the languages of the Old and New Testaments, are studied. Sound principles of literary interpretation are also explored as a basis for the interpretation of the Scriptures. On the basis of such interpretation there comes systematic study so as to organize various parts of the Word into theological categories.

Since the faith of today does not stand alone but is rooted in past centuries during which God has preserved and instructed His people, cognizance of this heritage is taken in a study of the history of the Church and its doctrine. Previous interaction between faith and the world provides a basis for understanding modern times.

It is the seminary’s aim that this knowledge of the faith first grip the life of the student and then motivate the student to share it with the world. In accord with this latter aim instruction is given in vital areas of ministry and communication. From the preparation and delivery of sermons to individual involvement in counseling, the curriculum is designed to provide instruction that will facilitate propagation of the faith in the various fields of God’s call. Opportunity is also given for the development of ministry skills as principles are applied in the context of ministry in the Church.

With recognition that the Great Commission commands the Church to go into the world to minister to all peoples, the cross-currents of modern thought are considered relevant to the preparation of God’s minister. Throughout the course of instruction, interaction is provided with various perspectives for the purpose of inculcating their contributions and understanding their divergences. All the while they are measured by the pattern of the Word.

Talbot’s program focuses on the entire person and is meant to contribute to personal spiritual formation as well as cognitive awareness and the development of ministry skills. The curriculum is structured to develop sustainable habits that can be continued in life and ministry after graduation. The various components of the curriculum are designed to complement one another and to reinforce basic principles to which students have been exposed in other parts of their seminary program. Pastoral Care and Counseling Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Develop empathetic listening skills, and the commitment to use and teach these skills in life and ministry.
2. Be aware of their personal issues and the ability and commitment to develop a personal network for growth.
3. Develop a commitment to and practice of sound ethical principles related to pastoral ministry.
4. Become aware of his or her limitations, the ability to diagnose the pathology of individuals, couples and families, and know how and to whom to refer people for needed help.
5. Become aware of theories and the issues of counseling and the lifespan development of people, and have the ability to apply this knowledge in ministry contexts.
6. Develop understanding of ministry skills and be able to apply them in program development of pastoral ministry.
7. Develop the ability in counseling to move people from relationship through realization to responsibility.
8. Be committed to the application of biblical knowledge and theological foundations in the exercise of ministry skills.

2. Take the courses prescribed in the Master of Divinity curriculum.
3. Complete the requirements in the specialization below, including co-curricular requirements.
4. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of general elective credits.
5. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
6. At least 50% of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed at this seminary, calculated prior to applying any advanced standing or transfer credit.
7. The M.Div. program can be completed in three years (as outlined below). For those who need to extend the program, a four-year curriculum for the Master of Divinity in Pastoral and General Ministries specialization is available on the Office of the Registrar’s website.
8. Must have a 2.5 cumulative GPA with no grade below a ‘D’.
9. Meet with Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Biblical Languages Requirement

Two biblical languages are required: Greek and Hebrew. The first three classes of Greek (TTNT 501, TTNT 502, TTNT 503) are recommended to be completed prior to Hebrew since they are prerequisites to TTPT 609 Expository Preaching.

Greek

The courses listed below are required. A qualifying examination is available to all interested students. Those who pass the examination may enroll directly in TTNT 503.

The Master of Theology is offered with the following specializations:

- Theological Higher Education and the Christian Community

The mission of the Master of Theology program is to equip students with specialized academic knowledge and advanced professional skills in one of the theological disciplines in order to advance the cause of Christ in theological higher education and the Christian community.

The Master of Theology is offered with the following specializations:

- Bible Exposition (p. 579)
- New Testament (p. 581)

Program Description

The Master of Theology curriculum is a challenging post-graduate degree program designed to equip students with specialized academic knowledge and advanced professional skills in one of the theological disciplines. The program is of special interest to students who aspire to teach — whether in the church, a Bible college or seminary, an extension center, or in a cross-cultural setting. This is in accord with both A.T.S. (Association of Theological Schools) and A.A.B.C. (American Association of Bible Colleges) which consider the Th.M. degree the minimum educational credential for teaching biblical and theological subjects at accredited seminaries and Bible schools. The program also provides an excellent preparation for those who anticipate further study at the Ph.D. and Th.D. level.

Qualified students aspiring to excellence and leadership in many areas of ministry and service for Christ find the Th.M. program personally enriching and academically stimulating.

Master of Theology (Bible Exposition)

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Theology, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate, at an appropriately advanced level, the knowledge and skills most pertinent to their major, such as: knowledge of the Bible and of relevant languages, cultures, and major interpreters; and skills of biblical interpretation, doctrinal formulation, and critical analysis (ULO 1).
2. Formulate a productive research question and conduct advanced research and writing on this topic (ULO 2).
3. Demonstrate an understanding of pedagogical strategies and effective teaching methods (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Th.M. program must have an earned Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent, with at least a 3.25 GPA, from an accredited school that maintains academic standards similar to those of Talbot: at least 72 semester hours of graduate study comparable to Talbot’s M.Div. curriculum, including 12 hours of Old Testament (9 of Hebrew), 15 hours of New Testament (12 of Greek), 9 hours of theology, 9 hours of practical theology, and 3 hours of church history, with the remaining hours free electives. Students in the Theology concentration may substitute a research language for Hebrew. Students who are deficient in one or more areas may be allowed to take leveling coursework at Talbot, but such deficiencies must be made up before more than 16 credits in other subjects may be taken. Divinity degrees presented from non-accredited seminaries and theological schools are individually evaluated. Students must also show aptitude for advanced theological study and have the personal qualifications necessary for a minister of Christ, including promise of future usefulness. They must be spiritually qualified by... providing evidence of a born-again experience and a consistent Christian manner of life.

Note: The minimum TOEFL score for admission to the Th.M. program is a total of 100 iBT.

Application Procedure
All applicants are required to submit a personal statement of one to two double-spaced typewritten pages expressing their career goals and personal objectives in seeking the Th.M. degree. Graduates of other seminaries must file a full application with the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Master of Divinity students currently enrolled at Talbot may file for admission by submitting a written request to the Graduate Committee in care of the Office of Graduate Admissions. This request should indicate any changes in marital status or doctrinal convictions since enrollment in the Master of Divinity degree. In addition, applicants should signify their intention to abide by the Standards of Conduct of Biola University.

Talbot Master of Divinity students who have completed 65 or more credits, and whose current cumulative GPA is 3.25 or above may be granted a concurrent enrollment option but may not enroll in Th.M. courses until a maximum of 8 credits remain in their M.Div. program. Since the first academic responsibility is to complete the M.Div., all M.Div. requirements must be completed within two semesters after concurrent enrollment has begun. (See Concurrent Enrollment Option). Interested seniors should contact the Office of Graduate Admissions for detailed information.

Applicants who have graduated from Talbot with a Master of Divinity degree may file for admission according to the following guidelines:

Less than two years since graduation from Talbot:
- Re-admit Application
- Personal Statement

Between two and five years since graduation:
- Re-admit Application
- Pastor Reference on form provided by the Admissions Office
- Personal Statement

Over five years since graduation:
- Full application
- Personal Statement

Talbot graduates should include in the personal statement any changes in marital status or doctrinal convictions since graduation with the Master of Divinity degree. In addition, they should signify their intention to abide by the Standards of Conduct of Biola University.

Official documents presented for admission or evaluation become part of the student's academic file and normally cannot be returned or copied for distribution.

Graduation Requirements
Degrees are awarded to qualified candidates at the University's Fall and Spring commencements. Students are required to be present for graduation unless advance permission to graduate in absentia has been secured. To qualify for graduation, candidates must have completed all required coursework (26 credits) with a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.25 and satisfactorily passed their comprehensive examinations. No grade less than a C (2.0) will be credited toward the Th.M. degree credits. Students who repeat courses for the purpose of raising their GPA must adhere to the University’s general policy for grades, as spelled out in the catalog. Candidates for the Th.M. degree should also manifest promise of usefulness in Christian ministry, exhibit exemplary and consistent Christian character and evidence sound theological beliefs in accordance with the University's doctrinal statement. Additional requirements are as follows:

- Residence Requirements
A minimum of two semesters in residence at Talbot is required for the Th.M. degree.

- Transfer Credit
Up to 4 credits of Th.M.-level credit from another accredited seminary or theological school may be accepted toward fulfillment of Th.M. course requirements.

- Time Limit for Degree
All course, examination and thesis requirements must be completed within five years, beginning on the date of the student's first registration for Th.M. courses at Talbot.

- Meeting with Graduate Graduation Counselor
Students must meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section).

Major Area of Academic Study

Bible Exposition
For students who want advanced training in English Bible as preparation for teaching or preaching the Scriptures. Courses emphasize the historical and cultural background, hermeneutical issues, synthesis, analysis and unique theological contributions of Old and New Testament books, providing examples of a sound expositional approach to Scripture. For those students who wish to emphasize preaching and communication techniques, elective courses may also be taken in the area of Christian Ministry and Leadership.

Program Options
The Th.M. is a 26 semester-hour program with two options for program structure: a thesis track and a non-thesis track. Students choosing the thesis track will complete 20 credits of coursework and write a thesis for which they will be awarded 6 credits. Students opting for the non-thesis track will be required to complete 26 credits of coursework. They will also be asked to submit two papers to the major department which give evidence of their ability to research and write on a high academic level. The papers submitted may be the product of coursework.

Curriculum Requirements
The Th.M. 891 Research Seminar (3 credits) and TTCE 724 (2 credits) are required of all students, regardless of major. See the description of the major areas for other courses that may be required by a specific department. The program requirements for both tracks will be distributed as detailed below.

Comprehensive Examinations

All candidates for the Th.M. degree must pass a written comprehensive examination over the major field of study. These examinations serve as a major means of evaluating the student’s academic competency in the major area. Comprehensive examinations may be taken any time after completion of 18 credits of Th.M. coursework. Graduates must take examinations by April 15 (spring) or November 15 (fall). Only two retakes of the examination are permitted.

Thesis Option

Students who opt to write a thesis must produce an acceptable piece of research evidencing a high degree of scholarly competence in the student’s major. Information regarding thesis form and submission deadlines is provided in the Th.M. Program Handbook and the ‘Thesis Information’ section of the Talbot graduate student handbook.

The progression of the thesis sequence is Thesis First Draft and Thesis Final Draft. Should a student need more time to develop the first draft, Thesis Continuous Registration may be taken. Once the student is enrolled in Thesis Final Draft, the thesis must be completed within that term. Only one year following the completion of coursework is normally allowed for completion of a thesis. A student may go beyond this one-year period only by advance permission of the Graduate Committee. Such permission is usually granted only in extreme circumstances. If the thesis is not completed, students will be moved to the non-thesis track; in this case, neither TTBE 891 nor TTBE 892 will count toward completion of the Th.M. degree, and 6 credits of electives must be taken in their place.

Additional Requirements

Students are required to take a minimum of 14 credits in Th.M. courses numbered in the 800 series, with the remainder at the 600 and 700 levels. Up to two courses from a different department may be taken with the approval of the student’s program advisor.

A Th.M. student must carry 9 or more credits to be considered a full-time student. Those carrying fewer than 9 credits are considered part-time students. A maximum of 6 credits may be taken by Th.M. students in independent study courses. It is recommended that this be done in the middle or latter portion of the program, and in any case the advance approval of the major departmental advisor and faculty member concerned is required.

Research Seminar

All Th.M. students are required to take the 890 level Research Seminar. The seminar is designed to introduce the student to research methodology employed in the various biblical and theological disciplines. The seminar is led by faculty representatives from each of the departments in biblical and theological studies. The seminar is a foundational part of the Th.M. program and is reserved for Th.M. students only. The seminar requires each student to complete a major writing project: either, for thesis-track students, one full chapter of the thesis (ideally the ‘history of research’ chapter); or, for non-thesis-track students, a high-quality research paper.

Concurrent Enrollment Option

Senior Talbot M.Div. students who have completed 65 or more credits and are accepted in the Th.M. program are permitted to take up to 4 credits of Th.M. coursework in the last semester of the Master of Divinity program (additional Th.M. courses may be taken in Summer session). These courses may not be credited toward the M.Div. degree and must meet all normal Th.M. standards. This option allows students who have only one or two courses remaining in their M.Div. program to start on their Th.M. program while finishing their M.Div.

Additional Requirements

Students are required to take a minimum of 14 credits in Th.M. courses numbered in the 800 series, with the remainder at the 600 and 700 levels. Up to two courses from a different department may be taken with the approval of the student’s program advisor.

A Th.M. student must carry 9 or more credits to be considered a full-time student. Those carrying fewer than 9 credits are considered part-time students. A maximum of 6 credits may be taken by Th.M. students in independent study courses. It is recommended that this be done in the middle or latter portion of the program, and in any case the advance approval of the major departmental advisor and faculty member concerned is required.

Research Seminar

All Th.M. students are required to take the 890 level Research Seminar. The seminar is designed to introduce the student to research methodology employed in the various biblical and theological disciplines. The seminar is led by faculty representatives from each of the departments in biblical and theological studies. The seminar is a foundational part of the Th.M. program and is reserved for Th.M. students only. The seminar requires each student to complete a major writing project: either, for thesis-track students, one full chapter of the thesis (ideally the ‘history of research’ chapter); or, for non-thesis-track students, a high-quality research paper.

Concurrent Enrollment Option

Senior Talbot M.Div. students who have completed 65 or more credits and are accepted in the Th.M. program are permitted to take up to 4 credits of Th.M. coursework in the last semester of the Master of Divinity program (additional Th.M. courses may be taken in Summer session).

These courses may not be credited toward the M.Div. degree and must meet all normal Th.M. standards. This option allows students who have only one or two courses remaining in their M.Div. program to start on their Th.M. program while finishing their M.Div.

Comprehensive Examinations

All candidates for the Th.M. degree must pass a written comprehensive examination over the major field of study. These examinations serve as a major means of evaluating the student’s academic competency in the major area. Comprehensive examinations may be taken any time after completion of 18 credits of Th.M. coursework. Graduates must take examinations by April 15 (spring) or November 15 (fall). Only two retakes of the examination are permitted.

Thesis Option

Students who opt to write a thesis must produce an acceptable piece of research evidencing a high degree of scholarly competence in the student’s major. Information regarding thesis form and submission deadlines is provided in the Th.M. Program Handbook and the ‘Thesis Information’ section of the Talbot graduate student handbook.

The progression of the thesis sequence is Thesis First Draft and Thesis Final Draft. Should a student need more time to develop the first draft, Thesis Continuous Registration may be taken. Once the student is enrolled in Thesis Final Draft, the thesis must be completed within that term. Only one year following the completion of coursework is normally allowed for completion of a thesis. A student may go beyond this one-year period only by advance permission of the Graduate Committee. Such permission is usually granted only in extreme circumstances. If the thesis is not completed, students will be moved to the non-thesis track; in this case, neither TTHE 891 nor TTHE 892 will count toward completion of the Th.M. degree, and 6 credits of electives must be taken in their place.

Master of Theology (Theology)

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Theology, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate, at an appropriately advanced level, the knowledge and skills most pertinent to their major, such as: knowledge of the Bible and of relevant languages, cultures, and major interpreters; and skills of biblical interpretation, doctrinal formulation, and critical analysis (ULO 1).
2. Formulate a productive research question and conduct advanced research and writing on this topic (ULO 2).
3. Demonstrate an understanding of pedagogical strategies and effective teaching methods (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Applicants to the Th.M. program must have an earned Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent, with at least a 3.25 GPA, from an accredited school that maintains academic standards similar to those of Talbot: at least 72 semester hours of graduate study comparable to Talbot's M.Div. curriculum, including 12 hours of Old Testament (9 of Hebrew), 15 hours of New Testament (12 of Greek), 9 hours of theology, 9 hours of practical theology, and 3 hours of church history, with the remaining hours free electives. Students in the Theology concentration may substitute a research language for Hebrew. Students who are deficient in one or more areas may be allowed to take leveling coursework at Talbot, but such deficiencies must be made up before more than 16 credits in other subjects may be taken. Divinity degrees presented from non-accredited seminaries and theological schools are individually evaluated. Students must also show aptitude for advanced theological study and have the personal qualifications necessary for a minister of Christ, including promise of future usefulness. They must be spiritually qualified by providing evidence of a born-again experience and a consistent Christian manner of life.

Note: The minimum TOEFL score for admission to the Th.M. program is a total of 100 iBT.

Application Procedure

All applicants are required to submit a personal statement of one to two double-spaced typewritten pages expressing their career goals and personal objectives in seeking the Th.M. degree. Graduates of other seminaries must file a full application with the Office of Graduate Admissions.

Master of Divinity students currently enrolled at Talbot may file for admission by submitting a written request to the Graduate Committee in care of the Office of Graduate Admissions. This request should indicate any changes in marital status or doctrinal convictions since enrollment in the Master of Divinity degree. In addition, applicants should signify their intention to abide by the Standards of Conduct of Biola University.

Talbot Master of Divinity students who have completed 65 or more credits, and whose current cumulative GPA is 3.25 or above may be granted a concurrent enrollment option but may not enroll in Th.M. courses until a maximum of 8 credits remain in their M.Div. program.
Since the first academic responsibility is to complete the M.Div., all M.Div. requirements must be completed within two semesters after concurrent enrollment has begun. (See Concurrent Enrollment Option). Interested seniors should contact the Office of Graduate Admissions for detailed information.

Applicants who have graduated from Talbot with a Master of Divinity degree may file for admission according to the following guidelines:

Less than two years since graduation from Talbot:

- Re-admit Application
- Personal Statement

Between two and five years since graduation:

- Re-admit Application
- Pastor Reference on form provided by the Admissions Office
- Personal Statement

Over five years since graduation:

- Full application
- Personal Statement

Talbot graduates should include in the personal statement any changes in marital status or doctrinal convictions since graduation with the Master of Divinity degree. In addition, they should signify their intention to abide by the Standards of Conduct of Biola University.

Official documents presented for admission or evaluation become part of the student's academic file and normally cannot be returned or copied for distribution.

Graduation Requirements

Degrees are awarded to qualified candidates at the University's Fall and Spring commencements. Students are required to be present for graduation unless advance permission to graduate in absentia has been secured. To qualify for graduation, candidates must have completed all required coursework (26 credits) with a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 3.25 and satisfactorily passed their comprehensive examinations. No grade less than a C (2.0) will be credited toward the Th.M. degree credits. Students who repeat courses for the purpose of raising their GPA must adhere to the University's general policy for grades, as spelled out in the catalog. Candidates for the Th.M. degree should also manifest promise of usefulness in Christian ministry, exhibit exemplary and consistent Christian character and evidence sound theological beliefs in accordance with the University's doctrinal statement. Additional requirements are as follows:

- Residence Requirements
  A minimum of two semesters in residence at Talbot is required for the Th.M. degree.

- Transfer Credit
  Up to 4 credits of Th.M.-level credit from another accredited seminary or theological school may be accepted toward fulfillment of Th.M. course requirements.

- Time Limit for Degree
  All course, examination and thesis requirements must be completed within five years, beginning on the date of the student's first registration for Th.M. courses at Talbot.

- Meeting with Graduate Graduation Counselor
  Students must meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements
  (p. 25) section).

Major Area of Academic Study

Theology

For students who want to take advanced coursework in historical or systematic theology.

Program Options

The Th.M. is a 26 semester-hour program with two options for program structure: a thesis track and a non-thesis track. Students choosing the thesis track will complete 20 credits of coursework and write a thesis for which they will be awarded 6 credits. Students opting for the non-thesis track will be required to complete 26 credits of coursework. They will also be asked to submit two papers to the major department which give evidence of their ability to research and write on a high academic level.
The papers submitted may be the product of coursework.

Curriculum Requirements

The Th.M. 891 Research Seminar (3 credits) and TTCE 724 (2 credits) are required of all students, regardless of major. See the description of the major areas for other courses that may be required by a specific department. The program requirements for both tracks will be distributed as detailed below.

Master of Arts

Director: Alan Hultberg, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Arts is to produce biblically, theologically, and spiritually discerning Christian thinkers who can serve the body of Christ in lay, parachurch or academic ministries. The Master of Arts program provides both a general biblical, theological, and spiritual foundation for reflection and a specialized focus on a discipline crucial to fulfilling Talbot's mission and from which students can serve or go on for advanced study.

The Master of Arts is offered with the following specializations:

- Bible Exposition (p. 588)
- Biblical and Theological Studies in the Eurasian Context (p. 589)
- Biblical/Theological Studies Diversified (p. 590)
- New Testament (p. 592)
- Old Testament (p. 593)
- Philosophy (p. 595)
- Spiritual Formation (p. 596)
- Theology (p. 598)
Master of Arts (Bible Exposition)

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Arts, students will be able to:

1. Integrate a sound understanding of Scripture with the contents of their respective emphasized disciplines (ULO 3).
2. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity, including their biblical basis and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
3. Students will be able to demonstrate abilities relevant to personal spiritual formation, including an understanding of spiritual theology, knowledge of God & self, relational skills, and an understanding of their vocation (ULO 1, 2, 3).
4. Perform and report research in their respective disciplines at a level sufficient to begin a doctoral program (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Bible Exposition Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Be able to identify the basic contents, backgrounds, and purpose of each book of the Old and New Testaments.
2. Be able to explain the general history and cultures relevant to the study of the Old and New Testament.
3. Be able to interpret and apply passages of the Old and New Testaments through use of the grammatical-historical method, including understanding the contribution of genre to the passage, ancient meaning and modern significance.
4. Submit an acceptable capstone project, as determined by the department of specialization. Students will receive specific directions about their capstone project from their respective departments.
5. At least 24 of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed in residency at Biola. Advanced Standing, Reduction and transfer credit are not considered residency credits.
6. Obtain a 3.0 average with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
7. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.
8. Meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Specialization Requirements

Program Structure

The academic program leading to the degree Master of Arts with a specialization in Bible Exposition is comprised of 49 credits, including:

1. Biblical and theological foundations.
2. Spiritual Formation Focus (SFF).
3. Academic specialization in one of four disciplines requiring biblical language studies, or general studies in which biblical languages are not required.
4. Additional elective courses determined by the student in consultation with the advisor.

Students may complete the specializations in Bible Exposition, Old Testament, New Testament, Philosophy, and Theology online, on-campus, or by a combination of those two modalities.

Advanced Standing

Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details. Note: if master’s level courses are given advanced standing based on undergraduate coursework, some Ph.D. programs may require additional graduate courses in order to meet doctoral program requirements.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Applicants must possess a Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Additionally, applicants should have completed an accredited course in Old Testament survey and in New Testament survey prior to matriculation. If the prerequisite courses are not completed prior to matriculation, the student is required to take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 as elective credits during their program.

All applicants must submit a written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the degree might relate to those objectives.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 49 credits as outlined in the curriculum requirements below. The rate of progress for many students is 12–13 credits per semester, allowing the program to be completed in two years.
2. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of elective credits.
3. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.

As a result of this program, students will:

1. Be able to recall the key contents of the Old and New Testaments and will identify important historical and cultural background information relevant to the study of the Old and New Testaments.
2. Be able to exegesis and apply a biblical text through the application of historical-grammatical hermeneutics.
3. Be able to articulate the major elements of orthodox Christian theology, including biblical foundations, and will be able to apply this theology to an issue in the Eurasian church context.
4. Be able to explain the theory of 'the sanctification gap'1 and will reflect upon the calling(s) of God in their lives.
5. For the purposes of assessment, 'sanctification gap' is defined as the perceived gap between the goal of sanctification and one's present spiritual life.

1. Integrate a sound understanding of Scripture with the contents of their respective emphasized disciplines (ULO 3).
2. Explain the major doctrines of Christianity, including their biblical basis and contemporary relevance (ULO 1).
3. Students will be able to demonstrate abilities relevant to personal spiritual formation, including an understanding of spiritual theology, knowledge of God & self, relational skills, and an understanding of their vocation (ULO 1, 2, 3).
4. Perform and report research in their respective disciplines at a level sufficient to begin a doctoral program (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Biblical and Theological Studies/Diversified Specialization Learning Outcomes
As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Be able to research either the Old Testament or the New Testament using exegetical commentaries and certain tools designed for those with limited knowledge of Greek and Hebrew.
2. Be able to dialog with those who are outside of a biblically centered faith confidently and effectively, applying the knowledge of biblical doctrine to refute errors and to utilize practical techniques of dialog with the intent to reach those who ‘seek to know the reason for the hope that lies within you.’
3. Be able to articulate a clear theology/philosophy of educational ministry.
4. Have an understanding and appreciation for the teaching/learning process, utilizing a broad range of ministry methods and resources in educational ministry.
5. Be able to plan, administrate, and evaluate an effective educational ministry program at a basic level.

Requirements
Admission Requirements
Applicants must possess a Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Additionally, applicants should have completed an accredited course in Old Testament survey and in New Testament survey prior to matriculation. If the prerequisite courses are not completed prior to matriculation, the student is required to take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 as elective credits during their program.

All applicants must submit a written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the degree might relate to those objectives.

Graduation Requirements
1. Satisfactorily complete 49 credits as outlined in the curriculum requirements below. The rate of progress for many students is 12-13 credits per semester, allowing the program to be completed in two years.
2. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of elective credits.
3. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
4. Submit an acceptable capstone project, as determined by the department of specialization.
5. Students will receive specific directions about their capstone project from their respective departments.
6. At least 24 of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed in residency at Biola. Advanced Standing, Reduction and transfer credit are not considered residency credits.
7. Obtain a 3.0 average with no grade below a ‘C-’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
8. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.
9. Meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Specialization Requirements
Program Structure
The academic program leading to the degree Master of Arts with a specialization in Biblical and Theological Studies/Diversified is comprised of 49 credits, including:

1. Biblical and theological foundations.
2. Spiritual Formation Focus (SFF).
3. Academic specialization in one of four disciplines requiring biblical language studies, or general studies in which biblical languages are not required.
4. Additional elective courses determined by the student in consultation with the advisor.

Advanced Standing
Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details. Note: if master’s level courses are given advanced standing based on undergraduate coursework, some Ph.D. programs may require additional graduate courses in order to meet doctoral program requirements.

Master of Arts (New Testament)

Mission

The mission of the Master of Arts is to produce biblically, theologically, and spiritually discerning Christian thinkers who can serve the body of Christ in lay, parachurch or academic ministries. The Master of Arts program provides both a general biblical, theological, and spiritual foundation for reflection and a specialized focus on a discipline crucial to fulfilling Talbot’s mission and from which students can serve or go on for a foundation for reflection and a specialized focus on a discipline crucial to their vocation (ULO 1, 2, 3).

Learning Outcomes

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

New Testament Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Have a developing appreciation of the New Testament through application of skills in the areas of Greek language, exegesis, the historical-cultural setting of the New Testament, and biblical theology.
2. Have a developing appreciation for the value of studying New Testament Greek for a better understanding of God’s written word. It is expected that the graduate will use an exegetical methodology for the New Testament on a regular basis throughout his or her lifetime.
3. Personal study and teaching of the New Testament will also be within the framework of:
   b. The life and ministry of Jesus, the apostles, and the early church within the context of the culture of first-century Judaism and the Greco-Roman world.
4. Be able to articulate key critical issues about the New Testament and give perspective on a reasonable and informed solution.

Master of Arts (Old Testament)

Director: Alan Hultberg, Ph.D.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Arts is to produce biblically, theologically, and spiritually discerning Christian thinkers who can serve the body of Christ in lay, parachurch or academic ministries. The Master of Arts program provides both a general biblical, theological, and spiritual foundation for reflection and a specialized focus on a discipline crucial to fulfilling Talbot’s mission and from which students can serve or go on for advanced study. These disciplines include Bible Exposition, Biblical and Theological Studies/Diversified, Biblical and Theological Studies in the Eurasian Context (Kyiv extension only), New Testament, Old Testament, Philosophy, Spiritual Formation, and Theology.

Old Testament Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, the student will:

1. Have a developing appreciation of the Old Testament through application of skills in the areas of Hebrew language, exegesis, and the historical-cultural setting of the Old Testament.
2. Have a developing appreciation for the value of studying Old Testament Hebrew for a better understanding of God’s written word. It is expected that the graduate will use an exegetical methodology for the Old Testament on a regular basis throughout his or her lifetime.
3. Be able to research the Old Testament using the exegetical tools of Hebrew language and archaeological and historical studies. It is expected that the insights into the biblical text will be more original and better supported as a result of the exegetical method.
4. Be able to help others understand the textual history, historical accuracy, and key critical issues of the Old Testament in light of the latest findings and based on a thoroughly biblical worldview.

The attitudes and character traits of a Christian philosopher will be fostered by departmental activities, professional modeling, and teaching techniques. Skills necessary for the craft of philosophy will be developed by equipping the student to think critically, conduct high-level philosophical research, and interact with the broader philosophical community. The specialization is aimed at developing the ability to do philosophy in various ministry programs, such as parachurch and local church apologetics as well as preparing the student for further graduate work in fields such as philosophy, ethics, religious studies, law, political science, and theology. Collectively, graduates of our program should be providing visionary leadership, articulating a Christian worldview in various cultural contexts— at Christian colleges, in seminaries, and in parachurch ministries, for example— and should be penetrating the secular university and venues of popular culture, such as art, media, and music. Therefore, many graduates will qualify for admission to competitive doctoral programs in philosophy, ethics, religious studies, and other fields.

Philosophy Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, the student will achieve the following learning outcomes (in addition to the core M.A. learning outcomes):

1. Graduates will be able to explain the importance of sustaining a vibrant intellectual life as part of an ongoing commitment to following Christ.
2. Graduates will be able to summarize and critique, in written form, professional philosophical literature published in specialized philosophical journals and with academic presses, and will be able to relate the material in professional philosophical literature to various aspects of a Christian worldview, for use either in a professional academic setting, in the local church, or through engagement with popular culture.

These learning outcomes will be measured through the evaluation of a portfolio submitted by each student during the semester after which he or she will graduate from the M.A. Philosophy specialization. Details of the portfolio and how it will be evaluated can be found in the Talbot Philosophy Department office and will be sent to students during their first semester enrolled in the program.

Advanced Standing and Transfer Guidelines for Philosophy Specialization
Students with satisfactory undergraduate parallel content in philosophy will be considered for advanced standing. All requests for advanced standing are subject to departmental approval on a case by case basis. Students seeking course reduction must have earned at least a ‘B’ grade.

Students may only transfer courses that are parallel in content and taken from accredited graduate schools and seminaries. Request for transfer of courses should be submitted to the Office of the Registrar with prior approval from the department. Students must complete in residence a minimum of 24 credits in the Philosophy specialization.

Master of Arts (Spiritual Formation)

Director: Alan Hultberg, Ph.D.

Mission
The mission of the Master of Arts is to produce biblically, theologically, and spiritually discerning Christian thinkers who can serve the body of Christ in lay, parachurch or academic ministries. The Master of Arts program provides both a general biblical, theological, and spiritual foundation for reflection and a specialized focus on a discipline crucial to fulfilling Talbot’s mission and from which students can serve or go on for advanced study. These disciplines include Bible Exposition, Biblical and Theological Studies/Diversified, Biblical and Theological Studies in the Eurasian Context (Kyiv extension only), New Testament, Old Testament, Philosophy, Spiritual Formation, and Theology.

This specialization is designed as a personal growth and academic degree. It is an intensive, integrative program within the Institute for Spiritual Formation at Talbot School of Theology, designed to equip men and women for the ministry of discipleship and spiritual formation in general, in the local church, and for further academic training in spiritual formation. The program is designed entirely around promoting growth in the believer’s inner life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and developed knowledge-base in the Word.

Because the program is experiential and theoretical in nature with respect to spiritual growth and the dynamic processes involved, the M.A. specialization in Spiritual Formation draws upon an interdisciplinary faculty from both Talbot and Rosemead School of Psychology.
It includes both in-depth theoretical and integrative coursework, employing the creation disciplines such as theology, philosophy, psychology and education as well as experiential-relational soul work in classes and co-curricular requirements to aid in understanding the spiritual life mentoring.

Note also that this more academic M.A. with a specialization in Spiritual Formation is to be distinguished from the more professional M.A. in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care, the latter being fashioned more along the lines of an Apprentice Training Model which includes training, supervision and service components in spiritual direction and mentoring.

4. Perform and report research in their respective disciplines at a level sufficient to begin a doctoral program (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Spiritual Formation Specialization Learning Outcomes

As a result of this program, students will:

1. Develop the PLOs having to do with biblical integration (#1) and spiritual formation (#3) to a higher level of mastery.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Applicants must possess a Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale). Additionally, applicants should have completed an accredited course in Old Testament survey and in New Testament survey prior to matriculation. If the prerequisite courses are not completed prior to matriculation, the student is required to take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520 as elective credits during their program.

All applicants must submit a written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the degree might relate to those objectives.

For special admissions deadlines and requirements involved in the Spiritual Formation specialization, contact Graduate Admissions. Due to the limited enrollment in this specialization, all applicants will be personally interviewed.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 49 credits as outlined in the curriculum requirements below. The rate of progress for many students is 12–13 credits per semester, allowing the program to be completed in two years.
2. Students without previous courses in Old Testament Survey and New Testament Survey must take TTBE 519 and TTBE 520, which are not for credit unless taken in place of elective credits.
3. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
4. Submit an acceptable capstone project, as determined by the department of specialization.
5. At least 24 of the total credits required for the degree program must be completed in residency at Biola. Advanced Standing, Reduction and transfer credit are not considered residency credits.
6. Obtain a 3.0 average with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
7. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.
8. Meet with a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section.)

Specialization Requirements

Program Structure

The academic programs leading to the degree Master of Arts with a specialization in Spiritual Formation is comprised of 49 credits, including:

1. Biblical and theological foundations.
2. Spiritual Formation Focus (SFF).
3. Academic specialization in one of four disciplines requiring biblical language studies, or general studies in which biblical languages are not required.
4. Additional elective courses determined by the student in consultation with the advisor.

Advanced Standing

Applicants who have taken undergraduate courses in biblical or theological studies may request advanced standing based on collegiate work. See Talbot Admissions Requirements for details. Note: If master’s level courses are given advanced standing based on undergraduate coursework, some Ph.D. programs may require additional graduate courses in order to meet doctoral program requirements.

Christian Apologetics, M.A.

Mission

The Master of Arts - Christian Apologetics degree is designed for individuals who desire academic and practical preparation for proclaiming and defending the historic doctrines of the Christian faith. Students are prepared to articulate a Christian worldview reverently, with intelligence, confidence and compassion. The program fosters personal spiritual growth and maturity through guided study of the Scriptures and theology, mutual encouragement in the Christian life and intellectual rigor.

Program Description

The program incorporates knowledge and perspective from many academic disciplines and provides stimulating graduate education for those who wish to engage unbelievers effectively in the world of ideas. The curriculum is accessible to students who may have little or no formal academic training in biblical studies, theology or philosophy.

Many of the courses in this program are available in a distance learning format that combines short-term campus visits with distance learning. The distance learning program is designed to make the Christian Apologetics degree available to students who cannot relocate to Southern California for the regular residential program. Alternative scheduling is often employed for enhanced instructional effectiveness.

Some courses taken via distance learning have special materials fees. CSAP 521 (http://catalog.biola.edu/search/?P=CSAP%20521/) MD, CSAP 522 (http://catalog.biola.edu/search/?P=CSAP%20522/) MD, and CSAP 550 (http://catalog.biola.edu/search/?P=CSAP%20550/) MD have materials fees of $45. CSAP 601 MD, CSAP 602 MD, and CSAP 603MD have materials fees of $125. CSAP 699 has a course fee of $200.

Independent Study Courses

Independent study courses offer lectures from audio recordings and additional study materials by outstanding theologians, apologists and biblical scholars. On-campus Master of Arts – Christian Apologetics students are limited to 6 independent study credits in their degree program while distance learning students are limited to 12 credits.

This program offers distance learning courses. Courses, seminars, conferences, and related learning experiences generally are scheduled in the evening and on the weekends for the convenience of working adults. Courses are usually seven weeks in length with classes meeting once per week in the evening. Alternative scheduling often is employed for enhanced instructional effectiveness.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Arts – Christian Apologetics, students will be able to:

1. Build an intellectual framework to demonstrate students’ understanding of the faith and formulate responses to future challenges (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate Christ-like character, so as to offer an effective defense of the gospel (ULO 2).
3. Argue effectively to correct misconceptions about historic Christianity; answer the perennial problems that are offered to discredit Christianity intellectually; and make the case proactively that it is reasonable to put one’s faith in Christ (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

- Students must have completed all bachelor’s requirements with a grade point average (GPA) equivalent to a “B” or higher in all undergraduate study prior to the start of the program and must have a bachelor’s degree conferred from a regionally accredited institution prior to the start of the second term.
- One pastoral and at least one character reference.
- Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended. Transcripts must be official, that is, mailed directly from your previous colleges and/or universities attended.

Note: Official documents for admission or evaluation become part of the student’s academic file and normally cannot be returned or copied for distribution.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 39 semester credits as outlined in the curriculum below.
2. Maintain a 2.5 average with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation. Students are placed on academic probation if their grade point average for any semester falls below 2.5 and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative grade point average remains below 2.5. Probation students are granted one semester in which to bring their academic work up to the required level (2.5) for continuance in the program. A student cannot graduate while on probation.
3. Complete a minimum of 24 credits in the degree program at Biola University. Up to 15 credits of graduate work may be transferred into the program for courses deemed comparable. Core courses may be waived on the basis of two comparable undergraduate courses, with grades of ‘B’ or better in both courses. All degree components, except for CSAP 699, must be completed as graded courses. Students taking courses in the distance-learning format are expected to participate in our on-campus summer lectures for two weeks in June/July.
4. Complete the entire program in no more than seven years.
5. Meet with department advisor and Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25)section.)

Marriage and Family Therapy, M.A.

Mission

The mission of the Master of Arts – Marriage and Family Therapy degree program is to produce marriage and family therapists who can integrate the science and practice of family therapy with Christian theology. Students are equipped with a strong biblical foundation to promote the biopsychosocial, spiritual, and relational well-being of individuals, couples, and families in diverse communities. Students are trained to be ethically and culturally competent. The program accomplishes this mission by embracing a scholar/practitioner model that blends Christian theology and systemic family therapy training with research and clinical practices.

Program Description

The Master of Arts – Marriage and Family Therapy is designed to provide graduate coursework to those seeking to work with individuals, couples and families as a licensed marriage and family therapist. The program integrates Christian theology and professional practice in Marriage and Family Therapy, and emphasizes the development of research-supported counseling skills while encouraging students to grow in relational and spiritual maturity. This program equips students to biblically engage in cultural humility, treat others with dignity, respect, and empathy, and to develop an understanding of different cultural contexts and issues presented in clinical practice. Completion of the MFT program will allow students to pursue licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist in the State of California. Licensure requirements change from time to time, and differ from state to state. Applicants, pursuing licensure outside of California, should become familiar with the requirements in the state they wish to practice.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Science and Religion, M.A.

Mission

The Master of Arts – Science and Religion degree is designed to provide individuals with the essential background in theology, history and philosophy necessary to integrate evangelical Christianity with modern science.

Program Description

The curriculum is designed for students who already have some background in the sciences; consequently the course work emphasizes the critical tools from other disciplines that are necessary for providing the proper context and foundation for understanding and working comfortably with issues that relate to both Christianity and the sciences. Special seminars focus on current theological issues within specific scientific disciplines so that students will understand the contemporary dynamic and learn to integrate their thinking in a mentored setting. The program fosters in students a mature and informed Christian worldview from which to serve the Lord and to relate to secular colleagues in the sciences.

This program is available in a format that combines distance learning and on-campus learning in an academically robust manner. This is a proven method of education that is designed to make the Master of Arts – Science and Religion available to students who cannot relocate to Southern California for course work. Some short-term campus visits are required during the summer, offering the opportunity to interact with faculty, fellow students and preeminent guest scholars and lecturers. Courses are usually seven weeks in length with some on campus classes meeting once per week in the evening. Alternative scheduling is often employed for enhanced instructional effectiveness. Some courses taken via distance learning have special materials fees. CSSR 514 MD, CSSR 519 MD, and CSSR 520 MD have materials fees of $45.

Independent Study Courses

Independent study courses offer lectures from audio recordings and additional study materials by outstanding theologians, scientists, apologists, and biblical scholars. Science and Religion students are limited to 12 independent study credits in their degree program.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Master of Arts – Science and Religion, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an intellectual foundation in the historical, philosophical and theological issues that are relevant to the natural sciences, particularly where these disciplines interface with religious topics (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate communication skills for presenting arguments in a winsome and gracious manner (ULO 2).
3. Identify a discipline-specific topic from the natural sciences and articulate how it interfaces with religion (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (http://catalog.biola.edu/archives/2017-2018/general-information/) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Applicants must have completed all bachelor’s requirements, with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale, prior to the start of the program and must have a bachelor’s degree conferred from a regionally accredited institution prior to the start of the second term.

This degree should normally be in a natural science (physics, chemistry, biology or related field), engineering, mathematics, computer science; or in anthropology, psychology or related fields. Students with a baccalaureate in any field will be considered if their career or ministry path involves a strong scientific interest (e.g., science journalism, campus ministry).

Applicants must submit a brief written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the degree might relate to those objectives.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete 39 semester credits as outlined in the curriculum below.
2. Maintain a 2.5 average with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
3. Students are placed on academic probation if their grade point average for any semester falls below 2.5 and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative grade point average remains below 2.5. Probation students are granted one semester in which to bring their academic work up to the required level (2.5) for continuance in the program. A student cannot graduate while on probation.
4. Complete a minimum of 24 credits in the degree program at Biola University.
5. All degree components must be completed as graded courses. Students taking courses in the distance learning format are expected to participate in our on-campus summer lectures for two weeks in June.
6. Up to 15 credits of graduate credits may be transferred into the program for classes deemed comparable. Core classes may be waived on the basis of two comparable undergraduate courses, with grades of ‘B’ or better in both classes.
7. Complete the entire program in no more than seven years.
8. Meet with department academic advisor and Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements section).

Doctor of Ministry

Mission

The DMin program is designed to equip ministry leaders for a high level of excellence in the practice of ministry. The goal of this track will be to offer a three-year cycle of advanced training for pastors and shepherds who will (1) understand the nature and process of spiritual theology and growth, (2) Enter deeply into their own process of spiritual growth, and (3) Grow in assisting others in understanding and participating in the process of spiritual growth through ministries of preaching, teaching, discipleship, and leading various small groups.

Program Description

The Doctor of Ministry degree is the highest professional degree for pastoral and ministry leaders. Talbot’s Doctor of Ministry program is designed to help ministry practitioners make their maximum impact in ministry. Our goal is to help leaders develop the skills necessary to accomplish God’s unique agenda for their lives and ministry.

The Doctor of Ministry program is designed to equip leaders of various Christian ministries for a high level of excellence in the practice of ministry. We offer an expanding number of specializations that utilize a cohort-based faculty-mentor led model of education. Students meet for intensive two-week residencies every year for three years, and complete major projects between residencies. A doctoral project is required.

Students have twelve semesters to complete all program requirements including the doctoral project.

The Doctor of Ministry is offered with the following specializations:

- Advanced Biblical Preaching (p. 606)
- Advancing the Church (p. 607)
- Asian-American Ministry (p. 608)
- Discipleship for the 21st Century (p. 609)
- Effective Congregational Care (p. 610)
- Engaging Mind and Culture (p. 610)
- Executive Pastor Leadership (p. 611)
- Growing and Multiplying Churches in North America (p. 612)
- Heart, Mind, and Soul (p. 613)
- Innovations in African American Leadership (p. 614)
- Ministry Skills (p. 615)
- Multi-Ethnic Church Ministry (p. 616)
- Preaching the Literary Forms of the Bible (p. 616)
- Spiritual Formation and Soul Care (p. 617)

Talbot’s program is designed for people currently engaged in full-time ministry and builds upon the Master of Divinity degree.

The distinctives of Talbot’s Doctor of Ministry program are as follows:

- Specialty-focused. In order to help students maximize their particular ministries, Talbot offers a growing number of specializations.
- Cohort-based. Students participate in an academic pilgrimage with classmates who share their particular ministry passion (cohort).
- Faculty-Mentor-led. Each cohort is led by a Talbot or Biola faculty member who is recognized as an expert in his or her field of ministry and who wants to share his or her life and insights. They walk with the cohort through every residency and guide the students’ doctoral projects. Learning occurs within the context of relationship.
- Practitioner-sensitive. Assignments are integrated into the students’ life and ministry.
- Spiritual Formation-oriented. With the assistance of Talbot’s Institute for Spiritual Formation, we help students in the areas of spiritual growth and soul care. We help students develop the mind and spiritual character necessary for effective ministry.

D.Min. Program Timeline

Year One Residency

- Pre-Residency Coursework (complete reading and assignments)
- Two-Week On-Campus Residency
- Spiritual Formation Module during the first weekend of the first residency.
- Post Residency Project

Year Two Residency

- Pre-Residency Coursework (complete reading and assignments)
- Two-Week On-Campus Residency
- Post Residency Project
Year Three Residency
- Pre-Residency Coursework (complete reading and assignments)
- Two-Week On-Campus Residency
- Post Residency Project

Year Four Doctoral Project (with optional years five and six)
- Submit an acceptable doctoral project proposal
- Write a doctoral project
- Present the doctoral project and be evaluated
- Submit final acceptable copy of approved doctoral project

D.Min. Program Components
Part I. Residency Phase (3 years)
Pre-Residency Preparation (3 Times)
The semester before each residency, extensive reading and preparation are assigned by the faculty-mentor. Participants should plan to devote at least one day per week to their coursework in preparation for the residency.

Residency (3 Times)
Each year’s two-week residency consists of ten days of classroom instruction and discussion. The courses are designed sequentially for the participant to acquire increasing competency in the selected area of concentration, both in terms of conceptual understanding and praxis. A principle focus of each residency is the participant’s own preparation.

Post-Residency Projects (3 Times)
Following each of the residencies, students will complete a project in their place of ministry that relates to the coursework covered in the residency. This is known as a ‘post-residency project.’ During the residency, the faculty-mentor will inform the student about expectations for content, necessary components, matters of form and deadlines. Post-residency projects are completed during the semester following each residency.

Part II. Doctoral Project Phase (1–3 years)
Doctoral Project and Presentation (1 Time)
The doctoral project is the capstone project of the program. It is the culmination of previous learning in the program and a demonstration of the student’s ability to conduct doctoral level writing and research in the area of specialization. In addition to the faculty-mentor, the participant will be assigned a second reader. With the faculty-mentor playing a lead role, these two faculty members form the doctoral project committee and guide the participant through the project, approving each aspect from the initial proposal through to the final draft. Doctoral project proposals will only be accepted from those students who have maintained a cumulative 3.0 GPA. The final requirements for degree completion are the participant’s successful presentation of the completed doctoral project in an oral presentation to the doctoral project committee, and the presentation of acceptable final manuscripts. Fee: $500 per semester. Credit(s): 0.

Extension of Program
Students are granted twelve semesters to complete the Doctor of Ministry Program. Extensions are not encouraged. Students who have completed the doctoral project classes (TTMN 880, TTMN 881, TTMN 882, TTMN 883, TTMN 884, and TTMN 885) but have not completed an acceptable doctoral project, may apply for an extension. The student must complete the Doctor of Ministry Application for Extension. On the application form, the student must demonstrate that steady progress has already been made and furnish a compelling reason why additional time is needed. Furthermore, the student must describe an action plan with a proposed timeline detailing how he/she will complete the project within the extra time requested. On the application form, the D.Min. office must affirm that there is a reasonable expectation that the student will finish on time if an extension is granted. Applications are reviewed and extensions are granted at the discretion of the Dean of Academic Records. Extensions are granted one year at a time. Fee: $750 per semester. Credit(s): 0.

Ministry, D.Min. (Advanced Biblical Preaching)

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Doctor of Ministry, students will be able to:

1. Integrate theological reflection with knowledge about the practice of ministry to assess the suitability of various solutions to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
2. Utilize library resources and appropriate social science research to develop a research-based solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
3. Implement a reasonable solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
4. Demonstrate Christian virtues and spiritual maturity in academic work (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
Admission Requirements
Students applying for the D.Min. degree must have completed the M.Div. degree or its educational equivalent with at least a 3.0 GPA from an accredited school, followed by at least three years of ministry experience, and be currently involved in a ministry. Applicants are encouraged to apply for admission as early as possible.

Admission of Non-Native English-Speaking Students
It is essential that non-native English speaking students be able to understand directions and lectures in English and be able to express their thoughts clearly in spoken and written English. The D.Min. department will determine English proficiency on a case by case basis, but will consistently look for at least one of the following criteria to be met:

1. A TOEFL score of at least 600 PBT, 250 CBT, 100 IBT, or IELTS score of 7.5.
2. An appropriate master’s degree, from an accredited school, in an English-speaking program, with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.
3. Completion of the Biola English Language Program (ELP) with passing status on the ELP’s final exit exam, which must be approved by the English Language Program Director in collaboration with the academic program committee. An updated TOEFL or IELTS score may be used at the end of a term to test directly into the graduate program for the following term.
The D.Min. program reserves the right to accept a student on a probationary basis if English language proficiency is in doubt, even if the applicant can demonstrate adequate satisfaction of either criteria mentioned above.

Some specializations may be available in other languages besides English. In these specializations, the English proficiency requirement may be waived.

Graduation Requirements
1. Complete the six courses required for their chosen specialization.
2. Achieve a 3.0 cumulative grade point average.
3. Submit an acceptable doctoral project. All D.Min. students are required to complete a doctoral project.
4. Complete all program requirements within twelve semesters.
5. Adhere to the academic standards of Talbot School of Theology.
6. Submit graduation forms to the Doctor of Ministry office a semester before intended graduation.

Ministry, D.Min. (Effective Congregational Care)

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the Doctor of Ministry, students will be able to:

1. Integrate theological reflection with knowledge about the practice of ministry to assess the suitability of various solutions to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
2. Utilize library resources and appropriate social science research to develop a research-based solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
3. Implement a reasonable solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
4. Demonstrate Christian virtues and spiritual maturity in academic work (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements

Admission Requirements

Students applying for the D.Min. degree must have completed the M.Div. degree or its educational equivalent with at least a 3.0 GPA from an accredited school, followed by at least three years of ministry experience, and be currently involved in a ministry. Applicants are encouraged to apply for admission as early as possible.

Admission of Non-Native English-Speaking Students

It is essential that non-native English speaking students be able to understand directions and lectures in English and be able to express their thoughts clearly in spoken and written English. The D.Min. department will determine English proficiency on a case by case basis, but will consistently look for at least one of the following criteria to be met:

1. A TOEFL score of at least 600 PBT, 250 CBT, 100 IBT, or IELTS score of 7.5.
2. An appropriate master’s degree, from an accredited school, in an English-speaking program, with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.
3. Completion of the Biola English Language Program (ELP) with passing status on the ELP’s final exit exam, which must be approved by the English Language Program Director in collaboration with the academic program committee. An updated TOEFL or IELTS score may be used at the end of a term to test directly into the graduate program for the following term.

The D.Min. program reserves the right to accept a student on a probationary basis if English language proficiency is in doubt, even if the applicant can demonstrate adequate satisfaction of either criteria mentioned above.

Graduation Requirements

1. Complete the six courses required for their chosen specialization.
2. Achieve a 3.0 cumulative grade point average.
3. Submit an acceptable doctoral project. All D.Min. students are required to complete a doctoral project.
4. Complete all program requirements within twelve semesters.

6. Submit graduation forms to the Doctor of Ministry office a semester before intended graduation.

Curriculum Requirements
Registration for TTMN 882, TTMN 883, TTMN 884, and TTMN 885 are not necessary if the student submits the doctoral project at the end of year four. Visas for international doctoral students are valid for four years.

Ministry, D.Min. (Multi-Ethnic Church Ministry)

Learning Outcomes
Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the Doctor of Ministry, students will be able to:

1. Integrate theological reflection with knowledge about the practice of ministry to assess the suitability of various solutions to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
2. Utilize library resources and appropriate social science research to develop a research-based solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
3. Implement a reasonable solution to a ministry problem (ULO 3).
4. Demonstrate Christian virtues and spiritual maturity in academic work (ULO 2).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Requirements
Admission Requirements
Students applying for the D.Min. degree must have completed the M.Div. degree or its educational equivalent with at least a 3.0 GPA from an accredited school, followed by at least three years of ministry experience, and be currently involved in a ministry. Applicants are encouraged to apply for admission as early as possible.

Admission of Non-Native English-Speaking Students
It is essential that non-native English speaking students be able to understand directions and lectures in English and be able to express their thoughts clearly in spoken and written English. The D.Min. department will determine English proficiency on a case by case basis, but will consistently look for at least one of the following criteria to be met:

1. A TOEFL score of at least 600 PBT, 250 CBT, 100 IBT, or IELTS score of 7.5.
2. An appropriate master’s degree, from an accredited school, in an English-speaking program, with a cumulative GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.
3. Completion of the Biola English Language Program (ELP) with passing status on the ELP’s final exit exam, which must be approved by the English Language Program Director in collaboration with the academic program committee. An updated TOEFL or IELTS score may be used at the end of a term to test directly into the graduate program for the following term.

The D.Min. program reserves the right to accept a student on a probationary basis if English language proficiency is in doubt, even if the applicant can demonstrate adequate satisfaction of either criteria mentioned above.

Some specializations may be available in other languages besides English. In these specializations, the English proficiency requirement may be waived.

Graduation Requirements
1. Complete the six courses required for their chosen specialization.
2. Achieve a 3.0 cumulative grade point average.
3. Submit an acceptable doctoral project. All D.Min. students are required to complete a doctoral project.
4. Complete all program requirements within twelve semesters.
5. Adhere to the academic standards of Talbot School of Theology.
6. Submit graduation forms to the Doctor of Ministry office a semester before intended graduation.

Educational Studies, Ph.D. and Ed.D. Mission
Talbot School of Theology of Biola University offers graduate work leading to the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) and the Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) degrees in Educational Studies. Talbot’s doctoral programs are accredited by the Association of Theological Schools and the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The doctoral degree, established in 1984, is offered within the Department of Christian Ministry and Leadership at Talbot School of Theology.

The doctoral course of study is designed for men and women to enhance their leadership roles in a variety of theologically-oriented educational contexts within God’s Kingdom — Christian higher education, the local church and parachurch organizations throughout the world.

Students come to the programs already having completed a graduate degree and significant experience in the field of education related contexts. In general, doctoral students are established within a particular educational setting and return following completion of the program.

A few students are in transition in their career path. The curriculum particularly encourages conceptual thinking, integrative synthesis of Scripture and social science data, and original empirical research. Courses typically follow a graduate seminar format requiring student initiative for significant participation in class discussion. Small class sizes of 5–12 students permit such a dialogical format, an important element for promoting critical and integrative thinking.

The mission of the doctoral programs in educational studies (Ph.D. and Ed.D.) of Talbot School of Theology, Biola University, is to mentor men and women with evident gifts of leadership and teaching in mind and character, within a Christian community of scholars and practitioners, to make contributions, from a distinctly Christian perspective, in scholarship for and in the practice of Christian educational studies within God’s Kingdom — as faculty and administrators in educational institutions, as leaders in parachurch organizations, and as pastoral staff in local churches, throughout the world — in order to nurture spiritual vitality, growth, and maturity.

Distinctives
An important component of the Talbot doctoral program is the integrative synthesis of social science data within a Christian worldview perspective. Since both education and theology address the human condition, the doctoral faculty believe there is a great deal to be gained... by an interdisciplinary study of biblical and theological knowledge, philosophical issues, human development, the teaching-learning process, and issues of leadership. Consequently, students are expected to come to the program with a sufficient background of theological training. (A minimum of 18 graduate credits of Bible and theology is required. For those lacking these prerequisites, distance learning courses are available from Talbot School of Theology. Contact the Graduate Admissions office for further information.)

Degrees Offered

Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Education

The Ph.D. and the Ed.D. programs generally share a common foundation of required program courses. Students selecting Talbot's Ph.D. in Educational Studies degree are interested in combining educational leadership and teaching with a strong emphasis in developing a competency in empirical research and the contribution of theory in the practice of education-related studies. Research training in the Ph.D. program is primarily empirical with some opportunity for conceptual research as well.

Those choosing Talbot's Ed.D. in Educational Studies are generally focused on improving their educational leadership and teaching in their practice within education-related contexts, while also developing knowledge and skills of literature and empirical research.

Cohort Approach and Elective Emphases from Faculty Expertise

New groups of students begin the program every year in the Fall semester. Students work through the program courses together, with some choice of elective options to fit their study interests.

Our doctoral faculty offer elective courses within two general emphases: “Educational Foundations and Christian Formation,” and “Christian Higher Education.” Some electives apply to both emphases. Students can include within their Program Course Plan courses from either or both emphases, based on availability as published in the projected course schedule. Contact the Ph.D. and Ed.D. Doctoral office for more information on the current schedule.

Course Design for Distance Students

The coursework phase and candidacy exam can be completed within four years for Ph.D., and three years for Ed.D. program. Designed for those living at a distance and who may be working full-time, program required courses are taught as one-week intensives on campus in early November (Fall semester) and in early March (Spring semester) that include both pre-intensive and post-intensive video conferences, readings, and assignments.

Elective courses in the fall and spring semesters are also offered as one-week intensives that provide face-to-face instruction and interaction (the week following the required intensive, permitting one trip to campus per semester). A few electives are available as online courses or as weekly online seminars.

All applicants must have reliable access to the Internet with sufficient bandwidth to transmit and receive both visual image and audio on a computer permitting regular participation in periodic, three-hour long doctoral online seminars that include frequent class discussion. Please contact the Ph.D. and Ed.D. Doctoral office for a web link to test Internet and computer capabilities.

Hybrid Distance Format Option

For those who cannot locally access a doctoral program in educational studies with Christian perspectives, we offer both of our Ph.D. and Ed.D. doctoral programs in an accessible format. The use of a hybrid distance format makes it possible for students to remain in their current locale and to continue engagement within their current institution or organization while completing their Ph.D. or Ed.D. in Educational Studies.

Ph.D. ‘Current Faculty Track’ The hybrid distance Ph.D. program is open only to full-time or regular adjunct faculty and leadership in Christian higher education. It serves the needs of leaders and faculty called to serve within the broad fields of education-related studies who cannot relocate to pursue a doctoral program. Local church and parachurch staff can qualify for this hybrid distance Ph.D. by securing an annual part-time adjunct teaching appointment from an accredited college or seminary, teaching at least one course each year during doctoral studies. This teaching practice provides an important opportunity for becoming familiar with the context of Christian higher education, particularly for those desiring to seek a full-time faculty or leadership position following graduation.

Partnership with Your School: The application materials provide a full description of the support needed from your school to help you complete your studies (e.g., a doctoral mentor, and potential reduction of workload during the coursework and dissertation phases).

Ed.D. The hybrid distance Ed.D. program is open to any person who meets the regular qualifications for admission and is currently involved in leadership or teaching in higher education, or leadership within a local church or parachurch organization. This allows them to pursue doctoral studies without having to relocate to do so.

Application for Admission

Contact the Graduate Admissions office at Biola University for a more detailed brochure and application materials. Be sure to ask for informational materials regarding the hybrid distance program.

Graduation Requirements

Ph.D. – While the doctorate is not awarded simply for completion of stated coursework, the Ph.D. degree requires 45-semester credits including 21 credits of program courses (including the Candidacy Examination Capstone course, 3 credits), 24 credits of electives, and Dissertation.

Ed.D. – The Ed.D. degree requires 36-semester credits including 21 credits of program courses (including the Candidacy Examination Capstone course, 3 credits), 15 credits of electives, and Dissertation.

For both programs, the Program Director serves as the academic advisor and will assist students to develop a Program Course Plan consisting of a schedule of program and elective courses. Once approved, this schedule serves as the projected course of study. A copy of the Program Course Plan is placed in the student’s file. Modifications must have prior approval.

All dissertation students must contact a Graduate Graduation Counselor in the Office of the Registrar one year prior to graduation to declare their intent to graduate. (See Graduate Graduation Check description in the Admission, Enrollment and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section).
Candidacy Examination

During the final semester of coursework, the student enrolls in and completes the TTDE 8950 Candidacy Exam Capstone course before requesting advancement to begin dissertation studies in the following semester. The Ph.D. and Ed.D. programs use a portfolio process for the Candidacy Exam. The Candidacy Examination Portfolio (CEP) provides the opportunity to evaluate the student’s attainment of program learning outcomes. Detailed information about the CEP is available from the Ph.D. and Ed.D. Doctoral Office.

Advancement to Candidacy

Official candidacy for the doctorate signifies an advanced stage in the student’s progress and is characterized by self-directed research in the completion of a dissertation under the direction of a faculty dissertation Chair. The following criteria must be met by each doctoral student at the completion of the coursework phase of doctoral studies to be awarded Candidacy Status by the Doctoral Program Committee. Then, the doctoral student is eligible to begin dissertation studies. For students not meeting these criteria, the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student may be subject for dismissal from the doctoral program.

1. Successfully completed all Candidacy Exam Portfolio items in a timely manner.
2. Successfully completed the necessary courses and number of credits for the particular degree program.
3. Has attained a GPA of 3.25 for all coursework completed for the doctoral degree.
4. Has established evidence of Christian life and character during his or her course of studies.

Dissertation

After passing the TTDE 8950 Candidacy Examination Capstone course and being awarded Candidacy Status, the dissertation student will be approved to enroll in TTDE 8960 (3 credits) for up to five semesters with full-time status. A student must be enrolled during the semester of graduation. Students who require more time must receive approval to enroll in TTDE 8970 (3 credits). If needed, enrollment in TTDE 8970 does not constitute full-time status. Doctoral students must submit a dissertation evidencing high attainment in scholarship. Detailed information may be found in the Dissertation Guidelines Handbook.

Final Dissertation Defense and Graduation

The final examination is an oral defense of the dissertation before the student’s dissertation committee and other invited guests. Detailed information regarding the defense and final submission deadlines for graduation may be found in The Dissertation Guidelines Handbook.

All students must:

1. Present an acceptable dissertation,
2. Satisfactorily pass their candidacy examinations, and
3. Complete all coursework with a minimum 3.25 GPA to qualify for graduation.

Beyond completion of academic requirements,

1. Doctoral Program faculty must also recommend that the student is eligible for conferral of the degree on the basis of evidence of Christian life and character established during his or her course of studies, and
2. All financial obligations must be settled.

Attendance at commencement ceremonies is required when the degree is granted unless approval has been received from the Dean to graduate in absentia (see the Doctoral Program Handbook for further details).

Admission Requirements

The doctoral program seeks to admit applicants whose background clearly demonstrate scholarly aptitude, a commitment to the historic Christian faith and theological tradition, personal character and integrity, a service-oriented motivation toward endeavors of leadership and teaching and a deepening relationship with God. Biola University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, ethnic group identification, gender, age or physical disability.

Persons interested in enrolling should request the doctoral application form (the same form for both degree programs) from the Graduate Admissions office at Biola University. As in many graduate programs, enrollment is limited. In order to be admitted to full graduate standing, the applicant must comply with the following:

1. Have completed at least three years of focused, full-time paid work experience within an education-related context with evidence of leadership gifts and abilities.
2. Have earned an accredited Master’s degree with an emphasis in two areas of graduate study (a) 18 credits of graduate Bible and theology and (b) sufficient study in education-related areas (e.g., Philosophy or History or Christian Religious Education/Formation, Human Development or Educational Psychology, Educational Administration or Leadership, Counseling or Group Dynamics, Curriculum Design and/or Methods of Teaching. A minimum GPA of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale in all previous graduate work is required.

Applicants whose formal educational preparation does not include all of the required prerequisite coursework must make arrangements to satisfactorily complete them prior to beginning doctoral studies. See the Graduate Admissions Counselor for recommendations: (a) Graduate pre-requisite study in theology and Bible must be completed by coursework, which is available online through Talbot School of Theology. (b) Education-related graduate pre-requisite study may be completed by informal masters level independent readings courses, supervised by the Ph.D. and Ed.D. office.

3. Submit a completed online Talbot School of Theology doctoral application form and application fee. The form will provide a place to indicate the degree program for which application is being made, either the Ph.D. or Ed.D., and which format for completing the degree, either hybrid distance or residential format.

4. Test Scores: (a) For U.S. applicants, submit scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) (expected verbal score of 153 and analytic writing score of 4.5; the math score is not considered). Information regarding GRE testing dates and location may be obtained by writing to: Educational Testing Service Box 955, Princeton, New Jersey 08591, or online (http://www.ets.org/gre/), or call 1-800-473-2255 to register. (b) For international applicants for whom English is not a primary language, submit scores on the Test of English as a Foreign Language, Internet-based Test (TOEFL iBT). Preference in admission will be given to those with an overall score of at least 100 on the TOEFL iBT, with expected minimum scores for the four sections as follows: Writing (25), Reading (25), Speaking (25), Listening (25). The TOEFL iBT is available on-line through the Educational Testing Service. For more information, go to the TOEFL (http://www.toefl.org/) website. Students should consult the general Biola University guidelines (see the Admission of English Language Learners (p. 25) section as well as the Admissions of International Students section at the beginning of the Talbot catalog section. Since doctoral seminars involve regular student discussion, it is expected that international students have the requisite ability in listening to and speaking spoken English at a doctoral level so as to be contributing members of such discussions.

5. Present evidence of potential for original academic research at the doctoral level by submitting a sample of scholarly writing (with citations and bibliography), preferably related to education, of at least 10 pages, but not more than 20 pages.

6. Applicants may be asked to be interviewed by the program director or the Doctoral Program Committee as a requirement for admission.

Note: Official documents presented for admission or evaluation become part of the student’s academic file and normally cannot be returned or copied for distribution.

Application Deadlines
The application deadline for both Ph.D. and Ed.D. program degrees is January 31. A new cohort of students is admitted in the fall semester only.

Since enrollment for both degree programs is limited and admission is on a selective basis, applications should be made as early as possible. In particular, international students who need additional time to raise financial support for their studies should submit their applications well ahead of the January 31 deadline. Applications submitted after the deadline will usually be considered for the following year. Any financial scholarship award will be included in the notice of acceptance (see Talbot Ph.D./Ed.D. website [https://www.biola.edu/educational-studies/] for information about scholarships). Private sources of scholarships may also be found online (http://www.finaid.org/).

Admission of International Students and Resident Aliens
See Admission, Registration and Graduation Requirements (p. 25) section at the beginning of the catalog.

Special Study Status
Students actively enrolled in an accredited doctoral program in education may be eligible to take an elective course either for enrichment purposes or transfer credit. An abbreviated application for such purposes would include a completed short special sessions form, a letter from the Registrar of the school indicating good standing and a completed pastoral reference form.

Those wishing to explore the possibility of entering doctoral studies at Talbot, or who have already earned a doctoral degree and wish to pursue further study for personal enrichment, and who generally meet the doctoral admission requirements, may be able to enroll in one elective course as a special student. Contact the Graduate Admissions office at Biola University for more information.

General Academic Information

Classification of Students
Doctoral students meeting all entrance requirements will be classified as regular graduate students. All prerequisites must be satisfied before beginning doctoral study. Full-time study is defined as 6 credits per semester.

Research Competence
Specific research skills appropriate for proposed dissertation study are to be demonstrated. The Doctoral Program Committee will validate competence through review of examinations, completed research, or coursework. Appropriate research tools and methods include biblical languages, statistical analysis and qualitative research methodologies applicable to educational problems and issues. Deficiencies in research competence may result in additional program specialization components.

Grading System
Students wishing to obtain a doctoral degree must maintain a consistently high academic performance throughout their program. An overall grade point average of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale, is required. Only grades of ‘A,’ ‘B,’ ‘C’ earn graduate credit, although the course grade of ‘B’ or lower will trigger a review of the student’s qualification to remain in the program, as noted below under Academic Probation and Dismissal. Grades of all students are recorded in the Office of the Registrar.

Academic Probation and Dismissal
Cumulative Grade Point Average: A student failing to maintain the minimum GPA of 3.25 will be placed on academic probation. The following semester, should the student not meet the minimum cumulative GPA (3.25), the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student is subject to dismissal from the doctoral program. Students who receive one course grade of ‘B’ or lower will be reviewed by the Doctoral Program Committee and are subject to Academic Probation. For a second course grade of ‘B’ or lower, the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student is subject to dismissal from the doctoral program.

Dismissal
Candidacy Examination Portfolio — Revision of Items: When students do not successfully complete a course-related Candidacy Exam portfolio item during the coursework phase of doctoral study, they must then revise and successfully pass the item within the following semester. The student will be placed on Academic Probation until that item has been satisfactorily revised and passed within that following semester. If a student does not successfully complete the item within that time period, then the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student may be subject for dismissal from the doctoral program. Should any student receive a notice that a third course-related Candidacy Exam portfolio item was not successfully passed and must be revised, then at that time the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student may be subject for dismissal from the doctoral program.

Timely Progress
Timely Progress in the Coursework Phase: During the coursework phase, doctoral students must complete a minimum of 12 credits toward the doctoral degree per academic year, except for the final year of coursework study. Following a second year in which a student does not complete the required minimum of 12 credits per academic year, then the program committee will review the matter and the student may be subject for dismissal from the doctoral program.

Timely Progress in the Dissertation Phase: Students in the dissertation phase of doctoral studies must make timely progress toward the completion of a dissertation. Timely progress is made by achieving the relevant semester-by-semester milestone requirements related to the particular degree program as specified in the Program Handbook. If a Ph.D. student is not able to successfully defend his or her dissertation proposal by the fourth semester of dissertation studies, or an Ed.D. student is not able to successfully defend his or her dissertation proposal by the second semester of dissertation studies, then the Doctoral Program Committee will review the matter and the student may be subject for dismissal from the doctoral program.

Time Limit for Degrees
All course and academic requirements must be completed within seven years from the date of the student's first registration for graduate study in the doctoral program.

Failure to Register/Unofficial Withdrawal
Students who fail to register or pay the necessary portion of their tuition bill in any given semester without arranging for a leave of absence or formal withdrawal are dismissed from the program by default since official registration for that semester was never completed. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of course selection and registration procedures and deadlines, and program deadlines for paying tuition and fees.

Students who unofficially withdraw from the program and are later readmitted may be required to pay continuation fees for semesters during which they were not enrolled and are subject to doctoral program curriculum changes and graduation requirements implemented during their program inactivity.

Leave of Absence
Inactive students are those who have requested and been granted a Leave of Absence from the program. A Leave of Absence may be granted upon petition for change of status if there is deemed sufficient reason for interrupting the program and there is an intention to return to the program. A Leave of Absence longer than one semester will require withdrawal from the program and later a petition for readmission if the student wishes to regain active status. A Leave of Absence request must receive the approval of the Program Director and, if applicable, the final approval of the Doctoral Program Committee. Students on leave are required to register for TTDE 8891 (a 1-credit fee may be assessed).

Readmission
A person who has withdrawn or been dismissed from the doctoral program may request and file a reapplication to the program one-time, following a minimum of six months after termination. The reapplication should include the following items: a cover letter, a short application form, at least two current references, and any desired supporting materials. The letter should be addressed to the Doctoral Program Committee, stating the reasons for requesting re-admittance as well as any other issues deemed relevant by the applicant. The letter should directly address the causes for dismissal, and present a realistic plan and time schedule for completion of the program, should readmission be granted. The application will be considered with the regular admissions pool of applicants.

Curriculum
The curriculum of the doctoral program is organized into two parts: a series of common required program courses taken by all students and elective courses from which the student will select those appropriate for a program of study. Doctoral courses are numbered in the 8000 series.

Course numbering
Elective Courses: (8100 - 8700 series). Elective courses are offered within two general emphases, based on faculty expertise. Some electives may apply to both emphases.

Educational Foundations and Christian Formation: (8100 - 8200, and 8500 series).

Candidacy Examination
The Ph.D. and Ed.D. programs use a portfolio process for the Candidacy Exam. See the current Candidacy Exam Portfolio Instructions for a detailed explanation. The final part of the Candidacy Exam consists of successfully completing the following required program course during the final semester of coursework studies: TTDE 8950 Candidacy Exam Capstone.

Dissertation
Dissertation Chairs are available to supervise dissertations during the regular Fall and Spring terms only. See the current Dissertation Guidelines for a detailed explanation.

Full-time Status for Government Loans and International Students
Students with government loans or with international student visas must maintain full-time student status each Fall and Spring semester while enrolled in doctoral studies (minimum 6 credits per Fall and Spring semesters). The following course and dissertation registrations count as full-time student status without needing to reach the 6-credit level.

Coursework students enrolled in TTDE 8950 Candidacy Exam Capstone are considered full-time students for that semester only.

Dissertation students are given full-time status for up to five semesters of TTDE 8960.

F-1 Visa international doctoral students must physically come to campus each required fall and spring term for some period of time within that term (i.e. “physical seat-time”) to comply with U.S. immigration regulations. This requirement is usually satisfied during the first five semesters of coursework study, since each required course involves a one-week intensive on campus. For the following semesters of coursework, if an elective course does not require a one-week intensive on campus, then the student must travel to campus during the regularly required intensive week each fall and spring, until the coursework phase is completed.

1. May be taken with different content as a BBST elective for a maximum of 6 credits counted toward the certificate.

Minimum Institutional Requirement

Of the 30 credits of Bible required for the 30-credit Bible and Theology Certificate, 15 credits must be taken from Biola. Students may petition the Office of the Registrar for an exception to this rule. Transfer credit, credit for prior learning or credit by examination may not be used to fulfill the minimum institutional requirement.

Bible Certificate – Undergraduate

Mission

The 18-credit Bible Certificate program is intended to make the curriculum of Biola’s 30 credits of core undergraduate Bible courses — a.k.a. Biola’s Bible Minor — available to students who have not (yet) matriculated into any of Biola’s bachelor degree programs. The mission for Biola’s Biblical and Theological Studies Minor is to teach Christian undergraduate students to view all of God’s world through the perspective of God’s Word, the Bible. This biblical worldview involves understanding and applying the Bible as the foundation of the Christian faith, values, and virtues — both historically and presently. The goal is that students will lead lives of integrity and will engage the world of ideas, their vocations, their local church communities, and their society as responsible citizens, being faithful stewards of God’s gifts to them and, empowered by His Spirit, carrying out Christ’s commission to make disciples of all nations.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the 30-credit Bible and Theology Certificate, students will be able to:

1. BIBLE: Identify the basic contents of all books of the Old and New Testaments, and apply the biblical teaching for Christian faith and practice through reliable and faithful methods of interpretation (ULO 1).

Biblical and Theological Studies Certificate

Mission
The mission of the Certificate in Biblical and Theological Studies is to deepen knowledge of God and his Word within those who have not yet determined to enter a full seminary degree program but, nevertheless, wish to grow in their ability to minister to others.

Program Description
The Certificate in Biblical and Theological Studies is ideal for church lay leaders, church elders, and ministers without formal training. The Certificate in Biblical and Theological Studies provides a foundational theological education. This certificate consists of six courses which can be completed online, on-campus, or any combination of those two modalities. Those wanting to see if a full seminary degree is for them can use this certificate as a ‘trial run.’

Certificate coursework may later be applied toward a Master of Divinity or Master of Arts degree.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of the 18-credit Bible and Theological Studies Certificate, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an introductory ability to apply background information and evangelical interpretive principles to explain the meaning of biblical texts accurately (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an introductory ability to articulate one major doctrine of Christianity from an evangelical perspective (ULO 1).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Admission Requirements
Applicants must possess a Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale).

All applicants must submit a written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the certificate relates to those objectives.

Graduation Requirements
1. Satisfactorily complete all courses for a total of 18 semester credits as outlined in the curriculum below.
2. Complete the online introduction to theological research and writing by the end of the second semester.
3. Obtain a 3.0 GPA with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
4. At least 9 credits must be taken at this seminary.
5. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.

Students are placed on academic probation if their GPA for any semester falls below 3.0 and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative GPA remains below 3.0.
Probation students are granted one semester in which to bring their academic work up to the required level (3.0) for continuance in the seminary. A student cannot graduate while on probation.

Messianic Jewish Studies Certificate

Mission

The Certificate in Messianic Jewish Studies is offered to meet the educational needs of students who desire seminary level training, but who are not necessarily pursuing the Master of Divinity degree. It is ideal for those who are already serving in the field of Jewish ministries as well as those who are exploring the possibility of such ministry as outreach workers, congregational leaders, or support personnel.

Certificate coursework may later be applied toward a Master of Divinity degree.

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the 18-credit Messianic Jewish Studies Certificate, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an introductory ability to apply background information and evangelical interpretive principles to explain the meaning of biblical texts accurately (ULO 1).
2. Demonstrate an introductory ability to perform ministry practices appropriate for the Jewish community successfully (ULO 3).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must possess a Bachelor of Arts degree or its academic equivalent from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale).

All applicants must submit a written statement outlining their vocational objectives and how the certificate relates to those objectives.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete all courses for a total of 18 semester credits as outlined in the curriculum below.

2. Obtain a 3.0 GPA with no grade below a ‘C’ in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
3. At least 9 credits must be taken at this seminary. Transfer courses will be considered on a case by case basis.
4. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.

Students are placed on academic probation if their GPA for any semester falls below 3.0 and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative GPA remains below 3.0.

Spiritual Formation Certificate

Mission

The Certificate in Spiritual Formation is an introductory yet intensive, integrative program within the Institute for Spiritual Formation at Talbot School of Theology, designed to assist individuals in their personal growth, provide some training in lay ministry of spiritual formation in the local church and give the student opportunity to understand their giftedness in order to determine whether the Lord is calling them to more training and preparation for ministry.

The program is designed entirely around promoting growth in the believer’s inner life of faith and prayer with God in the context of a shared community and developed knowledge-base in the Word, spiritual formation and soul care. It focuses specifically on ways to deepen one’s knowledge and openness to God and His work as well as understanding of one’s self and others in order to grow toward conformity of character and inner life in the image of Christ. In order to accomplish this, the program has a substantial emphasis on understanding the dynamics of the Indwelling Holy Spirit as they interface human personality and relational dynamics. These integrative endeavors are enhanced by the Institute’s diverse university-wide faculty that draws particularly upon Rosemead School of Psychology and Talbot School of Theology, bringing a wide range of expertise and experience to bear upon the process of human spiritual growth and soul care.

Certificate coursework may later be applied toward a Master of Divinity or Master of Arts degree.

The mission of the Certificate in Spiritual Formation is to introduce believers to the processes involved in knowing themselves honestly and openly before God and one another in Truth, in cultivating intimacy with, growth in and obedience to Christ, in the training in lay ministry of spiritual formation in the local church which, in turn, gives opportunity for students to explore their calling and potential need for more training in ministry.

Program Learning Outcome

Upon completion of the 18-credit Spiritual Formation Certificate, students will be able to:

1. Explain the basic elements of Spiritual Theology, namely, the nature, process, and practices of spiritual growth (ULO 1).

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (p. 8) section of this catalog.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must possess a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college with a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale).

For special admissions deadlines and requirements involved in the Certificate in Spiritual Formation, contact Graduate Admissions. Due to the unique nature of this program, all applicants will be personally interviewed.

Graduation Requirements

1. Satisfactorily complete all courses for a total of 18 semester credits as outlined in the curriculum below, including co-curricular requirements.
2. Obtain a 3.0 GPA with no grade below a 'C-' in all courses to be credited toward graduation.
3. At least 9 credits must be taken at this seminary.
4. Complete the entire program in no more than five years.

Students are placed on academic probation if their GPA for any semester falls below 3.0 and will remain on probation as long as the single semester or cumulative GPA remains below 3.0.

Biblical Studies Challenge Exams

Challenge exams are designed for those who have a working knowledge of the course content as a result of prior learning (attending a Christian high school, for example), but were not able to transfer that work to Biola. Informal, personal study normally will not prepare one adequately to pass these exams. Exams are available for BBST 209 (3 credits) and BBST 210 (3 credits). These exams may be taken only during the student’s first year at Biola. Also, if the student has taken the course (or even a portion of it), the student is not eligible to take the corresponding challenge exam.

Exams are given in two parts, written and oral. Successful performance must be attained on both the written and oral portions in order for the student to receive credit for the challenge exam. Grades are recorded on a credit or no-credit basis only. No re-takes permitted.

A challenge exam is also available for first-year Greek—i.e., BLGR 101 (3 credits) and BLGR 102 (3 credits). See more details under "Greek (p. 631)."

Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

BLGR: Greek
The purpose of these courses is to provide students with tools that will enable them to use the Greek language in the study, interpretation, and exposition of the Word of God and to prepare students for future graduate studies.

Upon completion of 12 credits of Greek, it is intended that the student will be able to read and translate the original text with accuracy using a standard lexicon and grammar, explain basic grammatical and syntactical features of the text, exegete a biblical text accurately, and undertake individual research in biblical and related background material. Two years of Greek (BLGR 101, BLGR 102, BLGR 201, and BLGR 202) will fulfill the general education foreign language requirement.

Elementary Greek Grammar Challenge Exam
This challenge exam is designed for those who have a firm grasp of elementary Greek grammar (a.k.a. first-year Greek) as a result of prior learning (e.g., taking a rigorous NT Greek sequence of courses in high school or in an online program such as those by Zondervan, BibleMesh, and others), but were not able to transfer that work to Biola. Formal, personal study normally will not adequately prepare one to pass this exam. There is one exam that covers all of first-year Greek, i.e., BLGR 101 (3 credits) and BLGR 102 (3 credits). Challenge exams have fees, see the Financial Information (p. 15) section for details.

Successful performance must be attained in order for the student to receive credit for the challenge exam. It is possible for a student to perform well enough to get credit for both BLGR 101 and BLGR 102 (6 credits); but some students will get credit for only BLGR 101 (3 credits) and be required to take the BLGR 102 course. Grades for the challenge exam are recorded on a credit or no credit basis only. Because successful completion of first-year Greek is a prerequisite for second-year Greek, the challenge exam must be taken in the summer before the student wishes to enter the second-year Greek sequence beginning in the Fall term. No re-takes are permitted.

However, if a student successfully defends his/her dissertation (pass, minor revision) but needs an additional semester to complete the final editing, he/she should enroll in TTDE 8980 for that final semester. In both cases, the student is considered less than half-time. Grade Mode: C. Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; and Doctoral Level. Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

TTDE 8980 - Dissertation Final Editing Credit 1
Following the successful final defense of the dissertation and final substantive revisions, a student may register for TTDE 8980 instead of TTDE 8960 or 8970 to complete the final editing process. Approval from the dissertation committee chair is required for enrollment. Students enrolled in this course are not considered full-time. Available for one semester only. Grade Mode: C. Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; and Doctoral Level.

TTFT: Marriage and Family Therapy Courses

TTFT 500 - Principles of Counseling Credits 3
This course is designed to provide a foundation of basic skills for people who want to enhance their counseling theory and abilities. It combines theoretical understanding and hands-on practice of essential counseling micro-skills and will serve as the prerequisite counseling course for students enrolling in or transferring to the Master of Arts in Marriage and Family Therapy program. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 611 - Marriage and Family Therapy Theories I Credits 3
The course examines the epistemological and theoretical foundations and developments of the "classic" modern marriage and family therapy theories. Students will be critiquing each theory from theological, socio-cultural, socioeconomic, gender, developmental, and evidenced-based perspectives. Students will be encouraged to begin to develop their own personal style of therapy in light of theories studied. This course is designed as a survey course and as an introduction to the basic skills required of a family therapist. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 612 - Marriage and Family Therapy Theories II Credits 3
This course examines theoretical foundation for postmodern and contemporary marriage and family therapy theories. Working with case studies, students will build on their knowledge of MFT theories by focusing on theory-based assessment, treatment planning, goal prioritization, and intervention informed by the systemic and recovery model. Therapy adaptations will be explored for a variety of clinical settings with culturally and economically diverse clinical populations. Particular emphasis will be placed on students examining their personal and professional development, in terms of their own family history, relationships and conflicts. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): TTFT 611. Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
TTFT 621 - Family Life Cycle and Aging
This course explores the development of individuals within the family over the life cycle, and therapeutic strategies for addressing developmental issues. Childhood, adolescence, marriage preparation, transition to parenthood, parenting over the life cycle, work and family issues, aging, chronic illness, and long term care of older people are examined. Attention is given to physical, spiritual, intellectual, and social development and the implications for the practice of family therapy. This course will include 10 hours of instruction on aging and long-term care, addressing biological, social, cognitive, psychological aspect, ethical issues at end of life, assessment, and interventions on aging. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 631 - Child and Adolescent Therapy in Family Contexts
This course offers an introductory survey on theories and techniques for working with children, adolescents, and their families. Evidence-based treatments for common childhood disorders, assessment approaches, play and child therapy techniques, child abuse assessment reporting and treatment (7 hours of instruction), domestic violence, self-harm, suicide interventions, and cultural influences in the realm of parenting are explored. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 611 (concurrent registration permitted).
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 633 - Couples and Sex Therapy
This course examines theories and techniques for working with couples, which will include an overview of current theories, evidence-based treatment, and research on successful marriages and divorce. There will be special emphases on faith, privilege and oppression as related to couples. Particular attention is given to systemic approaches, theological dimensions of gender, and the relationship between marital and sex therapy. Assessment and treatment issues involving domestic violence are reviewed. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 611.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 637 - Theory and Process of Group Counseling
Major approaches to group therapy are presented which emphasize process groups and the use of experiential and didactic strategies within multiple settings common to the practice of therapy. Highlighted within this course are historical developments and the evolution of group therapy, the advanced theoretical underpinnings, the creation and importance of group work, as well as therapeutic factors with practical implications of group dynamics. Participants will be exposed to designing, implementing, and evaluating therapy group programs contextualized to diverse populations. Students will not only learn how to lead a group in mental health settings, but will also have rare and exhilarating opportunity to be part of a small group themselves. This is a valuable emotional growth experience toward a more comprehensive knowledge of the “self of the therapist.” Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 641 - Clinical Issues in Human Diversity
This course introduces multicultural counseling theories, techniques, and mental health service delivery to individuals and family groups among various ethnic populations and social-economic classes in California. Self-assessment of knowledge, sensitivity and attitudes toward diverse populations, including race, ethnicity, gender, age, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, spirituality, ability, and language will receive special focus. Theological considerations on diversity will be particularly emphasized. Experientially, students will examine intentional and unintentional oppression and privilege, and will develop ethical and cultural competencies in addressing biases in themselves. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 643 - Community Mental Health
The course provides a context for introducing students to contemporary mental health issues and services, especially in Southern California. Emphasis will be on strengths-based systemic recovery-oriented treatment with consumers, their families, and their communities who struggle with the challenges, among others, of severe mental illness, chronic medical conditions, poverty, joblessness, and violence. A Christian response to mental health issues will be discussed. Direct contact with public and private agencies and their clients is a core part of this course. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 651 - Research Methods and Design in Marriage and Family Therapy
This course provides an overview of the purpose, methodology, and process of marital and family therapy research. Specific attention is given to the scholarly writing of a literature review, various methods of research design, a process for evaluation and critique of research articles, and becoming meaningful consumers of research through an application of effectiveness-based research and progress research. Ethical issues will be addressed as well as what it means to view research through a theological lens. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 653 - Individual and Family Psychopathology
This course examines the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, explores relational diagnoses and the interaction of individual disorders and relational functioning. The focus will include a descriptive psychopathology, developing an in-depth knowledge of the DSM-5 criteria, and reviewing empirically supported treatments for individual and relational disorders. Appropriate use of the DSM-5 and its diagnostic categories with diverse populations in various clinical settings will be emphasized. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 611, TTFT 621.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
TTFT 655 - Assessment of Individuals and Families
Credits 3
This course provides an overview of approaches to the assessment of relationship problems with individuals, couples, and families. Emphasis is placed on psychometric theory and the use of relevant psychological testing instruments for assessment and research in marriage and family therapy. Students learn how to administer and score various instruments, interpret assessment data, and write clinical reports that assist in diagnosis and psychotherapeutic treatment. Legal, ethical, and cultural issues will receive particular focus, as well as students’ interpretation of their own assessment profiles. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 653.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $400.

TTFT 661 - Law, Ethics, and Professional Issues
Credits 3
This course addresses legal and ethical situations arising in the practice of marriage and family therapy. These topics include confidentiality, informed consent, dual relationships, licensing standards, and family law. The course provides a review of California and professional laws governing the practice of marriage and family therapists. Christian ethics surrounding clinical issues and professional development are discussed. Students identify and apply ethical principles to specific professional and moral dilemmas. Students develop strategies for continuing professional, personal, and spiritual growth. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 663 - Professional Development Seminar I
Credit 1
This professional development seminar assists students in the practice of basic family therapy skills with individuals, couples, and families. This learning experience spans two semesters of studies and includes role-playing, audio-video taped feedback, and participation in triads. The course includes a focus on professional knowledge (BBS, CAMFT, AAMFT), professional development, and practical training in responding to ethical and legal issues. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $120.

TTFT 664 - Professional Development Seminar II
Credit 1
This professional development seminar assists students in the practice of basic family therapy skills with individuals, couples and families. This learning experience spans two semesters of studies and includes role-playing, audio-video taped feedback, and participation in triads. Seminar II is designed to develop and practice basic clinical interviewing skills. Emphasis is on the continued development of the therapist and the structure of the therapeutic process. A one-time fee of $1200 is charged to the student's account. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 663.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $200.

TTFT 665 - Professional and Personal Formation of the Therapist I
Credits 2
Introductory study of the nature of spiritual theology and formation, which attempts to understand the nature of new life in Christ, the process of formation in the Spirit, and the directives for cooperating with His work as related to the personal and professional development of the self of the therapist. Attention is given to the implications of Spiritual Theology for Marriage and Family Therapy training and classroom experience. Particular attention is given to understanding the implications of life in Christ regarding guilt, shame, and legalism, as well as the New Covenant ministry of the Spirit in transforming the heart in light of the dynamics of original sin, early relational development, and the habits of sin developed over time. Attention is also given to developmental spirituality, how the Spirit transforms the heart over time, and how this affects services in the community. A 48-hour retreat will be introduced and required. This course includes a cohort group of approximately 20 students who explore the course content as well as the student’s own life and growth within community. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $280.

TTFT 666 - Professional and Personal Formation of the Therapist II
Credits 2
This course focuses on a theological and experiential exploration into human relationships and issues related to gender, romance, marriage, family, and parenting as they relate to spiritual growth. Course includes an investigation into the impact of personal and family history on theological outlook, emotional congruence, relational attractions, and moral decisions. Personal assessments and a one-day retreat are an integral part of this course. Students will experience spiritual community and intersessory prayer as they begin individual spiritual direction with a spiritual director and continue relationships within a cohort group to explore deeply their relational capacity at the heart of how Christ is formed in them, thereby developing deeper levels of trust and vulnerability. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 667.
Corequisite(s): TTSF 505.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $210.

TTFT 667 - Crisis and Trauma Counseling
Credits 3
This course provides conceptual knowledge to treat individuals, couples, and families in crisis and trauma. Students learn how short-term crisis approaches and interventions can assist in mitigating the long term effects of crisis and reduce risk for developing PTSD as well as provide support for people with PTSD and co-morbid conditions. Students learn assessments and interventions related to mental health disorders including Acute Stress Disorder, Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder, and Traumatic Brain Injuries. This course includes a 6-hour training in suicide prevention, assessment, and intervention. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 611.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
TTFT 673 - Psychopharmacology and Psychobiology  Credits 3
This course is designed to provide MFT students with a basic knowledge of psychopharmacology – its scope, effectiveness, and hazards. Students will gain a historical perspective of treatment uses of medication for mental disorders within the context of biological, social, cultural, gender, and religious issues. Focus is on major classifications of psychotropic drugs, specifying their psychiatric uses, benefits, side effects, toxicities, combinations, and biochemical actions. Students explore how MFT students can best work with medical and other mental health practitioners to provide a more comprehensive, coordinated, recovery-oriented plan of care to clients. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 653.

TTFT 675 - Chemical Dependence, Addictions, and Co-Occurring Disorders  Credits 3
This course provides current research, assessment, and treatment models of behavioral addictions, alcoholism, and other substance abuse, dependency, and co-occurring disorders. Emphasis is placed upon learning the language of recovery and how to work with both the client as well as the codependent and family members. Community referral resources and therapy techniques suitable for the marriage and family therapist in the treatment and referral of families affected by addiction are also explored. Spiritual, psychosocial, and biological perspectives are integrated with special emphasis on the effects of chronic poverty. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 681 - Biblical Interpretation and New Testament Psychology  Credits 3
This course investigates what Scripture has to offer for the development of psychological theory and practice. The course covers the nature and authority of Scripture, the illumination of the Spirit, and biblical hermeneutics. The course includes a study of various biblical texts that are particularly relevant for psychological theory and practice, as well as a hermeneutical project that requires each student to interpret, contextualize, and apply a biblical passage relevant to psychological theory and/or practice. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 765 - Professional Development Seminar III - Capstone  Credit 1
This capstone course is designed to be concurrent with students’ supervised clinical experience, yet separate from the practicum series. Students’ clinical theory with clinical practice (professional formation), theology (biblical and theological formation), and spirituality (personal and spiritual formation) as a marriage and family therapist are expressed in a culminating master’s level clinical project that comprises a written clinical portfolio and a final case presentation. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 664.
Corequisite(s): TTFT 793.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Course Fee: $200.

TTFT 791 - Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy I  Credits 3
Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy I-III: The practicum sequence is an integral component of marriage and family therapy education. These three courses constitute a 12-month practicum, including a minimum of 500 hours of clinical contact hours with individuals, couples, families, and other systems physically present, a minimum of 100 hours of supervision by a qualified California Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist who is a State approved supervisor and or an AAMFT approved supervisor, and a minimum of 50 hours of supervision utilizing observable data. As part of the total MFT curriculum, the practicum sequence allows students to develop from a therapist-in-training to an entry-level MFT professional. The practicum sequence is informed by the Core Competencies for marriage, couple, and family therapists of the American Association for Marriage and Family Therapy (AAMFT), the domains established by the Association of Marriage and Family Therapy Regulatory Board (AMFTRB), the mission of the Talbot MCFT Program, and the educational values of Biola University. MFT Practicum I-III fulfill the requirements of the Board of Behavioral Science and COAMFTE standards for face-to-face experience counseling individuals, couples, families, or groups. A 3-credit for continuation of practicum is assessed for any semester of participation in group supervision beyond the third Supervised Clinical Experience unit for MFT students. Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy I focuses on the development of Therapeutic Relationship, Structuring, Perceptual, and Case Management competencies. The process may be structured and supervisor-directed with cases and clinical work being closely monitored. Students will also begin to focus on the development of Intervention, Conceptual, and Professional Development competencies. There is emphasis on the demonstrating of interventions based on theoretical tenets. Each of these competencies will be addressed with application to varied clinical settings and consumers representing diverse populations commonly served in Southern CA. There will be an opportunity for students to identify their strengths, weaknesses, and problem cases. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 612, TTFT 633, TTFT 637, TTFT 641, TTFT 651, TTFT 653, TTFT 661, TTFT 664.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); Graduate Level.
TTFT 792 - Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy II Credits 3
Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy I-III The practicum sequence is an integral component of marriage and family therapy education. These three courses constitute a 12-month practicum, including a minimum of 500 hours of clinical contact hours with individuals, couples, families, and other systems physically present, a minimum of 100 hours of supervision by a qualified California Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist who is a State approved supervisor and or an AAMFT approved supervisor, and a minimum of 50 hours of supervision utilizing observable data. As part of the total MFT curriculum, the practicum sequence allows students to develop from a therapist-in-training to an entry-level MFT professional. MFT Practicum I-III fulfill the requirements of the Board of Behavioral Science and COAMFTE standards for face-to-face experience counseling individuals, couples, families, or groups. A 3-credit for continuation of practicum is assessed for any semester of participation in group supervision beyond the third Supervised Clinical Experience unit for MFT students. Practicum II focuses on the development of competencies needed in a community-based agency. Case Management competencies become focal as students demonstrate the ability to fulfill agency responsibilities as well as to coordinate a clinical caseload. Supervision predominates rather than training. Students are expected to identify for their supervisor their therapy concerns and problem cases. Professional Development competencies continue to be focal as clinical supervisor assesses with students their professional goals, needs, and plans for future growth as a therapist. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 791.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.

TTFT 793 - Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy III Credits 3
Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy I-III The practicum sequence is an integral component of marriage and family therapy education. Practicum in Marriage and Family Therapy III focuses on the integration of students’ ideas and personal style into their theory of change. Conceptual competencies are again emphasized, but at a more advanced level. Professional Development competencies continue to be focal as site and practicum supervisor assesses with students their professional goals, needs, and plans for future growth as a therapist. Toward the end of the semester, the process of supervision assumes a consultation pair as the supervisors become less central and active. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTFT 792.
Restriction(s): Must be Marriage and Family Therapy (TAFT); and Graduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 3.

TTHE: Thesis
Objectives
There are two consecutive thesis seminars for master’s-level students electing to write a thesis (Thesis First Draft and Thesis Final Draft). These seminars are taken during the student’s last year. During the third semester before graduation, the student must, with the approval of a major advisor, select a thesis subject, do research, and develop an outline and bibliography. During the final year, the thesis can be written in conjunction with these two courses. See the Talbot student handbook for dates, deadlines and requirements.

The progression of the thesis sequence is Thesis First Draft and Thesis Final Draft. Should a student need more time to develop the first draft, Thesis Continuous Registration may be taken. Once the student is enrolled in Thesis Final Draft, the thesis must be completed within that term.

Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.
TTMN 811 - The Nature of the Church
This course is held off campus and involves travel to different cities. Students enhance their ability to evaluate a ministry theologically. Students are exposed to a variety of theologies of the church through lectures and ‘on location’ exposure. Students interact with ministry leaders, fellow students and their faculty-mentor to discover and theologically evaluate a variety of evangelical ministries. As a result, students should be able to accurately assess and express the theology of their own ministry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN: Ministry, D.Min.

Courses

TTMN 880 - Directed Research
Supervised research in selected areas of theology. Note(s): Elective for Master of Theology students. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.
TTMN 812 - The Cultural Sensitivity of the Church Credits 6
This course is held off campus in a different city. The goal of this course is for students to enhance their ability to evaluate the cultural adaptation of a ministry. Students interact with ministry leaders, fellows, and their faculty-appointed as they work to develop new ways of how effectively these ministries have adapted to the culture in which they minister. As a result, students are better able to assess the cultural sensitivity of their own ministries. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 813 - Healing the Wounded Leader Credits 6
During this class, students learn how and why ministry leaders are wounded in ministry. Through interaction with their faculty-appointed and guest faculty, students learn a variety of strategies to address the hurts experienced by leaders in the practice of ministry. Students apply these strategies to their own ministries and the ministries of others where appropriate. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 814 - Healing the Wounded Congregation Credits 6
Students learn how to assess, and how severely, a ministry has been wounded. Through interaction with their faculty-appointed and guest faculty, students also learn a variety of strategies that leaders can use to address the corporate wounds of a ministry and facilitate healing and wholeness. Students apply these strategies to their own ministries and the ministries of others where appropriate. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 821 - The Biblical Context of Discipleship and the Person I Credits 6
During this class, students explore their own background in discipleship practices in light of the historical and biblical context of discipleship, seeking to understand Jesus’ distinct form of discipleship. This leads to an understanding of discipleship as Jesus intended it to be developed in the early church, and how Paul and Peter and other biblical authors developed discipleship and spiritual formation in their writings as a theoretical and practical way of life for individual believers and the church. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 822 - The Biblical Context of Discipleship and the Person II Credits 6
During this class, students examine and apply these biblical principles of discipleship in their personal life. Students are guided by resident and guest professors as they reflect upon their lifetime of study and application of discipleship and spiritual formation. Students conclude by developing a strategy of personal growth in their discipleship to Jesus, and how that can be implemented in the lives of those within their ministry. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 823 - Discipleship as the Ministry of the Church I Credits 6
Students explore God’s plan for the church and how discipleship can be understood as a holistic ministry of the church. Students are assisted by resident and guest professors in understanding the nature of the church and its relation to discipleship. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 824 - Discipleship as the Ministry of the Church II Credits 6
During this class, guest professors escort students through past and present ministries to examine specific practices of discipleship within the church. Students visit with guest professors and examine first-hand various aspects of discipleship, including mentoring, leadership development, and small groups. During the rest of the week, we discuss life-span Christian education, youth ministry, family ministry, counseling, evangelism and follow-up. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 825 - Discipleship and Community Relationships I Credits 6
During this class, students explore the relationship of the biological community, the family, with the spiritual community, the church. Family developmental experts guide students to elaborate the working relationship between family and church discipleship and how they can support and promote each other. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 826 - Discipleship and Community Relationships II Credits 6
This class expands the study begun in TTMN 825 to include a strategy for developing discipleship relations between the local church and various external communities, including parachurch ministries. Veteran Christian leaders guide students through an examination of strategies to build a local discipleship community that reaches into their neighborhood, school, workplace and the world. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 827 - Foundations of Executive Management Credits 6
Students gain a biblical and theological basis for management in the local church and learn to critically reflect on the advantages and disadvantages of various governance models in local church ministry. Students develop a strategic plan for their particular ministry. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 828 - Personal Strengths Assessment Credits 6
Students learn how to gain a better understanding of their own strengths and spiritual gifts. Students are then guided into how best to apply their personal strengths to their present area of ministry leadership. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 829 - Finances, Facilities and Fundraising Credits 6
Students develop a biblical understanding of stewardship from a broad perspective. Students learn proper account management, facilities planning, and ethical techniques of fundraising for both operational budgets and capital campaigns. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 830 - Legal and Ethical Issues in Executive Management Credits 6
Students learn how the legal system affects the development and operation of churches as well as ethical dilemmas being faced in complex ministries today. Issues such as staff hiring, firing, liability concerns and policy development are covered. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 831 - Personnel Development and Human Resource Management Credits 6
Extensive overview of matters pertaining to recruiting, training and developing volunteer and paid staff ministry leaders. Students learn how to develop policies and procedures, conduct in-service training seminars, and how best to mentor leaders. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.
TTMN 832 - The XP Tool Box
This course covers a variety of topics, including PERT (Program Evaluation and Review Technique) charting for effective program management, overseeing information technology, working through teams, becoming a change agent, handling conflict resolution, and personal career development. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 833 - Developing Life Groups and Transforming Communities
Life Groups and Transforming Communities form the platform for pastoral counseling ministries and marriage and family ministries as well as student’s leadership development. First students will learn compassionate connecting skills and how to teach them to church leaders. Then we will look at Life Groups with a pastor who uses them as his primary strategy for developing more and closer followers of Jesus. Third, we will explore Transforming Communities and their roles in healing individuals and marriages as well as developing volunteer ministers. Students design a plan to develop Life Groups or Transforming Communities in their churches, and receive feedback. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 834 - Counseling Individuals, Couples and Families
This course focuses on how to help individuals, couples and families realize their conflicts and take responsibility for the changes that will dismantle their barriers to God and each other. The goal is not to turn students into pastoral counselors but to equip students to develop those in their churches who are gifted to develop transforming ministries including mentoring with individuals, couples and families. Students demonstrate competency in the skills of a Christ-Church multi-level model for counseling individuals, couples and families and to demonstrate awareness of personal limits by setting default decisions for counseling and referral. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 835 - Developing Redemptive Family Ministries I
The focus of this class is on developing family and counseling ministries in church that will meet some of the needs of people in neighborhoods as well as the people in the congregation, and be on-ramps to evangelism. Students design and/or develop a Redemptive Family Ministry appropriate to a student’s church’s needs, goals and resources. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 836 - Developing Redemptive Family Ministries II
This class challenges and equips students to develop a plan for ministry to people in a selected form of non-traditional family structure. This course will equip students (and through them, their leaders) to reach people in family structures that don’t normally experience churches as open to them. The residency outcome will be to write and develop this plan for a classmate and obtain your professor’s evaluation. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 837 - Ministering to People in Addictive Bondage
This class will extend the focus of the second residency to minister to people both in and outside a student’s church who are living in addictive bondage. Examples of bondage are alcoholism, drug addiction, sex addiction, gambling as well as more common addictions such as addiction to eating and smoking. The residency outcome will be a workable plan addressing these issues. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 838 - Ministering to People in the Wake of Crisis, Loss and Trauma
This class equips students and their churches to minister in the wake of individual, family and neighborhood crisis, loss and trauma. Recent catastrophes such as 9/11 and Hurricane Katrina showed the need for thousands of volunteers who have been trained to respond to spiritual and emotional needs. People in your church can be equipped to minister in the wake of shootings, accidents, and bereavement in your neighborhoods as well as the larger traumas such as earthquakes and firestorms. Students develop contingency plans for their ministry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 839 - Understanding Worldviews and Culture I
Designed to produce confidence in engaging worldviews in a manner that is culturally relevant and theologically and philosophically informed. Students examine the nature of a worldview, and probe the foundations of the two major worldviews that rival Christianity and shape our culture: naturalism and postmodernism. Students interact with the strengths and weaknesses of the emergent church movement and address open theism. Time will be given to Islam, a rising influence in our culture, and students will learn ways Christians can reach Muslims. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 840 - Understanding Worldviews and Culture II
Students learn how to think Christianly in the midst of worldview conflict and cultural chaos. Four areas of conceptual clarity examined: (1) crucial notions in metaphysics relevant to preaching, the nature of reality, the reality of truth, love, life after death, and God Himself; (2) crucial notions in epistemology at the center of cultural conflict; (3) the nature of consciousness and human persons; and (4) important issues in science and religion, reductionism, and the Intelligent Design debate. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 841 - Engaging Worldviews and Culture I
Leadership tools in the areas of ethics and politics. Addresses how to help people to think ethically by evaluating relativism, moral absolutism, utilitarianism, and virtue ethics, and to consider individual impact upon character development and discipleship. Students learn about issues such as abortion, euthanasia, embryonic stem cell research, cloning, capital punishment, just war theory and homosexuality. Since we live in a political world, the course includes a look at the different views of the Kingdom of God, the church/state relationship, Christian political engagement and social justice. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 842 - Engaging Worldviews and Culture II
Students examine specific cultural issues and voices. Students learn about and discuss culturally significant books, movies, events and leaders. Students also learn about the nature of the modern secular university: how it developed, why it is so hostile to Christianity, how it impacts the church and what can be done about it. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 843 - Reclaiming Worldviews and Culture I
Students gain skills needed to defend Christianity and to equip the local church for boldness in evangelism and cultural engagement. Students form answers to issues such as the existence of God, pluralism and the exclusivity of Christianity, challenges to the historical Jesus, the problem of evil, and the fairness of hell. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.
TTMN 844 - Reclaiming Worldviews and Culture II Credits 6
Students learn practical ministry implications of previous coursework. Students examine the nature of spiritual formation and discipleship, learn how to discern the voice of God and His guidance, learn how to foster a healthy, balanced experiential knowledge of God and His Spirit within the Christian religious tradition, and the criteria for discerning answers to prayer. Students also learn how to preach apologetically and how apologetics and worldview can be applied to youth ministry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 845 - Foundations of Biblical Church Growth and Multiplication Credits 6
An introductory examination of the theology, history, principles, procedures, pathologies and typologies for growing and multiplying churches in North America. The student develops a biblical perspective, engages the historical impact of different movements on churches in the USA, and analyzes a church ministry, developing bold plans for growth and health. Students will be introduced to the procedures for writing book reviews for publication. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 846 - Evangelizing Secular Peoples Credits 6
Exploration of North American culture, principles, and methods for reaching secular non-Christian peoples, and the role of church leaders in developing healthy, growing churches. Students grow in their understanding of North American culture, learn how to reach people for Christ in our post-modern world, and investigate models and case studies of growing churches. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 847 - Turnaround Strategies Credits 6
Examines the theology, skills, and strategies for bringing renewal and revival to existing churches. Students learn and apply ideas for turning around declining churches and renewing ones that have lost their vision and vitality. Students will be introduced to the procedures for writing articles for publication. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 848 - Church Multiplication Credits 6
Advanced study of strategies and practices for effective church planting and multiplication. Insights on selecting and training effective church planters, birthing daughter churches, and using demographics will be explored. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 849 - Growing Ministries in the 'New World' I Credits 6
Explores the challenges and opportunities for church growth and multiplication in the post-modern context. Analyzes the theology, procedures, and methods of new movements and emerging models. Students will be introduced to the procedures for writing a book manuscript for publication. Grade Mode: A, R.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 850 - Growing Ministries in the 'New World' II Credits 6
Examines cultural anthropology and multi-ethnic church growth and multiplication. A ministry strategy course designed to aid the student in understanding the opportunity, complexity, and methods for reaching people of differing ethnic backgrounds in North America. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 851 - Discipleship I Credits 6
This course will help students develop a biblical understanding of Jesus' distinct form of discipleship and apply those principles to their personal lives. Students will develop a strategy for personal growth in their discipleship to Jesus. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 852 - Discipleship II Credits 6
This course teaches how discipleship can be understood as a holistic ministry of the church that involves one's biological community, the family of God, and various external communities such as neighborhood, school, workplace and the world. Students will develop a discipleship strategy for their ministries. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 853 - Foundations of Biblical Preaching Credits 6
This course will provide a complete overview of the process of preparing biblical sermons from start to finish. It will emphasize the importance of understanding the literary forms of the Bible in hermeneutics and exegesis. Students will learn to move from the text to the sermon, create outlines, and shape their sermons for maximum impact. They will also have the opportunity to prepare and deliver a didactic sermon from the epistles and receive feedback. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 854 - Communication and Persuasion in Preaching Credits 6
This course will provide advanced training in the art of persuasion through the study of communication theory. It will explore techniques and tools for keeping sermons relevant, clear, interesting and fresh. Students will learn how to choose and organize the resources they will need to prepare sermons. They will also have the opportunity to prepare and deliver a didactic sermon from the epistles and receive feedback. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 855 - Preaching Biblical Narratives Credits 6
A comprehensive study of the unique literary characteristics of narrative literature in both the Old and New Testaments. Students will learn how to interpret and communicate the narrative passages of scripture in a way that is congruent with the biblical text itself. They will also have the opportunity to prepare and deliver a sermon from a narrative section of scripture and receive feedback. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 856 - Preaching to Your Audience Credits 6
In this course, students will learn how to understand their audience and respond to challenges such as gender, vocation, age and culture. This course will also probe the issue of Christocentric versus Theocentric preaching. Students will learn to prepare topical sermons to address the specific needs and life situations of their audience. They will also have the opportunity to prepare and deliver a sermon from a narrative section of scripture and receive feedback. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 857 - Expository Preaching Credits 6
Students learn the fundamentals of expository preaching. Students learn a definition of expository preaching, how to identify the idea of a natural unit of epistle literature, how to effectively outline a sermon for a post-modern audience, how to preach without notes, and how to analyze an audience. Students preach in class without notes. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.
TTMN 858 - Narrative Preaching Credits 6
Students learn the unique literary characteristics of biblical narratives and how to apply that knowledge to the hermeneutical and homiletical tasks of preaching. The class is both inductive and deductive in nature. Students preach in class without notes. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 859 - Leadership I Credits 6
Students learn the character that is required of a Christian Leader. This study involves biblical exegesis, exposure to leadership literature, and interactive dialogue with current Christian leaders. Students engage in a self-assessment exercise to better understand their own character in light of what they have learned. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 860 - Leadership II Credits 6
Students learn a variety of theories of leadership from the past as well as the present. Students are encouraged to critically evaluate these theories, and then propose a leadership theory that is compatible with Scripture and well-suited for their current ministry environment. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 863 - Foundations for Multiethnic Ministry Credits 6
A comprehensive study of the Old and New Testament focusing primarily on the evangelistic mandate to disciple all the nations. Attention is given to a history of the apostolic response and missionary obedience of the church (Matthew 28:18–20), as well as an investigation of God’s desire to reach all people groups. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 864 - Principles and Procedures of Multiethnic Ministry Credits 6
An overview of the essential principles and practices of multiethnic church ministry in the North American context. Focus is placed on understanding the historical development of immigration in the USA, as well as understanding cultures, social structures, procedures, methodologies, barriers, and general steps for effective growth of multiethnic churches. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 904 - Preaching to the Heart I Credits 6
This course will provide a complete overview of the process of preparing biblical sermons from start to finish. Students will hone their skills in moving from the text to the sermon, developing outlines that reflect the biblical author's flow of thought, and shaping their sermons for maximum impact. Each student will have the opportunity to prepare and deliver a sermon from a didactic/epistolary section of Scripture, and receive feedback from the faculty-mentor and the class. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 905 - Preaching to the Heart II Credits 6
In this course, students will work through two additional genres of biblical literature (narrative and poetic). Each student will prepare and deliver a sermon from a narrative section of Scripture, and again receive feedback from the faculty-mentor and the class. Different kinds of filing systems will also be discussed, which will enable the student to stay on the cutting edge of biblical scholarship and retain resources for future preaching. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 906 - Renewing the Mind I Credits 6
This course will lay a biblical and theological foundation for apologetics and cultural engagement. By exploring the rich resources of the Gospel, students will develop a model for engagement that is adaptable to a variety of institutions and practices. Students will explore the nature of apologetics and begin to develop a strategy for some of the larger issues in apologetics – the existence of God, evil, suffering, worldviews, religious pluralism, relativism, science and reason. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 907 - Renewing the Mind II Credits 6
This course will focus on equipping students to build culture-leaders. We will explore the nature of institutional change and how believers can inhabit those institutions faithfully. Students will also develop a facility with a broader concept of apologetics that connect the Gospel with the deeper affections of people. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 908 - Caring for the Soul I Credits 6
This course investigates spiritual formation in Christ, focusing in on our own transformational discipleship to Jesus as well as how to come alongside others in their discipleship to Jesus. It includes a discussion of the historical and sociological forces that have influenced the variety of contemporary understandings of spiritual formation, followed by the development of a biblical/systematic theology of discipleship and formation. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 909 - Caring for the Soul II Credits 6
This course focuses on the strategies, challenges, and best practices of implementing spiritual formation in the local church and para-church given the diverse contexts in which we find ourselves. TTMN 916 - Spiritual Theology and Formation for Soul Care I Credits 6
This course introduces Spiritual Theology and formation, focusing particularly on the nature of our new vocation as members of the New Covenant life “in Christ” and “in the Spirit” and the implications for daily Christian living. Particular attention will be given to understanding motivation in Christian living (moralism, legalism, lawlessness, and freedom) and issues of guilt, shame and spiritual failure, in light of our new life in Christ, for the shepherd and for soul care of others. Emphasis is also given to the nature of transformation by the Spirit of the human person, that includes a spiritual theology of the heart and the means of grace in transformation. This includes exploring the heart with the Holy Spirit in prayer and cooperating with his transforming presence – particularly as this relates to shepherds and their peculiar vocations in church and para-church organizations. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 917 - Spiritual Theology and Formation for Soul Care II Credits 6
This course continues the introduction of Spiritual Theology and our life in Christ and in the Spirit, focusing on the nature of transformation and the means of grace God employs in transformation and how the Spirit works in our life in various seasons of our life, especially during times of spiritual dryness. Particular emphasis is given to re-training the life of the shepherd in opening to God in prayer and one another regarding one’s personal, relational, and spiritual history and vocation in order to redeem and reclaim for Christ the whole of one’s life, and how this relates to caring for other souls. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTMN 916.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 918 - Spirit, Prayer, and the Care of Souls I Credits 6
This course will lay a biblical and theological foundation for Pneumatology (Doctrine of the Holy Spirit) as it relates to prayer, ministry, and the New Covenant transformation of the believer’s heart. There is much confusion and needed understanding in this area. Emphasis is given to a spiritual theology and phenomenological understanding of how the Spirit actually works in believers’ lives, how believers can resist or struggle with this, and how believers can better cooperate with his work and presence in knowing of God. Attention is also given to the work of the Spirit developmentally in the different seasons of the spiritual life (the spiritual beginner, times of consolation, dryness, dark nights of the soul, maturity etc.). Focus also on developing practices that assist learning to walk, depend upon, discern and be filled with the Holy Spirit. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTMN 917.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 919 - Spirit, Prayer, and the Care of Souls II Credits 6
This course continues to lay a foundation for a spiritual theology and phenomenological understanding of the Holy Spirit as it relates to personal growth, walking in the Spirit, and one’s vocation of ministry to others in the Spirit. Special attention is given to training shepherds and leaders to become the kind of person who can listen both to God and others “in the Spirit.” Includes training in spiritual discernment, listening to God and others, and life in the Spirit for the shepherd’s personal life and in caring for souls in individual and group contexts (individual mentoring, small groups, church/elder boards, etc.). Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTMN 918.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTMN 920 - Prayer, Formation, and Soul Care in Preaching Credits 6
This course attends to a variety of theoretical and practical issues related to prayer and the caring of souls in preaching and teaching ministries. Emphasis is given to understanding the nature of preaching in the history of the church, a theologically-informed philosophy of preaching, and the relationship of spiritual theology to the goals of preaching and teaching. Special emphasis is given to understanding the relationship of prayer to sermon preparation, to the act of preaching, and to the goals of preaching in soul care. Overall emphasis is given to personal calling and the vocation of retraining and caring of souls, particularly as it relates to teaching and preaching ministries. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTMN 919.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.
TTMN 921 - Prayer, Soul Care, and an Ongoing Rule of Life  Credits 6
This course deepens the discussion of practical issues that emerge in spiritual formation and the care of souls. Particular focus is the ongoing development of a life of prayer, knowing God, and discernment of his presence and love. Attention is also given to understanding and providing soul care for a variety of sinfull struggles confronting shepherds and the people of God, which may include mental illness, spiritual depression, burnout, worry, anger, anxiety, addictions, gender struggles, sexual sins and pornography, abuse, trauma, bitterness, worldliness, spiritual warfare, and a variety of struggles related to family and relationships in and outside the church and ministry – and how these issues and struggles affect and develop in the lives and vocations of those caring for souls. Emphasis is given to developing spiritual formation that is relevant and possible for soul care in local church and parachurch ministries, as well as ability to wise referral for other types of treatment. Included is also an understanding of how the soul has been poorly or well trained by the time of adulthood, the nature of retraining the soul in Christ, and a spiritual theology of the spiritual disciplines (particularly prayer and knowing God), which includes the development of a personal Rule of Life that is reasonable for a leader's life, for the church (liturgy), and for the community of saints. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): TTMN 920.
Restriction(s): Must be Spiritual Formation and Soul Care Specialization (TDSF); and Post Masters Level or Doctoral Level.

TTNT: New Testament Language and Literature

Objectives
The mission of the New Testament department is to help students gain a deeper appreciation of the NT by developing skills in the areas of Greek language, exegesis, the historical-cultural setting of the NT, and biblical theology. The intended outcome is for students to better understand God’s written word in order to apply it to the development of a distinctly Christian worldview that they would live out in daily life and their ministries.

Preparation for Study
Students are strongly advised to take beginning Greek prior to starting coursework at Talbot (either in Summer Session at Talbot or in undergraduate work), so that the student can immediately begin work with the Greek text of the New Testament. A qualifying examination in Greek is available to all students with previous Greek training. Those with a grade of ‘C’ or higher on the examination will be enrolled in TTNT 503 and the rest in TTNT 501. Those who take beginning Greek at Talbot will have 4 credits fewer elective options.

Competency Requirement
Students must pass TTNT 501 and TTNT 502 with a ‘C’ or better to progress to TTNT 503. Students must pass TTNT 503 with a ‘C’ or better to progress to other courses for which TTNT 503 is a prerequisite or receive approval from the department chair.

TTOT: Old Testament and Semitics

Objectives
The department aims to acquaint students with the life, customs and thought of the Israelites and their neighbors in the biblical and related periods; and to give students an accurate foundation in Hebrew grammar, syntax and exegesis, so that their expositions of the English Bible will reflect this sound basis of interpretation. The department purposes not to be exhaustive, but rather directive in the matter of further independent study from the original languages.

Courses

TTOT 603 - Elements of Hebrew I
Basic grammar with translation and written exercises. Note(s): Required of Master of Divinity and Master of Arts (Old Testament) students. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTOT 604 - Elements of Hebrew II

Prerequisite(s): TTOT 603.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTOT 607 - Hebrew Exegesis I – Torah
Course content includes readings and exegesis from the Hebrew text of the Torah (Pentateuch) with discussion of text criticism, background issues (historical and compositional), and exegetical methodology. Special attention is given to the Torah as the legal constitution of the Nation of Israel and its implications as the foundation for Jewish life. Study will include Jewish commentaries from ancient and modern sources. Note(s): Offered only at the New York extension site. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTOT 608 - Hebrew Exegesis II – Neviim and Ketuvim
Emphasis is placed upon the Hebrew language in the Prophets and the Writings, with special attention given to key prophetic and Messianic texts that identify the Messiah and His mission to Israel. Additional discussion will focus on the use of these texts in the New Testament. The character, extent, and personalities of the Hebrew prophetic scriptures will be studied along with principles for their interpretation. Note(s): Offered only at the New York extension site. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTOT 609 - Hebrew Exegesis III - Ketuvim
Emphasis is placed upon the Hebrew language in the Writings, or Hagiographa of the Old Testament Hebrew Scriptures. Special attention will be given to the characteristics and interpretation of Hebrew poetry and proverbs, along with the application of the wisdom literature of the Bible. Particular emphasis will also be given to texts that relate to the Messiah of Israel and His mission to Israel. Additional discussion will focus on the use of these texts in the New Testament. The character, extent, and authorship of this division of the Hebrew Scriptures will be studied along with principles for their interpretation. Note(s): Offered only at the New York extension site. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTOT 613 - Rabbinic Literature—Readings in Mishnah and Talmud
Using the original Mishnaic Hebrew text, some Aramaic texts of the Talmud, and English translations of both, students will be introduced to this core literature, which shaped the thought and life of the Jewish community. The overall content of the sixty-three tractates of the Mishnah will be taught as well as the interrelatedness with the text of the New Testament. Attention will also be given to selected portions of Tosefta and Midrash. This course will assist students in acquiring knowledge of Jewish culture and history from the 3rd Century to the present through the study of the argumentation of the Talmud and the contemporary approaches to Talmudic literature. Note(s): Offered only at the New York extension site. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTSF: Spiritual Formation, Institute of

Objectives

The Institute for Spiritual Formation, which functions as a department in Talbot, aims to integrate an in-depth integrative theology of spiritual formation with the process and dynamics involved in spiritual growth, soul care and mentoring in the church. It intends to train a generation of servants, both through the Institute for Spiritual Formation academic programs and through the Spiritual Formation Focus at Talbot, who are equipped both to understand and participate in the process of spiritual growth from a theological, integrative and experiential perspective. All of this takes place within the context of an authentic and open community, to the end that students are better equipped to help others in the church through this process. Consequently, the courses and co-curricular elements of the program aim to integrate the theoretical, experiential and practical dimensions of spiritual growth and mentoring. To accomplish this goal, the department draws upon the expertise of an interdisciplinary faculty from Talbot and Rosemead School of Psychology.
Co-Curricular Requirements
(Required for Institute students only)

Personal Spiritual Direction
Required of all Spiritual Formation students. All students are required to experience monthly spiritual direction in each semester they are enrolled in courses for the sake of their own spiritual growth and training in Christian soul care (enroll in TTSF 585). The fee structure between spiritual director and directee is to be arranged between the parties and is not the responsibility of the Institute or University. A list of qualified spiritual directors is provided to the student.

Didactic Therapy
Each master’s level ISF student is required to experience personal didactic psychotherapy concurrent with enrollment with a clinical therapist approved by the faculty (a minimum of 25 hours for M.Div. and M.A. in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care, 12 hours for M.A. with concentration in SF, encouraged for Certificate students). This is intended to introduce the students to the work and world of Christian psychotherapy as well as enhance the student’s understanding and experience of the psychological dynamics and defenses at work within themselves. The fee structure between therapist and client is to be arranged between the parties and is not the responsibility of the Institute or University. A list of qualified psychotherapists is provided to the student.

Faculty-Student Retreats
For all SF students, along with weekly chapel, faculty and students participate together in a yearly weekend retreat for the purpose of developing a more intimate and meaningful community in relation to God. Student costs for such retreats are the responsibility of each student and on occasion are provided by the Institute.

Personal Retreats
All students in the ISF programs are required to go on 48-hour solitude retreats for the purpose of cultivating the inner life before God. Four retreats are required for master’s level students, and two for Certificate. This is to be done in consultation with both the student’s designated spiritual director and advisor before and after the experience. Student costs for such retreats are the responsibility of each student. For M.A. with concentration in SF and Certificate students, the student will enroll in TTSF 672.

Student Progress Assessment
Students in M.Div. and M.A. in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care (only) will be evaluated to determine their progress and potential to successfully complete the program. In addition, their capacity to complete the Intensive Journey Inward Retreat, and most suitable manner for undertaking it, will be assessed. For some students the evaluation will be completed informally through faculty observation of and interaction with them. For others a more formal interview will be required. In either case, Institute faculty will determine the appropriateness of allowing the student

1. to continue in the program,
2. to continue in the program with certain conditions and/or re-evaluation or
3. not to allow the student to continue in the practicum sequence or perhaps in the program (or in some cases, permission to continue in the non-training M.A. concentration program; options vary for M.Div. and M.A. Soul Care students).

These evaluations will be completed after Pre-practicum I and Pre-practicum II.

Intensive Journey Inward Retreat
Required of students in M.Div. and M.A. in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care only. Due to the nature of soul work involved in spiritual direction and in harmony with its tradition, each student is required to have a total of three weeks of extended retreat in isolation or partial isolation to explore and cultivate the inner life in the presence of God under the supervision of a spiritual guide and one’s advisor. The student should enroll in the first half of TTSF 670 (2 credits for M.A. students, 1 for M.Div.) early in the program to prepare for the retreat. The second half of TTSF 670 should be taken near the end of the program and after completing the retreat. The costs for such a retreat are the responsibility of the student and not the Institute or University.

Courses
Spiritual Formation Focus courses TTSF 501, TTSF 503, TTSF 504 and TTSF 505 are open to all Talbot students except ISF students.

Institute for Spiritual Formation courses TTSF 517 through TTSF 750 are open only to ISF students.

TTSF courses follow the ‘One-Fourth Rule’ in which at least one-fourth of each course is devoted to experientially realizing or deepening what is taught.

TTSF 501 - Introduction to Spiritual Theology and Formation
Credits 2-3
Introductory study of the nature of spiritual theology and formation, which attempts to understand the nature of new life in Christ, the process of formation in the Spirit and the directives for cooperating with His work. Attention is given to the implications of Spiritual Theology for seminary training and classroom experience. Particular attention is given to understanding the implications of life in Christ regarding guilt, shame and legalism as well as the New Covenant ministry of the Spirit in transforming the heart in light of the dynamics of original sin, early relational development and the habits of sin developed over time. Attention is also given to developmental spirituality, how the Spirit transforms the heart over time and how this affects ministries of teaching, preaching and discipleship in the church. Note(s): Required of all Talbot students not in a Spiritual Formation academic program; a retreat will be introduced and required; this course will include a cohort group of no more than 15 students who explore the course content as well as the student’s own life and growth within community; required in the students’ first semester at Talbot; only students in the Talbot Master of Divinity program with a specialization in Messianic Jewish Studies (Feinberg Extension) are eligible to take this course for 2 credits; fee for co-curricular requirements. Grade Mode: A, N. Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level 1 Class, Graduate Level 2 Class, Graduate Level 3 Class, Graduate Level 4 Class, or Senior Class; must not be a Major in Spiritual Form Certificate (TSSF), Spiritual Formation (TPSF), Spiritual Formation/Soul Care (TASC), or Spiritual Formation (TASF); must be Talbot School of Theology, Undergraduate, Crowell School of Business; Post Masters Level, Doctoral Level, Undergraduate Level or Graduate Level. Course Fee: $280.
TTSF 503 - Personal Foundations for Spiritual Formation Credits 2-3
A theological and experiential exploration into human relationships and issues related to gender, romance, marriage, family and parenting as they relate to spiritual growth. Course includes an investigation into the impact of personal and family history on theological outlook, emotional congruence, relational attractions and moral decisions. Personal assessments and a one-day retreat are an integral part of this course. Students will experience spiritual community and intercessory prayer as they begin individual spiritual direction with a spiritual director and continue relationships within a cohort group to explore deeply their relational capacity at the heart of how Christ is formed in them, thereby developing deeper levels of trust and vulnerability. Note(s): Required of all Talbot students not in a Spiritual Formation academic program; cohort groups will continue to meet from TTSF 501 and a one-day group spiritual retreat will be required; only students in the Talbot Master of Divinity program with a specialization in Messianic Jewish Studies (Feinberg Extension) are eligible to take this course for 2 credits; fee for co-curricular requirements. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): TTSF 501.
Corequisite(s): TTSF 505.

TTTS 585 - Exploring Approaches to Apologetics Credits 3
Gordon R. Lewis, Ph.D. The course compares biblical, historical and recent approaches to defending faith in God, Christ and Scripture. It emphasizes the contrast between Peter's method of reasoning among the Jews in Jerusalem (Acts 2) and Paul's among the Gentiles in Athens (Acts 17). It compares the still influential approaches of Augustine and Aquinas. However, the bulk of the course examines six approaches of apologists who led in the resurgence of evangelism during the last half of the 20th century. Each approach uses different starting points and forms of argument: empirical/inductive, rational/deductive, self-authenticating presuppositions, self-authenticating mystical experiences and hypothesis/verification. Students are encouraged to integrate the strengths of the varied approaches. The last three lectures, exhibiting the lecturer's synthesis, are entitled: 'Why I Believe in God', 'Why I Believe in Jesus Christ' and 'Why I Believe the Bible'. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTTS 777 - The Theology of Martin Luther
Robert Kolb, Ph.D. The Theology of Martin Luther reviews the presentation of biblical doctrine according to topics in historical context. The presuppositions of his theology are set forth in his distinction of the two kinds of righteousness and the theology of the cross. Against this background Luther’s treatment of central Christian doctrines, particularly justification in the faith and the means of grace, are explored. Significant treatment is given to his understanding of life in human culture and society. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTTS 779 - Contemporary Theology
John S. Feinberg, Ph.D. In this course we shall attempt to examine some of the major trends in contemporary thought. In order to set the background for contemporary theological and philosophical discourse, we begin with a brief philosophical overview of the major developments in Western philosophy prior to Hegel. Discussion then turns directly to Hegel whose influence extends throughout the modern period. Kierkegaard represents not only a reaction to Hegel, but is also the first of the existentialist-oriented theologians we consider. After Kierkegaard, the course turns to Barth, Bultmann and Tillich. Parallel to these developments in theology was the development of analytic philosophy. Our emphasis will be philosophy of the earlier and later Wittgenstein. The course culminates in the God is Dead Theologies of Paul Van Buren and Thomas Altizer. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

TTTS 788 - African Theology and Religions
Tite Tienu, Ph.D. Study and analysis of African religions. Examines Christian theological formation in Africa against the background of African cultures and religions and in light of its contemporary context. Explores how to study and understand Africa and the factors that led to the debate on Christian theologizing in Africa. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Talbot School of Theology; Doctoral Level, Post Masters Level or Graduate Level.

Missions and Intercultural Studies for Talbot

A division of the Cook School of Intercultural Studies

Objectives

Christian leaders today, whether working in their own country or in another country, are usually working in cross-cultural contexts. Leaders must be prepared with ministerial skills that will enable them in penetrating and leading effectively in the midst of ethnic complexity and multiculturalism. Christian leaders must be able to exegete the scriptures and exegute the social context in which they work. By linking the Missions and Intercultural Studies program with the Cook School of Intercultural Studies, Talbot provides the M.Div. student an opportunity to study with theological and missiology faculty. This program is designed to provide training based on sound biblical and missiological principles that have been proven valuable in missions, pastoral leadership, cross-cultural ministry and human service.

Any Talbot student may take elective courses through the Cook School of Intercultural Studies.

INSTITUTE FOR SPIRITUAL FORMATION

The Institute for Spiritual Formation (ISF) is an interdisciplinary endeavor emerging from Talbot School of Theology and Rosemead School of Psychology to service various training and mentoring needs in spiritual formation at Biola University and the community beyond through student/faculty training and spiritual direction, the development of academic programs and the development of lay-church training. Its central aim is to integrate an in-depth integrative theology of spiritual formation with an understanding of the human and divine processes and dynamics involved in spiritual growth, soul care and mentoring in the church. Its ministries focus on ways to deepen believers’ knowledge and openness to God and His work as well as an understanding of one’s self and others in order to grow toward conformity of character and inner life in the image of Christ. Thus, ISF attempts to train a generation of servants who are equipped both to understand and participate in the process of spiritual growth from a theological, integrative and experiential perspective, within the context of a developing mentoring community, with the end that students are better equipped to help others in the church in this process. To accomplish these goals, ISF draws upon the expertise of an integrative faculty from Talbot (where ISF is administratively housed), Rosemead School of Psychology and eventually a host of creation disciplines, schools and departments in the University in creating a variety of related ministries:

Academic Programs

The Institute for Spiritual Formation is fundamentally committed to developing academic programs in spiritual formation and soul care-mentoring across the University in conjunction with Talbot School of Theology.

1. Offering the M.Div. Spiritual Formation concentration, Master of Arts in Spiritual Formation & Soul Care, M.A. Spiritual Formation concentration, and Certificate in Spiritual Formation at Talbot School of Theology (see the Talbot section of the catalog). These are one, two and three-year training programs in spiritual formation and spiritual direction.
2. Teaming together with Talbot’s Spiritual Formation Focus Program.
3. Developing a Doctor of Ministry Spiritual Formation component in order to provide personal, professional, and academic growth for pastoral and ministry leaders.
4. Eventually partnering with other creation disciplines at Cook School of Intercultural Studies, School of Education, Crowell School of Business, etc. for the sake of further academic programs and courses.

ISF Spiritual Direction

In addition to providing academic degrees, ISF also serves the training and mentoring needs of faculty, ISF graduate students, the Biola student population and the community at large. ISF’s spiritual direction practicum is the very heart of its graduate training programs, offering the following ministries:

Ministering to and Training Graduate Students

• As a center for training, mentoring, developing community and research for ISF graduate students.

Ministering to and Training Undergraduate Students

• As a center for training M.Div. and M.A. students in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care in supervised pre-practicum and practicum experiences in spiritually mentoring students.
• As a center for spiritually mentoring graduate students by ISF graduates, faculty and other outside trained spiritual directors.
• As a center for teaming with Talbot’s Spiritual Formation Core.

Faculty and Campus Resource and Community Development

• As a center for faculty community and development in spiritual formation and direction at the personal, curricular, academic and training levels.
• As a center and resource for Biola’s dorm resident directors and resident assistants regarding training and referrals in spiritual formation and soul care.

Research Development in Spiritual Formation and Soul Care

• As a center for spiritual formation and soul care research including the creation of The Evangelical Journal of Spirituality and Soul Care.

Church and Beyond: Biola Resource and Community Development

• As a center for resource development to the church and community outside Biola including lay training in spiritual formation and direction-mentoring.

Applied Linguistics (INAL)

INAL 300 - Introduction to Language and Linguistics Credits 3
Introduction to the basic concepts in the scientific study of language, major areas of linguistic analysis, and several subareas of the field, including language in society. Material from English and a variety of other languages is used to provide a broad perspective. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

INAL 301 - General Articulatory Phonetics Credits 3
The study of the articulation, classification, discrimination, production, and transcription of speech sounds. The focus is on a wide range of sounds found in the world’s languages. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): INAL 300 or INCS 310 or ENGL 351 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

INAL 302 - Phonetics and Phonology of English Credits 3
The study of the auditory discrimination, physical description, and systematic transcription of speech sounds, both standard and disordered, used in English and how these sounds are structured, organized and used. Some sounds from other languages are also included for comparison. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): INAL 300 or INCS 310 or ENGL 351 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

INAL 313 - Practicum in Language and Culture Learning Credits 3
Techniques and activities to help a person be a more successful learner of a new language and gain insights into the host culture. Practical experience in language and culture learning in a non-English-speaking community. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Applied Linguistics (ISAL)

ISAL 511 - Applied Linguistics
Credits 3
Introduction to theoretical and practical issues in applied linguistics, focusing on several important areas; e.g., bilingual education, lexicography, literacy, orthography design, social dialects and education and translation. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 520 - Introduction to Language and Linguistics
Credits 3
Introduction to basic concepts in the scientific study of language, major areas of linguistic analysis, and several subareas of the field, including language in society. Material from English and a variety of other languages is used to provide a broad perspective. Note(s): Prerequisite for graduate courses in Applied Linguistics for program majors; may be taken concurrently with other ISAL courses. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 521 - General Articulatory Phonetics
Credits 3
The study of the articulation, classification, discrimination, production, and transcription of speech sounds. The focus is on a wide range of sounds found in the world's languages. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 522 - Phonetics and Phonology of English
Credits 3
The study of the auditory discrimination, physical description, and systematic transcription of speech sounds, both standard and disordered, used in English and how these sounds are structured, organized and used. Some sounds from other languages are also included for comparison. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 523 - Introduction to Phonology
Credits 3
Introduction to the systematic arrangements and rules by which languages organize and alter their speech sounds. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520 or ISAL 521.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 524 - Introduction to Phonology - Challenge
Credits 3
Students who have completed a course similar to ISAL 523 may petition the faculty to earn credit by means of a challenge exam. Note(s): May be completed concurrently with other ISAL courses. Grade Mode: C.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Course Fee: $100.

ISAL 525 - Introduction to Syntax
Credits 3
Introduction to the patterns, regularities, and rule-governed alterations in grammar whereby words are organized into phrases, clauses, and sentences. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 654 - Field Methods in Linguistics
Extensive working with speakers of non-Indo-European languages, with special emphasis on collecting and analyzing language data leading to descriptions of phonology and syntax. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 523 or ISAL 524; and ISAL 525 or ISAL 527.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Course Fee: $100.

ISAL 656 - Practicum in Literacy
Field experience within the broad area of literacy. Credit for course may be earned, in some field-based situations, by portfolio assessment. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

ISAL 657 - Practicum in Applied Linguistics
Field experience in various areas of applied linguistics, such as lexicography, orthography design and translation. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with a different topic. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

ISAL 658 - Practicum in Linguistics
Fieldwork in the analysis and description of language systems or language use, such as phonology, syntax and sociolinguistics. Note(s): May be taken multiple times for credit with a different focus. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

ISAL 668 - Seminar in Applied Linguistics
In-depth examination of some main areas of applied linguistics. Topics vary, depending on class interests. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 511.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 679 - Planning, Evaluation, and Research in Applied Linguistics
In-depth treatment of program planning and evaluation, using appropriate qualitative and quantitative assessment instruments. Case studies of applied linguistic research will also be examined. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 511.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 683 - Topics in Linguistics
Topics are listed in the class schedule each semester. Course may be repeated for credit with a different topic. Titles offered include Translation Advising and Corpus Linguistics. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

ISAL 684 - Topics in Linguistics
Topics are listed in the class schedule each semester. Course may be repeated for credit with a different topic. Titles offered include Translation Advising and Corpus Linguistics. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

ISAL 685 - Topics in Applied Linguistics
Topics are listed in the class schedule each semester. Course may be repeated for credit with a different topic. Titles offered include Literacy and Economics, Monolingual and Bilingual Dictionaries, English as a World Language, and Computers and Language Acquisition. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

ISAL 686 - Topics in Applied Linguistics
Topics are listed in the class schedule each semester. Course may be repeated for credit with a different topic. Titles offered include Literacy and Economics, Monolingual and Bilingual Dictionaries, English as a World Language, and Computers and Language Acquisition. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

ISAL 690 - Independent Study
Guidance in the development of a thesis or research paper. Students produce a preliminary thesis statement, proposal, outline and working bibliography. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 695 - Research Seminar
Guidance in the development of a thesis or research paper. Students produce a preliminary thesis statement, proposal, outline and working bibliography. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Applied Linguistics (ISAL); and Cook Sch Intercultural Studies; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 696 - Research Paper
A paper based on classroom research, literature review, or the design of a syllabus or appropriate teaching materials. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 695.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 697 - Comprehensive Examination
An examination covering the major knowledge areas of the field. Normally taken after all ISAL coursework has been completed. Students permitted to write a thesis will not be required to take a comprehensive examination. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Linguistics/Biblical Language (ISLB) or Applied Linguistics (ISAL); and Cook Sch Intercultural Studies; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 699 - M.A. Thesis
Research for and writing of an M.A. thesis. Students permitted to write a thesis will not be required to take a comprehensive examination. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 695, and consent of MA committee.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Applied Linguistics (ISAL); and Cook Sch Intercultural Studies; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 722 - Phonological Theory
Special problems in phonological analysis from various languages. Includes abstract phonology. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 523 or ISAL 524.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
ISAL 724 - Syntactic Theory Credits 3
Study of several current models of syntax with application to the analysis and description of various languages. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 525 or ISAL 527.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 726 - Approaches to Translation Credits 3
Study of the theory and practice of translation, including secular and sacred texts, prose and poetry. Grade Mode: A.

Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 752 - Field Methods in Second Language and Culture Learning Credits 3
Overview of language and culture learning theories and skills. Topics covered include working with a cross-cultural partner, language learning styles, cultural bias, language and culture data management skills, and comparison of cultural bias with biblical principles. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

ISAL 799 - Research Continuous Registration Credits 0
Students who are not registered for any other courses and who need extra time are required to register for this course each semester to maintain their degree status. Grade Mode: C.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 520.
Restriction(s): Must be a Major in Applied Linguistics (ISAL); and Cook Sch Intercultural Studies; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Course Fee: $100.

ISAL 868 - Seminar in Applied Linguistics Credits 3
In-depth examination of some main areas of applied linguistics. Topics vary, depending on class interests. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 511.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level.

ISAL 879 - Planning, Evaluation, and Research in Applied Linguistics Credits 3
In-depth treatment of program planning and evaluation, using appropriate qualitative and quantitative assessment instruments. Case studies of applied linguistic research will also be examined. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): ISAL 511.
Restriction(s): Must be Doctoral Level.

Applied Psychology (APSY)

APSY 208 - Statistics for Research Credits 3
Students will learn the basic descriptive and inferential statistical concepts for social-psychological research with an emphasis on conceptual understanding and interpretation. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

APSY 265 - Psychology and Christian Thought Credits 3
An introduction to the nature and process of the application of Christian thought to the study and practice of psychology. Note(s): Approved for Core Curriculum Bible credit. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Applied Psychology (APSY); and Undergraduate Level.

APSY 320 - Experimental Psychology Credits 3
Students will be introduced to basic research design and evaluation methods. An analysis of the philosophy and methodology of the experimental method is considered. Students will complete an experimental research paper using APA guidelines and formatting. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): APSY 208; or PSYC 209 and PSYC 211 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

APSY 325 - Developmental Psychology: Lifespan Credits 3
A study of the theory and research regarding human development from conception through death. Consideration will be given to the biological, psychological, cultural and social influences on human development. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
APSY 344 - Abnormal Psychology Credits 3
Abnormal psychology is an exploration of the nature, causes and treatments of abnormal behavior, including the full range of mental disorders identified within the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM 5). This course is structured and designed to facilitate maximum exposure to the 'real world' of psychopathology through diverse learning assignments and exploration of current events within the field of psychology. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

APSY 355 - Psychology of Health and Well-Being Credits 3
Students will examine the contributions of psychological research to the understanding, prevention, and treatment of a variety of health concerns. This course will also explore the nature of stress arising from work, family, mobility, and cultural lifestyles. The psychology of health and well-being will be integrated with Christian theology specifically focusing on a biblical view of human flourishing, the body, illness and disease, suffering, and sacrificial service. Note(s): Approved for Core Curriculum Bible credit. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level; Undergraduate Level.

APSY 365 - Cognitive Psychology Credits 3
This course is designed to introduce students to the research and theories of higher mental processes. Among the cognitive processes to be studied are problem solving, memory, language, attention, reasoning and thinking. The physiological basis of cognitive processes will be discussed. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

APSY 406 - Social and Cultural Psychology Credits 3
Analysis of social behavior, including social cognition, attitude formation, change and group processes. Emphasis is placed on the application of social psychology principles to a range of issues, including sociocultural diversity, prejudice, conflict resolution and gender roles. Grade Mode: A.

Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BBST 475 - Puritan Theology Credits 3
Traces the history of Protestant spiritual formation from Martin Luther and John Calvin to the English Puritans and acquaints students with the history, theology, and theological influences of relevant theologians. Emphasizes the doctrinal distinctives of the Puritan movement and includes reading primary sources from that era. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Biblical and Theological Studies. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BBST 103, BBST 165, BBST 251, BBST 354.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
BBST 480 - Directed Research Credits 1-3
Guided independent reading, research, problem-solving and preparation of a formal paper or project done in consultation with a selected professor. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Biblical and Theological Studies. Note(s): Students may receive no more than a total of 6 credits counted towards graduation for BBST 480 and BBST 490 combined. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

BBST 481 - New Testament Use of the Old Testament Credits 3
A consideration of the issues raised by the use of the OT in the NT. Special attention is given to the hermeneutical presuppositions and exegetical methods employed by the NT writers as they appropriate the OT scriptures, and to the theological implications that arise from their use. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Biblical and Theological Studies. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BBST 251, BBST 301, BBST 312, BBST 354; BLGR 102 or BLHE 102.
Restriction(s): Must be Bible, Theology, and Ministry (BBTM); and Undergraduate Level.

BBST 490 - Practicum Credits 1-3
Supervised experience in teaching biblical studies. Includes course preparation, observation and evaluation. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Biblical and Theological Studies. Note(s): Students may receive no more than a total of 6 credits counted towards graduation for BBST 480 and BBST 490 combined. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

Biological Science (BIOS)

BIOS 100 - Biological Principles: Lecture Credits 3
A survey of biological principles including the cell, zoology, ecology, human anatomy, genetics, and origin of life theories. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): No lab is required, but BIOS 110 is the lab course designed to accompany this course; BIOS 100 without the lab (BIOS 110) will not receive transfer credit at most other universities; may not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 103 - Introduction to Environmental Science Credits 3
An interdisciplinary approach to the study of the environment using concepts from ecology, biology, chemistry, geology, the social sciences and Scripture to understand the interplay of natural resources, how humans are affecting the environment, and how to deal with environmental problems. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 105 - Biology for Educators Credits 4
A survey of general biology focusing on topics of particular interest to elementary and secondary school educators, including cells and cell division, basic genetics, plants, animals, ecology, human anatomy and physiology, and evolution. Laboratory exercises will use an observational and investigative approach to surveying a range of biological organisms and examining selected human systems. Note(s): Cannot be taken to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Liberal Studies, Elementary Education (LSEE) or Liberal Studies, Multidisciplinary (LSMD); and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 110 - Observational Biology Laboratory Credits 2
Observational and investigative approach to surveying a range of biological organisms and examining selected human systems. Note(s): Three hours lab, one hour lecture/discussion designed to be taken with BIOS 100; may not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 111 - Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology Credits 3
Introductory course for majors emphasizing the principles of cellular and molecular biology, genetics, and development. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 113.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 112 - Fundamentals of Organismal Biology Credits 3
Introductory course for biological science majors emphasizing the principles of systematics and biodiversity; population genetics and origins theories, ecology, and anatomy and physiology. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 113 - Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology Laboratory Credit 1
This laboratory accompanies BIOS 111 and is divided between observational and experimental approaches, with emphasis on the collection and interpretation of quantitative data. Frequent lab discussion of relevant issues and literature will be included. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 111.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 114 - Fundamentals of Organismal Biology Laboratory Credit 1
This laboratory, which accompanies BIOS 112, will involve dissection as well as experimentation. A field project involving the La Mirada Creek is included. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): BIOS 112.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.
BIOS 105 - Current Topics in Biology  Credits 3
Selected topics of current interest and concern are studied. Sections are offered each year upon sufficient demand. Topics are the following: Human Biology. Selected body systems and/or diseases will be studied in detail; Marine Biology. An overview of marine biology with an emphasis on local marine species and conservation. Topics include seaweed, invertebrate animals, fish, marine mammals, and the impact of humans; Zoology: This course provides a broad overview of invertebrate and vertebrate animal species with an emphasis on comparative anatomy and ecology. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): May not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 121 - Nutrition  Credits 3
A detailed study of the basic nutritional needs of humans: water, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, vitamins and minerals. Also included is a coverage of certain nutritional issues such as health foods, megavitamins, obesity and food additives, as well as computer-aided personal diet-analysis assignment. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 130 - Seminar in Biological Science  Credits 1-2
Online course in which students discuss current topics in biology through weekly literature searches and interactive online postings. Note(s): May not be used to fulfill elective requirements for these majors: Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES). Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must not be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Environmental Science (BIES); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 200 - Sophomore Writing Seminar  Credit 1
Writing for competency in the biological sciences. Students will get instruction and practice in science writing for the biological sciences as well as the two portions of the writing competency requirement. At the end of the course, students will take the timed portion of the writing competency requirement. Note(s): This course is required for all biological sciences, human biology and environmental science majors; it is highly recommended that this course be taken during the student's sophomore year, but it may be taken later. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 103 or BIOS 111 and BIOS 112; and ENGL 100 or ENGL 112. Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 222 - Botany  Credits 4
The study of the organs, tissues, functions and responses to environment of typical flowering plants and the morphology and life history of the major lower plant groups. Field work required, including collection and classification of native plants for the Biola Herbarium. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory; there will be some Saturday field trips. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 236 - Principles of Human Anatomy and Physiology  Credits 4
An introduction to the structure and the function of the systems of the human body. Integration and interaction of these systems in maintaining homeostasis will be a point of focus. Laboratories will provide students the opportunity to observe and interact with human anatomical structures as well as perform relevant physiological experiments. Grade Mode: A, N. Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; Environmental Science (BIES), Nursing (NURS), Biological Science (BIOS), Kinesiology (KHPE), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Human Biology (BIHB); and must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 254 - Human Anatomy  Credits 0,4
An introduction to the basic structure and function of the human body. Laboratory emphasis varies from section to section to meet the needs of the different majors. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour pre-lab, three hours laboratory. Note(s): Cadavers are used. Grade Mode: A, N. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 281 - Physiology  Credits 0,4
A study of the basic concepts of physiological regulation from the level of the cell to the integrated intact organism including neural, muscular, and neuro-endocrine regulatory systems. Laboratory includes human systems analysis and electrophysiology. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, one hour pre-lab, three hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105 or CHEM 120. Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 381 for credit; must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 282 - Microbiology  Credits 0,4
A study of microbial organisms with emphasis on bacteria and viruses, including their morphology, physiology, metabolism and genetics; host parasite interactions; humoral and cell-mediated immunity. Laboratory practice in handling microorganisms, including identification and culture techniques. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 380 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 290 - Natural History of Marine Mammals  Credit 1
Biology and natural history of marine mammals with special emphasis on California species. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 302 - Vertebrate Biology  Credits 4
The biology of vertebrates, stressing structure and function. Laboratory dissection of representative vertebrates emphasizes comparative anatomy. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 303 - Ecological Agriculture  Credits 4
Environmental analysis of natural resources in relation to people and policy. Focus is on ethnobotany, ecological agriculture, and land stewardship. Employs a discussion format both in classroom and field settings. Emphasis on grappling with difficult practical and ethical problems. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
BIOS 305 - Global Development and Ecological Sustainability  Credits 3-4
Environmental analysis and natural resources analysis in relation to society and developmental issues. Focus on ecological sustainability and sustainable society in the context of various factors that are bringing environmental degradation and impoverishment of people and cultures. Topics include tropical agriculture, hunger, poverty, international debt, appropriate technology, relief programs, missionary earthkeeping, conservation of wild nature, land tenure and land stewardship. Employs a discussion format grappling with difficult practical and ethical problems and issues that require deep and personal thought. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 306 - Land Resources  Credits 4
Systems level perspective on landforms and ecosystems. Includes analysis and interpretation of field data, remote sensing data derived from satellites and aircraft and geological information systems (GIS). Field trips to and analysis of forests, wetlands, lakeshores and rivers. Includes application to policy and land use planning. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 307 - Lake Ecology and Management  Credits 4
Field study of lakes and other freshwater systems with applications to planning and management. Includes an introduction to limnology and investigation of representative lakes, streams, and wetlands of the region and compares the North American Great Lakes with other great lakes of the world and their stewardship. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 308 - Biochemistry  Credits 3
Biochemistry explores the chemical processes occurring at the cellular and molecular level of living organisms. It covers a range of scientific disciplines including animal and plant physiology, microbiology, ecology, developmental biology as well as the fields of medicine, nutrition and pharmaceutical research. This course will survey the basic structural properties of amino acids, proteins, nucleic acids as well as the common anabolic and catabolic pathways in plant and animal cells. Real-world applications in nutrition, diseases, metabolic disorders, pharmaceuticals and supplements will be discussed. Lecture/Lab Hours: 3 hour lecture. Note(s): Please note this is a one-semester survey course designed to meet the requirements of non-premed (MD/DO) schools including but not limited to Physicians Assistant (PA), Physical Therapy (PT), Occupational Therapy (OT), Dentistry (DDS/DMD), and Optometry (OD) schools; cannot be combined with BIOS 411/CHM 411 General Biochemistry I or BIOS 412/CHM 412 General Biochemistry II for credit. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must be Pre-Medical Studies (BCPM) or Biochemistry (BCHM); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 310 - Prosection  Credits 1-2
An introduction to the human body through dissection and demonstration of a selected portion of a human cadaver. Lecture/Lab Hours: Thirty hours of laboratory. Note(s): Special approval required; may be taken for a total of 2 credits. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 254
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 311 - Neurobiology  Credits 3
Discusses the embryology of the nervous system, the structure and function of the different cells of the nervous system and transmission by neurons. Emphasis on understanding cellular organization and neurophysiology of major subsystems of the vertebrate nervous system. Note(s): BIOS 112, BIOS 254, or BIOS 281 recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105.
Restriction(s): Must not be Freshmen Class; and must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 312 - Cell and Molecular Biology  Credits 3
Discusses the molecular organization and function of cells and their organelles, with emphasis on chromosome structure, gene expression, membrane structure and function, energy conversion, and experimental methods used to study subcellular components. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; concurrent registration permitted in CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 315 - Nutrition and Metabolism  Credits 3
Study of molecular structure, absorption and cellular use of macro and micronutrients as well as dietary deficiencies and disorders. Analyzes food production, distribution, preparation and digestion. Human health is emphasized. Laboratory includes food analysis, preparation and field trips. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; CHEM 301; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 316 - Nutrition and Metabolism Lab  Credit 1
The Nutrition and Metabolism Laboratory will acquaint students with fundamental techniques used in food preparation and food science. Various foods will be analyzed for total energy content using various forms of calorimetry. Foods will also be analyzed for protein, simple and complex carbohydrate as well as fat content. Students will analyze the physical properties of various foods and experiment with preparation and preservation techniques. Students will tour several food production, processing and distribution centers. Attendance at each scheduled lab session is required and students will document their experimental procedures and results in a lab notebook. Lecture/Lab Hours: Four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; CHEM 301; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 322 - Laboratory in Cell and Molecular Biology  Credit 1
Practical application of traditional and current laboratory techniques used in research and industry, including microscopy, scanning electron microscopy, histology, chromosomal analysis, tissue cell culture, isolation and purification of DNA, RNA and proteins, PCR, proper documentation and protocols and other laboratory writing skills are emphasized. Lecture/Lab Hours: Four hours of laboratory. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; concurrent registration permitted in CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.
BIOS 325 - Environmental Microbiology Credits 4
Microorganisms exist in all areas of nature, ranging from soils and waters to extreme environments, which are too harsh for the existence of humans, animals or plants. Understanding the role played by microorganisms in these environments is critical to our survival and quality of life. Such roles include cycling of elements, breakdown of organic material and pollutants, contribution to geological processes, causing diseases, water quality and wastewater treatment, and the biodeterioration of materials. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 103; and CHEM 106 or CHEM 120. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 326 - Sciences CSET Preparation Credit 1
Review of the subject matter in the California Subject Examinations for Teachers (CSET) Science subtest exams. Test-taking strategies. Note(s): May be taken for a total of 3 credits; only 1 credit may count towards degree. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 3.

BIOS 332 - Genetics Credits 0,4
Integrates principles of Mendelian and molecular genetics toward understanding structure and function of the gene. Emphasizes quantitative analysis of genetic data and explores current issues of genetic engineering from technical and ethical viewpoints. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours lab. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322 (may be taken concurrently). Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 335 - Field Biology Credits 1-4
Systematics, distribution, behavior and ecology of the common plants and animals of the selected domestic or international site or region. Emphasis is on the site's biodiversity, ecology, and associated conservation issues. Trips to domestic sites may occur during Interterm or Summer terms, as well as on Saturdays or weekends during the school year. Domestic sites may include the LA region, the Sierra, the Grand Canyon, and the Channel Islands. Trips to international sites may occur in the Interterm or Summer term and may include studies world-wide. Both domestic and international sites will vary from year to year based on faculty interest and student support and enrollment. Note(s): Students taking this course as an elective will have different assignments than BIOS and BIES majors; credits vary based on different lengths of time at the study site. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Additional Fee(s): Varied by location and duration of trip(s).

BIOS 351 - Invertebrate Biology Credits 4
Taxonomy and morphology of invertebrate phyla; laboratory dissection of invertebrates. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 352 - Marine Biology Credits 4
Introduction to oceanography, marine plant and animal diversity, and ecological relationships. Lab sessions will include field trips. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Additional Fee(s): Varied based on cost of transportation and activity fees.

BIOS 353 - Environmental Ethics Credits 3-4
Investigation of contemporary problems in environmental stewardship including the use of renewable and nonrenewable natural resources, pollution, appropriate land use and development, third world concerns, and preservation of wild nature. In addition to developing a Christian environmental ethic from a stewardship perspective, the course considers such movements and issues as deep ecology and ecofeminism, animal rights, wilderness ethics, wildlife management, biodiversity and agro-ecology. Emphasis on considering concrete, current ethical debate. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 354 - Bioethics Credits 4
The dilemmas of dangerous knowledge in environmental and medical activities are investigated, including stem cell research and applications, fetal tissue research, human gene manipulation, transgenic bioengineering, genetically modified crops, release of bioengineered organisms into natural ecosystems, and emerging disease, the ethics of environmental activism, and the religious roots of ethical values. This course uses a seminar format in which topics are presented by student teams including presentations, panel discussions and debate. Current attempts to develop a theological basis for bioethics are considered. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 355 - Environmental Health: An Ecological Perspective Credits 4
Introduction to the fundamentals of environmental health, with an introduction to environmental epidemiology and environmental medicine. Environmental pollutants and their sources, effects of environmental pollution on the environment and public health, environmental control agencies, methods of pollution control, environmental law and policy, environmental and public health research agencies, environmental epidemiology, environmental medicine, and environmental stewardship are included. Field trips and lab assignments complement the material covered in lectures. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Note(s): Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 360 - Principles of Geographic Information Systems Credits 4
This course will provide an understanding of the importance of geographic information systems software (GIS) that is used worldwide to create maps and analyze digital data and photos for use in many disciplines. Within the biological and environmental sciences it is used in environmental impact reports, city or regional planning, and species and ecosystem management plans. Students will create maps and analyze data gained from the web or created by themselves. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory, weekly. Note(s): Must have good computer skills and be familiar with Microsoft Excel. Grade Mode: A, N. Restriction(s): Must not be Freshman Class; and must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.
BIOS 362 - Natural History of Southern California
Credits 3
A field-oriented course to study and identify the common plants and animals found within the major plant and animal communities of Southern California. Lecture/Lab Hours: Two hours lecture, four hours laboratory/field, including one or two extended field trips. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 371 - Conservation Biology
Credits 4
Principles of conservation biology with applications to sustainable human society and biospheric integrity. An integrative approach to biology and society that interrelates population biology, ecological principles, biogeochemical cycles, ecosystem functions, and human society in the context of biospheric degradation. The course develops a stewardship perspective rooted in biological principles and directed at conservation of plant and animal species, biotic communities, ecosystems and human society. Included are topics of human development, poverty and economic growth. Note(s): Biola and Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 372 - Restoration Ecology
Credits 4
Ecological and theoretical foundations for ecosystem and biotic community restoration. This course develops ecological principles for ecosystem restoration and applies them to redeeming and restoring degraded and damaged ecosystems and endangered species. Field studies include analysis of restoration and rehabilitation work with Kirtland Warbler, an officially designated wild river, coastal dunes, kettle-hole bogs, deforested lands, degraded residential and farming sites, and abandoned oil wells. A practical field laboratory is included in which techniques are applied to a specific site. Note(s): Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 380 - Advanced Microbiology
Credits 4
A study of microbial diversity with emphasis on bacteria and viruses. Topics include structure, function, metabolism, nutrition and growth dynamics, control of microbial growth, and genetics. Students will gain practical hands-on experience in microbiology lab techniques used in diagnostics and research including staining and microscopy, bacteria culture, isolation and identification through various lab exercises. Core scientific skills will be developed through the following activities: critical review of primary literature; discussion of supporting theories and emerging concepts; and identifying unsolved problems in the field of microbiology. Students will design and execute an original research project and present their findings in a formal research paper. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 282 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 381 - Advanced Physiology
Credits 4
An advanced study of human physiology that emphasizes the mechanisms of homeostasis at the cellular, organ, and system levels. Neural, vascular, respiratory, excretory, digestive, and endocrine systems are studied. Advanced Physiology includes a major laboratory research project. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 112 and BIOS 114, or BIOS 254; CHEM 106 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Cannot be combined with BIOS 281 for credit; must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 382 - Vertebrate Physiology
Credits 4
Discusses the mechanisms of integration and homeostasis at the cellular, organ and system levels. Muscular, neural, vascular, excretory, and endocrine interactions are studied. Variations between vertebrate groups are presented. Includes a major research project. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 112 and BIOS 114, or BIOS 254; CHEM 106 or CHEM 120.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 390 - Au Sable Institute of Environmental Studies
Credits 4
Au Sable is a Christian institute focusing on field studies from a stewardship perspective. Biola is a participating member of the institute. Courses are taught at field stations in Michigan, Washington, Florida and India. Coursework taken through the institute can be counted as elective credit in the Biological Sciences, or may be substituted for specific major requirements. Note(s): May be taken multiple times with different content. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 16.

BIOS 401 - General Ecology
Credits 4
An introduction to the general concepts of the ecology of populations, communities and ecosystems, including physiological ecology, speciation and evolutionary theory. Laboratory includes field trips and a research project. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105; or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 402 - Parasitology
Credits 4
Taxonomy, life history, physiology, molecular basis, ecology and morphology of animal parasites with emphasis on those affecting humans. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111, BIOS 113; and BIOS 112, BIOS 114.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 410 - Topics in Environmental Science
Credits 1-4
Selected topics in environmental science. Note(s): May be taken multiple times with different content; Biola or Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.
BIOS 411 - General Biochemistry I  Credits 3
Structures and properties of biomolecular components of cells, including proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, nucleotides, nucleic acids, vitamins and coenzymes, kinetics and mechanism and regulation of enzyme action in biological systems. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 (Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology) recommended. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 412 - General Biochemistry II  Credits 3
Principles of metabolic processes; mathematical treatment of bioenergetics emphasizing major concepts and problem solving. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 (Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology) recommended. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 413 - Laboratory in General Biochemistry  Credits 2
A laboratory course to accompany BIOS 411, BIOS 412 (CHEM 411, CHEM 412). The isolation, characterization and analysis of biomolecules including the use of biochemical instrumentation and methodology for work in protein structure, enzymology, metabolism and genetics. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 (Fundamentals of Cellular and Molecular Biology) recommended. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 332. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $185.

BIOS 424 - Advanced Molecular Techniques  Credits 2
Continuation of the molecular techniques introduced in BIOS 332 laboratory. Includes various techniques of advanced molecular analysis such as RNA isolation, reverse transcription, expression constructs, northern blotting, in situ hybridization, and genotyping. Lecture/Lab Hours: Six hours lab. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 332. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 430 - Topics in Natural Resource Management  Credits 1-4
Selected topics in natural resource management. Note(s): May be taken multiple times with different content; Au Sable offering. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 8.

BIOS 431 - Developmental Biology  Credits 4
Analyzes the molecular, genetic and cellular mechanisms that control fertilization, the development of body form, cell specialization and differentiation as well as metamorphosis, maturation and aging. Laboratory emphasizes gametogenesis, fertilization, comparative embryology of vertebrates and invertebrates and directed experimental manipulation of embryos. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 312. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 440 - Topics in Advanced Biology  Credits 1-4
Selected topics of current interest and concern are studied. Note(s): Course may be taken multiple times for credit with different content (section title). Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Biochemistry (BCHM); Junior Class or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 10.

BIOS 445 - Immunology  Credits 3
A study of the structures and functions of the immune system, humoral and cell mediated immunity, and analysis of medically significant disorders of the immune system. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 312 (may be taken concurrently). Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BIOS 446 - Ornithology  Credits 4
Systematics, distribution, physiology, behavior and ecology of birds. Field identification emphasized. Lecture/Lab Hours: Two hours lecture, four hours laboratory/field trip; Saturday field trips are required. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 105, or BIOS 112 and BIOS 114. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 450 - Directed Research  Credits 1-4
Literature and laboratory or field research of a specific subject or technique in biology; advanced students gain experience in experimental design, laboratory investigation and technical writing. Note(s): Special approval required; requires a written report; may be repeated in subsequent terms. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Biological Science: Secondary Instruction (BISI), Human Biology (BIHB), Biological Science (BIOS), or Biochemistry (BCHM); Junior Class or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 4. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 455 - General Virology  Credits 2
A course that examines the diversity of plant, animal and bacterial viruses. Emphasis on topics such as molecular interactions between the host and virus, the genetics and chemical nature of viruses, and the replication strategies of viruses. How viruses cause disease, how they are used in biotechnology, and their overall impact on society will also be discussed. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; BIOS 282 or BIOS 380. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.

BIOS 460 - Clinical Observation Practicum  Credits 1-2
Pre-Medical Practicum; Pre-Dental Practicum; Pre-Medical Technology; Pre-Veterinary Practicum. Practicum: A professionally supervised observation, demonstration and study in a local medical, dental or laboratory facility. Introduction to health care philosophies, hospital and patient routines, personnel, instrumentation and specific treatment practices. Note(s): Special approval required; case study and research paper required; thirty hours of observation. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class or Senior Class; and Undergraduate Level. Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 2. Course Fee: $85.

BIOS 465 - General Virology  Credits 4
Virology is a course that examines the diversity of plant, animal and bacterial viruses. Emphasis on topics such as molecular interactions between the host and virus, the genetics and chemical nature of viruses, and the replication strategies of viruses. How viruses cause disease, how they are used in biotechnology, and their overall impact on society will also be discussed. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, four hours laboratory. Grade Mode: A, N. Prerequisite(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113; BIOS 282 or BIOS 380. Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $115.
BUSN 105 - Programming and Data Structures for Business Credits 3
This course presents object oriented and procedural software engineering methodologies in data definition and measurement, abstract data type, construction and use in developing screen editors, reports and other IS applications using data structures including indexed files. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 201 - Principles of Macroeconomics Credits 3
Macroeconomics: supply and demand analysis, fiscal and monetary policy, money and banking, international trade and the balance of payments. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 202 - Principles of Microeconomics Credits 3
An introduction to microeconomic analysis. Topics covered include consumer theory, the conduct of firms under competitive or monopolistic conditions, the causes and consequences of various market outcomes, and the role of government in regulating economic behavior. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 205 - Economic Principles Credits 3
Micro and macro economic theory with an emphasis on the application of this theory to current economic issues, including the study of those who developed the theory and their predecessors. Issues involving trade and finance among nations and their comparative economic systems will also be examined. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must not be Business Administration (BUSN); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 211 - Principles of Accounting I Credits 3
Financial accounting concepts and techniques essential for all business majors and those seeking to learn the language of business; analyzing and recording transactions; preparation of financial statements; valuation and allocation procedures. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $10.

BUSN 212 - Principles of Accounting II Credits 3
Financial accounting for corporations; analysis of financial statements; international accounting issues; introduction to managerial accounting; product costing and cost allocation procedures; budgetary control and responsibility accounting; analysis and techniques for planning and managerial decision making. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BUSN 211.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 220 - Management Information Systems Credits 3
Students will study information systems, their design, implementation and contribution to management planning, decision-making and control. The impact of information systems on the personal and spiritual lives of students as well as their impact on broader society will also be covered. Students will learn relevant business software applications through hands-on lab assignments. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 229 - Personal and Family Finances Credits 3
Managing family finances; budgeting use of credit; borrowing money; saving methods; purchase of life, health, property and auto insurance; buying and renting property; taxes; buying securities; wills and estates. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 230 - Introduction to Marketing Credits 3
Introduction to the basic elements of modern marketing including the study of the marketing environment framework, target market, market segmentation, marketing ethics, and the marketing mix variables of product, promotion, price, public relations and place/distribution. Note(s): This course is intended for students that do not have marketing or marketing management as a concentration. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BUSN 190 or MATH 190.
Restriction(s): Must not be a Concentration in Business/Marketing (BUMK) or Marketing Management (BUMG); and must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 231 - Introduction to Marketing: Practical Application Credits 3
Introduction to the basic elements of modern marketing including the study of the marketing environment framework, target market, market segmentation, marketing ethics, and the marketing mix variables of product, promotion, price, public relations and place/distribution. It is designed to facilitate primary and secondary research to complete a target market project. Note(s): No substitutions or transfers will be allowed in place of this course; this course is intended for Marketing and Marketing/Management concentration students. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): BUSN 190 or MATH 190.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 240 - Principles of Management Credits 3
Presents a conceptual overview of the principles of management. The functions of planning, organizing, leading and controlling are analyzed. The leader’s perspective on creating competitive advantage in a global environment is related to the topics of diversity, ethics and social responsibility, human resources, corporate culture and organizational structure. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
BUSN 243 - Fundamentals of Financial Planning Credits 3
This course will teach students the process of formulating, implementing, and monitoring financial decisions into an integrated plan that guides an individual or family to achieve their financial goals. A strong emphasis will be placed on formulating financial goals that are consistent with biblical truth. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

BUSN 301 - Business Writing and Case Analysis Credits 3
Provides an understanding of business communication and trains students to become effective written and oral communicators by imparting the fundamentals of style and strategy for typical business documents and developing critical thinking by means of case analysis and analytical reports. <td>BUSN 479 - Capstone for Financial Management Concentration</td>
<td>Credits 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>As the capstone for financial management concentration students, this course will explore advanced and current topics in finance and management. Students will complete an academic service learning project, field study, or other experiential project related to their future career interests, complete an E-Portfolio including career preparation materials, demonstrate the ability to apply the principles and practice of ethical and responsible business behaviors consistent with biblical leadership models. Note(s): Passing this course with a &quot;C&quot; or better will satisfy the Crowell School of Business E-Portfolio Competency Requirement; no substitutions or transfers will be allowed in place of this course. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): BUSN 323, BUSN 421, BUSN 462, 463; acceptance into the Crowell School of Business. Restriction(s): Must be a Concentration in Financial Management (BFUM); and Undergraduate Level. Course Fee: $25.</td>

<tr>
<td>MBAD 502 - Digital Tools for Business</td>
<td>Credit 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Students will learn how to use leading business technology tools to analyze and resolve business problems in a laboratory setting. Students will learn how to utilize information systems to provide solutions that will be useful for managerial decision-making. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MBAD 506 - Marketing from the Management Perspective</td>
<td>Credits 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>Students learn to manage the marketing process in the context of the firm's strategies and objectives. Topics include analyzing marketing opportunities, selecting target markets, developing marketing strategies, planning marketing programs, budgeting the marketing program, and implementing and controlling the marketing effort. Students will also be introduced to economic principles that affect marketing decisions. Throughout the course students will reflect on biblical and ethical issues in marketing, and how they potentially affect the marketing management process. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MBAD 507 - Economic Fundamentals</td>
<td>Credits 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>This overview course is an introduction to the basic tools and principles of economics. Topics include supply and demand theory, theory of consumer behavior, industrial organization, income distribution, market failure, business cycles, monetary and fiscal policy, and international trade. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MBAD 508 - Business Law</td>
<td>Credits 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>This course will examine the legal and regulatory environment of business including an overall survey of the legal system, torts, contracts, criminal law, employment and labor law, business organizations, international law, as well as ethics and biblical principles and their relationship to and interaction with legal principles. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MBAD 516 - Accounting and Finance for Decision Makers</td>
<td>Credits 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>The objective of this course is to provide students with an opportunity to understand the complex accounting and financial data they will receive as operating managers. In particular, students will learn how to use the data as an effective management tool for coordinating managerial and organizational activities. Financial accounting, managerial accounting, and financial management are covered with consideration of international, economic and legal issues. Students also consider the nature of numerical analysis as a description of reality, giving rise to ethical and other biblical issues of interpretation. Grade Mode: A. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MBAD 550 - Business Internship</td>
<td>Credits 1-3</td>
<td></td>
<td>Business work experience related specifically to field of study, under guidance of the faculty. A proposal describing learning objectives, collateral reading and expected benefits must be submitted and accepted by a supervisor and instructor at the time of registration. Note(s): An Add/Drop Slip and Arranged Course Form must be obtained in the Crowell School of Business. Grade Mode: A. Prerequisite(s): Approved proposal. Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.</td>

MBAD 601 - Intensive: Group Dynamics
Credit 1
This intensive course consists of a weekend session that is used to initiate the program. Students will learn the importance of highly productive teams in the modern innovative organization, and will experience how to build a productive team. The learning that takes place here will be used and amplified in the students' future coursework. Students will also be introduced to how a biblical worldview equips the Christian to follow Christ in the workplace. Another important part of the weekend is the introduction of the Master of Business Administration Mentor Program, along with the outstanding individuals who have been selected, and have chosen, to serve as mentors. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Course Fee: $100.

MBAD 604 - Organizational Financial Policy
Credits 3
An examination and evaluation of financial decision making in the corporate environment: valuation of future cash flows, characterization of risk and return and evaluation of options available to firms to finance their operations or fund growth opportunities. Students will learn how to analyze financial data to provide information to management decision makers on how to improve the financial performance of their firms and make the best capital investment decisions. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 516 required unless waived through undergraduate coursework.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 605 - Advanced Financial Management and Control
Credits 3
This course examines the means for achieving control while exploring improvement alternatives. Topics such as financial statement analysis, budgeting, tax issues, restructuring, reengineering, and current topics in financial management are discussed. Learning focuses on the methods used by managers to guide employee actions in ways that are both financially and biblically appropriate. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 516 required unless waived through undergraduate coursework.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 608 - Marketing Strategy
Credits 3
This course is designed to provide students with an analytical framework to conduct (1) marketing planning and strategy, (2) market definition and measurement, and (3) the management and control of marketing programs. The primary objectives of this course are two-fold: (1) provide an environment where each student can develop the necessary professional skills for a successful career in marketing management; and (2) encourage analytic and strategic thinking about marketing programs. Using business-related tenets of economics, students will also learn how to apply economic principles to strategic decision-making. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 506 required unless waived through undergraduate coursework.

MBAD 610 - Business Intelligence and Data Analysis
Credits 3
Students will understand the role that digital technologies and statistical analysis play in the competitive advantage of a business. Includes a review of basic business statistics concepts. Students will work with the latest technologies and methods used for corporate decision-making in a laboratory environment and then apply the results to real-world situations. Note(s): Online coursework in Information Systems and Statistics required through Ivy Software with a passing grade of 74% or above unless waived through undergraduate coursework. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 611 - Management Theory and Practice
Credits 3
This course focuses on the development of managerial skills to enhance personal and organizational effectiveness. Students will examine and critique academic articles, professional literature and business cases related to personal and organizational productivity, operations management, human behavior in organizations, leadership and general management. Students will be required to reflect deeply upon the meaning of managerial effectiveness and will further be expected to challenge their own practices in light of these lessons. Special attention will be placed on the development of one's personal faith and a biblical perspective of management. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Graduate Level.

MBAD 613 - Biblical Management and Ethics
Credits 3
Within the context of Scripture, philosophical and ethical principles are identified, discussed, and applied to business problems and situations including the organization's obligation to the individual and to society, and the individual's responsibility to the organization. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 620 - Social Entrepreneurship
Credits 3
This course examines the historical and re-emerging role of business in world missions. Attention will be given to (1) the theology of work, business and 'business as mission', and (2) the practical issues related to creating and managing a business that advances the cause of Christ at home or abroad. Students will also develop and present to class their own ideas for a Business as Mission company. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 625 - Organizational Change and Leadership
Credits 3
This course is designed to teach students how to create and manage change for productivity, through individual and group leadership. Students will study traditional and cutting-edge methods for initiating and supporting innovation in new and existing organizations, as well as pitfalls to avoid. The crucial role of leadership in the change process will be examined, and opportunities for experience in innovation and change will be made part of class time and assignments. Students will also study significant variables that influence organizations and individual effectiveness necessary for developing effective leadership in the contemporary workforce while examining the role of change from a biblical perspective. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
MBAD 633 - Managing Emerging Enterprises Credits 3
This course focuses on the techniques used to create and evaluate new concepts and business opportunities. Students study the process of feasibility analysis of business ventures from the time of concept generation through critical concept analysis, opportunity screening and pre-feasibility analysis, to the development of the written business plan. The goal is to prepare students for starting and running successful or emerging enterprises, or to employ an entrepreneurial mindset in any organizational setting. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 604, MBAD 611; and MBAD 506 or MBAD 608.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 640 - Current/Advanced Topics in Business Credits 1-3
Elective course in such topics as advertising and social media, negotiation and conflict management for the change agent, and practical leadership theory. Note(s): May be repeated with a different topic. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.
Repeat Limit (after first attempt): 1.

MBAD 644 - Nonprofit Management Credits 3
The study of the management principles, concepts, and practices in nonprofit organizations. Topics include the development of mission statements, success measures, organization structure, stakeholder management, promotion, fundraising, and strategic decision-making. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 650 - Current/Advanced Topics in Business Credits 1-3
In-depth investigation of a topic under the guidance of the faculty. Note(s): Special approval required. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 675 - Management Strategy Credits 3
This course focuses on the requirements for building and sustaining a competitive advantage through strategic management, both within existing businesses and new business start-ups. Students will discover that all business projects and initiatives benefit from strategic thinking as they develop an awareness of the range, scope and complexity of the issues and problems related to the strategic management of an organization's resources and capabilities. A strategic planning model will be introduced in the class and students will use the model to create a strategic plan for an existing business or new idea. Students will develop insight into the skills necessary to be an effective general manager through a business simulation project. Students will also explore the biblical implications of strategic management. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 604, MBAD 605, MBAD 608, MBAD 609, MBAD 610, MBAD 611, MBAD 620, MBAD 625; MBAD 633 (or MBAD 630 and MBAD 635).
Restriction(s): Must be Crowell School of Business; and Graduate Level or Doctoral Level.

MBAD 685 - Capstone: Nonprofit Organizations Credits 3
This course ties together all of the materials covered in the Master of Management in Nonprofit Organizations program. Students will complete a field study project that demonstrates their understanding of business concepts with the unique challenges that faith-based and nonprofit organization brings. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): MBAD 644.
Restriction(s): Must be Master of Mgmt Nonprofit Orgs (MMNP); and Crowell School of Business; Graduate Level.

MBAD 999 - Degree Program Completed Credits 0
Grade Mode: N.

Chemistry (CHEM)

CHEM 100 - The Chemistry of Everyday Life Credits 3
The basic principles of chemistry for the non-science major. Uses the materials of modern society as a theme for exploring the properties and structure of matter as well as the methods and consequences of transforming natural resources to consumer products. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 105 - General Chemistry I Credits 0,4
Principles and theories of the structure and properties of matter including stoichiometry, atomic theory, the periodic table, chemical bonding, molecular structure, nomenclature, chemical reactions, states of matter, gas laws and solutions. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory, one hour recitation, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Course fee covers the provided lab coat and safety goggles. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): Passing score on Chemistry Placement Exam; or CHEM 092, CHEM 104, or CHEM 107 with at least a 'B-'.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $170.

CHEM 106 - General Chemistry II Credits 0,4
Continuation of General Chemistry I. Subjects include chemical kinetics, equilibrium, thermodynamics, solubility, acidity, electrochemistry, coordination complexes and various special topics. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory, one hour recitation, weekly. Note(s): A minimum grade of a 'C-' is required to subsequently register in CHEM 321 and CHEM 322; or CHEM 301 and CHEM 311. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $130.

CHEM 107 - Introduction to Chemistry Credits 3
This is an introductory course which provides an overview of chemistry and prepares students for their required chemistry courses in majors like nursing, kinesiology, biology, physics, chemistry, and engineering. Topics include scientific units and measurements, the nature and states of matter, atomic theory, chemical bonding, chemical reactions, and chemical interactions. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, weekly. Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): This course does not count towards the degree requirements in majors which need additional chemistry courses; required for students who did not pass the Chemistry Placement Exam, optional for all others; a minimum grade of 'B-' is required to subsequently register in CHEM 105, or a minimum grade of 'C' for CHEM 120; course may only be repeated once; additional attempts require permission of major advisor. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Repeat Limit (total number of credits): 6.

CHEM 110 - Chemistry Topics Credits 1-4
Various topics in introductory chemistry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
CHEM 120 - Principles of Organic and Biochemistry
Credits 0,4
Chemical bonding, structure, properties and reactivity applied to organic and biochemical compounds. Includes basic metabolic processes with application to medicine and health.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; one hour recitation; three hours laboratory, weekly.
Core Curriculum: Approved for Core - Science. Note(s): Meets the Nursing requirement in Chemistry; this course is also required for some Kinesiology and Physical Education programs; course fee covers the provided lab coat and safety goggles. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): Passing score on Chemistry Placement Exam; or CHEM 105 or CHEM 107 with at least a ‘C’.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $130.

CHEM 301 - Organic Chemistry I
Credits 3
The first semester of the traditional yearlong course in organic chemistry. Structure, properties and reactivity of carbon-containing compounds with emphasis on reaction mechanisms. An introduction to the major functional groups and the instrumental methods for structure determination: IR, NMR, and MS. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of ‘C’ or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 302 - Organic Chemistry II
Credits 3
Continuation of Organic Chemistry I. Continued work with more complicated reactions and mechanisms. An introduction to computer-based drawing and searching tools. The last third of the course is devoted to the structure and properties of major biochemical substances. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 312.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 311 - Laboratory in Organic Chemistry I
Credit 1
Basic laboratory techniques for the synthesis, isolation, purification and analysis of organic compounds including the major chromatographic methods, TLC, GC, LC.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 301.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 312 - Laboratory in Organic Chemistry II
Credit 1
Continuation of the laboratory methods in organic chemistry including the major structural determination and analysis tools of NMR, IR, HPLC, UV/Vis.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 321 - Basic Organic and Biochemistry
Credits 3
Covers the basic nomenclature, structure, properties and reactivity of organic compounds and biomolecules such as carbohydrates, proteins and nucleic acids. Includes radical reactions and other topics essential to environmental and biochemical studies.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture weekly. Note(s): This is a one semester terminal course and thus does not serve as a prerequisite for CHEM 302 or BIOS/CHEM 411; may not fulfill the requirement for medical school or other related health professions; fulfills the requirement for environmental science and human biology majors. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of ‘C’ or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 322 - Basic Organic and Biochemistry Lab
Credit 1
Lab techniques and experiments related to the Basic Organic and Biochemistry lecture course.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106 with a grade of ‘C’ or better.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 321.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 332 - Environmental Chemistry
Credits 0,4
Quantitative introduction to the chemistry of the atmosphere and air pollution, energy and climate, toxic organic compounds, water pollution and purification, soil chemistry and waste disposal.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; three hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301 and CHEM 311; or CHEM 321 and CHEM 322.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 350 - Analytical Chemistry
Credits 0,5
Covers classical chemical methods of analysis such as titrimetry and gravimetry along with various instrumental methods including electrochemistry, spectroscopy and chromatography.
Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture; six hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 352 - Fundamentals of Material Science
Credits 3
Introduction to the structure-property relationships of engineering and natural materials including metals, ceramics, polymers and composites. Examines the strength of materials, strengthening mechanisms, diffusion, phase transformations, heat treatment and microstructure control. Considers how materials are selected for design of a product. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): PHSC 112 or PHSC 233; CHEM 105 and MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 360 - Inorganic Chemistry
Credits 3
Covering the chemistry of the entire periodic table, the course begins with atomic theory and then introduces symmetry and group theory before looking in depth at chemical bonding and acid-base chemistry, the chemistry and properties of solids, coordination chemistry, organometallic chemistry, bioinorganic chemistry, and nanomaterials. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302 with a grade of ‘C’ or better; MATH 105.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 380 - Introduction to Physical Chemistry
Credits 3
Course introduces thermodynamics, kinetic and quantum mechanic principles underlying molecular properties and chemical reactivity with specific application to biological systems. Macromolecular behavior and spectroscopic tools are included. Note(s): MATH 106 strongly recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106, MATH 105; PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
CHEM 390 - Introduction to Food Chemistry Credits 4
This course will introduce students to the chemistry of the key components in foods, their properties and interactions, and changes that occur during different stages of production. Lectures will provide the molecular bases behind food behavior. The laboratory will give students practical experience in basic food chemistry techniques, and help demonstrate concepts from lecture. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory, weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301, CHEM 311.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 402 - Physical Chemistry I Credits 3
Molecular energetics - the thermodynamic principles underlying energy changes in chemical systems and governing chemical reactions. Energetics of solutions, electrochemical cells, phase changes, and chemical equilibria are discussed. Quantum mechanics is introduced, including solutions to the time-independent Schrodinger equation, multi-electron systems, and polyatomic molecules. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 106, MATH 106, PHSC 112 or PHSC 233.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 405 - Physical Chemistry II Credits 0,4
Building upon the thermodynamic and quantum mechanical foundation of Physical Chemistry I, this course applies quantum mechanics to Hartree-Fock theory and electronic, vibrational, and nuclear spectroscopies. Quantum effects are used to explain the origins of bulk material properties, the behavior of ensembles of molecules, diffusion, kinetics, and complex reaction systems. Lecture/Lab Hours: Three hours lecture, three hours laboratory, weekly. Note(s): MATH 205 strongly recommended. Grade Mode: A, N.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 402.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $160.

CHEM 411 - General Biochemistry I Credits 3
Structures and properties of biomolecular components of cells, including proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, nucleotides, nucleic acids, vitamins and coenzymes, kinetics and mechanism and regulation of enzyme action in biological systems. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 412 - General Biochemistry II Credits 3
Principles of metabolic processes; mathematical treatment of bioenergetics emphasizing major concepts and problem solving. Lecture/ Lab Hours: Three hours lecture. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 413 - Laboratory in General Biochemistry Credits 2
A laboratory course to accompany CHEM 411, CHEM 412 (BIO 411, BIOS 412). The isolation, characterization and analysis of biomolecules including the use of biochemical instrumentation and methodology for work in protein structure, enzymology, metabolism and genetics. Lecture/ Lab Hours: Six hours laboratory weekly. Note(s): BIOS 111 and BIOS 113 are recommended. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 302.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 420 - Special Topics in Chemistry Credits 1-3
Subjects include such areas as the chemical literature, various instrumental methods, polymers, organometallics and industrial chemistry. Grade Mode: A.
Restriction(s): Must be Junior Class, or Senior Class; Environmental Science (BIES), Human Biology (BIHB), Physics (PHYS), Bio Sci:Secondary Instruction (BISI), Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Physical Science (PHSC), Biochemistry (BCHM), Biological Science (BIOS), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.
Additional Fee(s): May involve lab fees of up to $185.

CHEM 430 - Advanced Organic Chemistry Credits 3
A continuation of the year-long course in organic chemistry for those planning careers in chemistry. This course will deal with reaction mechanisms, unique reactivity and an in-depth study of multi-step syntheses from the chemical literature. An oral presentation on a current topic within organic chemistry will be required. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 301, CHEM 302, CHEM 311, CHEM 312 each with a 'C+' or higher.
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.

CHEM 431 - Advanced Organic Chemistry Lab Credits 2
A continuation of the year-long course in organic chemistry for those planning careers in chemistry. Will incorporate more advanced laboratory techniques in the multi-step preparation of both reagents and compounds. Intermediate characterization as well as higher level use of spectroscopic and chromatographic techniques will be covered. Lecture/ Lab Hours: Six hours laboratory weekly. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 430 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $185.

CHEM 440 - Introduction to Computational Chemistry Credits 3
This course introduces the principles of computational chemistry, including computational methods for molecular design, visualization, and the prediction of molecular properties such as charge, geometry, stability, photodynamics, and spectroscopic characteristics. The course will survey the most commonly used computational methods, their applicability and limitations, enabling students to select appropriate methods for the solution of practical problems in research and industrial applications. Beginning with visualization tools, the use of crystallographic data, the selection of coordinate systems, the course will progress through classical molecular dynamics and force fields to progressively more advanced quantum mechanical methods including semiempirical models, Hartree-Fock, configuration interaction, and the application of density functional theory. Students will learn to perform geometry optimization, location of transition states, conformational analysis, and prediction of molecular and spectroscopic properties. The course will also cover solvation models, excited states, and the application of quantum methods to large molecular clusters. The class features a project-based approach that makes use of the STH computing cluster and various software packages for quantum chemical visualization and calculations, primarily using the Unix operating system. Grade Mode: A.
Prerequisite(s): CHEM 405, MATH 205 (may be taken concurrently).
Restriction(s): Must be Chemistry (CHEM), Engineering Physics (PHEP), Biochemistry (BCHM), or Applied Physics (PHAP); and Undergraduate Level.
Course Fee: $100.
