

P-12 MULTILINGUAL, MULTICULTURAL EDUCATION, M.A. (BILINGUAL AUTHORIZATION - SPANISH)

Overview

Degree Program

The Master of Arts in P-12 Multilingual, Multicultural Education (<https://www.biola.edu/degrees/g/p-12-multilingual-multicultural-education-ma/>) is a 30-credit fully online research-oriented graduate degree that equips you to effectively serve, lead, and implement best practices for P-12 multilingual, multicultural, and immigrant students and their families in local, national, and global settings.

As a student in the M.A. in P-12 Multilingual, Multicultural Education program, you will critically examine current educational issues and equitable practices within multilingual and multicultural contexts from a biblical perspective.

Your choice of specialization allows you to pursue your own educational and career interests. Each path features opportunities for library research, creative problem-solving, action-orientation projects, and synthesis of your learning.

The M.A. in P-12 Multilingual, Multicultural Education is offered with the following specializations:

- Bilingual Authorization - The bilingual authorization specialization prepares you to plan, develop, implement, and assess standards-aligned content instruction in both the primary and target languages through a focused study of the philosophical, theoretical, legal, and empirical foundations for bilingual education as well as bilingual instructional models, instructional strategies, and use of evaluation methods. Upon completion of all courses in the Bilingual Authorization specialization with a grade of "B-" or higher, you will be eligible to add the Bilingual Authorization to an existing California teaching credential.
- Language Acquisition: Assessment and Learning - This specialization fosters a deeper understanding of second language acquisition and provides you with practical tools for language assessment, vocabulary development, and teaching strategies that enhance your repertoire for promoting language development for P-12 students.
- Bilingualism and Biliteracy for Young Learners - In this deep dive into literacy for young learners, you will explore culturally and linguistically responsive practices designed to promote biliteracy for dual language learners with a particular emphasis on listening, speaking, reading, and writing.
- Personalized - Designed for experienced educators, the personalized specialization offers flexibility for cross-disciplinary and independent studies and practicums related to language, culture, and diversity.

Learning Outcomes

Program Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the M.A. in P-12 Multilingual, Multicultural Education, students will be able to:

1. Critically examine and apply knowledge of current educational issues within multilingual and multicultural contexts from a biblical perspective (ULO 1).
2. Identify personal assumptions and generalizations related to diversity (e.g., language, culture, gender, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, sexual orientation, and [dis]abilities) to develop cultural competency while affirming that all students are valued as image bearers of God (ULO 2).
3. Demonstrate God's calling to be a leader and change agent for the Kingdom of God through development of equitable school engagement practices for multicultural families and communities (ULO 3).
4. Synthesize quantitative and/or qualitative research to effectively plan, conduct, and communicate findings of educational research in the field of multilingual and multicultural education (ULO 1).
5. Synthesize and apply knowledge, skills, and perspectives from concentration-specific content courses to professional P-12 practice (ULO 2).*

Each Program Learning Outcome (PLO) listed above references at least one of the University Learning Outcomes (ULO 1, 2, 3), which may be found in the General Information (<http://catalog.biola.edu/general-information/>) section of this catalog.

*Concentration proficiency and fulfillment of PLO 5 will be provided in the student's capstone class.
